Dr. R. Campbell, the Clerk, moved that in view of the presence in the City of the ministers of the Church and their wives, from the whole of Canada, as well as of representatives of all the congregations of the Church, who have been in attendance at the Presbyterian Missionary Congress, the Assembly now adjourn to meet forthwith in Massey Hall, there to complete the opening exercises of the Assembly, in order that all the ministers and others participating in the Congress, assembling in that spacious edifice, may be able to share in those exercises.

The motion was seconded by Dr. A. S. Grant and unanimously carried.

Thereupon public intimation was made of the adjournment, and this sederunt was closed with the bendiction by the acting Moderator.

SECOND SEDERUNT.

At Toronto, and within Massey Hall there, the fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, at half past eight o'clock in the evening, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada met, as per adjournment, and was opened with a sermon preached by the Right Reverend D. G. McQueen, D.D., from the text: Romans 1, 16: "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth."

The sermon being ended, Dr. McQueen addressed the Assembly, again thanking his brethren who had called him to the high office of Moderator last year, and after referring to the public functions he had been invited to perform, during the past twelve months, and suggesting that in a church of such size and strength as the Presbyterian Church in Canada, it might be well that the Moderator should be released from parochial duties and be free to give his time and strength to the discharge of such general functions as those to which he is called in the interests of the church at large, he concluded with asking the Assembly to choose his successor in the chair.

ELECTION OF MODERATOR.

It was thereupon moved by Dr. Ephraim Scott, seconded by Mr. S. W. Fisher.

That Dr. Murdoch MacKenzie, of Honan, China, be elected Moderator.

It was moved in amendment by Dr. A. S. Grant, seconded by Mr. R. W. Ross, that the name of Dr. W. T. Herridge, of Ottawa, replace that of Dr. MacKenzie in the motion.

It was moved in amendment to the amendment by Mr. George Weir, seconded by Mr. W. S. Galbraith, that the name of Dr. James Ross, of London, Ontario, be inserted in the motion instead of that of Dr. MacKenzie.

Dr. Herridge requested Dr. Grant and Mr. Ross who had moved his election, to withdraw his name, with the leave of the Assembly, but these gentlemen declined to comply with his request.

Dr. Ross also requested those who had moved and seconded his election to withdraw his name, with the leave of the House. They acceded to his request and the Assembly allowed them to withdraw their amendment.

A vote was then taken, when the motion prevailed over the amendment. Thereupon, Dr. Herridge moved that the election be made unanimous. The motion was seconded by Dr. Forrest and carried by a standing vote.

Dr. MacKenzie being introduced by the mover and seconder of the motion for his election, took the chair and briefly addressed the Assembly, thanking the brethren for calling him to preside over the deliberations of so distinguished a body, and craving their sympathy and help while he endeavoured to discharge to the best of his ability the duties of the moderatorship.

EX-MODERATOR'S REPORT.

Dr. McQueen reported that he had carried out the instructions of the last General Assembly and forwarded the loyal addresses passed by that Assembly, namely that to His Majesty the King and that to His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada.

He laid on the table the replies to these addresses which he had received.

THANKS TO DR. MCQUEEN.

It was then moved by Dr. R. P. MacKay, seconded by Mr. Walter Paul, that a vote of thanks be tendered to Dr. McQueen for the able and efficient manner in which he had performed the duties of Moderator during the period of his occupancy of the Chair, for the energy he had displayed in the year following, in furthering the interests of the Church in so many ways, and for the noble and stimulating sermon which he had delivered this evening. The resolution was carried unanimously, and the Moderator suitably conveyed the thanks of the Assembly to Dr. McQueen.

ROLLS OF SYNODS.

The Clerk laid upon the table the rolls of Synods together with the list of changes caused by ordinations, demissions, translations and deaths.

The Clerk also laid upon the table the replies he had received from the secretaries of the Congregational and Methodist Churches, acknowledging the messages of greeting sent them by the last General Assembly.

RECEPTION OF MINISTERS OF THE GREEK CHURCH.

The Assembly called for the report of the Committee on the reception of the ministers of other Churches into the ministry of this Church. The Convener of the Committee, Dr. D. M. Ramsay, gave in an interim report recommending the reception of ministers of the Greek Church in accordance with the recommendation of the following circular letter issued by the Presbytery of Winnipeg:

The General Assembly at Edmonton, last year, in discussing the Ruthenian section of the Home Mission Committee's report, recommended that the procedure connected with the proposed reception of ministers of the Independent Greek Church, into the Presbyterian Church, be under the supervision of the sub-committee, charged with the oversight of Ruthenian work. That committee, in laying its plans, decided that it was desirable, for the sake of uniformity, to have all the applicants examined by one committee, and recommended by one Presbytery. The Presbytery of Winnipeg was chosen for this purpose. After lengthy and careful examination, the Presbytery, with the endorsation of the General Assembly's Home Mission Committee, recommends to the General Assembly that the following nineteen ordained ministers, of the Independent Greek Church, be received as ministers of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

When the matter comes before the General Assembly's Committee on the reception of ministers, the Presbytery will be prepared to furnish evidence as to the qualifications, training, ordination and ministerial efficiency of these men.

Please notify your Presbytery and oblige,

Yours truly,

ANDREW B. BAIRD,
Clerk of Presbytery.

The Presbytery afforded to the Assembly's Committee the evidence promised in this circular letter, showing that the candidates for admission had fulfilled the equivalent of the three years' training, required by the Presbytery's Committee. They had given attendance on four shorter periods of theological training, each a period of three or four weeks. There had been a personal examination of each candidate, especially regarding personal religion, as also respecting certain topics of doctrinal theology and matters of pastoral practice.

Dr. Ramsay moved: That the Assembly grant the application of the Presbytery of Winnipeg, for leave to receive, as ministers of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, the following ministers of the Independent Greek Church:

John Bodrug, Vladimir Pyndykoski, Ephraim Perich, Michael Baczynski, John Danylchuk, Michael Glowa, George Popel, Alexis Maximchuk, John Zazulak, T. Berezouski, E. Eustafizwicz, Theo. Patzerenuk, A. Wylchinski, Maxim P. Berezynski, Gabriel Tymchuk, John Bregorash, Alex. Baczynski, Michael Hutney, Vladimir Plawiuk.

The motion was seconded and agreed to.

It was moved by Dr. Ephraim Scott, seconded by Mr. Walter Paul:

Further, that it be an instruction of the General Assembly to the Presbyteries within whose bounds these ministers, of the Independent Greek Church, now being received, to provide such affectionate and brotherly care, oversight and instruction as may seem advisable for the effective prosecution of their work.

The motion was agreed to.

These ministers were ushered to the platform and formally received and heartily welcomed into the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, by the Moderator, who gave to each of them the right hand of fellowship, and addressed to them words of counsel and encouragement. Mr. Michael Glowa asked leave, in his own name and on behalf of the others received, to speak a few words of acknowledgement of the gracious reception accorded to them, which was granted, when he pledged himself and his colleagues by devotion to the work of the ministry among their countrymen, settled in Canada, to try to justify the confidence shown in them by the Church of which they had been admitted ministers.

PLACE OF MEETINGS.

Dr. Shearer offered the motion of which he had given notice yesterday, asking the Assembly to reconsider its resolution to meet next week in Knox Church at the forenoon and afternoon sederunts. The motion was seconded, put to the House and agreed to. He then moved that all the remaining sederunts of the Assembly be held in Massey Hall. The motion was seconded and carried, on the understanding that the rooms of the Presbyterian offices in the Confederation Life Building, as well as those in the St. James' Square Presbyterian Church, be secured for the meetings of Committees of the Assembly.

RESUMPTION OF DISCUSSION ON CHURCH UNION.

The consideration of the reports of the majority and minority, of the Committee on Union, was resumed and was taken part in by Dr. DuVal, in support of the report of the majority of the Committee. At this point Dr. Clay offered the following amendment, which the Assembly ordered to be printed and distributed among the members.

RESOLUTION re CHURCH UNION.

Moved by Dr. Clay, that in view of the majority in our own Church voting in favour of Union, and the still larger majority in the other negotiating Churches, and in view of the intense desire of all sections of our Church that the spirit of Christian unity which now obtains among the various branches of the Church of Christ may be continued, deepened and widened;

And in view of the strength of the minority in our Church, which has not approved of Organic Union as the best method of expressing the unity of spirit which is rapidly growing throughout the Church of Christ; and in view of the desirability of the utmost unanimity of action being maintained within our own Church,

Be it resolved:—

1. That the Assembly assure the other negotiating Churches that the Presbyterian Church fully realizes its share of responsibility, as a part of the body of Christ, for securing the health and promoting the efficiency of the whole, and earnestly desires that the Spirit of Unity which has given rise to the present movement may be conserved and deepened, and asks the other negotiating Churches to continue such negotiations as may enable us to make the result of our closer relations with them conduce to the strength and happiness of the whole Church, by our having secured for such closer relations the practically unanimous support of all our members.

2. That the Union Committee be continued, and instructed, while pursuing their negotiations with the Methodist and Congregational Churches, to obtain the fullest possible information regarding the organization and working of the "Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America," or any other method of co-operation that may express the unity desired by all, and to correspond with all other Evangelical Churches in Canada to ascertain the possibility of some plan of co-operation or federation in the great work common to all and report to next Assembly.

Henderson, Dr. McQueen, Mr. J. A. Logan, Professor Kent, Mr. W. Paul, Principal Gandier, Professor Scott, G. H. Greig, President Murray, Professor Miller, J. W. Woodside and G. F. Gibson.

The nomination was approved of.

The Assembly resumed consideration of the report of the Committee on the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund. Mr. J. K. Macdonald, the Convener, continued his address to the House in reference to matters embraced in the report.

Mr. Macdonald moved that the report be received and its recommendations considered seriatim. The motion was seconded and agreed to. The several paragraphs of the report, as contained on page 202 of the stitched reports were, on motion of Mr. Macdonald, duly seconded, adopted.

Mr. Macdonald submitted also a supplemental report, the several items of which were adopted, on motion of Mr. Macdonald, duly seconded, as follows:

SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE AGED AND INFIRM MINISTERS' FUND.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Applications for leave to retire and draw benefit from the Fund having been received from the following ministers, after the regular report was printed, the Committee finds it necessary to present to the Assembly a Supplementary Report; otherwise these cases would have to stand over until the next meeting of Assembly. They are as follows:

Mr. A. McTavish: Presbytery of Brandon, age sixty-five, has given twenty-nine years of ministerial service. Seeks retirement on the ground of affection of the eye. The Presbytery recommends retirement for one year with benefit.

The Committee approves and recommends accordingly, the case to be again considered next year, if necessary.

Mr. J. F. McLaren, Crow's Landing, California: Presbytery of Owen Sound, age sixty-one. Has given thirty-one years ministerial service in the Canadian Church. Seeks retirement on the ground of ill health.

All the papers affecting the case are regular and the ill health fully established. The Committee recommends that retirement with benefit from the Fund be granted.

Rev. A. Thomson: Presbytery of Sydney, age seventy-one. Has given thirty-two years service,—following ordination, in the Canadian Church. Reason for retiring, age.

The papers are regular, and the Committee recommends that he be permitted to retire with benefit from date of actual retirement.

Mr. W. J. Hewitt: Presbyterial of Montreal, age seventy-four, has given twenty-six years of ministerial service. Has not paid rates.

This case requires further action on the part of the Presbytery.

The Committee recommends that retirement with benefit be allowed when papers are completed; benefit to attach from date of actual retirement.

Re the case of Mr. A. B. McLeod:

Reference is made in the regular report to the case of Mr. McLeod, of Prince Edward Island, who, on account of ill health, has had benefit for some years. The following letter from him will probably prove of interest, while illustrating the good service rendered by the Fund in cases of this kind:

"I write to say that I have taken an appointment under the Island Presbytery for six months, beginning with June 1st. I am thankful to say that my health has greatly improved and hope that I shall not trouble your Committee for some ten years at least. The benefit received from the Fund, of which you have the oversight, has lessened anxiety and in no small degree contributed to the improved condition in which I find myself. I am thankful to be a member of a Christian organization that comes to the financial rescue of the man who finds himself going under."

Correspondence has been had from Dr. McCurdy, Secretary of the Foreign Mission Committee, Eastern Section, with regard to the retirement of Dr. Annand and Dr. McKenzie, Missionaries from that branch of the Church, in the New Hebrides. These brethren have given long and faithful service for the Master in that distant and trying field, and well deserve such recognition on retirement as the Church has it in its power to give. Dr. Annand is in the seventieth year of his age, and has given forty years to the work. Dr. McKenzie is in the sixty-eighth year of his age and has been in the mission for forty-one years. No formal papers have yet been received, nor can evidence of Presbyterial action be very well obtained, under the circumstances.

It is recommended that these two cases be left with the Convener to deal with, and that he be authorized to accept extract minutes of the Foreign Mission Committee (Eastern Section) in place of those of a Presbytery, with annuity to date from July 1st of the present year.

Dr. McCurdy has also on behalf of the Foreign Mission Committee raised the question of the possibility of extending the benefits of the Fund, or of some similar Fund, to the native ministers in Trinidad. Definite information in regard to them has been asked for by the Convener, which there has not yet been time to obtain.

In the judgment of the Committee, this will call for very careful consideration before coming to a conclusion, but must be left with the new Committee.

In regard to the case of Dr. McIntyre, which is dealt with in the printed report, information was before the special meeting of the Committee held to-day, which showed that it was one calling for special consideration. In view of the circumstances of the case, the Committee recommends that the Annuity be allowed to date back to October of last year.

The case of Mr. William Meikle, also included in the printed report, is one that likewise calls for special consideration. In view of the fuller statements which have come to hand since the former meeting of the Committee, it is recommended that years of Evangelistic services be allowed to count for annuity, with those of the pastorate.

Respectfully submitted,

J. K. MACDONALD,
Convener.

TORONTO, June 6th, 1913.

Dr. Herridge moved as follows:

That the report be received and adopted; that the thanks of the Assembly be tendered to the Convener for his earnest and most efficient services, and that the more adequate support of the Fund be recommended to the Church's liberality.

The motion was seconded by Dr. C. W. Gordon and carried by a standing vote. The Moderator communicated to Mr. Macdonald the appreciative thanks of the Assembly.

A Memorial was presented from Mr. J. M. Allan, asking that he be allowed to connect with the fund, and another from Mr. Alexander Millar requesting to have his connection therewith restored.

The Assembly, on motion of the Clerk, duly seconded, received the memorials and remitted them for consideration to the Committee for the management of the fund, together with the following five members of the Assembly: Dr. G. B. Wilson, Mr. J. W. McNamara, Mr. R. B. Cochrane, Professor John Matheson and Mr. James Farrer.

OVERTURES re AGED AND INFIRM MINISTER'S FUND.

There were presented Overtures from the Presbyteries of Owen Sound and Winnipeg, craving that changes be made in the regulations for adminstration of the fund. Mr. D. M. Matheson was heard in support of the Overture from the Presbytery of Owen Sound, and Dr. A. G. Sinclair and Dr. G. B. Wilson in support of that from the Presbytery of Winnipeg.

On motion of Mr. J. K. Macdonald, duly seconded, these Overtures were received and referred to the Board of Finance, to be considered and reported on to next General Assembly.

The Assembly adjourned to meet again in this place, this afternoon at half past two o'clock, of which public intimation was made, and this sederunt was closed with the benediction by the Moderator.

Paterson, Mr. S. E. Beckett, Mr. E. L. Nash, Mr. J. K. Macdonald and Mr. D. D. Miller taking part in the discussion.

Dr. W. J. Clark, as the mover of the original motion, was heard in reply, when a vote was taken first, between Dr. Clay's amendment and the report of the minority which was treated as a first amendment, when the latter carried. Dr. Christie now moved the amendment of which he had given notice yesterday. It was seconded by Mr. Parkinson; and a vote being taken between it and the amendment it prevailed over the latter by a vote of 251 to 75.

Dr. C. W. Gordon moved an amendment to the amendment in the following terms :

The General Assembly resolves as follows:

1. That the Assembly rejoices at the spirit of unity, Christian charity and courteous consideration which from the first has marked the negotiations for union between the Congregational, the Methodist and the Presbyterian Churches, and hopes for a speedy and favourable conclusion to these negotiations.

2. That the suggestion of federation, or any other form of co-operation, as an alternative to organic Church union, be abandoned, and that the question of organic union be placed before the Church as a definite issue.

3. That a full opportunity be given Presbyteries and sessions, congregations and individuals, through Presbyteries, to send to the Union Committee before November 30th, 1913, amendments to the prepared basis.

4. That after deliberation, the Union Committee submit such amended basis for consideration to the joint committee and the negotiating churches.

5. That the resultant basis be submitted to the General Assembly of 1914, for definite action, as provided by the constitution of the Church.

It was ordered that this amendment should be printed for distribution among the members of the Assembly, and the debate was adjourned.

The Assembly adjourned to meet again, in this place, this evening at a quarter to eight o'clock, of which public intimation was given, and this sederunt was closed with the benediction by the Moderator.

FIFTEENTH SEDERUNT.

At the same place, on the same day, at a quarter to eight o'clock in the evening,

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada met, as per adjournment, and was constituted, Mr. R. W. Ross leading in prayer at the request of the Moderator.

The minutes of the afternoon sederunt were held over to be read at the next sederunt.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SOCIAL SERVICE AND EVANGELISM.

The Assembly called for the report of the Board of Social Service and Evangelism, which was presented by Dr. C. W. Gordon, and being printed and in the hands of members, he called attention to it in his remarks to the House. He moved the reception of the report. The motion was seconded by Mr. M. A. MacKinnon. The report was spoken to by Mr. W. M. Rochester, Secretary to the Lord's Day Alliance.

Mr. E. Leslie Pidgeon was heard regarding matters pertaining to the work of Social Service in British Columbia. Mr. D. C. McGregor, Assistant Secretary of the Board of Social Service, was next introduced and, by means of the lantern, illustrated the varied aspects of the work carried on by the Board.

Miss Gordon, one of the band of Deaconesses employed by the Board, was introduced and told sad tales of the shocking scenes which are being enacted in too many of the cities of the land.

Miss Ratte, organizing deaconess, was also introduced to the Assembly, and gave a pathetic account of the horrors of the White Slave traffic.

The motion was agreed to and is as follows:

That the Assembly rejoice to learn that in all Canada, east of the Rocky Mountains, officially tolerated social vice is a thing of the past; commend the action of the Board and of all who have shared in bringing this about.

The Assembly have heard, however, with astonishment and deepest concern, of the shocking conditions as to social vice generally prevailing in British Columbia, by which criminal vice is officially tolerated and defended by the authorities sworn to enforce the law, from the ordinary police to the Attorney General, making British Columbia the great market in Canada for the exploiting of white slaves.

The Assembly recognize these conditions as an intolerable disgrace to those responsible for them, and, indirectly, to Canada; and call upon the whole nation to join in removing this stain upon the good name of the Dominion.

The Assembly are glad to know that already the conscience of British Columbia is making itself felt, and that the authorities in Victoria, Vancouver, the Okanagan Valley, and in Grand Forks, Trail and Creston have cleansed these cities from the physical and moral pestilence of this shameful evil.

RESOLUTION ON TEMPERANCE.

1. Whereas previous Assemblies have declared for the total suppression of the liquor traffic.

2. Whereas the local vote method used in limiting the extent of the traffic and lessening its evils, has also assisted in awakening the public conscience to the appalling effects on individual and national life, resulting from the sale of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes.

Be it therefore resolved:

1. That this Assembly are convinced that the time has arrived when Dominion and Provincial legislation should be secured for prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes.

2. That the Assembly invite the co-operation of other religious bodies and temperance organizations to give effect to this resolution.

3. That the Assembly urge sessions and congregations to appoint a Committee to co-operate with the Presbytery's Committees and the Assembly's Board of Social Service and Evangelism, in: (a) furthering the cause of temperance education in the congregation and community.

(b) Securing the necessary legislation to suppress the liquor traffic.

(c) Assisting the Board in any work which it may undertake.

[2040]

Whereas the Board has been authorized, by previous Assemblies, to appoint Synodical Evangelists where desired by the Synod:

1. That the Assembly authorize the Board to appoint a field representative where in the judgment of any Synod and the Board, this is considered advisable.

2. That in view of the special conditions existing in British Columbia, Mr. J. S. Henderson, B.A., be appointed field secretary of the Board, to reside in and to have special responsibility for work in that Province, at the same salary as the Board of Home Missions pays to its district superintendents.

3. That the Assembly reiterate their former declaration that "The burden imposed by industrial accidents or occupational disease, should not rest upon the injured person or his family."

Re Criminal Code:

The Assembly record:

1. Their hearty appreciation of the action of the Federal Government and Parliament, in the enactment of important amendments to the Criminal Code, inter alia, for the suppression of the traffic in girls and women, for immoral purposes, and of the business of social vice.

2. Their keen disappointment that raising the age of consent, prohibiting the business of race track gambling, making a life of adultery or lewd co-habitation criminal, were not included among the amendments introduced by the Government.

3. The Assembly cannot believe that this is due to the Government's disapproval of these amendments, and urge action at the next session of Parliament, and instruct the Board of Social Service and Evangelism to invite the co-operation of other bodies in pressing this matter upon the Government and upon members of Parliament, and to press also for such action as may be necessary by Provincial or Dominion authoritites, in order to prevent prize fights in the guise of boxing bouts.

4. The Assembly record their deep regret that the Senate refused to endorse the Amendments proposed by the Government, to Section 213, making employers other than those in shops, stores, factories and mills, criminally responsible for seduction by them of female employees under twenty-one years of age.

EVANGELISM.

The Assembly, recognizing the need of a forward movement for the quickening of the life of the Church, along the lines of Evangelism, instructs the Board to ask congregations ministered to by pastors, gifted for Evangelistic work, to set them free for such time as may be necessary to conduct Evangelistic Missions in selected cities and districts where these seem desirable.

RESOLUTIONS ON SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

1. That the Assembly again express their emphatic disapproval of all secular uses of the Lord's Day and urge upon all employers of labour to recognize the need of the labouring man for his weekly day of rest.

[2041]

2. That the Assembly urge upon all families the importance of planning for their servants on the Sabbath that they may not lose the religious value of the day.

3. That the Assembly most heartily commend the work of the Lord's Day Alliance to preserve the Sabbath as a day of rest.

4. That the Assembly urge upon ministers and sessions the duty of keeping constantly before their people the claims of the Sabbath as a day of rest and worship, and recommend that at suitable times during each year sermons be preached on the subject of "the Sabbath."

5. S. Mullan, would respectfully recommend as follows: re Dr. Marsh and his complaint against the Presbytery of Peterborough:

That the action of the Presbytery be sustained; that the Committee recommend to the Presbytery the propriety of acceding to Dr. Marsh's strong desire that they should in some formal way introduce him to the pastoral charge of the congregation of Mount Pleasant.

Re Springville and Lakevale and their appeal vs. the Presbytery of Peterborough.

Regarding the appeals as really one, the Committee recommend that the appeals be dismissed and the action of the Presbytery sustained; the committee cordially recognize and appreciate the very Christian spirit manifested by all the parties in this case before the Committee, and trust they will loyally accept this decision in the same spirit, and seek henceforth the things that make for peace.

The Committee in the interests of the peace of these congregations, and at the request of all the parties in the case request the Assembly to appoint one of their number to intimate the decision of the General Assembly, and that Professor Laird, of Kingston, be thus appointed. All parties acquiesced in the finding of the committee.

In the matter of the restoration of Mr. J. S. Mullan to the office of the ministry, the Committee recommend that the prayer of the Presbytery be granted; that the Presbytery be empowered to restore Mr. Mullan to the office of the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, on the Presbytery being satisfied that when Mr. Mullan declared his sorrow and deep regret at the existence of the trouble with the Presbytery and within the congregation, he thereby meant to express his deep penitence and sorrow for his contumacious conduct before and after his deposition.

Board of Foreign Missions—Recommendations to General Assembly

1. Chinese in Canada

That the Presbytery of Westminster be authorized to ordain Mr. Ng Mon Hing as missionary pastor to the Chinese under our care in Vancouver, B.C.

2. Honan

That the Assembly record its gratitude to God for the rich blessing that has rested upon the labours of our faithful missionaries in North Honan during the twenty-five years our Church has occupied that field. The opposition and persecution of earlier years has ceased and to-day there are nine organized self-supporting Chinese congregations with their native pastors, little groups of Christians forming centres of influence in many cities, towns, and villages, and more than 7,000,000 people accessible to the Gospel and to Western influences as never before. The Assembly suggest the last Sunday of October as a suitable time for the commemoration of the first quarter century's work in Honan; commend the book recently published by the Foreign Mission Board—"Twenty-five Years in Honan"—to the members of our congregations, Young People's Societies and Sunday Schools; and assure the missionaries in Honan that the Church will make earnest effort to send out at the earliest moment possible the additional workers requested in the quarter century appeal, viz., fourteen ordained missionaries, four medical missionaries, and nine lady missionaries.

3. Resolution re Korea

WHEREAS, in the Comity of Mission arrangement, an important area in Korea has been allotted to the care of our Presbyterian Church in Canada—stretching from Wonsan in the south to the Manchurian border in the north, a distance of about 325 miles, with a population of 1,271,000; and, in addition, there has recently been added to the responsibility of our Church in Korea, the care of fully 500,000 Koreans who have crossed the border into Manchuria and now occupy a section of that country immediately contiguous to the territory of our Church in Korea proper:

WHEREAS, throughout this land, for some years past, a gracious work of God has accompanied the labours of the different branches of the Church at work there, in which our own Mission has so richly shared, that it is quite impossible for our present staff to instruct the new believers, train the workers, and superintend the rapidly growing native Church:

WHEREAS, our missionaries—men and women—have been so overburdened, and have felt so keenly the serious loss that is coming to the Church of Christ in Korea through the inadequacy of our staff and equipment that they have suggested the handing over of one of our central stations with its surrounding territory to some other church unless immediate reinforcement can be sent:

WHEREAS, the Eastern Section of the Board feel themselves unable, single-handed, to cope with the situation in the southern part of the field for which they are immediately responsible, and the Western Section of the Board need the help of the experienced missionaries, sent out by the Eastern Section of the Board, in occupying the newer fields to the north:

1. The joint Board request the General Assembly to enact as follows:
   (1) That meanwhile no portion of the field at present under the care of our Church be surrendered.
   (2) That in view of the critical situation in Korea the two sections of the Board be instructed to unite in the care of the whole field and that the Church, East and West, assume responsibility for the whole work in Korea.
   (3) That the Eastern and Western Sections of the Board together be instructed to bring this urgency in Korea before the whole Church with a view to providing such additional workers and equipment as the gravity of the situation and our responsibility under the Comity of Missions demand.
   (4) That the two sections of the Board acting jointly during the year report to the next General Assembly upon the whole situation with any recommendations they may think necessary in regard to the furtherance of the work or the matter of administration.

2. That the General Assembly urge the duty of more earnest entreaty that the Lord of the harvest will send forth labourers and urge the younger men of our Church to give more earnest consideration to the call of the wide open doors of opportunity in India and China and to the emergency created by the rapid expansion of the work in Korea.

3. That Synods' and Presbyteries' Foreign Mission Committees plan more definitely to inform congregations regarding the work in the foreign fields and endeavour to enlist all our people in intelligent prayer and service for the extension of Christ's Kingdom in those lands for which the Presbyterian Church in Canada is primarily responsible.

May it please your Majesty:—

We, the members of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, convened in the City of Toronto, desire to present to your Majesty the assurance of our loyal devotion to your Majesty's person and throne. We recognize with gratitude our privileges as British subjects, and are persuaded of the growing responsibility of Canada as part of the Empire. We rejoice that, in the midst of wars, peace has prevailed throughout your Majesty's wide domains, and earnestly pray that, by the blessing of God, your Majesty may long reign over a prosperous, happy, and united people.

To His Royal Highness, The Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada:—

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, begs to extend to your Royal Highness our appreciation of your personal qualities and the marked interest you have shown in Canadian affairs.

We regret exceedingly the severe illness of Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught, which was the cause of your departure to the home land, and rejoice to know that she is on the way to complete recovery. We trust that, in the Providence of God, you may both be enabled, together with the Princess Patricia, to return, and give to Canada again the benefit of your presence with us.

RECEPTION OF METHODIST DEPUTATION.

The order of the day having arrived for a reception of a delegation from the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church, the delegation was ushered to the platform, and introduced to the Moderator, who welcomed them in the name of the Assembly. The delegation consisted of Professor Wallace, Dr. A. D. Watson, Hon. E. J. Davis, Dr. Hazelwood and Chancellor Bowles.

Professor Wallace spoke for the delegation, bringing a message of fraternal regard and good-will from the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church to the Assembly, as representing the Presbyterian Church in Canada, wishing that Church all prosperity and success in the prosecution of its varied undertakings in the service of the Master.

The Moderator in fitting terms replied to this message of greeting, referring especially to the great service for religion rendered by the followers of John Wesley, who have gone into all the world preaching the Gospel in which they have been largely owned and blessed of God. He desired the delegation to carry back with them to the Toronto Conference the best wishes of this Assembly for abundant success in all their efforts to extend and establish the Kingdom of the Lord.

TRAVELLING EXPENSES OF COMMISSIONERS.

The Assembly called for the report of the Committee on the Travelling Expenses of Commissioners, to whom was also referred the Overture of the Presbytery of Vermilion, on the subject, which was presented by Mr. J. Rollins, on whose motion, duly seconded, it was received and its recommendations were considered. Being considered, they were adopted as a whole, on motion of Mr. Rollins, duly seconded. The report is as follows:

The Assembly having adopted the recommendation of the Finance Board anent the method of securing funds with which to meet the travelling expenses of Commissioners, your Committee on Travelling Expenses recommend that the fund be administered under the following rules.

1. That in future the lowest first-class railroad fare, obtainable by the General Assembly for Commissioners to the General Assembly, from the residence of the Commissioner to the Assembly, be a charge upon Budget moneys to be deducted from the several Budget Funds on a pro rata basis.

2. That invitations for the next General Assembly,—if any—shall be presented at an early Sederunt of the Assembly and be referred to a Committee of two, to estimate approximately the travelling expenses of Comissioners, incidental to meeting in such place, said Committee to report to Assembly before the question of next place of meeting is determined.

3. That a cheque covering the amount to which the Commissioner is entitled under Clause one, shall be issued to the Commissioner and given to him attached to his Standard Certificate when vised, which shall in no case be returned earlier than the second Wednesday of meeting without express permission of the Assembly.

4. That the Committee referred to in Clause two shall pass upon the claims of Commissioners and authorize the Treasurer to issue cheques.

5. That the travelling expenses of Foreign Missionaries, who are Commissioners to the Assembly, be reckoned from their place of residence in Canada.

6. That after deducting the cost of administration, the claims of this year, the deficit of last year, and an honorarium of two hundred dollars to Mr. W. T. Wilkins, last year's Convener, the balance be placed at the disposal of the Committee having in charge the transportation of the Congress, and that the Assembly request the Presbyteries which agreed to enter upon the Fund to complete their collections and forward the amount of their assessment to the Treasurers of the Church, East and West.

The receipts to date for the current year amount to $4,300. Many of the Presbyteries which connected themselves with the Fund have failed to forward their contributions, owing to the Transportation Committee of the Pre-Assembly Congress having offered and furnished transportation to Commissioners. That Committee has asked the Travelling Expense Committee of Assembly to reimburse them for the amount paid for the transportation of Commissioners and your Committee recommend accordingly.

Mr. Jas. Rollins and W. T. Wilkins were appointed the Standing Committee on Travelling expenses of Commissioners.

The Assembly adjourned to meet again in this place, at half past two o'clock this afternoon of which public intimation was given, and this sederunt was closed with the benediction by the Moderator.

TWENTIETH SEDERUNT.

At the same place on the same day, at half past two o'clock in the afternoon,

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, met, as per adjournment, and was constituted, Mr. Chas. B. Ross and Mr. A. Henderson leading in prayer at the request of the Moderator.

The minutes of the morning sederunt were read and sustained.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON PETITIONS re AGED AND INFIRM MINISTERS' FUND.

The Assembly called for the report of the Special Committee on the petitions of Mr. J. M. Allan and Mr. Alexander Miller, which was given in and read by Mr. J. K. Macdonald, Convener, on whose motion, duly seconded, the report was received and adopted. It is as follows:

AGED AND INFIRM MINISTERS' FUND.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO WHICH WAS REFERRED THE PETITIONS OF MR. J. M. ALLEN AND MR. ALEXANDER MILLER.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The Committee has most carefully considered the two cases referred to it.

Mr. J. M. Allen prays that he may be allowed to connect with the Fund as at the age of fifty-five, though now in the sixty-sixth year of his age, on the ground that certain negotiations took place between him and certain members of the Eastern Committee on the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund.

Dr. Forrest was heard by the Committee in support of the Petition.

The Committee, after the most careful consideration, is unable to see any ground that would justify a favourable recommendation, and therefore recommends that the prayer of the Petition be not granted.

The Committee does not see any way in which Mr. Allen could receive greater benefit than as a non-rate paying Minister, except possibly under Rule 14, when retirement takes place.

Mr. Alexander Miller asks the permission of the Assembly to re-connect with the Fund by payment of back rates, with interest. Mr. Miller connected with the Fund in 1892, and made five payments, and is in arrears for sixteen or seventeen years. Mr. Miller made his application to the Assembly believing that the Rules governing the Fund allowed him to do so. He appeared before the Committee and was heard on his own behalf. He had doubtless inadvertently overlooked the Rule in existence before and at the time he was connected with the Fund.

It is fair to him to say that he was greatly surprised when the Rule was pointed out to him.

Under the circumstances the Committee has to recommend against granting the prayer of his Petition.

CHANGE IN REGULATION re AGED AND INFIRM MINISTERS' FUND.

The following change in the regulations of the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund, was made, on motion of Mr. J. K. Macdonald, seconded by Dr. A. Macgillivray:

That the restriction limiting the right to connect with the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund to four years following Ordination be rescinded and that the right to connect at any time be only limited to the maximum age of fifty-five as provided by the Rules.

NAMES ON PRESBYTERY ROLLS.

The Assembly called for the report of the Committee on the applications of Presbyteries to have names of Ministers placed on their Rolls, which was given in and read by Dr. Duncan, Convener, on whose motion, duly seconded, it was received, considered and adopted. It is as follows:

Your Committee appointed to consider resolution of Presbyteries asking that they be allowed to retain certain names on their Rolls, and also on the Memorial of the Synod of British Columbia re the retention of names on the Appendix to the Roll, take leave to report as follows:

1. That the action of the Presbytery of Halifax, in placing the name of the Rev. J. Fraser Campbell, D.D., on the constituent Roll of the Presbytery, be approved.

2. That the petition of the Presbytery of Kingston, for leave to retain on the constituent Roll of that Presbytery the names of the Rev. James Fowler, M.A., LL.D., the Rev. George D. Ferguson, B.A., and the Very Rev. D. M. Gordon, D.D., LL.D., be granted.

3. That the request of the Presbytery of Westminster, to place the name of the Rev. Kenneth J. Grant, D.D., on the constituent Roll of that Presbytery, be granted.

4. That the application of the Synod of Saskatchewan, that permission be granted to the Presbytery of Regina, to retain upon its Roll the name of the Rev. Alexander MacGregor, B.A., who has been appointed by the Synod, as agent of the Saskatchewan College, Moose Jaw, be granted.

5. That the Memorial of the Synod of British Columbia regarding the placing of names on the Appendices to the Rolls of Presbyteries be referred to a Special Committee to be appointed by the Moderator, this Committee to report to the next General Assembly.

The following resolution was also adopted, in response to the request of the Committee on Social Reform and Evangelism.

Moved by Mr. Murdoch MacKinnon, seconded by Mr. W. R. Cruikshank, that the Presbyteries within whose bounds Mr. D. J. Craig and Mr. H. A. Berlis reside be given leave to place their names upon the constituent Rolls of such Presbyteries.

RESOLUTIONS OF MISSIONARY CONGRESS.

Dr. R. P. MacKay presented a copy of certain resolutions sent up by the Missionary Congress for the consideration of the Assembly.

The following were appointed a Committee on the same: President Murray, Convener, Dr. A. S. Grant, Dr. R. P. MacKay, Dr. Alexander MacGillivray, Dr. C. W. Gordon, Dr. Shearer and Principal Gandier.

Manitoba College:—

That the General Assembly receive and adopt the report of Manitoba College, and add the following paragraph,—

"The needs of our work make it desirable and the improved financial condition of the College makes it possible to have a new Professor, who shall have charge especially of the teaching of the English Bible and of Social Ethics. The Board asks that such a Department be established and that authority be given to it to appoint a Professor in this Department."

That it approve of the abolition of the Preparatory Department so that the College may devote itself exclusively to College work.

That it note and accept the reasons given for delay in the appointment of a Principal, and endorse the establishment of a new Theological Department to teach the English Bible and Social Ethics.

That it grant authority to the Board to appoint a Professor to fill this chair.

Saskatoon College:—

That the Assembly receive and adopt the report of the Theological College at Saskatoon, and appoint Dr. E. H. The Assembly expresses gratification with the reports of the progress of the several Colleges, and cherishes the hope that the campaigns for funds in different College centres may be soon carried forward to a successful issue; and records its gratification with the reported increase in the number of students preparing for the Ministry, and hopes that their number may be enlarged until the great needs of the Church are adequately met.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE STANDARDS OF THE CHURCH.

The Assembly called for the report of the Committee on the Standards of the Church, which was pesented by Dr. McQueen, Convener, on. whose motion, seconded by Dr. R. Campbell, it was received and adopted, see p. 297.

The Committee was re-appointed, with Dr. D. D. McLeod as Convener.

RESOLUTIONS ON PEACE.

On motion of Dr. R. P. Mackay, seconded by Mr. W. A. Charlton.

The Assembly passed the following resolution on Peace:—

That the General Assembly, having had its attention called by the Presbytery of Brockville, through the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa, to resolutions of the Presbytery of Westminster, condemning the increasing waste of men and money by the nations of the earth for warlike purposes and urging that Canada should take the lead in seeking to draw the nations into a peace pact, hereby approves these resolutions in their general purport and congratulates our brethren on so far discerning the signs of the time as to insist that wars should cease and peace reign on the earth.

The Assembly also, in view, on the one hand, of the universal unrest and the activity among the warlike elements, and, on the other hand, of the strength of the peace movement which is now spreading through the civilized world, like a leaven quick and powerful to reach both centre and circumference, expresses the hope that the day of peace so long foretold may now be about to dawn.

Further, the Assembly, representing all parts of the Dominion of Canada, eminently a land of peace, while expressing the love and loyalty of its people to His Majesty the King and to the empire of which we form a part, resolves to use every reasonable effort in our power, both as individuals and as a body, to secure the abolition of war and to bring about the glad day of peace on earth and good-will to men.

OVERTURE re REPRESENTATION IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

There was presented an Overture from the Presbytery of Sydney re the reduction of the representation of Presbyteries in the General Assembly.

It was moved by Dr. McQueen, seconded by Dr. R. Campbell, Clerk,—

That the Assembly receive the Overture from the Presbytery of Sydney praying the General Assembly that the General Assembly shall consist of one twelfth of the number of the Ministers whose names are on the Rolls of the several Presbyteries and an equal number of Elders. When the number of names on the Roll of a Presbytery is not divisible by twelve, the twelfth shall be reckoned from the next higher multiple of twelve.

The Assembly is of the opinion that the number of the members of the General Assembly should be reduced, and that the representation should be one Minister in ten with an equal number of Elders, and orders that the proposed change be sent down to Presbyteries for their judgment thereon.

The resolution was adopted.

The following resolutions were adopted on motion of Dr. A. S. Grant, seconded by Dr. R. P. Mackay.

1. That this Assembly express its cordial approval of the Union of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the Women's Home Missionary Society, to form the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and also express the hope that the Women's Missionary Society (of Quebec), will at its next annual meeting decide to become one of the Provincial Societies, which are to constitute the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

2. That the work of the three Societies be carried on for another year by their separate Boards as at present, all new Societies organized during the year to be organized as Auxiliaries of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

3. That the Boards of the three Societies concerned be requested to appoint a joint Committee to draw up a constitution in harmony with the Basis of Union already adopted by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the Women's Home Missionary Society. This constitution to be presented for approval to the Assembly's Boards to which the Women's Missionary Society will be Auxiliary.

4. That a joint meeting of the Societies uniting be called for May, 1914, in the City of Toronto, to adopt a constitution, choose a general Council for the first year, and so far as possible complete the organization of the new Society.

OVERTURE re DIVISION OF RED DEER PRESBYTERY.

There was presented the following Overture to the General Assembly re division of the Presbytery of Red Deer.

At Edmonton, and within Knox Church there, on Thursday, April 24th, 1912, the Synod of Alberta met, and was duly constituted.

Inter alia,

An Overture was presented from the Presbytery of Red Deer, which read as follows:

"Whereas the increase in population within the bounds of the Presbytery of Red Deer has necessitated the opening up of many new Mission Fields; and

Whereas a large group of these more recently organized congregations is far removed from the centre of the territory included in the older section of the Presbytery of Red Deer; and whereas there is a sufficient number of Congregations and Mission Fields within the aforesaid group to constitute a new Presbytery,—therefore,

We the Synod of Alberta do hereby overture the Venerable, the General Assembly, to divide the Presbytery of Red Deer, and to erect a new Presbytery to be known as the Presbytery of Castor, whose boundaries shall be as follows:

Beginning at the village of Content on the Red Deer River, the boundary to run south and east along the Red Deer River to the Provincial boundary, then north along this boundary to a point where it is crossed by the Lacombe branch of the C.P.R., then west along this line of railway to the point nearest to the village of Content, including the Brownfield Mission, and excluding such other points on the Lacombe branch of the C.P.R. as now belong to the Presbytery of Lacombe:

And further that it be respectfully suggested that, if the prayer of this Overture be granted, the Rev. Wm. Millar, of the Hand Hills Mission, be appointed as first Moderator of the new Presbytery."

Synod approved of the Overture and ordered it to be sent on to Assembly, with the Commissioners from Red Deer to support it.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONGRESS RESOLUTIONS.

The Assembly called for the report of the Committee on the Resolutions of the Pre-Assembly Missionary Congress, communicated to the Assembly, which was given in and read by Dr. R. P. MacKay, Convener, on whose motion, seconded by Dr. A. S. Grant, it was received and adopted. It is as follows:

The General Assembly gives thanks to God for the recent meeting together of all the ministers of the Church and representatives of the Congregations, with their wives in the Pre-Assembly Congress, and for the manifestations of the Gracious Presence of the Holy Spirit throughout its Sessions.

In response to the communications received from the Congress, the General Assembly expresses its deep sense of the significance of the Congress, attaches the greatest importance to its deliverance, as setting forth the thought and sentiment of the Presbyterian people of the Dominion of Canada, and instructs the Right Reverend the Moderator, to issue a pastoral letter, addressed to the Ministers, Elders and Members of the Church, which will embody the resolutions of the Congress, and the Assembly's action thereupon.

1. The fact reported to the Congress, that there are nearly half a million of adult Presbyterians in our country, whose names do not appear on any Church Roll, which number is being augmented by a large Presbyterian immigration every year, awakens deep concern in the Assembly and demands the immediate consideration and action of our Sessions and Congregations.

2. The General Assembly reminds the Church that just as it is the privilege and duty of our people to take their part in the extension of the Kingdom of God in Canada and other lands, through personal gifts to the Treasury of the Lord, so also, as in Apostolic days, it is clearly the duty and privilege of every member, through individual effort, to strive to bring men to the personal knowledge of Jesus Christ as Lord and Master; and the Assembly affectionately and earnestly urges Ministers and Congregations to enlist the entire membership of the Church, from ocean to ocean, in this service of winning men to the confession of Jesus Christ; to be specially alert in the care of those of our own Church coming to us from the home lands; and to be ready to unite with other Churches in any wise effort, looking toward the evangelizing of our fellow Canadians of other speech than our own.

3. The General Assembly rejoices at the awakening of the Christian conscience to the responsibility of the Church, not only to set forth in clear and simple terms, the principles of our holy faith, but also, to make such application of those principles to the solution of the problems that arise in connection with the social, commercial and industrial life of our nation, as will demonstrate the adaptability of the Gospel to the successive stages of an ever developing human society. The Assembly urges upon its Ministers, the importance of leading their people to a sympathetic study of these problems, and of making the Church a centre of holy and beneficent influence in its community.

4. The General Assembly is keenly alive to the extraordinary situation, at once so hopeful and so critical in the non-Christian world, and especially in the new Republic of China; and is vividly conscious of the appeal of China's open door, and of the opportunity it offers the Church of Christ everywhere to make immediate and concerted advances in Foreign Mission effort, and hereby resolves to approach the other Christian Churches in Canada, United States and Great Britain, with the proposal to unite Anglo-Saxon Christendom in a concerted effort for China as the immediate advance necessary to the winning of the world for the Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

5. The General Assembly affectionately and earnestly urges the Church to make united and continuous supplication to Almighty God for such an outpouring of His Holy Spirit, as will make effectual the efforts of His people in this great enterprise.

6. The General Assembly instructs its various Boards and Committees to join in counsel and prayer, and directs them to form and carry to completion such plans as will give effect to these resolutions.

He concluded with moving the reception and adoption of the report. The motion was seconded by Mr. W. R. Cruikshank. Dr. R. D. Fraser was heard regarding the salient features of the report. See p. 229.

The motion was agreed to.

ACCOUNTS OF TREASURER.

The Assembly called for the report of the Treasurer, which was presented by Dr. Somerville, and which as printed and in the hands of members, he directed attention to in his address.

Dr. Forrest moved the reception and adoption of the report. The motion was seconded by Dr. Baird and agreed to.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DIVORCE.

The Assembly called for the report of the Special Committee on Divorce, appointed by last General Assembly, which was given in and read by Dr. Shearer, Convener, on whose motion, seconded by Justice Sutherland, it was received and adopted.

It is as follows:

To the Venerable, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Your Committee on the Overture from the Session of St. Andrew's Church Vernon, B.C., endorsed by the Presbytery of Kamloops, asking that the General Assembly take into consideration the relation of divorced persons to the Church, and frame directions relative thereto for the guidance of Ministers and Sessions, begs to report as follows:

After considering carefully the questions presented in the Overture and the delicate relations involved, it is the opinion of your Committee that the Standards of the Church, contained in Chapter XXIV, Sections 5 and 6, of the Westminster Confession of Faith, cover and provide reasonable and sufficient guidance for Sessions in the general determination thereof.

The sections referred to are as follows:

"Adultery or fornication, committed after a contract, detected before marriage, giveth just occasion to the innocent party to dissolve that contract. In the case of adultery after marriage, it is lawful for the innocent party to sue out a divorce, and, after the divorce, to marry another, as if the offending party were dead.

"Although the corruption of man be such as is apt to study arguments, unduly to put asunder those whom God hath joined together in marriage: yet nothing but adultery, or such wilful desertion as can no way be remedied by the Church or civil magistrate, is cause sufficient of dissolving the bond of marriage; wherein a public and orderly course of proceeding is to be observed, and the persons concerned in it not left to their own wills and discretion in their own case."

The integrity and solemnity of the Marriage Contract and the purity and permanency of the marriage relation must be honoured and safeguarded. Provision is already made by the Law of the Church for those who are wronged and for the disciplining of her membership.

In the judgment of the Committee, it is better to trust to the wisdom and discretion of the individual Minister and Session, in the interpretation and application of the law of the Church, than attempt to give answers to questions based on hypothetical cases but designed to have general authoritative application.

Any further action would, in our opinion, be at present inadvisable, and in any event should only be taken after careful consideration of concrete cases and the whole question of Marriage and Divorce.

On motion of Dr. A. S. Grant, duly seconded, the salary of Mr. C. A. Myers was fixed at $2,400, per annum, and power was granted the Board of Finance to appoint a Secretary.

APPENDICES

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS, (WESTERN SECTION) 1912-1913.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

We have very much pleasure in submitting this, the First Annual Report of the new Board of Home Missions. The action of the last Assembly in unifying all the work of the Presbyterian Church (Western Section) under one Board has tended greatly to simplify the work of Synod and Presbytery Committees, and also to give a closer supervision of all the missionary work of our Church in Canada.

The principle adopted by the last Assembly of districting the whole Home Mission Field, and placing over these districts ten superintendents has proved eminently satisfactory. On the one hand, while adhering to the principle of convenership, it has relieved the conveners of the different Presbyteries who have rendered such splendid volunteer service in the field. On the other hand it has greatly increased the efficiency of the work done in these fields. The District Superintendents have brought the fields up to a higher standard of self-support—thus the fund has been relieved and at the same time there have been secured a better organization of the fields and a closer supervision of the men.

The Budget plan with its one appeal for all the missionary work of the Church has already proved a blessing. It has greatly helped to unify the work of the Church at home and abroad.

The new department of our Home Mission work that seeks to care for those coming from other countries is proving helpful, not only to the newcomers themselves, but also to the churches engaged in the work. Immigration Chaplains have been placed at our great distributing centres and plans are being prepared that will enable us to follow up and care for the strangers. The W. H. M. S., as auxiliary to the department of the stranger, has done splendid work.

One pressing need in our Home Mission field at this time of great extension in our work is a fund available for the securing of the necessary sites, and for giving assistance in the erection of necessary buildings. The canvass for such a fund has been begun and promises to be a marked success when completed.

An encouraging feature of the work is the increasing number of men who are offering themselves for the ministry, and are undertaking the regular course of study prescribed by our Church, also the number of students training in other than Canadian Colleges, who are anxious to serve in our Home Mission fields. This summer over fifty students from Scotch and American theological colleges are working under our Home Mission Board.

AUGMENTED CHARGES.

A year ago the Board with some hesitation sent up to the General Assembly a recommendation asking that the minimum salary for ministers in augmented charges be raised to $1,000 in the East, and $1,200 in the West. The Assembly's approval of the recommendation has been abundantly justified. Reports from the different sections of the Church show that Presbyteries have made a splendid response. Hundreds of congregations have increased the stipend of their minister. The Synod of Hamilton and London did particularly well. A short canvass was made throughout the different Presbyteries of the Synod of all the congregations giving less than $1,000 stipend, with the result that the amount of the contributions of these congregations for stipend was increased by $9,600, being an average of $260 per annum for each congregation.

This step forward on the part of the Church has done much to hearten the ministry. The co-operation of the congregations in the effort to secure a just living for the minister has deepened our faith in the people.

During the year ten Augmented Charges became self-sustaining; 109 new congregations have been placed on the list, while 21 were reduced to the status of Mission Fields. There are now 257 receiving assistance.

While this is a net increase of 78 in the year, in view of the very decided change in the scale of salaries and the short time the new regulations have been in force, the report is most encouraging.

HOME MISSION FIELDS.

At the request of Presbyteries a large number of new fields have been opened. Expansion is necessary. While the country continus to develop, while railway companies keep building new lines and establishing towns, while immigrants continue to pour into Canada at the rate of over 1,000 per day, so long will Presbyteries continue to make new calls, and so long must the Board continue to open up new work. In short, as the frontier extends, as our cities fill up, new churches must be established. In the past the Presbyterian Church has not shirked responsibility nor will she in the future.

During the year 137 new fields have been added to the list, 33 passed up to the Augmented status, while 12 became self-sustaining; 81 were dropped, merged into other fields, or ceded to the Methodist by action of the co-operating committees. The total number of fields now on the list is 851.

AUGMENTED CHARGES AND MISSION FIELDS.

OUTLOOK IN QUEBEC.

The French Presbyterian Branch of our Home Mission work is becoming more and more important. Our aim is to have one Canada, strong, undivided, and Christian. We feel that the French Presbyterian Church has a great role to play. It has a mighty influence to exert on the destiny of Canada. It must act as the connecting link between Western Canada and the Maritime Provinces. Our great aim must be to win over Quebec to evangelical Christianity.

Our missionaries are realizing more and more the greatness of the task in which they are engaged, and the Church must give them sympathy and co-operation—not forgetting that French Presbyterianism planted its banner on Canadian soil long before the Presbyterian Scotchman planted his.

Never was the time more opportune for aggressive missionary work in the Province of Quebec. "The cry of the children" is heard in the growing demand for schools and for higher standards of education. The school at Point-aux-Trembles is now inadequate to meet the need. There should be, in the judgment of many, several such centres in the Province for the benefit of both English and French children.

The work is rendered all the more urgent by the fact that an increasing number among the French have become disaffected. Clericalism is losing its grip. Modern ideas of education and progress are at work. There is a spirit of enquiry. That the hour has come for advance, there are signs that we cannot mistake.

Anti-Clericalism may readily lead to infidelity. The books and magazines distributed by those who claim to be free thinkers may tend only to irreligion. Not in a sectarian, but in a broad Christian spirit our Church must go with the Gospel that will rescue those drifting from their faith in the old system into unbelief. We must give a religion that the reason and heart can accept.

OUR MISSION TO THE JEWS.

In extending the Kingdom of our Lord we cannot overlook the Jew. "There is no distinction between Jew and Greek, for the same Lord is Lord of all and is rich unto all that call upon Him."

Our General Assembly in 1907 ordered that a Mission to the Hebrew people of Canada should be established.

In May, 1908, our first mission was opened to the 25,000 Jews in Toronto, with Rev. S. B. Rohold as our first missionary, and in April, 1911, a second mission was opened to the 13,000 Jews in Winnipeg. We have now four male and six lady missionaries. Up to the present the lady workers have been under the care of the W. F. M. S. and their salaries have been paid by this society. In the future the W. H. M. S. will assume responsibility for these workers.

There are at least 150,000 Jews in Canada, and new emigrants come at the rate of 7,500 a year, besides, there is the natural increase.

The Jews are increasing in numbers, in wealth, and thus in strength and influence, and are bound to become an important factor in the moulding of the life and character of Canada, and what that influence will be depends in large measure on our own Church.

In this free country Judaism has entirely lost all its influence. True, the people hold tenaciously together on national grounds. It is the racial sentiment rather than that of religious interest, that keeps the Jews united in the new land. And so the Jews are rapidly drifting away from the faith of their fathers and are groping for something they know not what.

Israel's spiritual needs are by far greater than their awful temporal needs, even in dark and cruel Russia. The Church must stem the tide that is flowing towards infidelity.

Our missionaries have lived in Nehemiah's time; they have been obliged to hold a continual watch against the modern Sanballat, Tobiah and Geshem; they have had to meet with the wrath of the Pharisees of two thousand years ago, but not in vain. Many Jews have learned that there is a power in the Gospel. They have publicly confessed their faith in Christ and count it an honour to be found worthy to suffer for Christ's sake.

In Toronto the "Christian Synagogue" will be dedicated in the heart of the Jewish quarter on June 7th, during the Assembly, and we look forward that with it a new epoch should be started in the history of our work amongst Israel. However far they may have drifted, there still remains with them that inherent religious instinct, that capacity to appreciate great moral and spiritual truths which has characterized them throughout their history, and which, consecrated to the service of Christ, will enrich and revitalize Christianity itself. "For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall be the receiving of them, but life from the dead."

May we not try to alleviate their condition and help bring a ray of the true light to illuminate Israel's gross darkness, and thus do our part to liberate the suffering race who produced "the suffering Messiah."

It is ours to give them back the suffering Christ whom they first gave to us, that they too may be able to say with us "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift."

DEPARTMENT OF INDIAN MISSIONS.

Your Board in submitting its first report on the Indian work desires to express its thanks to the Women's Foreign Missionary Society for the valuable assistance given and for the cordial spirit in which it has co-operated with the Home Mission Board. To the W.F.M.S. must be given the credit for the success that has been attained in this branch of the work.

During the year most of the Indian schools have been visited. In most cases it was discovered that the buildings are not adapted to the work that ought to be done. At Cecilia Jeffrey, Round Lake, and Birtle, arrangements are under way for the erection of new buildings. Feeling that the Church should not be obliged to erect buildings, the Government was approached and an understanding has been reached. Hereafter suitable buildings and equipment will be provided by the Government.

The reports from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Vancouver Island show a year of quiet, steady progress, both in the school room and in industrial training.

The Grand Jury of Portage la Prairie recently visited the school at that centre and reported to the judge "the remarkable progress the children are making."

One missionary reported "In the Qu'Appelle Valley near the old Fort of that name you see the deep tracks made by the ox carts loaded with precious furs that the Indians were taking to the trading post within the Fort, to exchange for guns, shot, powder, cloth, whiskey, blankets or the many luxuries to be obtained at the store." To-day on the same trails are seen the up-to-date wagons drawn by horses, hauling wheat to the elevators, the drivers, Indians of the new era."

The Ahousaht Boarding School, Vancouver Island, is to lose the services of the Rev. J. T. and Mrs. Ross. Under the painstaking leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Ross this school has made splendid progress. The report from this centre states "twelve were baptized and received into the fellowship of the Church, of whom two were aged Indians." The children of the Sabbath school alone gave $45.70 to the schemes of the Church.

The following is a list of the Boarding Schools:— Lake of the Woods (Cecilia Jeffrey School); Portage la Prairie; Swan Lake (Day School); Rolling River; Okanese; Lizard Point, Birtle; Crowstand; Pipestone Mission, Hurricane Hills; Moose Mountain (Day School); Round Lake; File Hills; Muscowpetung Pasquahs Piepots Mission; Mistawasis Mission; Makoce Waste; Alberni; Ucluelet (Day School); Ahousaht; Dodgers Cove.

DEPARTMENT OF THE STRANGER.

During the year a beginning has been made with this new Department. An effort is being put forth to welcome those who are coming to us from other lands, also to follow up our own people who are moving from place to place in Canada. The Immigration Chaplains at the various ports of entry forward to the Home Mission Office lists of immigrants. Books suitable for reporting removals have been mailed to all ministers and missionaries of the Presbyterian Church in Canada (Western Section). As returns reach the office notices are sent to the ministers in the towns where the strangers are located. In large centres we urge the appointment of one person to whom all notices may be sent. This party distributes cards to the minister in whose district the stranger lives, or to the minister whose church the stranger desires to attend.

We are co-operating with the Y. M. C. A.; the Y. W. C. A.; the British Welcome League; the Salvation Army, and the various hostels and bureaus that are handling servant girls and farm labourers.

The W. H. M. S. have appointed Strangers' Secretaries in all their auxiliaries. These secretaries are ready to co-operate with our ministers in any way they may direct.

The work of caring for the stranger will mean much to our Church. Our immigration chaplains reported 22,000 Presbyterians last year. These must be gathered in.

In no way does our Church lose more than through removals. Many of our city ministers are preaching to a procession.

The stranger can be traced and will be "when congregations value a soul as they do a registered letter and when sessions are as anxious about the Communion Roll as the voter's list."

Up to the present we have confined our attention to Anglo-Saxons, who are Presbyterians. We have as yet tried only to conserve Presbyterianism, but the time is coming when we must do something for the foreign-speaking people, who are coming to us in such numbers. The settlement of these people in our large cities and elsewhere in colonies is a challenge to the Church of Christ.

RUTHENIAN WORK.

For some time the Presbyterian Church in Canada has been rendering assistance to the Independent Greek Church, and each year the Home Mission Committee set apart an apportionment for this purpose. The work assumed such proportions that the assistance proved inadequate. The Ruthenian ministers continued to urge for larger salaries and that homes and church accommodation be provided. The Board declined to spend money on property not vested in the Presbyterian Church, and hesitated to guarantee salaries to workers not our own, and consequently not under the control of the Board.

About a year ago the ministers of the Independent Greek Church made application to be received as ministers of the Presbyterian Church.

A special committee was appointed. A meeting was held in Winnipeg in August, 1912, when it was decided that the Board should withdraw from the support of the Independent Greek Church as such, and establish Presbyterian Missions in Ruthenian Settlements and have the whole work under the supervision of Presbyteries. The report of this Committee was approved by the Board.

This special committee met again in the Autumn and secured a personal interview with the Ruthenian ministers seeking to be received. After examining them, communication was sent to Winnipeg Presbytery recommending that application be made to have a number of these men received as ministers of the Presbyterian Church and others as missionaries.

Winnipeg Presbytery is now making application to the Assembly on behalf of these men. In the meantime and until the Assembly takes action the Board is employing these ministers of the Independent Greek Church as missionaries.

BOARD ACKNOWLEDGES HELP FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

The Board desired to make thankful acknowledgment for the contributions received from the W. H. M. S., the W. F. M. S., the Women's Missionary Society, Montreal, the College Missionary Societies, the American Presbyterian Church in Montreal, and the Churches in Scotland and Ireland.

The Executive shall have power to deal with all business arising between the regular meetings of the Board, where matters of policy are not involved.

Special meetings of the Executive may be called from time to time by the Convener.

The Sub-Executive shall consist of the members of the Board resident in Toronto, together with four others to be named by the Board.

The Sub-Executive shall deal with all matters referred to it by the Board or the Executive, and any business requiring immediate or special attention.

The minutes of the meetings of the Executive and Sub-Executive shall be presented to the meeting of the full Board for approval.

Grants to Home Mission fields shall be recommended by Presbyteries and Synodical Committees, but the determining of these shall rest with the Assembly's Board, as shall also the appointment of all missionaries.

The Board shall prepare a full annual report of its operations, to be submitted to the General Assembly, and shall publish from time to time such information as may serve to call forth the interest and liberality of the Church.

THE SYNOD'S HOME MISSION COMMITTEE.

The Synods shall annually appoint Synodical Home Mission Committees consisting of the Conveners of the Home Mission Committees of Presbyteries within their bounds, together with such a limited number of other members as the respective Synods may deem advisable.

DUTIES OF SYNODICAL COMMITTEES:—

(1) To co-operate with the General Assembly's Board in the general supervision of the field and the work within the bounds of the respective Synods.

(2) To hold an annual meeting before the annual meeting of the Assembly's Board, these meetings to be so arranged that the Convener or Secretary of the Assembly's Board may be present to consult and advise with each Synodical Committee. Presbyteries shall prepare Schedules and Extract Minutes for these meetings as they prepare them for the meeting of the Assembly's Board.

The business of these meetings shall be:—

(1) To revise the list of Augmented congregations and mission fields as sent up by Presbyteries: to consider claims, to give judgment as to grants asked, and to report them to the Assembly's Board.

(2) To arrange, as occasion may require, for co-operating with Presbyteries in the visitation (a) of particular districts in which re-arrangements seem desirable in the interests of the fund, and (b) of congregations in which special dealing may be necessary for reducing grants.

DUTIES OF PRESBYTERIES.

Each Presbytery shall take the supervision of the Augmented charges and mission fields within its bounds, determine the fields in which the missionaries are to labour, and have its own Home Mission Committee, to the Convener of which all missionaries shall be amenable, and from whom they shall receive instructions.

Augmented charges and mission fields requiring aid shall be visited by Presbyteries or the District Superintendents annually, to ascertain the needs of various fields and the amounts they are prepared to contribute for the support of ordinances. The result of such visitation shall be reported to the Board and to the Synod's Committee on schedules provided for the purpose.

Before a settlement is made in any congregation requiring aid, the Interim Moderator shall make an effort to increase the contributions of the people, and the result of the visitation shall be reported to Presbytery.

It shall be the duty of Presbyteries to see that ministers in augmented charges and missionaries receive in full the salaries they are entitled to, reporting to the Assembly's Board any cases in which they find that the fields are unable to provide the portion of the salary that had been expected from them.

Presbyterial Conveners shall send to the Home Mission Office, Toronto, on the schedules provided, at least one week prior to the annual meeting of the Board in March, and the meeting of the Executive in September, and the meetings of the Sub-Executive in June and December, the claims for services rendered in the augmented charges and mission fields during the preceding quarter.

Conveners of Presbyteries shall send to the Home Mission Office at least ten days prior to the Annual Meeting in March, and the meeting of the Executive in September, a list of all the mission fields within its bounds, showing:—

1. The numbers of fields upon the list.

2. The names of fields to which Presbyteries have made appointments, together with the names of all missionaries who have been re-appointed.

3. The list of fields for which supply is required.

4. A statement indicating the kind of supply required for each field.

5. A list of men who have been serving the Presbytery, who have not been re-appointed, but who desire an appointment by the Board.

Under ordinary circumstances, while the Home Mission Board shall appoint to Presbyteries the number of missionaries they require, Presbyteries shall allocate the missionaries so appointed as they deem best, reporting at once to the Home Mission Office.

In the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa, in New Ontario and in the Western Synods, there are District Superintendents to whom is entrusted in connection with the Synodical Committees and under the direction of the various Presbyteries, the general supervision of the work, that is being done in the various fields in their respective districts. The District Superintendents shall report to Presbyteries regarding their visitation of fields.

Presbyteries shall forward audits for the year ending March 31st, to the Home Mission Office by October the 30th.

Presbytery Conveners shall be expected to expend the money received from the Board for the purpose for which it was secured. If it be discovered that the money is not reqiured, this information must be forwarded to the Board. Grants received for one object shall not be used for another.

Before certifying men to the Board for mission work, Presbyteries shall be satisfied as to the moral character of the applicants, and their motives for applying for work. They shall see that candidates have an intelligent acquaintance with the Bible, and our system of doctrine and method of Church government. They shall have assurance of the ability of the candidates to conduct a public service fittingly and to the edification of the people. All candidates shall be certified to Presbytery by their pastor and be members in full communion of the Presbyterian Church.

FIELDS.

1. Augmented Charges.

The list of augmented charges shall embrace only such charges as have pastors duly called by the people and inducted by the Presbytery and as, in the judgment of the Presbytery and the Assembly's Board, are entitled to assistance in the support of the ministry. Such charges, when vacant, may be retained on the list, and, at the discretion of the Board, may be accorded a grant for supply until settled.

Mission fields, new congregations and other congregations requiring aid may, on the recommendation of Presbytery, be placed on the Augmentation Fund by the Board or its Executive.

Congregations shall ordinarily not be placed or continued on the list except on the following conditions:—(a) They shall contribute towards minister's stipend at least $650 per annum—($800 per annum in New Ontario and the West, and in cities) and a Manse or rented house, where such is required for a married man. (b) They shall contribute at the rate of not less than $6.00 per member (or $12.00 per family in cases where the ratio of members to families is exceptionally large or small) towards stipend. (c) They shall contribute towards the Schemes of the Church. (d) The subscription list for stipend of every congregation seeking a place on the list of augmented charges shall be presented to the Presbytery when application is made, and the Presbytery shall report thereon to the Assembly's Home Mission Board.

Grants may be withheld from any congregation where arrears of stipend are reported as due on the 31st December preceding.

Grants may be made to vacant congregations where Presbyteries show need for such, but in no case shall the grant exceed the amount required to bring the stipend up to that of Stated Supply.

Students, Class B, shall comprise young men who have the ministry in view, but who have not secured first year's standing in one of the prescribed courses.

Catechists are men with recognized ability and lengthened experience in mission work, but who cannot be expected to pursue any course of study leading to the ministry.

In cases where the cost of living is exceptionally high, or other exceptional circumstances obtain, Presbyteries may, on behalf of ministers or missionaries, apply for larger grants than those allowed by the regulations, but all such applications shall be accompanied by adequate and specific data in their support.

The Presbytery Convener, with the District Superintendent, shall determine the field where an outfit is required.

Where the expense, or part of the expense, is to be borne by the Home Mission Board, it is recommended that the outfit be hired rather than purchased, but, when it is found necessary to purchase, the Presbytery Convener, with the District Superintendent, shall have oversight, and be responsible for the purchase and sale when no longer needed.

The Presbytery Convener, or District Superintendent, when purchasing an outfit, shall draw upon the Home Mission Fund for the cost of the same. When a sale is effected he shall notify the Board and remit the proceeds, through the Home Mission Secretary, to the Church Treasurer. All claims for hire of outfit, for which the Home Mission Board has assumed responsibility, shall be entered on the Quarterly Schedule.

When the missionary receives an outfit from the Presbytery Convener or District Superintendent, he shall enter into a contract, promising proper care of the outfit and the return of same in good condition. He shall further agree that he will neither use the outfit himself nor allow it to be used, except for the purpose of doing mission work on the field.

The Board will make no allowance for horse feed or the upkeep of the outfit.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Convener.

REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY, 1912-13.

With humble and grateful hearts, and heads bowed down we present this the Tenth Annual Report of the Women's Home Missionary Society. Our thanksgiving to our Heavenly Father is indeed ten-fold! Each year we have been permitted to record steady development along established lines together with some new work begun. Even in the experimental stages of our Society's work we had more to cheer us than to discourage. So remarkable has been the growth and expansion of our work that we would fain forbear to hint at the hard places travelled and failures mingled with our successes, as year after year we were enabled to enlarge our vision, extend our scope, renew our energies and increase our forces. And the year just closed stands out as the banner year of achievement.

Last year we reported 34 Presbyterial Societies, with 650 organizations; this year there are 42 Presbyterial Societies, an increase of 8, with 900 organizations, making the increase of 250, the largest in the history of the Society.

The 27 Presbyteries in the Province of Ontario are now all organized. That does not mean, however, that there is an organization in every congregation in Ontario, as it only requires 7 societies in a Presbytery to form a Presbyterial.

Prayer, perseverance, loyalty and strenuous effort on the part of the women throughout the whole Church have marked every step of the onward march in this organization department, and through the Double Membership Campaign thousands of members have been added, making a working force of twenty thousand women.

The receipts for the year are $48,031.09, and the estimate for the ensuing year is $65,000.

Total amount raised since organization is $211,321.06.

MEDICAL WORK.

The medical work now established at nine different places in the West is proving beyond question that the doctrine of "healing the sick" has still its power to point men to the Great Physician. In every case where there is a W. H. M. S. Hospital its Christian influence is evident in the lives of the people and in some places the community looks to the Medical Missionary and his staff for advice and co-operation in matters affecting its public welfare.

Miss Rachael Hanna, the Lady Superintendent of St. Andrew's Hospital, Atlin, B.C., reports 240 patients treated during the year, with only one removed by death. Notwithstanding the loneliness and isolation of that far-northern ice-bound mining camp, our nurses serve cheerfully and uncomplainingly. When entering the service of the W. H. M. S. some five years ago and asked if they would sign a two-years' contract, the heroic answer in each case was, "I would rather not. I will stay as long as the Lord gives me strength for the work."

Telegraph Creek.—Dr. Fred Inglis, Medical Superintendent of the Telegraph Creek Hospital, who has been working in that Indian Settlement for eight years, says the hospital is growing in favour and that the nurse, Miss Moore, is giving self-sacrificing service to the people amidst overwhelming discouragements. Owing to proposed changes in the future policy of the Church's work in this field, matters are somewhat unsettled, but we are looking forward hopefully to the hospital work.

Loggers Mission.—Last year, while the Annual Meeting of the W. H. M. S. was in session at Windsor, the Society was asked by the Home Mission Superintendent, Dr. A. S. Grant, to undertake this work on the Pacific Coast, entailing an expenditure of $5,000. The work has been carried on by Messrs. Burgess and Kennedy, and the latter reports that they had actually come in contact with over 3,000 logging men working in 33 camps, employing anywhere from 10 to 700 men, besides visiting 100 families within a 90-mile coast line. The report also outlines an aggressive policy for this work, which, if carried out, would put it on a plane commensurate with the great need on that Pacific Coast.

Vegreville, Alta.—The work of the "Rolland M. Bosnell Hospital," under the able superintendency of Dr. George Arthur, continues to develop and expand. During the year a new heating system has been installed and other necessary quipment added.

Grande Prairie, Peace River District, Alberta.—The Pioneer Hospital is in course of erection, the cost not to exceed $3,000. With almost no hospital equipment and in cramped quarters in a small shack, splendid medical work has been accomplished by one nurse, with the assistance of our Missionary's wife, Mrs. Forbes. Over 200 patients have been treated for the small outlay of $700, including nurse's salary.

Wakaw, Sask.—Dr. R. G. Scott, Superintendent of the "Anna Turnbull" Hospital, reports treating over 900 cases. The new hospital was opened on October 31st, 1912. The building cost $5,000 and has accommodation for 15 patients.

Canora, Sask.—The "Hugh Waddell" Memorial Hospital is under construction and when completed will have accommodation for 60 patients. The erection of this fine hospital building has been made possible through the generosity of a consecrated lady living in Peterborough.

Teulon, Man.—The Medical Superintendent, Rev. A. J. Hunter, our pioneer Medical Missionary, who has been carrying on medical work in this Teulon Colony for ten years, reports a very busy year. He recommends that the old hospital building be raised and the whole place put in good repair, and that steps be taken to have the land drained, and thus avoid, if possible, the frequent outbreaks of typhoid fever.

Sifton, Man.—During the past four years the medical missionary work in this Dauphin Colony has been exceedingly difficult. Owing to there being no qualified medical man in charge, the two nurses have had to carry the responsibility of the Mission practically alone during eight months of the year. Miss Reid reports last year 1,073 people came to the Mission for office treatment, and 18 were nursed in the building.

Ethelbert, Man.—This place is also in the Dauphin Colony, some 18 miles distant from Sifton, and is governed by similar conditions. Here, too, over a thousand people came during the year for office treatment and medicine, 12 being nursed in the building. Miss Ella Wray, a trained nurse, has been in charge during eight months of the past year.

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

The importance of the educational work is becoming more and more apparent: when we remember the ideals and the home life of the many coming to our country from foreign lands, we realize the greatness of the task, of Canadianizing and Christianizing these people, a task to which Canadian Protestantism should address itself with a zeal in keeping with its importance. Dr. Arthur aims at having in these homes 40 boys and 20 girls. Vegreville will, in the near future, be an important educational centre. The Government of the Province has set apart $30,000 for the erection of a seminary for the education of foreign boys, its intention being to fit them for teachers among their own people. None under the age of 16 are admitted to the seminary. The children in our Homes are under the age of 16 and, after leaving the public school, may enter and qualify for teachers. At Vegreville two Homes were reported last year. To these, two have been added. The Home in Teulon was opened in January, 1912, with 20 boys; the applications for admission were so numerous that at the request of Dr. Hunter the attic was completed affording accommodation for ten more. Teulon has a District Normal School which prepares pupils for teachers, affording excellent opportunities for the children in our Homes. Dr. Hunter's opinion is that the work should be greatly enlarged. In Vegreville there are 35 boys and eight girls, and in Teulon Home thirty boys. In addition to these there are in the hospitals at Teulon, Wakaw, and the Mission Houses, Ethelbert and Sifton, 13 children, making a total of 86. Besides clothing the children the Board contributes $50 a year for each child for maintenance. The Society is greatly encouraged by the diligence and progress of the children, who are able to hold their own with English-speaking boys of their age. Last summer the principal of a business college in Winnipeg offered prizes in penmanship in a district covered by three inspectors in Manitoba. A number of city schools were included in the territory. Three of the boys in our Teulon Home carried off the prizes. In the Vegreville Home the girls of 13 and 14 years of age are able to cut and make their own dresses, while many of the boys are among the brightest pupils in the public school. The aim of our Society is to place the children under the care of cultured Christian matrons, who supervise their studies, instruct them in the Bible and Catechism and take them regularly to the Sabbath school and church services. This work for the children should appeal to every patriotic and Christian heart and enlist the support of the entire Church.

DEACONESS WORK.

At the beginning of 1912 we had three deaconesses supported by our Society. One at Winnipeg, Miss Cameron, working under the H. M. Committee in that city; one at Edmonton, Miss Agnes Cowan, working under the Presbytery of Alberta, and one, Miss Adelaide Sutherland, then in Prince Rupert, but transferred to the Kootenay in May. In April of the same year our Society was asked by the H. M. Committee to support two more, one, Miss Crottie, to work in St. Giles Church District in Toronto, and one, Miss Laughlin, to work specially among the Indians in Deseronto. Early in the fall Miss Cowan resigned, owing to ill health. We expect to send out another deaconess to Edmonton about the beginning of May. Application has been made to the Deaconess Board for Miss Cuntz, one of the graduates of this year, to work among the Ruthenians in Toronto.

SUPPLIES.

General supplies have been sent out to all the Hospitals, Mission Houses and Mission Fields, as well as to Missionaries in new and isolated districts.

This branch of our work speaks for itself through the letters we receive. A missionary's wife, just two years from Scotland, writes:—"I cannot tell you how my heart has been stirred at the thought of those whom I have never seen, remembering me so kindly. Away from home and friends it means so much. We are glad to be counted worthy of doing work for the Master in this great country."

Twenty-nine Presbyterial Societies and 19 Auxiliaries report the sending of 473 bales of clothing, weighing 53,728 pounds.

The Supply Committee in Toronto shipped 130 bales, weighing 17,643 pounds. In this shipment was furniture for Wakaw Hospital, two Homes at Vegreville, and for the second storey of Teulon Boys' Home. The ladies of Edmonton, with the assistance of Alberta Synodical Society, sent furnishings for the Pioneer Hospital at Grand Prairie. A communion service and two organs were donated and, through the kindness of the Dominion and Canadian Express Companies, who gave free transportation at the Christmas season, every Missionary in Ontario, in addition to the Hospitals and Mission Houses throughout the West, received Christmas gifts. From the C.P.R., C.N.R. and G.T.R. Settlers' Effects Rates have been secured thus reducing to one-half our transportation charges.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE STRANGER.

During 1912 the policy of this department has been developing. Approving of the suggestion of 1911 that the Society be a medium to care for migration of women and girls, the H. M. B. has extended the work to include immigration and migration of all classes of Presbyterians under the H. M. B., with the W. H. M. S. as auxiliary. Notices of immigration or removal go to ministers, who are asked to inlist strangers' secretaries. The Society is responding generally. Auxiliary and Presbyterial secretaries are ready to co-operate with Ministers and Home Mission Committees of Presbyteries.

Some types of work are quoted:—Hundreds of first addresses have been verified, errors corrected, and permanent addresses and additional names reported to the office. Usually immigrants do not become the charge of Ministers or Presbyteries at first addresses. Immigration agencies locate hundreds of Presbyterian women. Presbyterial officers secured names of employers, visited, and notified Ministers.

The Y. W. C. A. will co-operate, as it places thousands where it has no branches —many Presbyterians.

Secretaries report adherents and Sunday school scholars moving. The benefit to the members of the Society in coming into personal touch with the stranger cannot be estimated.

MISSION FIELDS.

Eleven Mission Fields have been supported during the year. Through the library department of the work hundreds of men in lumber, mining and construction camps, as well as people living in lonely and isolated places, have received papers, magazines and good books; and many Sabbath school libraries have been sent to struggling Mission Fields and needy places.

The lecture accompanied by lantern slides has been very much appreciated and helpful in bringing the work of the W. H. M. S. in an interesting form before the public.

The work of the Press Secretaries in the Auxiliaries also keeps the public posted on Home Mission topics and movements. There has been a decided increase in the number of W. H. M. S. publications issued during the year. These deal chiefly with the different branches of the work and are proving beneficial to the Auxiliary workers by thus placing before them accurate and up-to-date information about the growth and expansion of our various undertakings.

Our Home Mission Pioneer has now a circulation of over 21,000 copies, an increase of nearly 3,000 over last year.

Much has been done, but much more is waiting to be done. May we, the women of the W. H. M. S. throughout the length and breadth of our land, be permitted to enjoy the great privilege of serving Him who first taught us how to serve.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Corresponding Secretary W. H. M. S.

REPORTS FROM SUPERINTENDENTS.

SYNOD OF MONTREAL AND OTTAWA.

Our district includes the six Presbyteries of Brockville, Lanark and Renfrew, Ottawa, Glengarry, Montreal and Quebec.

It is not necessary to define its geographical area. It is enough to say that it is a territory covering Eastern Ontario and Quebec. We have in this district thirty-nine augmented congregations; and we have seventy-seven mission fields, of which forty-seven are English, twenty-six French, two bilingual, one Italian and one Ruthenian. We thus carry on work in four languages and, though the aim in each case is the same, the work differs necessarily in character. Among the English-speaking missions we have some, especially in the suburbs of cities, in which we hope for rapid growth; but in more cases our missionaries have to toil at a work that can hold out very little, if any, promise of increase, in which cases we are ministering to small groups of people who depend for the support of ordinances largely on the loyalty of the Church at large to its weaker brethren.

One evil to which we cannot close our eyes is the overlapping from which we suffer considerably in our Synod. This evil is due to some extent to the overzealousness of the denominations in establishing their respective causes side by side, where neither the present population, nor the prospects of future population, would warrant the expectation of these missions becoming self-sustaining, but in some cases it is due also to the fact that the rapidly diminishing English population is reducing causes that were once prosperous to the status of very needy mission fields. The recollection of their past history makes our Church reluctant to withdraw its support; but the urgent need of our funds for the new settlements in other parts of the land, and the better relations that have recently developed among the different denominations has impressed upon us the necessity of remedying this evil by as liberal a co-operation with other denominations as circumstances will permit. In this connection an interdenominational committee has been organized in Montreal consisting of five representatives from each of the Methodists, Congregational and Presbyterian denominations, and three appointed by the Y.M.C.A. The object of this committee is to provide a point of contact for these bodies and to make recommendations looking to the avoidance of overlapping in city and country. The powers of this committee are purely advisory, except such special powers as may be entrusted to it, from time to time, by the bodies represented.

At Coteau Junction, where we had but ten families, of whom four were Anglicans, our mission has been handed over to the care of the Anglican Church; the Bishop of Montreal having agreed to supply that place with a regular Sabbath service from a neighbouring mission of that denomination.

At Ste. Anne de Bellevue we have a situation that has required most careful attention. There are about twenty Presbyterian families and single persons resident there, about half of whom are members of the staff of McDonald College. This mission provides a situation that is unique. The feature that complicates the problem here is that there are about three hundred Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational students in the college, for whom these bodies should provide church accommodation. The limited building accommodation that hitherto served the needs of the local families, became inadequate to meet the new situation created by the advent of McDonald College. The Interdenominational Committee of Montreal recently recommended that joint action be taken with a view to the conduct of union services, under a settled pastor, and in a building to be erected in the village. The Presbytery of Montreal approved of the proposal, which also meets with the approval of the vast majority of the members of these denominations in Ste. Anne, and steps are now being taken towards its consummation. We cannot take space to mention other cases in particular; we may say, however, that the question of overlapping in several cases has been brought to the notice of other denominations and we are jointly considering remedial action. We have plans now under consideration by which we expect to save a large amount of money to our Church by the redistricting of our fields and by co-operation with other denominations.

Among French-speaking people our work is of such a character as to bespeak the sympathy of the Church at large for the men that toil on in inhospitable environments. These missions usually have but few Protestant families connected with them. The effort of these missionairies is to conduct religious services among these families, to provide means of education, religious and secular, for their children and to spread the leaven of evangelical truth in the surrounding community. We have among our French ministers and missionaries some who are courageously facing difficulties in the face of great handicaps. The problem of Quebec is rapidly becoming the problem of Canada. Forty per cent. of the population of Canada is Roman Catholic. They enjoy privileges accorded to no other Church and are rapidly seeking to secure for their Church laws an authority superior to the laws of the state. On these matters we may have more to say next year. According to statistics compiled by Mr. Frank Yeigh, in 1760 there were 60,000 French-Canadians in Canada; now there are about 3,000,000. Twenty years ago eleven Quebec counties had a majority of English, now the majority in all is French. Twenty years ago there were about one hundred and twelve thousand French-Canadians in Ontario, now there are about two hundred and twenty-five thousand, with a preponderating voice in fifteen counties. In a century Ontario will, it is estimated, have six millions French-Canadians.

The greatest danger in Quebec is not in Roman Catholicism, but in the incredulity and religious indifference that react from it, such as we see to-day in Roman Catholic countries in Europe. Such a reaction is rapidly coming in Quebec. Our aim is not to make proselytes by emphasizing abuses in the Church of Rome, but to forestall and counteract the drift towards infidelity. We labour so to spread abroad in the whole country the truth as it is in Christ Jesus, and so to create a conviction of that truth in the public mind of Quebec, that when the history of other Roman Catholic countries repeats itself here and the people rise to sweep error from their midst, they will so recognize the place of true religion that it shall not lose its place as the strength and hope of the human soul. The important thing to us is not that the form of religion so retained be Presbyterian, but that there be conserved to men the conviction that the soul's peace is found in the union of man with God through the one Mediator between God and man. To this end it is our purpose in future to lay increased emphasis on three phases of our work, education, literature and evangelism.

The need of better educational facilities is evident from the fact that, according to the returns made by these schools themselves, there are thirteen hundred and ninety-four Protestant children attending Roman Catholic schools in the Province of Quebec. While admitting that a good proportion of these may be there from choice there can be no doubt that the majority are there because there are no Protestant schools within their reach.

In our French work our children are fairly well provided with schools, scattered throughout the Province we have twelve schools doing work of a primary character. The Point-aux-Trembles schools are under the supervision of a special committee and will be reported by that committee,—we may say, however, that these schools had 350 applications for admittance. They could receive but 275—of these a large number are Roman Catholics. This institution is doing admirable work and its success justifies our putting forth strenuous efforts to develop similar schools elsewhere in the Province of Quebec.

We are also sadly in need of boarding schools, to which we can take children of English-speaking Protestant parents of limited means. We have been written to by a number of such of our people who are scattered about the Province of Quebec, complaining that they were not within the reach of schools and asking if we could aid them to get their children an education under Protestant auspices. Sorrowfully we had to tell them that the Presbyterians had not yet made any such provision for the children of isolated English-speaking Protestant families. We are glad to report that the Presbyteries of Ottawa and Quebec are moving in that direction.

Good literature is so necessary to our work that its importance cannot be over emphasized. Recognizing this, steps are being taken to secure literature of a char acter that will give a positive statement of our belief in a friendly tone. The intention is to open a depository where such literature, in different languages, may be secured; and by other means as well, to give such literature a freer circulation, along with the distribution of the Bible.

Evangelism has its place in Quebec as elsewhere. Provision is being made for an evangelistic campaign among our French mission fields, in an effort to deepen the spiritual life among our French Protestants, as well as to make the Gospel more widely known among them who are outside of our Church.

Among the Ruthenians work is being undertaken now for the first time in our Synod. There are said to be about six thousand Ruthenians in the City of Montreal. Mr. Bodrug has been placed in charge of the work, and already is quite encouraged by the prospects of success in his efforts.

Among the Italians we have one mission, presided over by Mr. De Pierro, in which we carry on work of an institutional character—Mr. De Pierro is assisted by Miss Richard, who conducts a school among Italian children. There is an Italian Y.M.C.A. organized in connection with this mission. This phase of our work is most encouraging and full of promise.

A very happy feature in our Synod is the ready response made by congregations that were self-sustaining, but whose stipend was below the new minimum and by Augmented Congregations, to the appeals made towards increase to stipends. Though the absence of some returns makes it impossible to state it definitely in numbers, we are safe in saying that about 70 per cent. of these congregations will make up the required increase without requiring any additional draft on our funds. Out of nine self-sustaining congregations that were not giving the minimum salary in the Presbytery of Ottawa, only one will require a grant. In Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew of nine such congregations only one here also will require a grant. In the Presbytery of Quebec, where there were six such congregations, all have come up so that none will require a grant.

The outlook generally in our Synod is most encouraging, we find this encouragement, however, not in the present conditions of our fields so much as in the spirit and vision of Christian workers throughout the Synod. Men are moving into line in a way that can be explained only on the ground that the "still small Voice" has bidden them go forward. The day has already dawned when men are ready to sacrifice and bleed for Righteousness Sake. Our Saviour shed His Blood for the Redemption of mankind and when the Church is ready to bleed with Him there's hope for the world.

NEW ONTARIO.

In extent of territory, Ontario is the second largest province in the Dominion, extending 1,200 miles from east to west, and north from the International Boundary for over 800 miles. It contains an area of 407,263 square miles. In 1911 this Province produced 35 per cent. of the total field crops of Canada, 39 per cent. of the timber, 41 per cent. of the mineral, and 75 per cent. of all fruits grown in the Dominion, and yet only 10 per cent. of Ontario's land has been located. 236,000,000 acres are still vested in the Crown. Over 88 per cent. of the total area and nearly all the unlocated lands are within the boundaries of New Ontario.

The investigations of the last five or ten years in this new North have revealed stores of mining, lumbering and agricultural wealth hitherto undreamed of, while those most familiar with the country claim that the discoveries already made are but a prophesy of the untold millions which New Ontario will yet pour into the coffers of an eager world.

Turning to Church work, we find the Province divided into 30 Presbyteries with 562 self-supporting congregations and 248 mission fields and augmented charges. The Presbytery of Superior, belonging to the Synod of Manitoba, comes under the superintendency of Dr. Murray, while Barrie, North Bay, Timiskaming and Algoma are usually spoken of as Northern or New Ontario. In Old Ontario there are about 40 mission fields and 60 augmented charges. Some of these give promise of growth; others, because of the lure of the city or the call of the new land are likely to remain for some time under the care of the Board. These congregations should be strongly manned for they are not as some have supposed a burden upon the Church, but rather are they the training schools from which many young men and women go forth to fight that great battle for the clean and noble life.

The Work.—In New Ontario, almost every phase of missionary effort is found. There the lumberman and the railroad builder, the miner and the homesteader are all looking to the Church for the good tidings which keeps the home pure and the nation strong. That the Church is endeavouring to proclaim that message is seen from the fact that in Northern Ontario we have 118 mission fields and augmented charges with approximately 300 preaching stations. The purely missionary character of the work is more distinctly seen in the three Northern Presbyteries, where we have only 9 self-supporting congregations to 102 mission fields and augmented charges.

The year just closed has been one fraught with great things for the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The unification of the work, the amalgamation of funds, increased salaries for our men, etc., have given a new impetus to the work the thrill of which is vibrating along every line of our religious and national activity.

In connection with this forward movement we are pleased to say that New Ontario has in a measure at least moved into line. A number of the self-supporting congregations below the minimum have measured up to the new standard. The augmented charges were all visited and only two revert to the Home Mission list, while many of the mission fields have endeavoured to bring their contributions up, that they might not be an added financial burden to the Church.

Lumber Camps.—The best time to do lumber camp work is from October to January. After that the hauling starts, the men are up early and late; consequently there is very little opportunity for service except, perhaps, on the Sabbath, but even then the men are tired or busy washing and mending. During the 1912-1913 season 17 of our missionaries have done more or less lumber camp work, speaking to the men, distributing literature, etc., especially in the camps of their respective localities.

A few went farther afield, like Mr. Wellerman, of Kippewa, who travelled 562 miles (about 200 by snowshoe), distributed over 600 pieces of French literature and nearly 800 magazines, etc. In the majority of his services a lantern was used, with views of "Ben Hur," "The Life of Christ" and "Away Back with the Lumber Jack." Thus, with picture and service of song, we trust we have brightened the lives of some of the many who work in Nature's silent places.

A further study of this phase of missionary work compels us to adhere to our judgment of a year ago, viz., that the work can never adequately be done by the spasmodic visits of non-denominational representatives, but by an interdenominational movement large enough to tackle the problem in a big way. Teaching missionaries should be appointed who could make at least fortnightly visits to the camps under their care, thus getting into close contact with the men. In the main lumbering towns, rendezvous should be provided where their "turkeys" (baggage) would be looked after, time cheques cashed, railway tickets procured and some bright clean entertainment provided for the lonely workers who, hungering for some touch of social life, are easy victims for the liquor shark with his brilliantly lighted "bar," but awfully dark "snake room." Indeed, whiskey is the running sore of the lumberman's life, and this sore must be healed before this problem can be solved.

The French Department.—There is no doubt that the Roman Catholic Church is making a determined effort to establish a stronghold in New Ontario. This is particularly noticeable in the Timiskaming and Sudbury Districts. In the latter district, with headquarters at Dowling, we have our only French worker, Reverend E. D. Pelletier. The people have promised in work and material about $500 towards a new building for school and church. If we could open up such educational institutions all over the country, we might hope in the next generation at least to blend the two great races of our land into one common Christian brotherhood.

The Foreigner.—It is interesting to note that of the 395,804 immigrants who entered Canada during the calendar year of 1912, 119,088 came to Ontario, and of the overseas immigrants about 40 per cent. chose this Province as their home. Thousands of these strangers came to New Ontario and are practically untouched by the Church. This is particularly true of those who have come from Continental Europe. Mr. Malcolm, the first to introduce the "Roberts" system is meeting with considerable success and we are trying it at other centres. Toronto kindly lent their Finnish worker for a few trips to Cobalt. During his first visit he found between six and eight hundred of his own countrymen in that town alone. Six services were held in the Presbyterian church with an attendance ranging from 25 to 40, and also a Communion Service with eight men and two women at the table.

If we had a worker, covering the country between Copper Cliff and Cochrane, he would have a territory of over 400 miles and a constituency of between seven and ten thousand foreigners. Many of these foreigners were educated in the homeland, but being out of touch with the Church are reading socialistic literature of the rankest type. We need missionaries who, understanding their language and ideals, may direct their minds towards the true socialism taught by Jesus.

Overlapping.—In certain quarters this sin may have been exaggerated, even sometimes by well meaning, but ill-informed friends of the Church. The following is an outline of conditions as they exist on the mission fields of New Ontario. In the Presbytery of Algoma, out of 66 preaching stations there are only 19 where we touched either of the other churches negotiating for union, and in a number of the 19, we alternate services every second Sabbath. In Barrie, outside of the strictly summer or tourist centres, we touch in only four out of eighteen. In Timiskaming, we have been successfully co-operating with the Methodist friends for nearly two years, so that with the exception of two or three places overlapping is practically eliminated in that new and growing district. In the Presbytery of North Bay, however, we have a more serious condition to face, for on many of the fields in the District of Parry Sound, the people are scattered and in some localities not too prosperous. Here in the early days both Methodists and Presbyterians established their missions and each denomination has been struggling ever since. This very struggle for existence has, in many cases, developed local strifes and jealousies that greatly intensify the problem of a rational co-operation. However, the Presbytery is alive to the situation and we hope to find a solution that will not only prove satisfactory to both denominations, but give the people a more efficient service.

A Glimpse of the Past Year.—In every Presbytery the work has been well maintained and in some quarters encouraging progress made. Eight new fields, four in Algoma and four in Timiskaming, are being opened up. These are situated in mining or agricultural centres. Five new churches have been dedicated and many more renovated and refurnished. Manses also have been bought or built in various places. Duplex envelopes were introduced into about fifty congregations and a large part of the increase in salaries met. True, every congregation has not measured up to its privileges, but others are doing splendidly, some of which, with a more businesslike administration together with a determination to retain their status as congregations, have increased their contributions from twenty to a hundred per cent. Again, we have some mission fields which are giving, if not beyond their means, at least far in excess of the average contributions of our Church. There is one little congregation in a settlement of six Protestant families where the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper had only been dispensed once in the last eight years. I visited this congregation on a Friday and after a paddle of twelve miles, conducted afternoon service in one of the houses, when 17 sat at the Table, two young men uniting on profession of faith. At the close of the service supper was provided for all, after which the superintendent was asked to preach to them again. This having been done, a Board of Managers was organized and the duplex envelopes introduced. Two men subscribed $5.00 each for every service given by our missionary in that corner of the Master's vineyard. We feel that if our Church membership, in proportion to their ability, would measure up to the standard set by Isaac Hansen and Archie Perrier, we could finance a Budget of not only one, but many, millions. In many of the fields the old haphazard method of financing is being replaced by something more up to date, where the Managers meet regularly every month, close their books, strike balance sheets and carry amounts forward. Could not many of our larger congregations sit at the feet of some mission fields and learn not only the art of giving, but also business methods of administration?

A year ago we outlined a plan for a closer supervision of the work, viz., that each ordained man be asked to take the direct oversight of certain fields, becoming responsible for dispensing Sacraments, organizing finances, etc., and reporting in every case the results of his visit to the convener and superintendent. The members of the various Presbyteries entered so enthusiastically into this scheme that with a single exception every mission field in New Ontario was visited by convener, superintendent or other representative of Presbytery. The result of this has been that Sacraments were dispensed, managers appointed, sessions organized, Sunday school and other workers encouraged, and each little congregation made to feel that it is a part and a real part of the great Presbyterian Church in Canada.

A Glance into the Future.—The development of the iron industry at Sellwood and the Soo, the renewed interest in nickel production throughout the Copper Cliff-Sudbury District, Cobalt with its production of almost a hundred million dollars in silver, forty millions of which have been paid in dividends, Porcupine with its present production of half a million a month, these with other activities in the mining sphere are attracting American, English and European capital as never before. The activity of the Government in pushing roads hither and thither through the clay belts is opening up large agricultural areas, but settlers are going in faster than Governments can blaze trails. Some of the townships are settled "tight," while wherever the land is open for settlement, there the homesteader may be found. In one of these our missionary discovered a settlement of nearly 100 persons, ninety per cent. of them Protestant, and the majority Presbyterian.

The building of the pulp mills at Abitibi and Metagami is the first real attempt to establish the paper industry and to develop the great water powers of the farther North, two million horsepower of which may be found within a hundred miles along the T.C.R., to say nothing of the uncalculated hydro-electrical energy stored by Nature in the hundred rivers that empty their waters into the Hudson between the mouth of the Moose and the mouth of the Nelson.

Railroad construction goes on apace. The completion of the road from Sudbury to Little Current, the opening up of the Algoma Central Railway to the main line of the C.P.R. and on to the G.T.P. at Hearst, the building of the T. & N.O. branch lines to Elk Lake and Iroquois, with a possible extension to Kettle Falls and Moose Factory, the double tracking of the C.P.R., the connecting up of the last link of the C.N.R. transcontinental system, the completion of the G.T.P., all of these mean much for the Province and country, as they open up vast areas rich in timber, mineral and agricultural possibilities. But it means more than this; it means that in the comparatively near future hundreds of thousands will be actively engaged in developing the splendid resources of this greater Ontario. Surely it is our duty as a Church to meet this incoming multitude, be they Anglo-Saxon, French or foreign, with the Master's message of a Father's love. In closing we would like to express our appreciation of the hearty co-operation of the conveners and every minister in the North, as well as the ready assistance given by our Head Office. It is this co-operation for the whole work of the Church that will enable us not only to look after the thousands who are now here, but the hundreds of thousands who shall yet call this country home, for 'tis only by an intensified united effort that we may hope to lift New Ontario, Canada and humanity from darkness up to God.

"Lord of the nations, thus to Thee
Our country we commend;
Be Thou our refuge and our trust,
Our everlasting Friend."

J. D. BYRNES.

MANITOBA.

For the Synod of Manitoba the past year has been one of transition and readjustment. Supervision of our work has been closer than heretofore, yet it has been far from adequate. We have the work, however, better in hand and we hope for further improvement during the coming year.

VISITATION.

Since undertaking the work of superintendence a year ago last November, I have visited 71 English-speaking mission fields. I have made 20 return visits to readjust matters, or complete work that could not be overtaken upon the first occasion. I have visited practically all the stations within the fields touched and have given 166 Home Mission addresses or sermons on these fields. There are about 20 English-speaking fields that I have not yet been able to visit. I have visited 21 settled charges—augmented or below present minimum—several of which I personally canvassed for increased subscriptions. I have made 41 addresses on these fields, besides preaching 25 times in self-sustaining charges, presenting the claims of Home Missions, or the whole Budget. I have addressed two Presbyterial Home Missionary Societies and eight Home Mission Auxiliaries, making in all 242 addresses.

I have been at four of our Indian missions and have made some study of Ruthenian conditions, by visiting the missions at Brandon, Ethelbert and Sifton. I have attended Synod, many of the meetings of Presbyteries, as well as meetings of our several Committees and Boards.

Much of this visitation has been hasty, and the work overtaken necessarily superficial. I have, however, got a bird's-eye-view of the field—understand better its needs, appreciate more fully its importance, and I trust that by more thorough organization of the forces available in Presbyteries that we may be able to take reasonable care of our mission charges, nursing them into settled congregations. The following resolution was formally adopted by four of the Presbyteries that I attended last month and will doubtless be practically observed by all:—"In visiting a mission field the Presbytery representative, enquires into Sunday school conditions with a view to stimulating organization and interest, also young people's societies, present claims of Budget, deal with managers on matters of local finance, organize and conduct, if deemed necessary, an every individual canvass for local support and Budget. That formal reports be made in writing of these visits, to be embodied in quarterly report of Superintendent—credit being given to person doing work."

It may be too much to expect that every visitor will overtake this work in all its details—but it will be worth something to have a high ideal of what should be accomplished. Too often the neighbouring pastor, to whom has been entrusted the oversight of a field—has made a hurried visit—baptized the children, administered the Lord's Supper, and returned to his home with the least possible delay, leaving the student to grapple with problems of finance and organization as best he may. A full week is not too much to devote once a year to each of our mission fields by some experienced minister. Fellowship with our young men, discussion of their difficulties, assistance in the solution of their problems, and kindly sympathy with them in their inexperience, would be a splendid practical supplement to college lectures and theoretical training. Our young men, as a rule, are rendering excellent service, but many of them are inadequately furnished for the important work they undertake.

Personally I shall not be able to reach all our missions each year, but my the assistance of conveners and others we hope to make at least one fairly complete inspection of the work of each field each year.

I have been deeply impressed with the practically universal appreciation by our people of these superintending visits. Especially in isolated districts, the people feel that they are not forgotten by their Church. The presentation of the broader interests and enterprises of the Church and country, has given new vision and keener interest to many of our people. In fields without supply for the winter, where one almost hesitated to go, people were made to realize the magnitude of the work the Home Mission Board have on hand, and this stirring of their sympathy with the larger work helped them, for the time at least, to forget their own disappointment.

I have been exceedingly gratified too at the sympathy with appeals made to Christian homes to give us their boys for the ministry. In the keen struggle for material gain the obligation of Christian homes to supply the demand for the pulpit may too long have been too lightly regarded, but conscience is by no means dead, and the heroic spirit of our growing boys can be touched with the vision of struggle upon the field of missions, as well as upon the exciting field of sport or the still more fascinating realm of commercial enterprise.

Knowledge of the larger interest that our men of wealth are taking in the evangelization of our land, and reference to the vastly increased gifts of business men to missions never fails to arrest the attention of our more indifferent young men, and to change smiles into sober interest. Too long have we dealt with Church finance in an apologetic spirit. Many of our people are thinking in larger numbers, and when we cease to treat the Church as a two-penny ha'-penny business she will command respect.

FIELDS.

We began the year, April 1st, 1912, with about 91 missions, including some 250 stations. Of these fields, Dryden has become self-sustaining, has called its minister and is happily settled. Schreiber, Emo and Clifton St., Winnipeg, are ready to pass to the augmented status. St. James, Winnipeg, has already called, and will be settled at once, while Vista has become a settled charge. Both these congregations require augmentation. Holmfield, Lake Francis, Kirkella and Bird's Hill have been absorbed in other fields. Reddit has for a time been dropped. Teulon was passed over to the Methodist Church, while Darlingford and Thornhill were united. Thirteen fields have thus disappeared—one-seventh of the whole number. On the other hand, McCreary has been divided. Transcona has been separated from Springfield and constituted a mission charge. Dominion City, lingering long in the lap of augmentation, declines to a mission, as also Starbuck. West Hill, once a settled charge, has declined also to a mission field, and fears are entertained that through depopulation of rural districts others may follow. In the meantime we have some 83 fields. To these, however, we must now add the following Indian Missions:—Cecilia Jeffries, Portage la Prairie, Rolling River, Birtle, Beulah, Okanase, Lizard Point and Pipestone, as well as the Ruthenian work in Fort William, Teulon, Broad Valley, Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie, Brandon, Sifton, Ethelbert, Varlaw, Rossburn and Stuartburn. The Persians at Fort William also appeal for service. We began the year with 18 augmented charges. Of these McAuley has passed to self-support. Dominion City and Starbuck have lost status, while Goodlands has been absorbed in adjoining congregations, as also has Fairfax. To these we must add Schreiber, Emo, St. James, Clifton St., and Vista, advanced from mission status, besides Clan William, Rapid City, Lauder, Baldur, Ninga, Morris, Union Point, Dugald and Springfield, congregations that have failed to reach the new minimum, and also Arden which, though self-sustaining, had to be weakened by necessary re-arrangement of territory. This gives us 28 augmented charges, or in all 131 fields in the Synod of Manitoba under the direct supervision of the Home Mission Board. When we consider that in these we have represented English, Gaelic, Persian, Ruthenian, Hungarian, Italian, besides Cree, Sioux, Ojibeway and Salteaux among the Indians, it may be unnecessary to say that the task of supervision is not a sinecure.

SUPPLY.

The following missions were without supply during the entire year: Murillo, Sleemans and Glenlyon, Harrowby, Roblin and Shellmouth were vacant about three months and Stratton four. Durban and Gretna were without supply all last summer, while Nipigon, Hymers, Mine Centre, Moosehorn, Turtle Mountain, Harmony, Hollywood, Clearview, Merridale, Ottawa, Togo, Winnipegosis, Zorra, Ebor, Moorpark, Routledge and Tilston have had no preaching since students left last autumn. Two other fields Spruce Creek and Dauphin Plains have been on half rations during the winter—and other fields have had shorter vacancies. In addition to the above, Rossendale, Palmerston, Beausejour, Bird's Hill, Carter Avenue, Hazelridge, Headingly, Niverville, Prairie Grove, Rosser, Tyndall, Whitemouth, Woodlawn and Clifton St., have had to content themselves with Sunday services from the colleges.

Vacancies mean lapse of organization, indifference, loss of sympathy with the Home Mission enterprise, and reduced giving. Supply from the colleges keeps the faithful sufficiently awake to begin over again this year where they began last year and the year before. The lower rate of stipend commends the system to the economic soul, and in general militates against progress.

Speaking of fields without supply I regret that in many instances there was no supply from any church. The subject of overlapping, at least so far as the churches negotiating union are concerned, is not as serious as some think within the Synod of Manitoba. A number of fields are served by both Methodists and Presbyterians, where it would seem that the spiritual interests of the community might be well served by one of these churches, but I am safe in saying that in the villages and rural districts there is no overlapping at over 70 per cent. of the stations supplied by the Presbyterian Church.

EFFECT OF HIGHER SALARIES ON FUNDS.

During the year we had within the Synod nearly sixty charges, self-sustaining at less than the present minimum, in addition to augmented congregations. Fears were entertained lest such congregations seeking aid from the Augmentation Fund might swamp it. At the beginning of the present year, a circular letter was issued stating increase in salaries, setting forth the duty of congregations in the premises, and urging action. This letter was signed by the District Superintendent and Home Mission Convener. In many cases the circular was followed by a deputation to emphasize the subject-matter of the circular and to stimulate action. Summing up results and comparing present giving with that of 1912, we fail to discover any real cause for alarm. On the other hand we find much to justify the forward movement of a year ago. Allowing an increase of $2 a week in summer and $1 per week in winter for students, $100 per annum for catechists, $150 a year for ordained missionaries, and taking note of the actual increase in settled charges, augmented or otherwise, we find that if all our charges were supplied continuously, our ministers and missionaries would enjoy an increase in stipends of $21,107. To overtake this increase we are coming to the Board this year with estimates of $4,637 in excess of the estimates of last year. In other words congregations have provided 78 per cent. of the entire advance in salaries and the fund is called upon for 22 per cent. Putting the matter in another way, of the six mission fields advanced to a higher status eighteen augmented charges of a year ago, and fifty-seven charges then paying less than the present minimum; eighty-one charges in all; fifty-three have provided the entire increase, over twenty have provided part of the increase, while only five or six have failed to make any advance. A large number of our missions also have raised their givings to meet the increase in salary.

The above increase in estimates does not represent the total increase in estimates for the Synod, only for congregations where comparison could be made between the estimates of the two years. We have to provide a considerable sum for Indian work formerly borne by the Foreign Mission Board, and a large addition for Ruthenian work as now established. I am unable to incorporate figures comparing contributions to the Budget, but I have confidence that the Synod will show a commendable increase over former years.

CROP CONDITIONS.

It is only fair at this stage to refer to crop conditions. In the eastern section of Manitoba the excessive rains almost submerged the low-lying level lands. Many fields were too soft to permit implements to be used, and grain cut by hand was removed with difficulty. In parts of Dauphin Presbytery even worse conditions prevailed. On some of our mission fields not more than one-third the crop was harvested. During the harvest season a terrible wind storm swept almost the entire Province, shelling out practically all the grain left standing. In the west of the Province where land is more rolling, harvest operations were more successful. Low prices for grain resulted in farming operations in many localities, not paying more than operating expenses. Had the promise of the earlier season been realized we would doubtless have been able to report a still more satisfactory outlook.

MONTHLY REPORTS.

A form of monthly report was prepared and issued in October for use of missionaries. With one or two exceptions the duty of monthly reporting has been accepted in fine spirit. There have been one or two instances of "injured innocence" by these demands. On the whole good results have followed. The Superintendent has been able to send notes of encouragement, tender occasional advice, always accepted in good spirit, while more intimate relations have been established than could otherwise have existed. When these reports are tabulated from month to month one can see at a glance the working of the field.

BUILDINGS.

During the year eight churches, two manses and one church-manse have been erected on mission fields, valued at $20,625.

GENERAL REMARKS.

According to the recently published census Presbyterianism has a fine lead over all other denominations in Manitoba, as indeed in all the Western Provinces, except British Columbia, where Anglicans lead. The figures for Manitoba are:—

Presbyterians	103,621
Methodists	65,897
Anglicans	86,578
Roman Catholics	73,994

These figures clothe us with very special obligations for the evangelization of the West, while there are many encouragements, we are not without forebodings with regard to the future. Large portions of Manitoba, especially the districts east and north of Winnipeg, also in the north-west of the Province, are dominated by foreign elements. Canadians and English-speaking people are steadily and in some places rapidly receding before the foreigner. Where once we had flourishing congregations we have become reduced to a mere handful. In the older southern part of the Province we are suffering from depopulation, and then the greatest of all our problems —that of the city. In our Synod Port Arthur, Fort William, Winnipeg and Brandon are rapidly growing centres. Foreign elements are gravitating to these centres, and we have sadly low social strata that are not foreign, the elements out of which slums develop. With increased funds for church extension, with a broader vision on the part of our leaders, rapidly extending to many of our people, with a deepening sense of the obligations of stewardship, and unfaltering faith in Him who said, "Go, preach," "Feed my sheep," and gratefully recognizing his guiding and sustaining hand in all the past, we address ourselves to the work of the future, with all its variety, its perplexity, its tremendous magnitude, its important bearing upon the future of our great land, with ever increasing faith in the Master's presence, rejoicing in our splendid opportunity; even daring to believe that He has brought us to His Kingdom for such a time as this.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. C. MURRAY.

NORTHERN SASKATCHEWAN

Presbyterianism in Saskatchewan began in the northern part of the Province. In the year 1866 the Rev. James Nisbet, then assistant to Rev. Dr. Black at Kildonan, and formerly minister at Oakville, Ont., was appointed by the Canadian Presbyterian Church as its first foreign missionary. After a journey of over six weeks' duration, he reached the banks of the Saskatchewan River in the month of August, and making a survey of the surrounding country, he decided to locate his mission to the Cree Indians on the ground where the City of Prince Albert now stands. He came to this decision as Mr. Nisbet himself states, in one of his earliest letters (1) because the whole locality was exceedingly attractive, and (2) and chiefly because he would be at least fifty miles from the mission work of any other church.

For some years this continued to be the only Presbyterian service in what is now the Province of Saskatchewan. As the years passed the mission itself attracted a number of new settlers, so that it soon became known, not only as a mission to the Indians, but as a new colony on the banks of the great Saskatchewan. In this early settlement there was developed a strong Presbyterian sentiment, a sentiment which still pervades the whole northern part of the Province.

On account of tremendous difficulties the mission to the Indians did not prosper as the Church had hoped, but Mr. Nisbet "built better than he knew," in setting the standard of heroism and self sacrifice for the line of Presbyterian ministers who came after, and who have built on his foundations a cause worthy of these early traditions.

THE NORTHERN DISTRICT.

The district assigned to your superintendent comprises the Presbyteries of Battleford, Prince Albert, and Yorkton. In other words it embraces nearly all that part of the Province which lies along side of and north of the Canadian Pacific Railway running from Yorkton to Edmonton. Without going north of the line of settlement it contains 2,600 townships, or 94,000 square miles or 60,000,000 acres of land.

Nearly all the places in the Province of historic interest, places made famous by the rebellion of 1885 are within the bounds of this district. The industries and resources of the district are of the most varied kind. For a number of years the world's prize wheat has been grown within this area. The lumbering industry north or the Saskatchewan River has been well known for many years, but perhaps it is not so well understood that the second largest lumber mill in America was built two years ago and is now being operated 90 miles north of the City of Prince Albert. The most recent development in the industries of this district is the announcement made a few weeks ago that a large steel plant is to be erected in Prince Albert, the raw material for which is to be obtained 250 miles north of the Saskatchewan River, where it is reported the supply is almost inexhaustible. Besides all this, this part of the Province is essentially the mixed farming district of the whole west, and as the mind of the farmer is now turned toward this form of agriculture, it can reasonably be expected that the vacant lands which are exceedingly fertile and well watered will be rapidly taken up by the new settlers. Even the farmer in the southern part of the Province is turning his face toward the north country. As one of these men, not long ago said to a minister's wife, "I am giving up wheat growing, moving to the north, and going into mixed farming, for in that line I will not be so dependent on Providence." From every direction come indications of the most rapid development all over this country, and the strength of the Church will be taxed to its utmost to meet the demands of this tremendous expansion.

RAILWAYS AND WAGON ROADS.

The whole district is fairly well served with railways. The main line of the C. N. R., and a line of the C. P. R. which is practically a main line, run across the whole territory from east to west. The G. T. P. has three branch lines either in operation or under construction, while branch lines of the companies already mentioned are being projected in all directions.

For a number of years the Provincial Government has made large grants to build wagon roads into every settlement, with the result that every community is fairly accessible either by railroad or wagon road.

CONGREGATIONS AND MISSION FIELDS.

As at present constituted the district has eight self-sustaining charges, seven augmented congregations, eighty ordained and student mission fields, eight missions to the foreign settlers, and three missions to the Indians.

WORK OF SUPERVISION.

Since his appointment about the middle of September your superintendent paid some 40 official visits to various fields and congregations, besides having under his care for about five months of this time the largest congregation in the district.

As the representative of the Church he has been well received everywhere and has been able to organize the work in the various fields visited besides organizing the three Presbyteries so that the conveners, the ordained ministers, and the superintendent among them will be able to visit all the fields at last once a year.

PRESBYTERY OF BATTLEFORD.

In this Presbytery the work is expanding steadily. Four new fields will be added, while in a few cases the grants to the old fields will be reduced, and in one or two instances the grants will be slightly increased.

PRESBYTERY OF PRINCE ALBERT.

Considerable advance has been made in a number of the fields in this Presbytery. Three fields will be advanced to the standing of ordained mission fields, while four others have reduced their grants on the aggregate over $12 per week. Three new fields will be added. One congregation, formerly self-sustaining, has gone on the augmented list, while two others have advanced to new minimum or gone beyond it.

PRESBYTERY OF YORKTON.

In this Presbytery three fields have advanced during the year to the standing of augmented charges and each has its own minister already inducted. Through the efforts of the supervising pastor the grants to all the fields have been carefully revised and although it has been found necessary in a great many instances to increase these grants it is now hoped that these grants will be adequate to the needs of the fields.

THE BUDGET.

In the Presbytery of Battleford the work of reaching the amount allotted as its share of the Budget was most seriously undertaken. The convener of the committee was most diligent in his endeavours and if it had not been for the failure of two or three of the larger congregations, the whole amount would have been raised. In the Presbytery of Prince Albert, from the last report received, it was confidently expected that the full amount would be reached.

In the Presbytery of Yorkton the results were not so satisfactory. In the first instance the amount allocated to the Presbytery was much beyond the ability of the congregations to contribute, and in the second place, although a very earnest effort was made, crop failures and other unfortunate circumstances made it impossible to reach a large amount.

CO-OPERATION WITH OTHER CHURCHES.

Local district committees on co-operation have been appointed in all the Presbyteries. In Battleford Presbytery the Presbyterians withdraw from four fields, while the Methodists withdraw from an equal number. This leaves only two or three places where serious over-lapping is still existing, and it may be that an arrangement may be made whereby it may be overcome in two of these.

Nothing has been done officially in the Presbytery of Prince Albert, but an effort will be made to come to an arrangement in regard to every case. Even as matters now stand there is no overlapping on the part of the Presbyterian Church, and very little on the part of the Methodist.

In Yorkton Presbytery the whole territory has been carefully surveyed with the result that overlapping remains in only two or three places, and these are still under consideration.

WORK AMONG FOREIGN SETTLERS.

Your superintendent at present is unable to report on this phase of mission work, except to commend most highly the work done by Dr. Scott at Wakaw. Dr. Scott has the full confidence of the people in this large colony, and is doing a work in nation building that cannot be over-estimated.

INDIAN MISSIONS.

As reports are given from other sources regarding the Indian mission work it will not be necessary to augment these at present.

THE CHARACTER OF THE WORK BEING DONE.

On the whole the character of the work being done is of a high order. With few exceptions the missionaries have done splendid service. They have tried faithfully to do the real work of the ministry. Your superintendent has found in very many instances a willingness to an unusual degree on the part of the missionaries to make sacrifices and to endure hardness for the sake of the Kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Two instances out of many others might be mentioned. A little over two years ago a young Scotsman was sent into a field far remote from town or railroad. Just before he arrived the whole settlement had been visited by a most disastrous prairie fire which destroyed the season's crops and in many instances cattle and horses as well. Among this destitute and discouraged people the missionary began his work. For months he covered the whole community on foot, preaching in all at six different points taking three on alternate Sundays. With the utmost faithfulness he visited the people encouraging them and bringing cheer to them in their destitution. After two years, although no complaint came from the missionary, the Presbytery accidentally discovered that little or no support could be given by the field, and set about securing his salary from other sources. Very unwillingly did the missionary consent to receive part of what was coming to him, preferring to suffer hardships with the people to whom he ministered.

Some nine years ago one of the western Presbyteries discovered a young man who showed special gifts for undertaking mission work. Since that time he has continued to do the Church's work and some five years ago he received special ordination by permission of Assembly. His special gifts have been developed to an unusual degree. He has taken his place among the best of preachers, shown excellent judgment in organization, and best of all he has people coming to him at very frequent intervals professing conversion and stating their determination to live a new life. His every thought is for the work of the ministry and the Kingdom of God has the full consecration of his powers.

With servants such as these, and there are many of them, the future of the Church is assured. These men go on quietly, faithful, and very often without recognition, doing the Master's work. Many of them have had few advantages in the way of college education, but they have educated themselves into cultured gentlemen of whom the Church need not be ashamed. They have seen the vision of the risen Christ; they have heard His call and obeyed His command, and the Church can make no mistake in putting a number of these men in the ranks of the regular ministry.

With a large measure of unwillingness your superintendent left the regular work of the ministry to undertake this special service. After the experience of six months he is glad to say that this reluctance has been largely overcome as the possibilities of this new work have been more clearly seen and appreciated. From the point of direct contact with a great many people scattered over a vast area, there seems to be no limit to the opportunity of this office. But even though the work were limited to encouraging the missionary, helping him to understand the measure of his opportunity, and giving him some direction in his study and in his reading, your superintendent believes that it would be worth while.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

COLIN G. YOUNG,
District Superintendent.

CENTRAL SASKATCHEWAN.

This report deals chiefly with the northern half of the Province of Saskatchewan, as that was the part given to the District Superintendent, before Rev. C. G. Young took up the work in September. The winter and summer of 1912 was spent by the District Superintendent visiting the mission fields in this part. In September the majority of the missions visited passed over to Rev. C. G. Young, and these may be partly reported by both of us.

Some of the missions visited were well organized so far as the appointing of managers was concerned, but the managers had no definite method of working. This method generally used was: One man took up the collection on Sunday, and handed it to the student. Then in the fall of the year a subscription list was taken round, and they endeavoured to raise enough to meet the Home Mission grant. No arrangements would be made until they found out the exact amount of the Home Mission grant per Sunday. Their conception was that they had to just raise enough to meet the grant. This conception, along with the method, had to be changed, and wherever possible, the Duplex envelope system adopted, with the result that the Sunday collections, in the places where it was worked, increased from $1.00 to $4.00 per week.

Another conception among a large number of the people on the mission fields that had to be changed was, that because they received help from the Home Mission to pay the salary of their student, it was useless to ask them to give to missions. To some of the managers it was senseless as well as useless. But when the larger vision was pointed out to them, without exception, they agreed to do their best. Where a real live board of managers existed the plan opened their eyes as to the relative value of missions in helping the home work.

The majority of the fields visited raised the extra $2.00 per Sunday, that was promised to the student's salary, beginning April 1st, 1912, by the Home Mission Board. There were some fields in the north where this was not expected, as they are just newly settled, and so far no crop has been harvested. The little they had was frozen. In some places it looked as if we would have to help the people as well as the missionary. But these men on the homesteads are made of stern stuff. They go out to better settled parts and earn enough to keep themselves in food for the winter, and out of this hard earned money help to support the missionary.

The number of mission fields giving to the schemes of the Church were more than doubled this year. The following table speaks for itself:—

Presbytery.	1911.	1912.	Increase
Battleford	$ 587 00	$2,093 00	$1,506 00
Prince Albert	774 00	2,191 00	1,417 00
Saskatoon	2,839 00	7,755 00	5,084 00
Yorkton	620 00	1,120 00	500 00

In Battleford Presbytery, Wilkie became self-sustaining January 1st, 1913. In 1912 Wilkie raised for the minister's salary $725.00, and for the Budget $110.00. In December the managers, in introducing the Duplex Envelope System, made a personal canvass, with the result that they are raising over $300.00 for the Budget, and over $2,000.00 for current revenue. The Rev. F. R. G. Dredge, M.A., is our minister at Wilkie and is doing a splendid work. He is also the convener of the Home Mission Committee of the Presbytery, and is the right man in the right place. Mention ought also to be made of the splendid work done by the Rev. G. H. Dow, Mervin, as convener of the Budget Committee. In continually writing the missionaries and ministers to realize their share, he backed up the work of the Superintendent.

In the Presbytery of Saskatoon, Watrous and Sutherland became self-supporting, and Zealandia has increased from $600.00 to $1,000.00, which is self-supporting for an ordained man until they call. Outlook expects to become self-supporting July 1st, 1913. This will give Saskatoon Presbytery eight self-supporting congregations. In July, 1908, Saskatoon Presbytery was organized with five ordained ministers, one self-supporting congregation. Of these five ministers only one is in the active work of the ministry. In 1913 there are fifteen ordained ministers and six missions ready for ordained men, if we can get them. The Presbytery is asking for a Ruthenian missionary, as they are over 2,000 Ruthenians in the City of Saskatoon. All of the student mission fields raised the $2.00 increase on the students' salary.

In Abernethy Presbytery, Rev. Wm. Bell, convener, good work has been done. Abernethy, Balcarris and Welwyn, have raised their salaries to $1,200.00, and Strassburg to $1,500.00. Thus making a total increase of $1,000.00. Esterhazy, Nokomis, and Imperial have passed from mission fields to the augmented status, and Govan, Kelliher, and Semans are now paying the catechist's salary of $800.00, without any grant from the Home Mission Fund. Only one congregation, which was self-supporting, failed to remain so. In this Presbytery, in 1908, there were only four ordained ministers, and in 1913 there are fourteen.

In Arcola Presbytery two self-supporting congregations go back to Augmentation. Two congregations become self-supporting at $1,000.00, and one becomes self-supporting at $800.00 for a Catechist. The Rev. J. G. Anderson, convener, and I visited Lampman mission. Lampman is a new town where the C. N. R. (Maryfield branch) and the G. T. P. (Regina) cross. The people of Lampman gave us a very hearty welcome, and assured us that Lampman would be one of the largest cities of Saskatchewan. We organized a congregation, formed a board of managers, and reorganized the Sunday School. The people were quite enthusiastic under the leadership of J. K. Hunter, our student.

The Co-operative Committee is doing good work in the saving of overlapping. An outstanding case is that of Outlook; a town of 1,500 population. The Methodists have a weak cause, and no property. They have decided to become associate members in the Presbyterian Church, until union takes place, or Outlook grows large enough to demand two churches. The Presbyterian Church in Outlook is on the Augmentation Fund, and on July 1st, 1913, when the union takes place, will become self-supporting, as the associate members pay to the current expenses, but their missionary money (if they so will) goes to the Methodist Church. In Harris, the Presbyterians become the associate members in the Methodist Church, having the same privileges. In the newer districts and smaller places the associate member idea is not adhered to, all becoming members of the Church supplying the means of Grace. There are other places where co-operation could work to advantage, but the people refuse to unite.

The majority of our mission fields have Sunday Schools, but not half of our preaching stations. There are reasons for this being so. Some places there are no children, others no teachers to be found. Often the public school teacher does the work of Sunday School teacher and superintendent.

Last summer a new preaching appointment was opened on the Plenty Mission, fifteen miles south of Plenty, and here a Sunday School had been carried on for eighteen months by the people of the district. Sometimes the men and women came to the Sunday School, and at the close of the Sunday School the Superintendent gave a short sermon. A large number of our mission fields had no student for the winter; but in some of them the Sunday School has been kept open by a faithful few. We aim at a Sunday School in every preaching station. The student should see that wherever one is organized, it should be encouraged in every way; and a good plan of doing this would be to so arrange his services so as to visit each Sunday School at least once each quarter.

We are glad to report that an advance has been made along all Home Mission work in 1912, and we hope for greater advancement in 1913. The outlook is bright. The people are realizing more and more the great need for action, in this, the upbuilding time of our nation. They are willing to give of their wealth; but the great need of the day is not money but men. Men who have the larger vision, and will not be drawn aside by ease and luxury. Men strong for battle, and who will not quake at the noise of the enemy. Men who have the spirit of leadership. Young men who have, strong within them, the spirit of service. The times demand the best men, physically, intellectually and spiritually. We need this class of men to man our ever-increasing mission fields. For years to come new towns will be springing up, and older towns growing into cities. We have an ever-increasing foreign population gathering in our cities, towns and country districts. When we look at the evil forces at work in our midst, we are startled at the magnitude of the task before us. Yet, let us rejoice that it is a large work and great, for we can do great things in Christ's strength, if we have a mind to work.

We want more efficient work. This can be partially accomplished by every minister in the Presbyterian Church realizing that he is responsible for the whole work of the Church, and not only for the little congregation he calls his own. Some of our ministers do not realize any responsibility for the work in their own Presbytery, thinking that that is the convener's task. Every minister should have two or three mission fields to look after. This would help to broaden his outlook and interest, as well as the good it would do the student and field under his care. Thus the work would be made lighter for the convener and interest increased one hundred fold. A deeper interest is the beginning of greater efficiency.

M. F. MUNRO.

SOUTHERN SASKATCHEWAN.

The Presbyteries of Alameda, Weyburn, Regina and Swift Current comprise what is now the Superintendent's district of Southern Saskatchewan. It stretches across the Province from east to west for 391 miles. At the western end, it is 132 miles wide, in the middle it is 168 miles, and at the east end, for 60 miles, it is a narrow strip 24 miles wide. It contains 1,117 townships or 25,735,680 acres. It has in it 150 towns and villages, and the two cities of Regina and Moose Jaw. Ten million acres of this district are level and exceedingly fertile. Eight million acres more are rolling, but still sufficiently level, upon which to work all classes of farm machinery, and capable of producing annually millions of bushels of wheat, oats, barley and flax. Seven and one-half million acres more are hills, stones, sand and alkali. The balance is taken up with a few lakes and rivers. The country is almost entirely destitute of trees with the exception of Cypress Hills and Wood Mountain, on which there is a little timber. The Province of Saskatchewan reaped a fine harvest in 1912 and most of the grain was threshed in good condition. Owing to the grain blockade the farmers were delayed in marketing their crop and prices were disappointing, especially of flax. One-third of this district is still remote from railway facilities. Many farmers in the south-western part haul their grain 40 and 50 miles and more to market. In 500 townships of the 1,117, about one-half of all the homesteaders are Americans. In 500 townships more, one-third of all the homesteaders are of the same nationality. The Canadians get on well with them. During the whole of the summer we did not hear an unkind remark made by either nationality of the other. There are groups of Swedes and Norwegians scattered throughout the western part of the district, also settlements of Russians and Germans. There are French too at Notre Dame, Lafleche, Meyronne and Gravelbourg.

There are three lines of railways operating in the southern end of the Province and all adding to their mileage. The C. P. R. has 991 miles in operation, the C. N. R. 325 miles, and the G. T. P. 156 miles. The main lines of the two latter are in the central part of the Province. Swift Current is the largest in extent, of territory of the four Presbyteries with 470 townships. Regina comes next with 280, Weyburn 229 and Alameda 138 townships.

At the end of March, 1913, there were in:

Alameda.	9	4	3	4	2
Weyburn.	18	8	1	3
Regina.	32	9	5	19	3
Swift Current.	24	16	3	4	10
Totals.	83	37	12	30	15

Liberty, in Regina Presbytery, and Webb, in Swift Current Presbytery, have advanced from mission fields to self suporting charges and have called ministers. Westminster has been organized into a strong congregation in the west end of the City of Regina. They have erected a $75,000.00 church, and are ready to call their present minister as soon as he is received by the Assembly. Carmichael has also been organized in the east end of the city. A temporary building has been put up and the congregation is being supplied in the meantime by the ministers of Knox Church. A self-supporting congregation has been recently formed in the new town of Assiniboia, a manse built and a minister called. Halbrite, in Alameda Presbytery, Khedive, in Weyburn Presbytery, Bethune, in Regina Presbytery, and Grant, Morse and Vanguard, in Swift Current Presbytery, have advanced from mission fields to augmented charges and have all called ministers with the exception of Halbrite which, it is expected, will take this step soon. Craik and Milestone, being unable to raise the new minimum salary of $1,200.00, dropped back to augmentation.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

In these four Presbyteries, during last summer, the gospel was preached in 332 places each Sunday. Two hundred and twenty-nine Sunday schools were in operation, 34 in Alameda Presbytery, 29 in Weyburn, 101 in Regina, and 65 in Swift Current. There should have been 300. Seventy-one mission stations had no Sunday Schools which should have had them. One hundred summer schools were closed for the winter. So that there are 171 schools that should be opened this spring in the mission fields that were in operation last summer, if we are going to do the work that should be done among the boys and girls under our care. In addition to this, schools should be organized, wherever there are children in the fifteen new mission fields we are planning to open this spring. All our missionaries should have Sunday School literature with them and organize schools the first Sunday they are on their fields if possible.

CHURCHES AND MANSES.

The following congregations in this district erected churches during the year: Westminster in Regina City; Carmichael in Regina City; Bryceton and Harwarden in Regina Presbytery; Swift Current, Gull Lake, and Pennant in Swift Current Presbytery—7.

Manses were provided in Colgate, Assiniboia and Dummer, in Weyburn Presbytery; in Francis, Sedley, St. Paul's, Moose Jaw, St. Andrew's, Moose Jaw; St. Andrew's, Regina; Findlater, Liberty, Disley, and Hawarden, in Regina Presbytery, and in Swift Current and Chaplin, in Swift Current Presbytery—14.

In many of our new towns it is difficult and costly for our missionaries to get board and rooms. When a small manse is built they are usually more comfortable and can board at two-thirds of what they have to pay in a crowded boarding house or hotel. It is a very unusual thing for a congregation with a manse to have to be without a missionary. The people are learning this and are willing to erect suitable homes for the missionaries.

CO-OPERATION.

An earnest effort has been made during the year to carry out, with the Methodist Church, the Assembly's plan of co-operation, in our Home Mission work, so as to prevent as far as possible overlapping. Very little has been accomplished in some districts, a great deal in others. In Swift Current Presbytery all cases of overlapping were considered and there is now only one mission station in this immense territory where the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches are both at work. Both churches hold services also in the towns of Swift Current, Maple Creek, Gull Lake, and Morse, but these are charges and three of them are self-supporting. An understanding has been arrived at that where one church is at work the other will not go in. Each also submits to the other all new work to be undertaken so as to prevent the possibility of overlapping in the future. In the other Presbyteries adjustments were made at Penzance, Holdfast, Expanse, Viceroy and Winside, and other places are under consideration. New towns on lines of railway under construction have been assigned as far as possible to the church which pioneered the district. The people of both denominations on the frontier are, in most cases, in hearty accord with co-operation. So few are interested in church work, in some districts, that those that are, are glad to band together to support one church.

VISITATION.

During the summer we visited by team as many of the mission fields remote from railway lines as we were able. There are 47 such fields, 5 of them are in Alameda, 10 in Weyburn, 12 in Regina, and 20 in Swift Current. A number of these fields are 30, 40 and 50 miles away from a railway. It required on an average, a drive of 60 miles per field to visit them. The work of the superintendent was very varied. It was always a joy to preach on Sundays. Where there was a chance of introducing the duplex envelopes we made a canvass for subscriptions for their use. Where the erection of a church or manse was under consideration we helped to secure a subscription list, and held a meeting of the congregation to arrange for the building of the same. Where there were arrears of salary we planned for their collection. If the missionary was down hearted we tried to cheer him up. If he was neglecting his pastoral work we urged him to get at it. If he needed help in his pulpit work we reminded him that it was his especial privilege to tell his hearers about Christ as Saviour, Example, Teacher, Friend and King.

The missionaries have many difficulties and discouragements in their work. The congregations on Sunday are usually small. The people in the country are busy in the summer, and in many districts they are very indifferent to the claims of Christ. Sunday School helpers are hard to find. Boards of management and treasurers often make very little effort to get the congregation's share of the salary. The students leave their fields at the end of September before the crop is threshed and it is then too early to get the farmers to pay their subscriptions. If the treasurer is careless, the people and student are both apt to be blamed, the people because they did not pay what they promised and the missionery because he has to come to the convener for a special to make up the field's deficiency.

WINTER SUPPLY.

The mission fields with two exceptions were all supplied with men last summer. Thirty-seven of the 83 were vacant during the winter, of the 46 men at work, 22 of them are ordained, 3 of them are students, and 21 are catechists. The nationalities of the winter men are as follows: Canadians 12, Americans 3, English 18, Scotch 10, and Irish 3. Only six of these came west last fall for winter work; three of these are English, two are Scotch, and one Canadian. Sixty-five men are needed this spring to supply the thirty-seven fields which have been vacant for the winter, the fifteen new fields and thirteen fields from which men are withdrawing.

SABBATH NEGLECT.

One of the greatest dangers to the rural life of Southern Saskatchewan is the neglect of the Sabbath as a day of rest and worship. In many districts some farmers run their binders on Sunday in harvest time, and later operate their threshing machines. In June and July some of the young men in these same districts play baseball on Sunday afternoons. Our Christian laymen, our missionaries, our Lord's Day Alliance officers should all get busy and urge the observance of the Lord's Day Act, and where its violation is persisted in, secure convictions of the offenders.

PETER STRANG.

NORTHERN ALBERTA.

The report of the District of Northern Alberta, must necessarily be only partial and very imperfect; notwithstanding the fact that faithful work has been done by all the ministers and missionaries in the district during the whole year. The District Superintendent was not appointed to office until the 15th October, 1912, and was at that time unfamiliar with a very large part of his territory, and ignorant of the conditions that obtained in many of the mission fields. He is therefore only able to report on the work done during the latter half of the year; when, owing to the scarcity of men, many of the mission fields were vacant for the winter months; and a number of others were combined and only receiving partial supply, so that the available supply of missionaries might keep in touch with as many of the people as possible.

WINTER SUPPLY.

At the opening of the fall term in October, 1912, the outlook was anything but encouraging. The students had nearly all returned to their colleges, and there were no others to take their places. Many applications that were received from the people in various parts of the district, had to be met with the reply, "It is impossible to secure sufficient men this year for our winter work." In the Presbytery of Edmonton, out of 25 mission fields we started the fall term with 13 vacancies; five fields supplied by the students of Robertson College, and only seven supplied by resident missionaries. In Vermilion Presbytery the situation was not quite so bad. Out of 22 mission fields we had twelve supplied by resident missionaries; five receiving partial supply by combining them under the care of two men, and five vacant all winter. Besides these one Ruthenian mission, Lanuke, that is not mentioned in the Home Mission list of March, 1912, was supplied all winter by a Ruthenian missionary. Thus in this district we have had during the term 20 fields supplied continuously by resident missionaries; ten fields receiving only partial supply, and 18 fields have been vacant and closed all winter. This situation would have been much worse but for the action of the Vermilion Presbytery, in placing available ordained missionaries and approved catechists in charge of student fields and combined mission fields. This will mean large special grants to make up stipends, and possibly incur the censure of the Board; but it had the merit of saving the situation in the Presbytery, and of giving continuity of supply, either regular or itinerant, in nearly all the mission fields. And in one case at least it has resulted in raising the charge from a student mission field to ordained mission status.

AUGMENTED CHARGES.

Our augmented charges have likewise suffered from vacancies during the term. We started in October with eight augmented charges in the district. One of these advanced to self-support on the 1st January; three have been supplied by settled ministers; four have become vacant, and one has been settled again. This leaves at present with four charges regularly settled, and three charges still vacant. But two of these latter have called and will be settled in a few weeks, and provision has been made to give the other one stated supply for the next six months.

THE FINANCIAL ASPECT.

Th financial returns for the past half year have not been as gratifying as we would have liked. In the eastern part of the district the crop last season was very poor for the third year in succession, and the prices of grain have been exceptionally low all winter. This has resulted in many of our people, and some of them our best supporters, having to leave their farms and seek employment in the cities; in many cases they have sold all their stock and implements, and abandoned their farms for the present. Those who remain on the farms are passing through a transition state, in changing their methods from grain raising to stock raising and mixed farming. This necessitates borrowing largely and investing every dollar that the farmer can command, in an endeavour to get a fresh start on his land. As a consequence the revenue for local support of ordinances, and for the schemes of the church, has been seriously effected in some parts of the district, and the Board will need to deal generously and patiently with these fields for some little time. At the same time the people are most optimistic, and confident of the future. Wherever the superintendent has visited a field and placed the claims of the Church before them he has been well received and the people have promised well for the future, and in many cases an earnest attempt has been made to make up the shrinkage caused by depletion in numbers. This has not always been attained, and of course many fields have not been visited.

EVIDENCES OF PROGRESS.

The evidences of progress have not been astounding, but in spite of the financial difficulties that have been mentioned a certain measure of progress has been made during the half year. One augmented charge has advanced to self-support, two student mission fields have advanced to the status of ordained mission fields, and three suburban missions have been opened in the City of Edmonton. Boards of Management have been organized at four different stations, and the weekly envelope system of contributing adopted or revived at six places. The introduction of the envelope system in rural charges will only be the result of strong reasoning and patient endeavour. The farmer prefers to pay all his debts after he sells his grain in the fall, consequently the missionary has to wait as well as the merchant. Two Sabbath Schools have been organized with encouraging results. Three new churches have been erected and opened, and two others enlarged so as to double their capacity. One manse has been erected, and two new homes built in connection with the educational work that is being carried on so successfully at Vegreville Hospital by Dr. Arthur. During the year evangelistic services were conducted by the Rev. D. J. Craig, on five of our mission fields, and in most cases the results were most gratifying. The lives of many of the people were quickened, and a number of young people were brought into full membership of the Church through confession of their faith in the Saviour. The work done on the different mission fields of the district during the half year, has also been encouraging, although in many places it has been carried on under serious handicap and numerous difficulties. During the severe weather of the month of January the attendance at some of the preaching stations fell very low, largely because of lack of proper accommodation for both man and beast. The indifference of many of the settlers towards religious ordinances and uplifting influences, and the sanctity of the Sabbath, is often the cause of grievous heartaches to the missionary. And the great lack of willing and efficient lay helpers on many of our mission fields makes him feel that he is standing entirely alone, and wrestling single-handed with a problem that will require all the forces and energy of the church to solve. Notwithstanding these drawbacks the men on the field have given faithful and self-denying service during the winter. They have faithfully tried to keep all appointments and in not a few places have maintained Sabbath Schools or adult Bible classes in connection with their services. The men who have been itinerating over the combined territory of two or three mission fields, have done heroic work on the long weary trails they have been following during the winter. But all speak encouragingly of the reception they receive in the homes of most of the settlers. Even from those who refuse to attend their services.

OUR PRESENT EQUIPMENT.

A brief summary of our present equipment will enable you to understand the varied character of our work and the methods employed. We have seven augmented charges embracing sixteen preaching stations, nine ordained missionaries supplying thirty-eight preaching stations; five approved catechists supplying eighteen stations, five regular students and five students from the Robertson College supplying twenty-five preaching stations; three Ruthenian ministers supplying six stations; two mission hospitals with medical superintendent and five nurses; four mission homes for educational work among the Ruthenians at Vegreville, with four matrons and 36 boys and six girls in attendance.

NEEDS FOR THE COMING YEAR.

During winter the superintendent made hurried visits to a large part of the territory within the bounds of the Vermilion Presbytery, and also drove over most of the territory lying south and east of the Athabaska river, within the bounds of the Edmonton Presbytery, for the purpose of estimating the needs of the district, and of inspecting what are likely to become the strategic points in this north-western country through railway extension. The result of this inspection has been the complete reorganization of our work in a large part of Edmonton and Vermilion Presbyteries. Old fields have been changed to make them more workable, and in some cases the old ones have been completely merged into new ones. So that the lists of new fields asked for by these Presbyteries is not so formidable as they appear at first sight when we consider that some of them are simply extensive re-arrangements. We are asking for two new missionaries in the Grande Prairie and Peace River country; for a man to be assigned to Sawridge on the eastern end of Lesser Slave Lake, his work for part of the summer to be on the construction of the Edmonton and Dunvegan railroad, until it reaches Sawridge, where he will then be located. For aggressive work in the suburbs and sub-divisions of Edmonton where many poorer people and coal miners are located and are away from any church or Sabbath School, and for two additional Ruthenian ministers to hold the ground that has been already broken by our Church through the Independent Greek Church. In addition to our present staff we will need four ordained missionaries, two ordained Ruthenian missionaries, and twenty-nine students and catechists, and twenty-one driving outfits.

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE.

We believe that the outlook for the future is encouraging and full of promise from two standpoints: First from that of the interest shown by the people. Judging from the numerous appeals that have come from the people in different parts of the district asking for missionaries, and from the reception that we received when exploring the country, we have every reason to believe that the people are anxious for and will greatly appreciate the services of our Church. Second, from the financial aspect. Knowing that the new minimum of stipends for ministers in augmented charges, and ordained missionaries was to go into effect on the first day of January, 1913, and recognizing the necessity of securing as much as possible of this increase from the people instead of from the funds of the Board of Home Missions, I saw that the first duty of the District Superintendent would be to visit as many as possible of these charges and endeavour to secure from the congregations the amount required for to increase their minister's stipend to the new minimum. The following is the result of this financial effort:

Two self-sustaining congregations advanced to new minimum at $200 each..	$ 400 00
One Augmentation charge to self support	400 00
Four Augmentation charges increased to new minimum, $200.00 each	800 00
One Augmentation charge increased	150 00
One Augmentation charge increased	100 00
One Augmentation charge increased	75 00
Five ordained mission fields increased	750 00
Three student missions promised increase	400 00
One Ruthenian mission considering increase	200 00
	$3,275 00

Some of this increase went into effect on the 1st January, and is now being paid as the regular giving of the congregation. The balance will not go into effect until the 1st April next, but I believe it will be all forthcoming for the next year's work. With these facts before us, I consider the outlook for the future is full of promise and we should "Thank God and take courage."

The expenses of the office of District Superintendent for the six months ending 31st March, has been, salary $1,031.35; travelling expenses, about $130.00; railway transportation before passes were issued, $63.50; total $1,223.85.

The whole respectfully submitted.

WILLIAM SIMONS,
District Superintendent.

CENTRAL ALBERTA.

The Presbyteries of Lacombe, Red Deer and Calgary in the Synod of Alberta, cover a district bounded on the north by a line running through the city of Wetaskiwin 360 miles long. On the east by 270 miles of the Saskatchewan boundary extending north from the American boundary; and on the south by 70 miles of the American boundary extending west from Saskatchewan. The south-western boundary is a line running in a south-eastern direction through Banff and Okatoks to Bow Island. This territory covers about 60,000 square miles. It is drained by the North and South Saskatchewan, the Battle, the Red Deer, and the Bow Rivers. About 9,000 square miles of the north-west comes in and along the foot of the Rocky Mountains is altogether uninhabited, but is rich in mineral and timber. The rest of the upper half is rolling land covered with small timber, chiefly spruce and poplar and admirably adapted for mixed farming. The southern half is bald rolling prairie, intersected by wide and deep coulees. Its altitude is from 2,500 to 3,500 feet above sea level. Its rainfall is light. On its ranches cattle and horses feed the year round without cover. It is largely irrigated, and in a good year yields splendid crops of spring and winter wheat.

Over this territory are distributed cities, towns and villages, such as: Calgary, with a population of 60,000; Medicine Hat with a population of 6,000; Red Deer with a population of 2,500; Wetaskiwin with a population of 2,500; and Lacombe with a population of 1,200, Strathmore, Gleichen, Bassano, Bow Island, Ponoka, Camrose, etc.

OUR WORKERS.

One can scarcely be too extravagant in his praise of the good work being done for our Church, our country and our God by our self-denying missionaries. Only one who has travelled over his field with a missionary on a Sunday can appreciate adequately the work he is doing. It is not an uncommon thing for him to leave his home on a Friday or Saturday morning, spending these days visiting the families on the way to his farthest appointment. Then, when Sunday comes preaching morning, afternoon and night at three different points on his way back. On account of the heavy rain last summer, not only were the roads rendered almost impassible in many places, but the attendance at the services was very small.

But no matter what the roads may be like, or whether there is any prospect of a congregation when he gets there, the missionary is expected to be on hand at the hour and place of service.

In my district there are nine homesteading missionaries. This is not an ideal way of carrying on home mission work, but most of these men are doing faithful service, and were they not available many fields would have to go unmanned the whole year round. In another year all these missionaries will have performed their homesteading duties, and some will be free to give all their time to mission work.

Catechists are unordained preachers who are supposed to have had some experience in conducting services before given a mission field. Most of them come from the Old Country and are men of consecrated ability without whose help our work must have suffered, but it is hoped that the day is not far distant when ordained men, or men looking forward to ordination will be available for all our fields.

About one-half of our fields are manned by students during the summer months. Some there are who object to having students placed over them as missionaries. But many of these men do excellent service. There are not a few fields worked by them, that no other class of missionaries would work. Moreover men intending to make the ministry their life work must commence sometime and somewhere, and we believe student days the best time, and the mission field the best place.

FINANCIAL CONDITIONS.

Until the fall of 1912 many homesteaders had absolutely nothing to harvest; not understanding conditions, drought, hail, and early frosts were the chief reasons. Three years in succession without crops, with very little capital to begin with, and much expense in the way of buying machinery, stock and the necessaries of life, left most homesteaders heavily burdened with debt. It was hoped that the splendid crops of 1912 would relieve the situation. But the very small price paid for grain (50c. per bushel for wheat, and 18c. to 20c. for oats) and the great difficulty in getting much of it marketed has in many cases only aggravated conditions.

MORAL AND SOCIAL CONDITIONS.

(a) Immorality.—Segregated districts are not tolerated in Alberta, yet attempts are constantly being made by a certain class to establish them. Within three years houses of ill-fame were closed in three districts in Calgary, only to be opened up in others. Calgary and Lethbridge have at present chiefs of police who are doing splendid service in suppressing vice. I know of several cases in small towns where attempts have been made to run bawdy houses a few miles out, but public sentiment has closed them up. One good Presbyterian livery keeper would not rent his teams to anyone going in that direction. Rescue homes have been established by our Board of Social Service and Evangelism at Calgary and Medicine Hat, and are doing a good work.

(b) Drinking.—Intoxicating drinks are the curse of Alberta. In one town of 1,659 inhabitants, there are two bar rooms, each of which take in an average of $100 (one hundred dollars) a day. At a house warming on a far back mission field the only amusements were dancing and drinking. Besides what the guests brought themselves, the host provided thirty gallons of beer, one gallon of whisky and abundance of wine for the ladies. After a dance in a school house (which was left in a filthy condition), your superintendent picked up near the door an empty whiskey bottle and two whiskey flasks, each containing a sufficient quantity of liquor to prove what they had held.

(c) Sabbath Breaking.—In some districts Sabbath breaking is very prevalent. It takes the form of freighting by team, threshing, plowing, harvesting, ball games and dancing. When one missionary came to his appointment one Sunday evening not a soul turned out to the service, but a dance was going on in a near-by shack. Another passed through a group of about seventy-five persons watching a baseball match on the open prairie, but no one excepting his own wife and children were present at the services in the school house which was less than a mile away. Your superintendent saw a group of men deeply interested in the boring of a well whilst on his way to conduct a Sunday service.

(d) Church Attendance.—In rural districts it is almost impossible to secure a large attendance at morning services. Hence in places where only two services are required, generally one is held in the afternoon and the other in the evening. City churches are usually crowded, especially at the evening service. This cannot be said of all churches in smaller towns and country places. The average attendance among our mission fields is much smaller than it should be. Many a missionary has many a time travelled a long way to conduct a service, to find only one or two of the faithful to greet him. It is not an unusual thing to have no audience at all. The problem of how to get people out to church is a difficult one. Many of the settlers in Alberta, especially those from the United States, were not accustomed to church going before they came here, and it is hard to get them off their old habit. Sunday visiting long distances from the meeting place, and general indifference to spiritual things are other reasons.

It is a fact very much to be deplored that not a few Canadians from the Eastern Provinces, who were celebrated for their Christian activities at home, lay them aside when they come West.

(e) Instability of Population is a very discouraging feature in connection with mission work in the West. A large proportion of the first settlers never intended making farming their life work, nor Alberta their permanent home. Their homesteading duties were performed in the most meagre manner possible. They were speculators. No sooner had they "proved up" than they migrated to the cities or left the country altogether, holding their land until such time as the natural development of the country increased its value. People like this never enter heartily into the church life or work, consequently they gave little or no support. The next generation of settlers are more likely to be interested in the work of the church, for it will be a benefit to them and their children to have religion established in their midst.

(f) Socialism.—Socialism is rampant in some parts of my district, especially among the Finlanders settled east of Rocky Mountain House. In all that territory between Red Deer and Rocky Mountain House, a distance of sixty miles, we have only one missionary during most of the winter, yet there are two halls belonging to the Socialists, one of which is a building about 50 x 30 feet, much larger than our average mission church. We are at present negotiating with a missionary in the New England States who will preach the Gospel to these people in their own language, and the Home Mission Committee of the Synod of Alberta is asking the Board of Social Service and Evangelism to prepare a leaflet that will counteract the false impression of a certain class of socialists have concerning the attitude of the Church towards the labouring class.

(g) Mormonism.—Southern Alberta has already become a stronghold of Mormonism. Four of them settled in Cardston in 1886; to-day they number 8,000, and are scattered over the Province. In the archives of the Department of the Interior a report for 1888 commends the Mormons for their industry, but at the same time a solemn note of warning is given against the immigration of people of such a peculiar faith, and it is suggested that some decisive action be taken in the beginning to prevent the growth in this new country of a power that, beginning in just such a small way in the United States, has for years set the law at defiance. The late Charles McKillop, of Lethbridge, Alta., who had every opportunity of studying Canadian Mormonism, said: "The Mormon religion is so arrogant in its claims, so baseless in its origin, and so unchristian in its doctrines and practices, that it excites the intense disgust of thinking people. Its history has been bad, its doctrines are detestable, and some of its practices, such as polygamy and celestial marriage rites, as well as its baptisms for the dead, are exceedingly reprehensible to the ordinary Christian."

To-day the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints holds the balance of political power in seven of the Western States, and it boasts that it will do the same in Alberta before ten years. At the present rate of progress, it will easily do so. It has bought a tract of the finest land in Alberta, known as the Cochrane Ranch, 67,500 acres, which it is colonizing with Utah Mormons. It has built a $30,000 academy at Raymond, equipped with important Mormon teachers, where scores of young men are trained for mission work among the Gentiles (all non-Mormon). It will erect at Cardston a temple to cost about $200,000 for the celebration of its secret rites and ceremonies. This is the only temple outside of Utah where there are four. It is at present carrying on a propaganda of proselytism in Southern Alberta on a huge scale, the chief point of assault being Calgary.

Mr. McKillop's plan was to reach them by friendly methods. "We believe the system of sowing the good seed by talks and tract distribution will eventually bring forth good fruit. Our faith in the power of the Old Gospel is the same as ever."

(h) Coloured People and Foreigners.—About two years ago my attention was drawn to the fact that nothing was being done towards serving the large coloured population of Calgary with the Gospel. After interviewing some leading men and women among them, the use of the Moravian Church was obtained, and a Sunday afternoon service started. At first the attendance and support was encouraging, but owing to the uncertainty and irregularity of proper ministration, the project fell through. An effort is now being made to obtain the services of a coloured student of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, for the coming summer.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

At Calgary and Medicine Hat the Home Mission Committee has inaugurated a system of Church extension. This will mean extra outlay of Home Mission Funds for the first year, but it is confidentially believed all the new points opened up will soon be more than self-sustaining.

CO-OPERATION.

These three Presbyteries are divided into four districts for purposes of co-operation between the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches. Certain groups of townships are worked by the Methodist Church only, and certain groups by the Presbyterian Church only, except where mission fields had already been established by the Church not occupying a certain group, in which case these mission fields continue to be worked by the Church which established them.

At Banff, the two Churches have come to an arrangement by which a minister of one denomination keeps possession of the place for a term of three years, when he makes way for a minister of the other denomination. But, during the tourist season only, each denomination has its own minister.

LADIES' COLLEGE—RED DEER.

An important factor in the upbuilding of God's Kingdom in Alberta is the Ladies' College at Red Deer. The project was started about two years and a half ago. To-day it owns a property covering thirty acres of land and worth $50,000. The building itself cost $100,000. It is five storeys high, built of solid, pressed brick, with stone facings and cement foundations. It is floored throughout with maple, and double sashed. It is electric lighted and steam-heated. It has provision for 80 residential pupils and 30 day pupils. The equipment cost $12,000. All the departments represented in a first-class, up-to-date, ladies' college are provided for. The staff consists of 6 resident teachers and 2 non-resident. It has its own farm, on which it raises all its own farm produce, such as milk, eggs and vegetables. $100,000 has been subscribed, covering a term of years. $30,000 has been paid in cash. The Presbyteries represented in my district have paid $10,000 towards it. It is now in full operation.

STATISTICS.

Calgary Presbytery has 22 mission fields, an increase of 5; and 7 augmented charges, a decrease of 1.—Total 29.

Red Deer Presbytery has 35 mission fields, a decrease of 3; and 3 augmented charges, an increase of 1.—Total 38.

Lacombe has 17 mission fields, an increase of 2; and 4 augmented charges, a decrease of 2.—Total 21.

Making a total of 74 mission fields and 14 augmented charges.—Total 88.

Last year, 70 mission fields and 16 augmented charges.

Last summer almost all these fields were manned. During the winter months about 18 were vacant. Several doubled up under one missionary, and one was supplied from Robertson College. These mission fields and augmented charges represent 260 different points at which services have been held. All these fields and augmented charges, with the exception of five, have been personally visited by the district superintendent. In connection with these visits meetings of managers and sessions have been held wherever there were such, and where there was no organization such was effected in at least some simple form. Wherever Sunday was spent on a student field, the Sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper were dispensed, the Superintendent carrying his own Communion service, and whenever it was possible the Sunday Schools were visited and addressed, and the workers in every way encouraged.

Three lines of railway intersect my district, so that, frequently, missionaries living a few miles distant from a railway station can meet me there and drive me over his field. But some of our missionaries have only a pony and saddle, and buggies are not available, and there are large tracts far off from any railway stations; consequently, I provided myself with a team of my own, with which to penetrate into outlying mission fields. On one of these trips, which lasted more than two months, I drove 720 miles and visited over 60 preaching points.

It is estimated that for 1913, if all the fields are kept open, about $34,372 will be required to meet all expenses connected with the running of augmented charges and missions in the Presbyteries of Calgary, Red Deer and Lacombe, over and above what will be raised by the self-supporting and other charges. Knox Church, Calgary, proposes contributing $16,000 towards the Budget, a large proportion of which goes to support Home Missions. Grace Church, Calgary, will contribute $5,000, St. Andrew's, Calgary, $1,000, and St. Paul's, Calgary, $1,000 and so on. When it is remembered that nearly every city congregation in the West is in the throes of church building and that we are yet in the formative period of our existence, this is not a bad showing.

The reports sent in from fields go to show a reduction of about 50 per cent. in ordinary claims for arrears of salary, as compared with a year ago. And a study of the fields as they now stand will show a far more economic arrangement of preaching stations than a year ago.

In conclusion, I wish to bear a word of testimony to the voluntary and unremunerated and splendid service rendered the cause of Home Missions by Conveners of Home Mission Committees and others. Were it not for the co-operation of these men, the work accomplished by the Supervision would fall far short of being what it is. Some superintendents of districts have adopted a system of monthly reports, by means of which they are kept in constant touch with the missionary and his work, and is advised of any new situation demanding his immediate and personal attention. But the General Assembly's Home Mission Committee has not yet officially recognized this innovation, and consequently some missionaries do not feel under any obligation to comply. The system has proved itself to be a good one and should be universal.

Moreover, wherever possible, there should be a system of oversight of mission fields by ordained and experienced missionaries or ministers in the immediate neighbourhood, who, in turn, will keep in touch with the district superintendent. This has been tried at a few points in my territory with splendid results. At Castor, on the Lacombe branch of the C.P.R., Mr. Hartley has, during the past six months, been looking after all the fields within a radius of fifty miles. Mr. McNabb, of Three Hills, and Mr. Dalton, of Milverton, and others have been doing similar work.

The following paragraph from a recent number of the "West Land" will show how much the work of a district superintendent is appreciated:—

"Knox Church, Didsbury, has just closed her best year of the past four, and is beginning the work of the new year under very favourable conditions. The congregation is well equipped and organized, and in good heart.

"On the third Sunday of the month Rev. Wm. Shearer preached and, largely due to his efforts, a congregational banquet was held on the evening of the 17th, at which the superintendent ably presented the great task of the Church, with the result that the congregation reached three decisions:—First, to yield up its claim to self-support, in view of the minimum salary being now $1,200 instead of $1,000, and, while continuing to pay the thousand, to ask the Augmentation Committee for a grant of $200; second, in consideration of this grant from the Assembly's Committee to do its best to raise its share of the Budget; and third, to adopt the duplex envelope.

"The action of the congregation reflects credit not only upon itself, but upon the superintendent, inasmuch, as the managers were somewhat doubtful about their ability to raise even the amount of the present stipend. The past year was a fairly heavy one in view of removals, etc. The total amount raised for all purposes was $1,794.65, or $40.75 per member. But after Mr. Shearer had spoken on the task of the Church in Canada and abroad there was no thought of going backward, but forward."

WM. SHEARER.

PRESBYTERIES OF HIGH RIVER, MACLEOD AND KOOTENAY.

The district assigned to me by the General Assembly extends some five hundred and fifty miles from east to west, and some two hundred miles from the Boundary Line in the south to Aldersyde, on the Macleod and Calgary Branch of the C.P.R., in Alberta, to Spillimacheen, on the line of the Kootenay Central Railway, and to Halcyon, in British Columbia. There is a remarkable variety in the conditions of life and industry throughout this area. On the east side of the Mountains the people are engaged in grain growing, mixed farming and in coal mining. On the west side there are coal and metalliferous mining, lumbering, fruit-farming and mixed farming. The amount of manufactures is small. The whole area is sparsely populated. The urban population is nowhere large. We have within the district eight augmented and fifty-five mission fields, with one hundred and sixty-seven preaching points.

The people are sprung from a great variety of nationalities. There are considerable communities of Slavs, Italians, Belgians, French and Swedes, with a sprinkling of Orientals. Large communities of Russian Doukhobors have settled in British Columbia under the leadership of Peter Verigin. In Alberta there are many who are American born, and there are thousands of Mormons, the influence of whose presence is felt over a wide area. In the conduct of Home Mission work the plan of co-operation between the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches devised during the superintendency of Rev. W. D. Reid, who is everywhere kindly remembered, is in operation with good effects, and a somewhat similar plan is being introduced in British Columbia. In the working of such a plan much depends on the good will of those who are responsible and on their readiness to subordinate denominational aims to the higher end of supplying the ordinances of religion to the people as a whole. One of our Alberta missionaries reports no fewer than fifteen denominations among the people of his field, namely, Presbyterians, Methodists, Anglicans, Calvinistic Baptists, General Baptists, Baptist Disciples, Plymouth Brethren, United Brethren, Baptist Brethren, Dunkards, Roman Catholics, Lutherans, Evangelicans, Mormons and followers of the Apostolic and Holiness Movement. It will be readily seen that the work of the missionary who is charged with the moulding of these chaotic elements into the form of a good Presbyterian congregation is far from being easy. Zeal must be tempered with discretion; and a large experience of men and affairs is requisite to fit the pastor and preacher for his task. The uncertainty which overhangs the issue of the movement in favour of the union of the churches complicates the situation. While there are very many to whom denominational differences count for little, there are just enough people to whom these count for much to render the situation of the preacher in either a Methodist or a Presbyterian field perplexing. Here and there one meets with men big enough to grasp the underlying idea of the co-operation. "I was not brought up in your Church," said one American born Campbellite to me in a field in which Presbyterians were very few. "But if you are going to do this work I promise you my presence, my influence and my money in support of it." On the same field another good man said to me, "I am a Methodist, and I believe with all my heart in the Methodist Church, but if the work is to be yours, you may count on me to do all in my power to uphold and further it." Such men as these realize the value to themselves, their neighbours and their families, of a Gospel ministry and the valorous attempt of the Churches to cover the whole land with the ordinances of religion is highly appreciated by them.

It has to be confessed also that the general unsettlement of religious opinion coupled with a too widely diffused ignorance of the elementary truths of Christianity, renders the task of the preacher difficult. It is hard for him often to know where to begin, or, having begun, to realize what he is going to meet with in the people's minds. The age is one of "isms." Sparse as the population often is, one finds the minds of people captured by Plymouthism, Seventh Day Adventism, Millenial Dawnism, Eddyism, Socialism, Mormonism, and what not, while in the absence of these, Agnosticism presents its dreary front. Happily in the midst of all this there are many who, carrying with them the tradition and experience of true religion, are holding the Gospel of Christ in its simplicity, and striving to aid in making it known to others.

The desire of the people for the promotion of Sunday School work is everywhere manifest. Too much praise cannot be given to those who often in difficult circumstances are carrying on the Sunday Schools; nor can the Church go far astray in devoting her resources to the utmost possible extent toward rendering this work efficient. A crying need of the times is the restoration in suitable forms of the time-honoured institution of family worship. Without the training of children at home in religious knowledge in a country where little notice of this is taken in the curricula of the public schools, it is impossible to discover how the youthful mind can be prepared for intelligent reception of Christian preaching. Our student missionaries themselves, even when earnestly bent on promoting religion, often feel themselves handicapped by the possession of imperfect knowledge. And if this be the case with them, what must it be among their hearers? "Tell me where Jesus was born," I said to a group of children in the mountains. "Say in Jerusalem," whispered a mother, eagerly prompting her child. Out of a class of twenty well educated girls, of from sixteen to twenty years of age, only six were able to profess any acquaintance with the parable of the Ten Virgins. Evidences of lack of acquaintance with the Holy Scriptures are so wide spread as to cause grave concern. The action of school trustees everywhere in granting the use of school buildings for the holding of religious service deserves the grateful acknowledgment of the Church. The well-adapted co-operation of home, public school and Sunday school is requisite for the accomplishment of the great end of education in its widest sense.

It has to be borne in mind that there are considerable numbers of the people who are impervious to ordinary Home Mission methods. The Mormons of Alberta, of whom the last census returns show 9,793, are themselves convinced that it is their duty to propogate their monstrous system by means of missionary effort. The Doukhobors, of Kootenay, who are almost equally numerous, are, in their community life, by their history and their language, secluded from the work of the Church. The Presbytery of Macleod, within whose bounds the larger number of Mormons reside, have been giving special attention to the relations between the Church and Mormonism, and have prepared recommendations which need not here be set forth. The history of Mormonism in the United States is such as to cast grave doubt upon the wisdom of the policy pursued by the Government of Canada in at first admitting them to a settlement within the Province of Alberta. Now that they are here, and in no way slackening their hold upon that part of the country which they inhabit, it is well to regard Mormonism as a social, commercial and political force, which as such has to be reckoned with. While their leaders publicly and privately disclaim the practice of polygamy in Alberta, it seems to be proved that across the Border it has not ceased. When I asked a highly intelligent Mormon, whether there might not be given among them a fresh revelation in favour of polygamy, he replied that this could not be, because such a revelation would be inconsistent with the law of the State, a reply which sheds a flood of light upon the attitude of the Mormon mind both to the idea of revelation and to the State. Those who can read between the lines will keep their eyes open. There is little evidence of the winning of converts to Mormonism from among the population of Alberta. The Mormon communities are maintained or increased chiefly through immigration from other lands. Their presence in force among us cannot but have a pronounced effect upon the development of moral and religious culture.

Doubt has also been expressed as to the wisdom of the policy of the Dominion Government in reference to the Doukhobors. In his life of Tolstoy, Aylmer Maude says that there is much that is remarkable and good about the Doukhobors, and much that deserves to be remembered, as e.g., their sturdy endurance under persecution. But he adds, "The orthodox Doukhobor believes his leader, Peter Verigin, to be (like his predecessors in the leadership) an incarnation of the Deity, and they are an exclusive and secretive people. Taught by the persecutions of the past, they do not disclose this mystery to outsiders, and are, consequently, cut off from the rest of the world by a double wall of superstition and clandestinity." In these circumstances the door of entrance to them may be regarded as closed against our Mission, but in course of time, as the bonds of the community life become lax, it may not be so.

Other groups of non-English speaking people can best be dealt with either by missionaries possessing special linguistic qualifications, of whom the number is unhappily small, or by the use of means of training them to understand English by short and easy methods. At several points our missionaries are applying themselves to this, and we have encouraging reports of such work done among Swedes, Slavs, Japanese and others. This will be attempted on a much wider scale when workers can be found among our congregations ready to devote themselves to it. The missionary single handed cannot do all that is required. A wide field lies open here, which has as yet been very inadequately occupied.

Among English-speaking people the work presents features which are full of encouragement. Even in British Columbia where the Attorney-General has shown himself to be in only a very small degree favourable to the Lord's Day Act, the observance of the Sabbath is more honoured than it used to be. The holding of religious services even when sparsely attended is helpful to this, as the mind is thus directed to the higher duties and privileges of the day. It is pleasant as one travels over long distances to meet with congregations assembled on both Sabbath and week-days, evidently interested and eager to hear preaching, while the too long neglected observance of the Lord's Supper is welcomed by faithful souls. Too much praise cannot be given to the patient endurance of our missionaries. "I haven't suffered much," writes one, "from the long cold, just a frozen nose, frozen cheeks and chin, that is all. I get a little disappointed at times after making a journey to find few or no one present, yet at such times I usually got into closer personal touch with the individual in the home. This after all is the end of our efforts, be the efforts public or private, is it not? The Lord has been giving droppings of the shower of grace for which we thank Him." The wirter of this, a young Catechist student, has carried on a laborious work during the winter, at much personal sacrifice, in the endeavour to meet the situation created by shortness of supply. The lack of winter supply prevents the gathering of the fruit of the men's labours, and the solidifying of results. Nevertheless it is plain that the work has not been done in vain. An interesting proof of this is found in the heartiness with which the work of Church building has been engaged in in the various localities. During the past year new churches were erected or dedicated at Burton City, and at Athalmer on the Columbia River, at Crow's Nest in the pass of that name, at Browse near Nakusp, and at Aldersyde and Beaver Mines in Alberta; and preparations were made for similar work at Hardieville near Lethbridge, at Demars at the foot of the Upper Arrow Lake, and elsewhere. A manse was built at Magrath, and preparations were made for such building at Wilmer, B.C., and at Cowley and Grassy Lake in Alberta.

The financial side of the work deserves special consideration. There are not many of the people on these mission fields who have studied systematic beneficence and are prepared to handle their contributions to the preacher's salary or to the Budget scheme in a methodical way. At many points reliance is placed on spasmodic efforts, concerts, lantern lectures, basket-socials, and so forth, to make good deficiencies. One has even heard of dances arranged for this purpose. It is one thing to organize a Board of Management on a field and quite another thing to induce its members to do the work. The men have a helpless way of looking to the ladies, who perform prodigies of ingenuity and diligence in discharging their part of the duty. On one field, after an address by the superintendent to a small gathering, a Swedish carpenter arose and expressed his gratitude for the missionary's work and offered a sum of money to be applied in any suitable way for the maintenance of it. Such incidents, however, are rare. It has to be kept in mind that there is much irregularity in the industrial conditions of Kootenay, and that in Southern Alberta financial stringency has been severely felt. The coal strike of 1911 in the Crow's Nest Pass left long continued disastrous effects that were felt far beyond the actual mining camps. The bad harvests of 1910 and 1911 in Southern Alberta were followed, in 1912, by a better harvest, but there was much disappointment as regards the yield; prices were low, and the condition of the world's money market affected the action of the banks so that there has been no superabundance of cash in the people's hands. The Golden West possesses great potentialities, but these have been seriously discounted by over-speculation, and in recent times men and women, reputed to be wealthy, have been actually hard up. In these circumstances the absence of training and method in Christian liberality is seriously felt. The demand which the Church makes upon her people is, after all, small, compared with the demands made by the other sides of life. But the lack of thought and proportion is only too apparent. In these circumstances such a process of education as is being carried on is necessary, as well as a deepening of the sense of what we owe to the Lord Jesus Christ, and of what He requires of us.

The shallowness of conviction with respect to this is a noteworthy sign of the state of religion on our mission fields. To awaken the conviction and to deepen it must, of course, be the main object of the work. For with this comes the sense of the eternal of which all men stand in need and the sense of the value of spiritual things without which they soon become absorbed in the material environment. That from this point of view the Church has much to be thankful for, and much which gives her encouragement to persevere with the great work, there can be no doubt. A more energetic vitality within the Church herself, an interest in the spiritual life overcoming the tendency to a petty externalism and a chronic state of internal dissension, a more triumphant exhibition of "applied Christianity," these are required in order that she may not be put to shame in the presence of the evil that is in the world. The anti-Church, if not also anti-Christian, Socialism which is rampant among the masses of both English speaking and non-English speaking men in many of our fields, has its root in economic conditions, but has been furthered by reaction from a desolate and fruitless form of religion within the Church. It is surprising to see how quick a response is made to a frank admission of this. In many instances our missionaries have been successful in forming, by means of literary, debating and other societies, social rallying grounds for intellectual interest which might otherwise have gone to waste. The secular spirit may make too heavy demands on the Church, but the sanctifying of the whole life of man is part of the Church's task. We dare not dissociate social service from the preaching of the Gospel. Even when the covetousness, of which Jesus warns us to take heed, has overspread the nation like an epidemic of fever, and where the fertility of the soil, the luxuriance of the forests, the wealth of the mines, the necessity and the toil of men have been exploited by greedy speculators, the Church can show that she has a message for time and for eternity better than the nonsensical vapourings that are sometimes published in this district in the name of Socialism.

PRESBYTERIES OF VICTORIA, WESTMINSTER AND KAMLOOPS.

Under the new regulations governing the division of the Home Mission Field of our Church, in order to secure closer supervision, the part assigned to me by the General Assembly includes the Presbyteries of Victoria, Westminster and Kamloops. The greater part of the Province of British Columbia and the Yukon Territory lies within the bounds of these Presbyteries.

During the decade, 1901 to 1911, the population of the Yukon steadily decreased, while in British Columbia there was a gain of 119.68 per cent. The increase in trade has been proportionately great, so that to-day it is the largest per capita of any country in the world.

A review of each Presbytery separately will best indicate the task of the Church in this immense territory.

PRESBYTERY OF VICTORIA.

The territory of the Presbytery of Victoria includes the Island of Vancouver and the smaller islands in the Gulf of Georgia. The natural resources of these are very rich. They include rich coal mines, while gold, silver and copper abound. The timber limits are the finest in the Province, and the agricultural land is fertile and extensive. As would naturally be expected from its insular position, its fisheries are unusually productive and it is estimated that when fully developed they will rival those of the North Atlantic. The mission fields which are being operated may be classified according to the industries which have been enumerated.

Lumbering.—There are three missions to the lumbermen. These are Jordan River, Comox Valley and Campbell River. The mission known as the Loggers' Mission, lies within the bounds of this Presbytery, but the close connection commercially of the territory operated with the mainland has caused it to be under the supervision of the Presbytery of Westminster.

At one of these, Jordan River, the companies concerned are co-operating with the Church and establishing work along institutional lines. A building is being erected suitable for recreation and educational and religious work. The maintenance of this building is being borne entirely by the companies and, in addition, they are responsible for two-thirds of the salary of the missionary, whose special fitness for dealing with men governs his selection. It is to be hoped that if this experiment proves a success, similar work will be established in the other lumbering centres.

Coal Mining.—Coal mining having been carried on for many years, the missions first established among the miners have now become self-sustaining charges, so that only two missions of this class exist. During the past summer a strike has been in progress, so that little progress has been made. All that could be expected was that services should be maintained, the expense of which fell largely upon the Church.

Owing to the construction of railroads to this district, this industry is unusually active and calls for corresponding activity in mission work, especially as many of those engaged in the fisheries are from Scotland and, presumably, Presbyterian.

PRESBYTERIES OF VICTORIA, WESTMINSTER AND KAMLOOPS.

Under the new regulations governing the division of the Home Mission Field of our Church, in order to secure closer supervision, the part assigned to me by the General Assembly includes the Presbyteries of Victoria, Westminster and Kamloops. The greater part of the Province of British Columbia and the Yukon Territory lies within the bounds of these Presbyteries.

A review of each Presbytery separately will best indicate the task of the Church in this immense territory.

PRESBYTERY OF VICTORIA.

The territory of the Presbytery of Victoria includes the Island of Vancouver and the smaller islands in the Gulf of Georgia. The natural resources of these are very rich. They include rich coal mines, while gold, silver and copper abound. The timber limits are the finest in the Province, and the agricultural land is fertile and extensive. As would naturally be expected from its insular position, its fisheries are unusually productive and it is estimated that when fully developed they will rival those of the North Atlantic. The mission fields which are being operated may be classified according to the industries which have been enumerated.

Lumbering.—There are three missions to the lumbermen. These are Jordan River, Comox Valley and Campbell River. The mission known as the Loggers' Mission, lies within the bounds of this Presbytery, but the close connection commercially of the territory operated with the mainland has caused it to be under the supervision of the Presbytery of Westminster.

At one of these, Jordan River, the companies concerned are co-operating with the Church and establishing work along institutional lines. A building is being erected suitable for recreation and educational and religious work. The maintenance of this building is being borne entirely by the companies and, in addition, they are responsible for two-thirds of the salary of the missionary, whose special fitness for dealing with men governs his selection. It is to be hoped that if this experiment proves a success, similar work will be established in the other lumbering centres.

Coal Mining.—Coal mining having been carried on for many years, the missions first established among the miners have now become self-sustaining charges, so that only two missions of this class exist. During the past summer a strike has been in progress, so that little progress has been made. All that could be expected was that services should be maintained, the expense of which fell largely upon the Church.

Along the Alberni Canal, on the west coast, several fisheries have been recently established and new missions organized among these. Owing to the construction of railroads to this district, this industry is unusually active and calls for corresponding activity in mission work, especially as many of those engaged in the fisheries are from Scotland and, presumably, Presbyterian.

Owing to the land being heavily timbered and costly to clear, the agricultural settlements have not grown rapidly. With the general increase in prices, owing to an increase in the population of the coast cities and improved means of transportation, a more rapid growth is taking place.

City extension work is engaging the attention of the Presbytery and new missions have been formed adjacent to the cities of Victoria, Nanaimo and Alberni.

PRESBYTERY OF WESTMINSTER.

The district over which the Presbytery exercises ecclesiastical supervision is of magnificent proportions, its western boundary being the whole of the seaboard of British Columbia and Alaska, while its eastern boundary is almost equal in length, extending from the boundary of the United States as far north as settlement exists. Its width at the south is scarcely 100 miles, but in the north it reaches into the hundreds. More than 50 per cent. of the mission work under my supervision lies within the bounds of this Presbytery.

No general description could be given that would adequately set forth the interests which the Church has in this immense country, so varied are the conditions and so exceptional the kind of work which is being conducted. Each locality has features of its own and can be more conveniently treated separately.

First, the Yukon.—Perhaps no other territory has roused the Church to a greater sense of her responsibility to minister to the frontiersmen than the Yukon. Owing to a steady decline in population, we have now only one mission field in the Yukon and, although the congregation promises $1,000 per annum, together with a house for the missionary, no one suitable has been found willing to undertake the work and it has been vacant for the past year. The prospects for the future are brighter than for some time past and it is to be hoped that we will be able to resume work this spring.

Second, the Northern Part of British Columbia.—In the extreme north of the Province there are only two missions, Telegraph Creek and Atlin. Atlin, like the Klondyke, has suffered a decline in population, but the mission work has been of great value, for, in addition to the regular services conducted by the missionary, the hospital, under the management of the W.H.M.S., has been an outstanding feature. Since October no religious services have been conducted by any church and a district containing approximately 600 people ought not to be neglected. At Telegraph Creek, on the Stikine River, we have a medical mission conducted by Dr. Inglis, who has held the post for the past eight years. During this time he has been the only physician in the whole of the Cassiar District and the only minister for the greater part of the time. He has ministered to both the natives and whites spiritually and physically. Since his arrival there, a valuable property has been secured for Church purpose, upon which stand four log buildings which are used as a church, office and residence. A sum of $800 has been collected for the erection of a new church. In addition a hospital has been built by the Provincial and Dominion Governments at his suggestion and under his direction. It is from this point that access is most readily attained to the new gold fields which have been discovered recently at Silver Creek and which may rival the Klondike. Their value has not yet been demonstrated, however.

Dr. Inglis has resigned, but it is to be hoped that a worthy successor may be obtained.

Third, The Middle North.—This district is that being opened by the construction of the G.T.P. and stretches practically from the western boundary of Alberta to the Pacific Ocean. This territory extends for six hundred miles from east to west and includes the Queen Charlotte Islands, which possess rich coal deposits, large timber limits, fine agricultural lands and many fishing stations where capital from the old land has been invested and to which Scotch fishermen have been brought out, who are looking to us for religious services; the country in the vicinity of Prince Rupert, which includes the Portland Canal and Observatory Inlet, important on account of large mining operations; the islands at the mouth of the Skeena, upon which settlers have taken up homesteads and who rarely see a clergyman, and the smaller communities which are attracting a considerable population owing to the establishment of new industries; and lastly the great valleys of the Skeena, Bulkley, Nechacco and Fraser Rivers, stretching across the Province for nearly 600 miles. From all of these districts clamant calls have come to us for religious services. Shall we decline to heed the cry which comes to us from those of our own faith and race because the work is hard and expensive? In the territory enumerated in this division we have had this last winter three men stationed, two and three hundred miles apart, Messrs. Kerr, McLean and Wright, stationed at Prince Rupert, Hazelton and Fort George, respectively. We are asking for six additional men this spring for this district.

Fourth, The coast line from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, a distance of 550 miles—It is between these points that the mission to the loggers has been operating. It, however, covers only one-third of the distance and within the district covered by it, Mr. Burgess, who, during the winter, has devoted the most of his time to the settlements forming upon the islands in the Gulf, reports the urgent need of placing four additional men to work among the settlers, so that some kind of religious life may be established. This work has hitherto been almost entirely neglected. The fifth division of the Presbytery is the lower mainland and the Fraser River valley. For almost 100 miles east of the mouth of the Fraser and south to the Boundary Line this valley is open for settlement. Here and there a settlement has been formed, but, generally speaking, very little of the land is as yet cleared. It is now being subdivided into small holdings and when once occupied will contain a large population. This territory and the suburbs of Vancouver and Westminster cities are served by the students of Westminster Hall, who operate the fields from the College both winter and summer.

Within the bounds of Westminster Presbytery there are 42 mission fields and 19 augmented charges.

KAMLOOPS PRESBYTERY.

The Presbytery of Kamloops lies in the interior of the Province and is over 300 miles from east to west. It includes the valleys of the Thompson, the Okanagan, the Similkimeen and Nicola Rivers, as well as the Cariboo and Lillooet Districts. These valleys and districts are in the dry belt and vegetation is less luxuriant than at the coast. Hence the timbered land is more sparsely covered and the settlements more scattered. The country is well adapted for ranching, mixed farming and fruit growing. Owing to the physical features of the country, the missionaries have to cover great distances in reaching their appointments. On one field the extreme points are 100 miles apart. This distance must be covered at all seasons of the year and under all conditions of climate. This is emphatically a missionary Presbytery, because many of the fields cannot be expected to become self-sustaining very rapidly and the Church must be prepared to stand behind her representatives who are seeking to care for their brethren under these conditions, but more especially because during the past the Presbyterian Church alone has sought to minister to the isolated settlements within the bounds. Out of the 21 mission fields on the list there are 15 where, of the Churches negotiating for union, the Presbyterian Church alone is represented.

While some of these missions may never rise to the status of self-support, it is certain that in these great valleys, where now new railroads are being built, a much larger population will ultimately find its way and make further development possible. It is therefore important to minister to these not only because of what they may become, but also because of what they are now, the feeders of the city into which the young men and women find their way when they come to maturity. The problem of the city is solved if the youth of the country are cared for when their minds are in a plastic state and they have time and opportunity to think upon the great certainties of life.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY.

There were last year within these three Presbyteries, 74 mission fields. During the year six became augmented charges and one became self-sustaining without augmentation. These were all in the Presbytery of Westminster. Three congregations were returned from the augmented status to Home Mission fields. Three missions were merged into other charges and are no longer worked as separate missions, while fourteen new fields have been opened, leaving 79 fields upon the list, a net gain of five.

CHURCHES AND MANSES.

There has not been so great activity during the year in church and manse building as formerly, but three churches and two manses have been built. The former at Edmonds and Victoria Road in the Westminster Presbytery, and at Port Alberni, in Victoria Presbytery, while the latter have been built at Mt. Lehman, in Westminster Presbytery, and Chase, in Kamloops Presbytery.

AUGMENTED CHARGES.

The reports from augmented charges show that 29 congregations are now on the list. One augmented charge in the Presbytery of Victoria became self-sustaining, viz., Cedar Hill. Owing to the increase in salaries for ministers, five congregations that were previously self-sustaining have come back upon the fund. It is expected that this will be for a brief period only, as they will put forth an effort to regain their former standing of self-support. This increase in salary accounts for the fact that few augmented charges have reached the measure of self-support. It is gratifying to know that only three augmented charges failed to retain there standing under the new minimum, but in each of these cases the cause was due to great industrial depression, which would have necessitated their return to the Home Mission status in any event. In all other cases the new minimum has been reached by the augmented charges.

A NEW POLICY.

For the rural and urban populations the policy hitherto followed is most suitable, but to meet the new conditions which have arisen some other method must be devised. The problem of British Columbia is essentially a man's problem. To meet the spiritual needs of more than 100,000 men, who make up the army of labourers who are employed throughout the Province and who are without the sanctifying influences of home life, live a roving life and become gradually estranged from religion, demands a policy on the part of the Church very different from anything that has yet been attempted if the manhood of the nation is to be saved. A class of workers specially trained for this work and provided with suitable equipment seems to be the only remedy to be applied. For this greater sacrifices in both men and money will be required than has been offered, liberal as these undoubtedly have been.

REPORTS FROM IMMIGRATION CHAPLAINS.

REPORT OF REV. T. HUNTER BOYD.

CO-OPERATION OF THE SCOTTISH CHURCHES.

It is gratifying to report the cordial co-operation of the Colonial Committees of the Church of Scotland and the United Free Church of Scotland. I was received as a Commissioner from our Church at their General Assemblies and was the only Canadian present, the Australasian and other Synods arrange to have ministers present every year; the Church of Scotland affords an opportunity for the deputies of the several countries to be heard in the Assembly according to their year of rotation, nevertheless, there are other occasions during Assembly when it is desirable that the work of our Church should be presented. I was invited to address the United Free Church Assembly, and also their Colonial Breakfast Meeting. On all these occasions special emphasis was laid on the conservation of the religious life of those who make their home in the Dominion. During the days I could manage to spend in Edinburgh I found an extremely large number of persons who were anxious to know how they could render practical assistance in this matter. I was invited to furnish a Statement on the "Overseas Welcome" which was printed in the Annual Report of these two Assemblies. Similar notices have also appeared in their "Records" and this important subject has thus been kept more prominently before their people.

Several students from the U. F. Colleges assisted in our mission work in Canada during last summer and one from the Glasgow University. These churches have also defrayed the cost of the cards and envelopes employed on the steamers during the past year.

OTHER CHURCHES.

The English Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church of Wales have been working together at the port of Liverpool and have employed the method adopted at the Scottish port. They have a minister, Rev. J. Molyneux, who attends to this matter regularly, and makes use of cards and envelopes which are uniform with our own. His time is devoted chiefly to the Allan and C.P.R. Steamers. Efforts are being made to introduce the same plan at other ports, and, if practicable, the English Presbyterian Church can be relied upon to assist us.

The Irish Presbyterian Church continues its efforts which are chiefly employed on the tender steamers from Belfast. It is interesting to note that all the churches in the home lands are awake to the necessity of doing all they can to prevent lapsing, and practically all of them now have departments to deal with their migrants. The Established Church of England has made great efforts to arouse the country, and has succeeded in getting very large sums of money to expend on the Prairie Provinces.

NOMENCLATURE OF THE DENOMINATIONS.

Passengers who book for Canada are required to answer a number of questions prepared by the Dominion Government, and the sheets containing these answers are in due time forwarded to the Emigration Department in Ottawa. They are carefully preserved at least for three years, so that they may be of service in case deportation is proposed within that period. One of the questions relates to the religious denomination of the person purchasing a ticket. It is not clear if a purchaser is compelled to regard this particular enquiry in the same light as the other items in the interrogatory form. At any rate, in many instances, it is assumed that the Government merely desires to know if the person is Protestant or Roman Catholic, and these terms are frequently employed. So long as this indefiniteness prevails, as to the significance of the term "denomination" the material will remain incomplete. But even if all the sheets were correctly filled under this heading, there would frequently remain some uncertainty as to the destination of the newcomer, though a large proportion of the sheets contain sufficient particulars for finding the person soon after arrival. The Superintendent of Emigration, at Ottawa, Mr. W. D. Scott, has desired to make these returns complete, and to give qualified representatives of the Canadian Churches access to them. Meantime the chaplains at the ports rely partly upon the manifests of the steamers and partly upon their enquiries addressed to the passengers at the ports of landing. The differences of terminology between the Home Land and Canada are frequently causes of some confusion. English churchmen are surprised that there is no Established Church; Wesleyans are surprised to find the word "Wesleyan" is not required to define a Methodist, and it has been found better to ask Scottish passengers, "To what Church do you belong?" than to ask them "are you Presbyterian?"; if the latter form were employed, many would say no, I am Established or U. F., or I belong to the Parish Kirk, or the Auld Kirk. Efforts are being made to have the work of our denomination more widely known in Scotland, not for the sake of tabulation or identification at our ports; but because one of the needs of present day Presbyterians is a larger corporate church consciousness.

STEAMSHIP COMPANIES.

The Allan Line, the Donaldson Line, and the Anchor Line have all continued the facilities granted last year, and we are under the same obligation for assistance given in the offices of these companies, and by officers and others on all their steamers, who have helped in the distribution of our material amongst their passengers. There are fourteen steamers leaving the Clyde for Canadian and U. S. A. ports, and several of these call at Moville, in Ireland, or go first to Liverpool. As frequently as possible I have accompanied the passengers to these ports, and thus gained much more time with them than is practicable when one has to land at Greenock.

EUROPEAN CHURCHES.

During the past year invitations reached me from two Continental Synods, one in Belgium, one in Italy. I had the privilege of attending the 75th Synod of the Evangelical Church in Belgium, at Liege, but could not respond to the Waldensian invitation for lack of both time and money. It is interesting to record, however, that with the increased volume of migration from these countries, the churches are very keen to learn at first hand what is being undertaken for their own countrymen. At Liege I met a small group of ministers from Holland, Germany, Switzerland and France, and they were all of the opinion that it would be excellent if I could manage to be present at their several Synods and help to promote greater intimacy with the churches whence many of our new citizens are drawn. In this connection it should be added that Professor Bieler, of Montreal, conducts considerable correspondence on the behalf of Continental churches who seek to follow up their members.

ROMAN CATHOLIC ENTERPRISE.

The Roman Catholic Church is now more fully equipped than ever for dealing with the migration of its people. Each country is organized for this purpose, and a special consistory in Rome presides over the whole movement. They have monthly magazines in various languages entirely devoted to migration, and I have seen cards issued from Canada in Lithuanian and other languages giving particulars of missions, and the names of the priests, and other particulars calculated to be useful to the newcomer. This is a commendable process and indeed it is one that I have presented to our Committee two or three times since coming to this office.

VIGILANCE ASSOCIATION.

The aid of the Scottish National Vigilance Association has been sought several times during the year and has been freely rendered. This Association has paid for the special card which we enclose for all young men, giving names of deaconesses or others at the ports. Whenever I have desired it a lady worker has been sent on the Donaldson steamer as far as Greenock; and I have had frequent consultations with the Secretary, Mrs. Hunter, on account of girls who appeared to require special aid.

The Jewish Association has the most thorough process for safeguarding young women. I have been well acquainted with the methods employed in London and New York, even before I commenced this work, and wish that we had similar activities. The Jewish Secretary is in touch with persons all over Europe, who inform him of the girls who are travelling say to U.S.A. and he can not only keep track of them during the entire journey, but has reports of their position for two or three years after. They take all this care for co-religionists who merely pass across England and it does seem as if the Christian Church should develop similar work for its own. The Jews undertake work for Christian trans-migrants also, and so far as my work is concerned, I have had to rely upon the Baron de Hirsch Institute in Montreal to meet girls of foreign tongue at Canadian ports because so far as I am aware, all the Canadian Christian Churches together have not yet secured competent linguists for this protective work. I am confident that we could get into touch with European centres, we could get translation of European correspondence, but we have not yet a kind of social service directory for foreigners to inform them of godly, well-informed, prompt Canadian correspondents in their own languages in various parts of the Dominion. Surely it is desirable that this equipment should be speedily matured.

APPOINTMENT BY THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

In October last I received a cable from Ottawa stating that by Order-in-Council I had been appointed Official Delegate for the Dominion to the International Conference to be held in Brussels on October 21st to 24th, 1912, on the prevention of the White Slave Traffic. It afforded me great pleasure to attend this Conference, and this recognition at once secured for the performance of my regular duties increased facilities. I have since prepared a report to the Minister of the Department of the Interior, and duplicate report to the Minister of Justice, which will shortly be issued at Ottawa, and therefore need not take space here. In the main I urged that Canada should take steps to fulfil its obligations to young women as the Government specifically conducts propaganda to secure domestic servants. I believe that the Criminal Code will be modified in accordance with the International Treaty which Canada signed in 1810.

TOUR OF INVESTIGATION.

In November last I received permission to visit Canada in order that I might consult with many persons who are devoted to the care of the newcomer. I had the privilege of meeting several superintendents, all the chaplains, the officials of the Emigration Department, and numerous secretaries and workers all over the Dominion. Apart from the desirability of making my methods more efficient, it was also necessary that I should renew acquaintance with Western Canada, as nearly the whole of my work is related to the West. I was invited to meet several important committees at various centres and especially sought interviews with the Rev. Dr. Grant, Rev. J. H. Edmison, and learned details of the Strangers' Welcome Department at our Toronto Office. It may be incidentally mentioned that the letters of commendation which were furnished by the steamship companies here, revealed the appreciation which they have for the work undertaken by your Committee.

INCREASED CONTACT WITH UNITED STATES.

During the past year I have had a much larger measure of work on account of the number of persons who enter by Portland, Boston and New York, and we are indebted to the American Churches for the attention paid to our people, as it is obvious that we cannot employ chaplains at these ports. It is possible that we may render more assistance to English-speaking Presbyterians who go to reside in the United States and that the American Church can help us in our problems with the Europeans.

OTHER FUNCTIONS OF THE OFFICE.

Numerous enquiries of all kinds relating to Church life in Canada continue to reach the office and a large number of ministers and students call or correspond concerning the work of the Ministry.

NEW OUTLOOK FOR PRESBYTERIANISM.

Possibly in the past the relation of the Reformed Churches has been too academic, or has been too much confined to the periodical reading of papers, or presentation of fraternal greetings. The great volume of travel has come with comparative suddenness on the Church, and the restlessness is not confined to the great movements from country to country. Even within the Dominion itself there is a constant inter-provincial movement and it calls for a revision of our functions since the days when Presbyterianism was a matter of rigid "bounds" of parishes. It is more difficult to devise ways of affecting a constantly shifting population, but the Church has flourished by attacking difficult problems and the migration of the very early Christians had much to do with the rapid and wide spread of Christianity.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

T. HUNTER BOYD.

REPORT OF DR. PATERSON.

Another eventful year in our great country's history has gone into the irrecoverable past. It has brought multitudes of men, many of whom will have much to do with the shaping of her destiny. It was a great crisis in the lives of these people, a time for enduring impressions. What an opportunity to make impressions of the right stamp. What possibilities of weal or woe to our country lie in those hundreds of thousands who have become fellow countrymen; What a great field "white unto the harvest!" Never to Canada has been given a greater opportunity for fruitful service for God and Country.

The past year in immigration work has been in every respect the most successful. A greater number of people have been met, welcomed and helped. A higher percentage of definite addresses have been obtained; consequently a greater number have been located and brought into fellowship with the Church.

An intresting feature is, that although the Government reports a smaller number of Scotch immigrants for the fiscal year of 1912-13, the number of Presbyterians is greater. This is accounted for by the fact that anywhere from three to five thousand Presbyterians come from England, Ireland and Wales. In addition to this, I had an assistant during the busy season. Further, practice makes perfect.

Sixteen thousand were met and welcomed at the ports of Quebec and St. John. I have not heard of the number that arrived at the port of Halifax, but from past experience there, know that it should not be less than from five to six thousand, making a total of about 22,000 net. To this we can safely add several thousands more whom we have not been able to reach.

These people are among the very best that are coming into Canada, and many of them will be a great addition to our financial, educational and spiritual forces.

IMPROVED ARRANGEMENTS FOR LOCATING THE IMMIGRANT.

The weakest point in the immigration work has been the locating of the immigrant in the place to which he has gone. Although there has been a slight improvement in this defect from year to year, yet it has been felt that more could and should be done to remove it altogether if possible. It is to this end that the H. M. Committee, in conjunction with the Woman's Home Mission Society, are endeavouring to have a "Stranger's Committee" organized in every congregation whose business it will be to assist the minister to find the stranger and have him brought into fellowship with the Church, and report to the H. M. Secretary, and through him to me. The wisdom of this arrangement is already quite evident. For example, I have received reports of immigrants who had been located, met and welcomed, who had gone as far west as Vancouver, and Victoria, in an almost increditable short space of time from the time they entered the port. There is an inestimable blessing in this arrangement, not only to the stranger himself, but also to all those who are thus enlisted in practical Christian work. A great difficulty yet to be overcome, is to be able to keep in touch with those who go to our large cities on "spec," having neither a definite street address nor work to go to. I am glad to know that the Toronto Presbytery is seeking to overcome this difficulty by the appointment of a man to give his whole attention to the care of the stranger. But I am inclined to think that his work will be more or less of a failure, as far as the man on "spec" is concerned, unless a definite place is arranged for where board and lodging can be secured at most reasonable rates, and to which I could direct him. That such an arrangement would be most acceptable I am in a position to know.

Evils focused at the ports of entry, and from thence distributed all over our country, which must be overthrown, if we are to have a united country and "Canada for Christ."

1. The indifference to the Church, and alienation, if not actual hostility to it of a good many of the British immigrants.

2. Fellow countrymen, prejudicing the minds of the foreigners by means of circulars, vilifying Protestants in general, and the Bible Society in particular.

3. The materialistic spirit, which makes material gain the first, and possibly, only consideration.

4. The foreigners, with their multiplicity of languages, their illiteracy, their low moral standards, and their ignorance of personal responsibility, many of them coming from countries where there is maladministration.

5. The Mormons, with their anti-Christian doctrines, their persistent proselytising campaign, and ultimate aim at controlling the Government. Such people should be treated as White Slave traffickers and debarred from our country.

6. The White Slave Traffic.—That there are men and women passing through our ports who are engaged in this diabolical business, there is little room for doubt. Government inspectors have been morally certain that such characters were before them, but for the lack of necessary facilities to lead to conviction, have been forced to let them go. For such a horrible crime as this, the Government should be requested to give its inspectors the power to detain such on the slightest ground of suspicion, until their guilt or innocence has been fully established.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. PATERSON, B.A., M.D.,

FROM OUR MONTREAL CHAPLAIN.

The prediction in our report of 1911, that "the mighty stream of humanity finding its source in an hundred rivulets of the old world, is gaining in its volume and momentum with each passing year," was amply verified during the year 1912, when the copious flow approached very nearly the 400,000 mark—being 15 per cent. in advance of the preceding year. With one accord the peoples of the world who have the instinct of betterment seem to be heading in our direction. It is estimated that during the current year nearly three-quarters of a million people will seek homes for themselves and their posterity. There is certainly no problem confronting the people of Canada at the present time of any greater magnitude than that of assimilating and making worthy citizens out of the incoming tides of immigrants of various nationalities and different degrees of civilization. As the rivers flow towards the sea, so do these streams of humanity set towards a common centre of a new national life. But as the waters of the ocean are flavoured by salts of alkali plains and the sulphur mountain springs, by the leaves and sediment of the hillsides, so shall the life of Canada be seasoned by all the varied characteristics that differentiate the nationalities of the world. In this truth there are some elements for our comfort. When into the general texture of this new national life there are being woven the impules of the Celt, the endurance of the German, the patience of the Slav, and the daring of the Northman, the romance of Italy, the suavity of France, the buoyancy of Ireland, the shrewdness of Scotland, and the enterprise of England, we are filled with optimism and pride of the prospect that Canada, the last of "times noblest offspring" is to be the best. But on the other hand there is cause of serious apprehension when we consider that we are taking them for better, for worse, in sickness and in health, and as we view the uncouth ways of many, their lusty morals, their alien ideas, their ignorance and superstition, we have reason to fear that to us is coming a tremendous contribution of the worse—a contribution against which we will have to measure our highest ideals of manhood, our noblest conception of womanhood, sanctified by faith in the God of the Nations and a knowledge of the Gospel of His Son.

Believing that the rendering of loving and sympathetic service to the strangers in their hour of greatest need, is the most efficient agency to lead them to the acceptance of our Christian ideals, our Church with "Canada for Christ" as her motto, has her chaplains to meet all ocean passenger boats, extending in the name of the Church the glad hand of welcome, the cordial words of greeting and advice, and the ministration of practical service at a time when they are overwhelmed with anxiety and uncertainty.

At Montreal more than 160 passenger steamers were met and more than 40,000 passengers welcomed. From among this number 5,320 Presbyterians were found and their names and destination taken down. Rev. Dr. Patterson, at Quebec, whilst paying special attention to the third-class passengers, all of whom land there, succeeds in forwarding the names of at least three-quarters of the second-class passengers, whom he is able to meet on the boats, whilst they are detained for examination. Thus to the Montreal chaplain only a small number of names is left to be sent to the destinations of the respective passengers. But whilst it is important to have the names of all immigrants forwarded to the minister in the locality in which he expects to make his home, it is still more important to impress upon him by acts of Social Service that the Church is seeking him not only for the Church's sake, but for his own. There is no shorter road to the heart of the stranger than ministering to his material wants, which are more real to him in such emergencies than the spiritual. Nearly every one of them are perfectly ignorant of our Canadian laws on transportation. They do not know what or how much they can send by check, nor do they understand weigh bills, custom regulations, nor how to get from the wharf to the stations. Even men can be seen in tears because of their perfect confusion. To a Presbyterian from Scotland or the north of Ireland the advice of a Presbyterian minister, who has an expert knowledge of transportation and Canadian geography, is conclusive.

The quality of the British immigrant of 1912 was conspicuously superior to that of former years. The greatest number consisted of wives and childrens of husbands and fathers who succeeded so well in Canada that they could afford to bring their families second-class. In many cases fathers and mothers who exceed the alloted span of life were among the new comers on their way to occupy homes prepared for them by industrious and prosperous sons and daughters. Conspicuously prominent among the second-class passengers were the prospective brides—sometimes as many as forty on one steamer—on their way to our Western Provinces to diminish our large army of wifeless men. It was not difficult to distinguish them from all others, because of their happy smiles and jaunty movements.

Nearly all the Presbyterians on their arrival were on the lookout for the Chaplain. This was largely due to the valuable work of Rev. Hunter Boyd, our Overseas Chaplain at Glasgow, who not only gave them cards of introduction, but sent their names via New York, thus reaching Montreal several hours ahead of them. In addition to this, those in Canada sending to the Old Country for their wives, families, and brides, explained to them that it was not necessary for them to go to the expense of coming to Montreal to meet them as the Presbyterian Chaplain would attend to their interests better than they could themselves. In the meantime those fathers, husbands, and prospective bridgerooms, sent letters in hundreds to the Chaplain informing him that he was entrusted with the care of looking after their loved ones on their arrival.

Among all the immigrants none stood more in need of care and advice than the domestic servants, who not being subject to any money test, leave the overseas ports with absolutely nothing but the ticket sent by brother, sister or friend from this side. Frequently having to spend a day or a night in Montreal the charitable organizations are taxed to their utmost to accommodate them.

The Government at Ottawa has been influenced to erect a place, for which plans are now being prepared, in which food and temporary shelter can be provided.

The visit to Canada, last December, of the Rev. Hunter Boyd afforded the Chaplains on this side to make arrangements to carry forward our work with increased efficiency. His two weeks' stay in Montreal resulted in the maturing of a system which will enable us to trace the newcomer from his home in the old land to his final settlement in Canada, with the certainty with which the express agents can trace their parcels.

JOHN CHISHOLM.

REPORT OF IMMIGRATION CHAMPLAIN AT WINNIPEG FOR YEAR ENDING MARCH 31ST, 1913.

This has been the biggest year yet in immigration to Western Canada and so in a sense should be the best year of our Canadian Church. The work at this office has been heavy, so heavy indeed that your chaplain broke down under the strain and had to be relieved for a couple of months, during which time the work was efficiently carried on by Rev. T. R. Scott, who already had some familiarity with its details.

Because of differing conditions, the work of your chaplain at Winnipeg varies somewhat from that done by the chaplain at the port of landing. Here we have the large halls established and maintained by the Dominion Government where immigrants may find shelter for a few days before proceeding to their final destination. Accommodation is provided for about 1,800 persons. Beds are furnished and arrangements are made in kitchens and dining rooms where they may prepare and eat their food. An ample hospital is maintained in connection with the plant and every provision made for the comfort and health of the immigrants.

On the ground floor are the general offices, where full information is given to all enquirers on any and every matter pertaining to the welfare of the new settlers. Here your chaplain has been given a desk and every facility afforded him of rendering the fullest possible service to the people he is there to help.

Many of the immigrants are simply passing through the city to points farther West and little can be done for them other than simply to meet as many as possible, giving them a cheering word in passing, and urge them to present the introduction cards already given them by Dr. Patterson at the port, to the minister to the Church where they may settle.

But the first-class chance is with these who are remaining in Winnipeg, either permanently or until such time as we can find situations for them elsewhere. Some of these remain but a day in the hall, others remain several days, and a few find shelter here for a fortnight or even longer. With many of them I have opportunity to have a heart to heart talk. Many require encouragement in the new condition in which they find themselves. Some need to be urged to get to work, while others require sterner treatment to brace them against old forms of temptation.

Our Sunday evening services, held in one of the dining rooms, have been well attended and have, I believe, been a real uplift to many. Standing as they are at an important juncture in their journey of life, men and women are found to be susceptible to religious influences and such a service, under such circumstances proves most opportune. Many a hearty "hand shake and a thank you for the message" after the meetings, have testified to appreciation of them, while many persons have remained for further conversation.

The attendance, of course, varies with the members who are in the hall over Sunday, but in the busy season there will be from 130 to 140 present. This year I have bought an organ for use at the Sunday services, and some of the Government officials who have musical talent have cheerfully assisted with the service of praise.

During the year I have baptized 12 children, conducted ten funeral services, and performed 38 marriages. There have been many calls to visit patients in the hospitals from strangers who know no city minister and remembered me at the hall. In some way or other my work is related to many of the public institutions of the city, such as the "Redemptive Home," "Girls' Welcome Home," "Home for the Friendless," Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., "Children's Aid," "Children's Home," the hospital and jails.

Numberless interviews have been held with men and women, and older folk, either on their own behalf or because of letters sent me from their friends in the old land who are anxious concerning them.

Upwards of 3,000 Presbyterians who were remaining in the city for a time at least have been dealt with. Over a thousand addresses have been forwarded to the local ministers. Of those going farther west it has been impossible to keep an accurate account. There is but an hour between the arrival and departure of trains, and with the moving into the waiting room and back to the fresh train the hour is a busy and exciting one. Our Chaplain has, however, been able to lighten the load of many a weary and over-burdened mothers who, with her bairns has been passing through to join their father in the west.

To about 9,000 of those who have remained in the city for a time, and then gone forward to situations secured for them, I have given cards of introduction to the ministers at the places to which they were going, and have notified ministers of their places of employment. In connection with these I regret to have to say that only about 12 per cent. of the return portion of the notices sent have reached me, indicating that the persons have been found.

In the first years of my appointment as Immigration Chaplain, I was able to provide a small fund, through addresses given to country congregations. From this fund I have been able to help scores of men forward to situations where they had not enough money to pay their own way. In only a few cases have the men so helped failed to return the advance. Several have returned more than the amount loaned, so that my fund remains about the same.

From time to time I have had occasions to visit places in the country to look after girls who have been unfortunate, or young men who had received unfair treatment at the hands of their employers, or who have got into trouble of some kind. These are often sad experiences and yet nearly every trip is brightened for me by some one accosting me, who recognized me as the agent of the Church who have befriended them and helped them on their way when they were strangers in the country. On one occasion I had to make a trip to Moose Jaw and though my stay in that city was less than 24 hours, more than a dozen persons stopped me on the street to tell me how they were getting on and thank me for kindness done them when they first came.

So though the task is endless, the opportunity is great. Daily your chaplain at the Winnipeg Hall is able to serve you in ministering to the strangers and wayfarers, welcoming them to the life of the Dominion and assuring them of the active sympathy and interest of the Canadian Church.

REPORT OF THE HOME MISSION COMMITTEE, EASTERN SECTION, 1912-13.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The Board in charge of the task of managing the Home Missionary operations in the Eastern Section of the Church, would submit its report as follows:

It is thankful to be able to state that generally the work has been one of moderate progress.

The number of fields occupied by catechists during the summer was upwards of seventy. The amount received for Home Missions, East and West, was $15,822.70. Besides this there has been provided for Bursaries $4,090.84, a large proportion of it in the form of special Bursaries raised by individual Congregations, Sabbath Schools and individuals, and for maintaining their interest in this good work they should be heartily commended. The number of agents who have been employed has been about the same as last year. In addition to the 70 catechists there were at work some seven ordained missionaries, and almost an equal number of Chaplains, either of hospitals or to the immigrants.

The following extracts from the reports of catechists will give some idea of the nature of the fields and of the sort of work which is being done therein.

Pictou Island.—The people of this small island have done well during the past few years. A new and comfortable church has been erected. This summer they contributed about $150.00 for heating the church and fencing it properly. They hope to have a furnace in it in a few days. More money was raised to pay for the services of a student than for any previous year. In a few years this field should be able to pay the summer's salary in full. D. A. McMillan.

Baxter's Harbour.—The work at Baxter's Harbour is quite encouraging. The people attend services well, and though the past summer has been the poorest in the history of the place for fishermen it will be seen that the contributions are the largest yet received. The work at North Mountain has been more discouraging. C. F. McLennan.

Riley Brook.—Riley Brook is a progressive field. Dow Flat is not so good. A new church is in building in the latter place, but on account of bad weather, during the summer little was done to it. Besides the amount of $201.95 raised as given above we spent $65.00 on painting the church at Riley Brook, and $25.00 for a new wagon. In addition to this they raised the insurance from $400.00 to $1,000.00. This field deserves great encouragement for the work it has done during the summer. Wm. S. Irvine.

Wood Islands, P. E. Island.—The work in this congregation was very encouraging. The Sunday Schools were well attended and the people enthusiastic over the work of the Church. Neil Rattee.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF HOME MISSIONS IN THE SYNOD OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES.

Home Mission operations in our Synod during the year were highly satisfactory in some respects and in others of a more or less discouraging character. The reports from all the labourers bear testimony to faithful service attended with tokens of the Divine favour and blessing. Contributions to maintain ordinances exceeded the average, and a large majority of the fields have had accessions to the Communion roll. Upon the other hand the supply of labourers did not meet the demand. The number of vacant congregations in the Synod is unusually large and students were employed in lieu of settled ministers, and mission fields have been vacant throughout the year, creating a situation which is painful and distressing to contemplate. The number of vacancies did not exceed four or five, but this has not occurred for many years and reveals the actual conditions which exist.

At the beginning of the summer term there was a shortage of student catechists to the number of eighteen, but by persistent and strenuous effort in every possible direction, the gap was narrowed to five. The present situation may warrant a little greater degree of confidence that the difficulty can be overcome. The number of vacant congregations is increasing, but in the near future there will be an increase in the number of students.

Our work among the foreign population is hampered for the same reason, viz., dearth of labourers. There has been a large influx of foreigners at different points in the Maritime Provinces, in recent years, particularly at Sydney and adjacent mining towns, and also at Inverness, Stellarton and Joggins. In New Brunswick at one point where a large canning factory is established young girls are employed in large numbers, and the barrack system of boarding has been introduced. Many of these girls have come from Europe, unattended by parents or any responsible parties who would take a personal interest in their welfare. While the reports in the public press may have been exaggerated, nevertheless there were pitiful cases of suffering and open and shocking scenes of immorality. Our own Church authorities, Social Service and Home Missions, in conjunction with the Norwegian Consul, did what was possible to alleviate conditions and meet the emergency in the meantime. If the system introduced by the company is continued it will be our Christian duty in the interests of humanity, morality and religion to adopt organized efforts to cope with the conditions which will be provoked.

The stream of immigration to Canada is still flowing with increasing volume, consequently our Chaplains at Halifax and St. John have had a season of strenuous effort. A deaconess at the Port of St. John assists Dr. Patterson, and much good service has been rendered young women who have come, unattended, to Canada. Our Chaplain at the Port of Glasgow, Mr. Boyd, is now in a position to speak with authority as to the whole Dominion, and the Presbyterian Church in Canada both East and West, as he has taken time and trouble to familiarize himself with the immigration operations of both sections, and has become thoroughly acquainted with all the organizations interested in protecting immigrants from the hidden dangers by which they are beset, simply vigilance is furnished from day to day, and it is a reflection upon the honour and chivalry and good name of this great Christian Dominion that there should be a canvass in Continental Europe that no young woman is safe in Canada, but it is a source of unbounded satisfaction that all Christian Churches and organizations are joining hands in a united effort to bring about such a condition that it can be said that every young woman who comes to Canada can be safe if she desires to be. Much remains to be done in all our cities to fully meet the rapidly increasing requirements of certain classes of people who come to us, especially young women seeking employment, and who are constantly moving from one city to another.

The census does not give any encouraging statement as to increase of population in the Maritime Provinces. Prince Edward Island shows a decrease and New Brunswick shows a small increase, but decrease in Presbyterian population on the face of the fact that the number of our people is practically at a standstill, and has been for many years, all the funds of the Synod are in a healthy condition, which attests to the loyalty and generosity of our people, and the high order of the faithful service rendered by our ministers.

Our mission to the lumber camps calls for the service of three or four missionaries. Few labourers can be found to undertake this class of work, and the philosophy is not on the surface. There is opportunity for some system of co-operation among the different Christian organizations, especially in regard to territory. There should be no great difficulty in grouping the lumber sections of the several Provinces and assigning a section to each Church to assume its individual responsibility. It is a matter of regret that this work is not undertaken systematically and continuously, for large numbers of our young men find employment in the lumber camps in the late autumn and winter months, and have almost no opportunity for Gospel services.

During the year there has been some activity in church building. Gladwin and Blissfield have completed new churches. At Miscou Point and Courtney Bay churches are in course of construction, and Lower Gagetown is considering a proposition for building. An institutional church will be erected in Sydney for the benefit of the large foreign population. The building of churches at East St. John and Sydney, reveals the fact that the complexion of Home Mission work in the Synod is changing at the centres of population. It has already been stated that there has been no substantial increase of population in the Maritime Provinces for a long period of years. At the same time changes are taking place slowly, yet steadily. In New Brunswick the counties adjacent to the Province of Quebec are being filled in almost entirely with French. On the North Shore the young men and women, who are Presbyterian, are removing to the Western Provinces and whatever population takes their place is French. Our congregations are scarcely holding their own, while the situation may not be viewed with alarm or dismay, yet it is attended with a feeling which is neither buoyant nor optimistic. In Cape Breton and in other sections of the Provinces the increase in population is foreign. The local governments are entering upon an active propaganda to induce settlers to make their home in the Provinces, and the number of immigrants is steadily increasing from year to year. The prospective developments at Halifax and St. John have given a more bracing tone to the atmosphere in commercial and manufacturing circles. If our population will increase, what will be the character and fibre of it? Will it be Protestant or Catholic, English or foreign speaking? If foreign, a new problem confronts us in Home Missions. A class of laborers who can minister to the new comer in his own language is needed, and in this we are ill prepared. Some solution of the problem must be attempted. As to methods employed to bring the Gospel to non-English speaking people who have come to us, and will continue to come, are in the experimental stage, and it is too early to pronounce judgment.

In viewing our Home Mission work as a whole and from every standpoint, the one element which will dominate the situation, in our own land, and strengthen and extend our operations abroad, is a sufficient, adequate supply of labourers to undertake every class of service and leave no post silent and empty. The need of the hour is men, and it is manifest that the Church will fail to fill her posts unless persistent and continuous effort is put forth to lead, inspire and impel our youth to choose the grandest service which it is possible to render the world. In this young and growing Dominion, every trade, occupation and profession are voicing their interests, issuing their appeals. There is a glow and charm which captivate and intoxicate the noblest young men of the present generation. Shall the Church lag in the rear? Let her voice ring out, loudly, clearly, in certain, positive, emphatic tone. Let ministers, office bearers, Sabbath School teachers and Superintendents, and Christian parents join in the crusade and lift up prayerful hearts to the Great Lord of the harvest that He shall touch the lives of our young men so that they will yield glad, willing obedience to the Great Captain's word of command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature."

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES ROSS.

FINANCES.

The receipts for the Home Mission Fund, East and West, during the past year apart from the $169.09 for repayments, and the $700.59 credit balance at the beginning of the year, were $21,550.28, of which from congregations there came $15,325.43; from donations, $975.29; from interest, $2,766.62; from Y.P.S.C.E., $296; from W. F. and H. M. S., $2,016.94; from bequest, $100.00; from collections per Mr. J. Ross, $70.00; a total of $21,550.28, of which there was remitted to Dr. Somerville for North-West, $5,896.67. Office expenses for the East, $375.72; balance $15,277.89.

The amount required to cover the expenditure in the East was $655.17 more than the above-mentioned receipts, the payment of which exhausted the credit balance of March 1st, 1912, of $700.59, with the exception of the $45.42 which is the credit balance for the current year.

The following comparative statement shows the amounts and sources of your Board's receipts for three successive years as well as of the way in which the monies entrusted to them have been expended.

REPORT OF POINTE-AUX-TREMBLES SCHOOLS, 1912-13.

The schools are situated on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River, nine miles east of Montreal. They were founded in 1846 by the French-Canadian Missionary Society, and were purchased by the General Assembly of our Church in 1880, and since enlarged. There is accommodation for 190 boys and 80 girls. Upwards of 6,000 French-Canadians have been educated here. Many of these now occupy positions of trust and influence as ministers, teachers, physicians, lawyers, farmers, mechanics, etc. Pupils are admitted between the ages of eleven and twenty-five, the average age last year being about fifteen. A preference is given to the sons and daughters of French Roman Catholic parents, and to the children of recent converts from Rome, living in parishes where there are no Protestant schools. The session begins in October each year and continues for seven months. The pupils reside in the buildings and thus enjoy the advantages of a Christian home, under the supervision of earnest, devoted Christian teachers. They all take their share of housework. The day's duties are thus laid out: Rise at 6 a.m.; all are in the class room studying privately from six to seven; house and out-door work begin from 7.30 to 8.30; family worship, when all assemble together, boys and girls. School begins at nine, the first hour being given to Bible study, and continues till twelve. Then dinner, followed by recreation to 1.30. Classes resume till four; recreation from four to five; classes from five to six; tea at six; recreation at seven; family worship; studying privately in the class room till nine, and all in bed and lights out at 9.30 p.m. Eleven teachers reside in the building.

Special prominence is given to the religious instruction of the pupils, and to the teaching of God's word on the points of difference between Protestants and Roman Catholics. It is no exaggeration to state that comparatively few, if any, of our English-speaking young men and women, are better acquainted with their Bibles, or are better able to give a reason for the hope that is in them, than are the pupils of Pointe-aux-Trembles Mission Schools.

Great care is exercised in the selection of pupils from the increasingly large number of French-Canadians applying for admission. The schools are visited and examined monthly by a Committee of the Board. Every week and at the end of the session, written examinations are held in all the subjects taught. The work of the past session on the part of both pupils and teachers was very satisfactory.

When the Board acquired the property in 1880, it was resolved to admit no pupils gratutitously, except Roman Catholics, whose parents were unable or unwilling to contribute; all others are required to pay something, in proportion to their ability, towards board and tuition. The amount received in this way during the past session was $5,186.58. A considerable portion of this amount was money earned by the pupils themselves during the preceding summer. After deducting these fees, the average cost to the Church of each pupil is upwards of $50 per session. The Board desires that the institution should be supported by means of scholarships of $50 each, guaranteed by private individuals, Sabbath Schools and Young People's Associations. A particular pupil is assigned to the donor of a scholarship, to whom reports to the progress made are forwarded from time to time. In this way a Sabbath School contributing a scholarship is put directly in correspondence with the Mission Schools, and the letters, if read publicly to the Sabbath School, tend to keep up interest in the work. It is hoped, therefore, that many more Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies will assume the support of pupils. From those unable to do so a contribution is earnestly asked. The Board has no hesitation in warmly commending the schools as worthy of public confidence, assured that no means are likely, by the blessing of God, to be more efficacious in the work of French-Canadian evangelization, and in advancing the cause of Christ in the Province of Quebec.

The teaching staff is composed of trained and experienced teachers, whose Christian character and missionary zeal give them special fitness for the work.

Chisholm, B.A.; Miss Eva Cadow, M.A.; Mr. René Raguin; Miss Florence Wilson, Miss Alice Brownrigg; Miss Pearl Scott, Music Teacher; Mr. Camille Chazeaud; Mr. Alphonse Rey; Mr. Ernest Tremblay; Mrs. Beatrice Raguin; Mrs. E. H. Brandt, Matron; Miss Laura Frutier, Nurse.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL.

A few weeks more and the 67th Session of the Pointe-aux-Trembles Mission School will be over. We have received 355 applications. 296 have been registered, but we had an average attendance of about 260, of whom 90 were girls and 170 boys. Over one hundred come from Roman Catholic homes. The others are children of Converts with the exception of eight who are of English origin and Protestants.

These pupils have come from all directions of the country. About 65 come from Canadian cities and the others from the rural districts. In looking over our list we find that 41 counties of the Province of Quebec are represented in our Institution. In a few days it means that these districts will be visited by our scholars and that the glorious tidings of the Gospel will be brought there.

In our own estimation this has not been the least of our Sessions. We feel that our work has not been in vain and that the Lord has abundantly blessed us. We had our difficulties which were numerous. How could it be otherwise when you have under the same roof such a family, boys and girls of different ages, from 10 to 28 years of age, of different belief and of different education. They come to us with their own ideas, their superstitions, their prejudices, and their ignorance. With us they have to learn nearly everything, the elements of hygiene, of housekeeping and social life. Besides that, the great work is to lead this army of young people to the summits of intellectual and spiritual life. What a task to reach that end when you think you will encounter difficulties not only from inside but from outside, from the priests, who, like jealous shepherds, are watching very carefully every one who may come under our care. Many times we could have been discouraged in seeing the falsehood and the wrong influence of Rome. Pointe-aux-Trembles is the House of Truth in the Province of Quebec, and we know that her duty is to shelter those who have been victims of that terrible system. In the midst of tears and hardships we have said, "Cast thy bread upon the waters for thou shalt find it after many days." Our bread, we have found it. The Lord has given us the joy of seeing some fruits of our work. During this scholastic year 38 scholars sat at the Lord's Table for the first time; twenty-four of them had been baptized by the priest of Rome, and they confessed in our Chapel their only Saviour, Jesus Christ.

Last fall one could have seen over one hundred scholars without a Bible, without a hymn book, and not able to repeat one single verse of the Bible. To-day after seven months the most staunch Roman Catholic has greatly changed his mind. The religion of Christ is understood, not as a mystery hidden in the ceremonies of the altar, but as the power of God to save those who believe.

About 30 who came last Fall, not knowing their A. B. C.'s, can now read and write in French and English.

The highest classes have made similar progress and next June five pupils will write for the matriculation examinations, and six for the preliminary. Eight are ready to teach our small Mission Schools in the country, and two have asked for Colportage work among their fellow countrymen. Among the graduates of the past years we have five in the Presbyterian College, Montreal; three at McGill University; eight at Laval University; four at McDonald College; two at Queen's University; three studying to become trained nurses, and four in the Business College. The others have gone back to the farm, some others are in the shop, and wherever they are to be found there you will find friends of the Bible and witnesses of the Truth.

Last year we pleaded for an infirmary and a gymnasium. We have the former with a nurse, but the gymnasium is still to come. Our pupils and teachers are so anxious to see this additional building on our grounds that they have pledged themselves to find for next summer the sum of $1,400. Who will come to our rescue and help those who want to help themselves? Who will give us the five or six thousand dollars needed for this purpose?

I am glad to report also good things from all departments of our Institution. Three boys have taken charge of the printing department and have issued each month "La Feuille de Tremble," the little paper which brings news of the School to the friends and old pupils. The musical band has done wonderfully well in spite of the shortness of the session and its members who take the instrument without any knowledge of music. Lately a concert was given in Montreal and we were not afraid to exhibit our band before the public of a city. The Manual Training, the Housework, the Literary and Temperance Societies, as well as the Athletic Clubs have been means for uplifting our young people and bringing to them new ideals. The Christian Endeavour Society has been prospered. It is always edifying to hear the addresses of pupils to their schoolmates and the earnest prayers offered to Heaven. The Roman Catholic pupils themselves take advantage of the spirit of the school and preside at meetings, showing that at Pointe-aux-Trembles pupils are not to be Protestants or Roman Catholics, but Christian brothers. We are sorry to hear that we close our financial year with a deficit of $1,200. May the Lord send friends to our rescue.

The pleasant duty of expressing my sincere thanks to the many friends of Pointe-aux-Trembles now remains to me. Your prayers, your sympathy as well as your devotion has been a great help to us. My thanks also are going to the members of the Board who have helped me very much to carry on my work in giving me more help and taking an active part in the responsibilities.

Continue dear friends your great work of enlightenment and emancipation. Quebec is one of the pearls of Federation, not having the brightness it ought to have. Give a little more Gospel, a little more light and it will shine for Christ. Remember the thousands of young French-Canadians who want to come to the School. Remember that Pointe-aux-Trembles can do for Canada and Christ more than any speech in the House of Parliament, for it is the place where the character is formed and where body, mind and soul can be won for good.

REPORT OF THE AUGMENTATION COMMITTEE, (EASTERN SECTION).

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Your Committee, entrusted with the administration of the Augmentation Fund (Eastern Division), respectfully submit the following report.

Our revenue for the past year totalled $13,064.34, of which $2,585.87 was carried over from the preceding year, and our disbursements totalled $12,532.38, which leaves a balance in our treasury to-day of $531.96.

In addition to the grants made in April, 1912, your Committee made additional grants during the year ending Feb. 28, 1913, eight of which were new grants, and the rest supplementary, due almost entirely to the raising of the minimum stipend to $900, and a manse. They are as follows, and the Assembly is asked to approve of them: Leitch's Creek, $25; St. Peter's, $100; Baddeck Forks, $25; Lake Ainslie, $50; Mabou, $150; Sunny Brae, $75; West Branch, River John, $100; Linden and Northport, $50; Earltown, $50; Bedford, $110; Middleton, $50; Waterville, $250; Upper Musquodoboit, $150; Lawrencetown, $300; Hamilton, Bermuda, $250; Sheet Harbour, $300; Quoddy and Moser River, $300; Clyde and Barrington, $50; Dublin and Conquerall, $50; Shelburne, $300; Mahone, $100; Nashwaak and Stanley, $50; Hampton, $137; St. Matthews, St. John, $25; Lorneville, $50; St. George's, $50; Kincardine, $50; Prince William, $100; Fairville, $100; Glassville, $150; Greenfield, $50; Milltown, $50; Norton, $50; Bass River, N. B., $50; Escuminac, $50; Harcourt, $50; Matapedia, $300; Dundas, $100; Murray Harbour, North, $100; Marshfield, $100; West River, $50; Wood Islands, $250.

Of th above the following were to be paid pro rata from the date of the settlement of the minister, viz.: Sheet Harbour, from May 10th; Lawrencetown, from May 28th; Sunny Brae, from Sept. 10th; Matapedia, from Nov. 14th; Glassville, from Nov. 28th; Wood Islands, from Dec. 24th, and the following were to be paid pro rata beginning March 1st, and terminating, Norton, July 21st; Milltown, Aug. 23rd, and Hampton, Sept. 9th, when these became vacant.

In all 54 congregations were granted aid during the past year, and of these twenty-seven, or 50 per cent., were granted the maximum, namely $300 per annum.

If all these congregations had been settled throughout the year the aid rendered would have amounted to $13,454, but owing to various vacancies during parts of the year, the amount actually paid out was $11,918.98, or $1,535.02 less. This is a saving to the fund, but at the cost of these congregations being pastorless to that extent.

On a brief comparison a situation is revealed that is not at the present time encouraging. The grants promised to congregations totalled in 1909, $10,595.00; in 1910, $10,870.00; in 1911, $11,640.00, and in 1912, $13,454.00; and the actual amounts of these grants paid were in 1909, $10,349.81; in 1910, $10,595.82; in 1911, $9,279.71, and in 1912, $11,918.98.

The progressive increase of the demands upon this fund from year to year is from the above figures very evident, especially at the present time, owing to the increase in the minimum stipend. In fact the demands to-day are nearly $3,000.00 greater than they were four years ago.

On the other hand we set against this a statement relative to our revenue which comes from interest and congregational contributions, the latter being our almost sole dependance. The amount received from Congregations in 1909 was $9,952.18; in 1910, $9,903.20; in 1911, $9,941.01, and in 1912, $9,858.25, which shows a decrease in this particular. The fact is, that, while demands upon the fund to-day are nearly $3,000.00 greater than four years ago, the contributions to the fund last year were $100.00 less than four years ago, and for last year the disbursements to aid receiving congregations exceeded by $2,060.73 the contributions to the fund, and hence our treasury balance is reduced by $2,053.91. Along with these two facts is the further fact that under the higher minimum stipend and the present budget system we are to-day asking the Church for $3,000.00 more per year than was asked at that time, and it is discouraging to note that the responses from the congregations of our Church for the year just closed total a sum of $4,100 less than the amount asked.

It seems evident that while some congregations are under the pro rata percentage of the budget system giving less than formerly and yet doing their part under the present system, other congregations, who should be giving more under the budget system than they formerly gave, are not to-day doing their part as the situation requires. It seems needful that congregations should not, under the present system, determine their contributions to this fund by the allocations to which they had so long been habituated. If, however, under the present system this fund should receive its due percentage or portion of the budget, its success would be assured. Hence the evident need of the present system of finance in our Church being properly adjusted so that each fund would receive its due portion of the budget.

For the current year we have already granted $10,845.00 to forty-four congregations, and now have 24 congregations vacant, which, we are informed will need, and, under the regulations of the fund, are entitled to receive aid in the event of settlement. We cannot estimate what demands these may make upon us before the year ends.

Viewing the situation in a most conservative or liberal manner as the case may be, it seems to be absolutely needful that something be done either in the way of getting larger contributions to the fund or of lessening the demands upon it to the extent of near $3,000.00 annually, and, unless relief comes in one way or another, embarrassment, if not disaster, is before us. We certainly cannot as a Church afford to recede from the $900.00 minimum in view of the situation both East and West throughout our Church.

The following grants were made at our annual meeting in April last for the year beginning March 1st, 1913, and these the Assembly is asked to confirm.

Presbytery of Sydney.—Cape North, $300; Gabarus, $300; Leitch's Creek, $300; St. Mark's, $300.

Presbytery of Inverness.—Baddock Forks, $300; Lake Ainslie, $300; Mabou, $200; Margaree, $300.

Presbytery of Pictou.—Blue Mountain, $100; McLellan's Mountain, $220; Sunny Brae, $75; West Branch, River John, $150.

Presbytery of Wallace.—Earltown, $250; New Annan, $300; Northport and Linden, $300.

Presbytery of Halifax.—Annapolis, $300; Bethany, $300; Bridgetown, $300; Lawrencetown, $300; Quoddy, $300; Sheet Harbour, $300; Upper Musquodoboit, $150; Waterville, $250; St. Croix, $225; Hamilton, Bermuda, $300.

Presbytery of Lunenburg and Yarmouth.—Clyde, etc., $300; New Dublin, etc., $300; Shelburne, $250.

Presbytery of St. John.—Glassville, $150; Greenfield, $300; Fairville, $300; Kincardine, $275; Lorneville, $250; Nashwaak, $250; St. George, $200; St. Matthews, St. John, $200.

Presbytery of Miramichi.—Escuminac, $300; Harcourt, $300; New Carlysle, $100; Matapedia, $250.

Presbytery of Prince Edward Island.—Dundas, $100; Murray Harbour, North, $100; West River and Hospital, $300; Wood Islands, $200.

The congregations herein granted aid report 3,083 families under oversight, 2,802 families contributing, and 4,929 communicants. They promise $28,306.00 to stipend, an average of (allowing $50.00 for each of the forty manses provided), $10.81 per family contributing, and $6.14 per communicant. They gave $1,030.00 to augmentation and $4,855.00 to the other schemes, a total of $5,885.00 to schemes, an average of $2.10 per family contributing, and $1.19 per communicant. The amount given to the schemes is equal to 54 1-4 per cent. of the total amount granted to them. The total increase of stipend is $1,000.00 from seventeen congregations.

The following became self-sustaining at $900.00 at the end of the year: Little Bras d'Or and Mahone Bay.

The attention of the Assembly is called to the grant to Hamilton, Bermuda, made in response to convincing representations from the Presbytery of Halifax, and your Committee now wishes the Assembly to confirm the same.

Your Committee approves of, and asks the Assembly to adopt, the recommendation from the Presbytery of St. John that assistance from this fund be given to ministers from abroad who accept calls from augmented or weak congregations by paying, on the recommendation of the Presbytery within whose bounds the congregation is located, a reasonable portion of their expense in moving, the same assistance not to exceed in any one case the sum of $250.00, and to be retroactive as far back as June 1st, 1912. The Convener was by the Committee instructed to make a statement to the Church showing the inadequacy of our present revenue and asking all congregations in the Synod to contribute to this fund its due percentage portion of the budget.

W. H. SPENCER,
Convener.

Secretary.

REPORT OF THE FOREIGN MISSION COMMITTEE, EASTERN SECTION, 1912-13.

With reference to the New Hebrides, the Foreign Mission Board has to report that the policy with respect to the work there, long ago submitted to and approved by the Assembly, is being carried out. It will be remembered that just twenty years ago this matter came before the Assembly, and that one year later, it approved of the transfer and authorized its Committee to correspond with their missionaries in the New Hebrides, and with the Churches of Australasia, with a view to the transference to these Churches of the New Hebrides Mission. Such correspondence was conducted, and intimation was given that the Canadian Church was desirous of withdrawing from that Mission as its present missionaries withdrew or passed away. At the end of the past year Dr. J. W. McKenzie resigned because of somewhat delicate health and removed to Australia, intending to make his home there. About the same time, Dr. Annand also left the Mission to come home, requesting that his resignation should take effect at the end of his furlough on 30th June next, which request the Board has complied with. So far the Board has had no definite word with reference to the provision made for the supply of their fields beyond the facts that Mr. Bowie has been appointed to succeed Dr. Annand as Principal of the Training Institute on Tangoa, and that the New Hebrides Synod has resolved to place Dr. J. W. McKenzie's work in charge of the missionary on Iririki until next Synod, and asks Mr. Milne to give whatever assistance he can.

During the early part of the year Dr. Robertson met with an unfortunate and painful accident, as a result of which he was for several months confined to his bed with a broken leg. However, he has made a good recovery and his many friends rejoice in his restoration.

The year in Trinidad has been a very trying one. Dr. Morton, after the celebration of his jubilee as an ordained minister, fell asleep on August 4th, without the knowledge that his chief native assistant, Rev. A. Guyadeen, had only a few days previously preceded him into the immediate presence oftheir Master. Rev. W. G. Firth, after being sent out to take charge of Susamachar Church, was constrained, under medical advice, to return to New York for surgical treatment. This treatment was successful, but it was followed by such other illnesses as have led to his resignation and retirement from the Mission, all which the Board very deeply regrets.

After the death of Dr. Morton the Board felt that this was a suitable time for making some changes, and, after due deliberation, sanctioned a policy which it thought would promote the more rapid evangelization of the East Indians on the Island, enabling it to utilize more fully the men who have been in training for some years for the ministry, and making the native Church stronger and more independent. After the middle of the past year it sanctioned the transfer of Mr. J. A. Scringeour from Trinidad to British Guiana and sent out Mr. H. F. Kemp to take Mr. Scringeour's place as the Head Master of Naparima College, which is doing a splendid work in San Fernando.

Principal Coffin, who has been at the head of the work of the Presbyterian College, is at present away from the Island on furlough, and the Board has recently been much rejoiced to learn that two young men, Messrs. C. W. Cumming and C. T. Baillie, both of whom have been giving themselves to special study to qualify for some such work, will be available for aiding Dr. Coffin in his great work of training men for the ministry for both Trinidad and British Guiana. The rest of the missionaries in Trinidad and British Guiana, have been carrying on their work along customary lines, as is clearly shown by the reports which are printed in the Appendix to which readers are respectfully referred. It is not necessary to enlarge upon these matters beyond calling the attention of the Assembly to the fact that the Mission Councils of Trinidad and British Guiana, have been happily united and are strengthening each other in carrying on the work in both fields.

Your Board has been much disappointed in not being able to send out more missionaries to Korea, as so earnestly requested by the Mission Council, and so strongly desired by its own members. The result has been sorrow and disappointment to all, especially to the hard wrought missionaries. The work has gone on, indeed, but not at all so extensively as it would have done if their numbers had been increased. increased.

The following comparative statement indicates the sources of our revenue, the relative amounts from these sources and the way the money has been expended:

PERSONAL REPORTS.

NEW HEBRIDES.

THE EIGHTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRAINING INSTITUTION.

During the past year we have been to a large degree dependent upon the assistance of our fellow-missionaries. For the first two months after last Synod meeting Mr. and Miss Jaffray rendered efficient aid. Then for nine weeks Mr. and Mrs. Weir expended their energies upon the students and their wives. Through the month of November, Mr. Paterson and Miss Hogg gave us valuable assistance. In December we had no outside help. On the 30th December, Mr. and Mrs. Thomson left us after three months' notice, and went to Australia. Mr. and Mrs. aPterson gave several weeks' assistance; also Dr. and Mrs. Taylor. Needless to say these and other helpers were much appreciated.

The number of students in attendance this year has exceeded that of any previous year. Twice during the year we reached the record number of 96 men and 23 women. For the last five years the increase has been marked, and continuous. Taking the average number for each year we find it to be as follows: In 1908, 39 men and 14 women; in 1909, 53 men and 12 women; in 1910, 78 men and 19 women; in 1911, 80 men and 18 women. This year the average has been 90 men and 22 women.

We began the year with 88 men, 16 women, and 17 children, and we closed it with 90 men, 22 women, and 24 children. Twenty men came in and eighteen went out; while 9 women came and 2 left. Of the 18 who went out 10 graduated (2 first-class, 4 second-class, and 4 third-class). Of the 8 others, 2 died, 2 were dismissed, 3 went home ill, and 1 became homesick.

The industrial part of the work has been carried on much as in former years. Carpentry classes were conducted while Mr. Thomson was with us.

I would here call attention to the fact that our credit balance is rapidly decreasing, and some of the churches having students here, are contributing nothing towards the support of the Institution.

The importance of the Institution as a substantial part of the Mission plant must, we think, be acknowledged by all. It is destined to grow in usefulness as the years go by, and more and more to meet the needs of the group. Under new management we trust that it may more perfectly accomplish the work expected of it.

Several cases of Mission goods were received from Victoria, New Zealand, and Nova Scotia. Their contents greatly aided in making "Christmas time" pass pleasantly.

J. ANNAND.

Tangoa, 11th June, 1912.

TO THE FOREIGN MISSION BOARD OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF CANADA, EASTERN DIVISION.

In last year's report I mentioned that on account of my health I would like to retire from the Mission about the end of this year. As you are not likely to send a successor, the Foreign Mission Committee of the Presbyterian Church of Victoria should be asked to send a clerical missionary, to have charge of the work on Efate, both stations, and of the work amongst Kanakas (the natives from other islands employed by the planters and others). Although there is much to depress and sadden, seeing the many temptations to which our people are exposed, yet there is, on the other hand much to gladden and gratify. The Christianity of many may be superficial, and they may readily fall before temptation, but, on the other hand, we have many men and women who all these years, ever since they joined us, have stood firm and have been living exemplary lives. Many, too, have crossed to the other side, of the sincerity of whose faith and love I have not the shadow of a doubt. Yesterday we had the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and as I looked at their upturned faces, sad with the thought that it is the last Communion we shall celebrate together, it was with difficulty I restrained my feelings. Memories of the past stirred my heart. Here before me commemorating the dying love of our Saviour were those I had once seen at a far different feast, at heathen orgies, naked, painted and feathered, brandishing their clubs and spears, and with wild shouts rending the air. Then they were dark-hearted, fierce cannibals. But now how changed. They are neatly dressed, and their fiendish expression is gone. Here and there through the assemblage were those who, when they had found the Saviour themselves, accompanied me to heathen villages, and stood bravely by me when a spear was poised to be hurled at us, or a tomahawk raised to strike us down.

As you can imagine, it will be a great wrench to our feelings to leave our people to whom we are so deeply attached. They, too, will feel the parting. An old man came to me the other day with a message from his village, asking if we would not remain with them. Another day an old woman, who, along with her husband came to live with us shortly after we settled and remained over twenty years, came to me, tears in her eyes and her voice trembling, and said, "Misi, you are going to leave us, what shall we do?" About a year ago her husband was taken to the Home above. All these years I never had to rebuke him for any misconduct. He was a power for good in his village, and both were kind to the poor and to strangers. Poor old Tamanga's steps are now tottering and she leans upon a staff, but she walked over a mile to be present at the Communion, bringing, as usual, her contribution in her hand.

J. W. MACKENZIE.

Efate, New Hebrides, 7th August, 1912.

FORTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF H. A. ROBERTSON.

Now that my esteemed, able and devoted co-workers, Drs. Mackenzie and Annand, have left this field of labour and practically have resigned, I am the only Canadian in this Mission, the last of an unbroken line of representatives of our Church, from the year 1848, when the real apostle of the New Hebrides, John Geddies, founded the Mission, to the present, a period of 65 years. Now that Dr. Morton has passed away, I am the senior Foreign Missionary of our Canadian Church (of all her fields of Foreign Mission work), and in November, of this year, if I live till then, I shall have been 50 years from home. Just fancy, half a century! I left Halifax on the 7th Nov., 1863, in the "Dayspring" (the first Presbyterian Mission ship that ever left British North America), when Revs. Morrison, McCullough, and Gordon sailed away as missionaries to these far off isles. Young Gordon, only eight years after, fell a Christian martyr on this very island, where I now sit and write in the most perfect safety, I am surrounded by respectful and quiet natives who daily come to their missionary for counsel, advice and instruction, and who seem to have implicit confidence and trust in his judgment and wisdom. In all their sorrows and trouble they come to us. What a change, not only on this island, but throughout the whole group since Mackenzie, Annand and I came here over 40 years ago. What hath God wrought! To His name be al the praise.

In the distinctive Mission work this has been a good year on this island. Our people have been quiet and helpful, and have done better than usual in gathering and preparing their contribution of arrowroot, having made 1,600 lbs., which I have sent to Glasgow, Scotland, and to Sydney, New South Wales, to be disposed of.

If we succeed this year in getting our people to gather and prepare a contribution of arrowroot I wil then be encouraged in preparing some portion of the O. T., probably the Psalms, which, I am perfectly sure, the noble British and Foreign Bible Society will willing print and bind for us. The translation of the Book of Psalms will mean a great effort, but it will be a great boon for the Erromangans, and in all probability my last work for this Mission.

Fortunately, last year (1912) I had thoroughly completed my visitation work before my serious and unfortunate accident, for since that untoward event (to me, at least), it would have been utterly impossible for me even to attempt that labourous work which I always have done on foot.

All the Mission buildings, etc., at Dillon's Bay are in excellent repair, and as we are now going to our East Station for two months, I hope to put in good repair the Mission cottage there and also help the people to frame and erect their small new church. We will dispense the Lord's Supper at that station, Potnarevin, before we return to Dillon's Bay in April.

I have the pleasure of reporting to your Committee that the surveyors, sent by the Foreign Mission Committee of Victoria, through Burns, Philip & Co., arrived here middle of December and have completed the survey of all the Mission lands at Dillon's Bay, 3,300 acres, also a small piece of Mission land at Bunkil Bay, about 10 miles south of Dillon's Bay. They are now going round with us to Potnarevin to survey the Mission land there—about 30 acres.

We have been kept busy since the surveyors came two months ago, for while I cannot accompany them over the hills and through the bush and tangle, I help by giving necessary information re boundaries, procuring guides and talking to natives who are unused to seeing land surveyors and who imagine all sorts of evils, thinking the Government and traders are going to take all their land from them. How foolish and narrow and dense I find them in many respects! Why, but for the Mission they would not to-day have a single foot of and in all this fair and beautiful Dilon's Bay in which to make their plantations, for in 1865 the Mission purchased practically this whole valley from the Sandalwood Company for a native reserve, and, of course, for the Mission as well.

Verily I have had a hard time of it all these years with the Erromanans, both heathen Christian, in their land disputes among themselves, and between them and the Mission! It is now pretty clear to them, however, that they cannot grab honest money for the sale or transfer of their land, and have the land also. I will be glad when the Land Court at Fila finally settles all the land disputes and land claims in the New Hebrides. The court sits in May—i.e., begins then. But no power can take Dillon's Bay land from our Presbyterian Mission; we bought it 48 years ago and have occupied it right on ever since, and paid £150 sterling for it. But our claim will never be disputed, I believe. In due time, doubtless, the Foreign Mission Committee of Victoria will forward to your Committee copies of all plans, etc., of the survey of the Mission lands in this island and other islands where our Church has had missionaries. I have already see the surveyors' plan of the Dillon's bay land.

How I shall miss Mackenzie and Annand!

We are fortunate in our whole staff of missionaries in the New Hebrides. I am intimate with them all, but I knew Mackenzie and Annand when we were young men together at college. Since then for over forty years we have been warm friends and never has there been the slightest shadow of misunderstanding between us, although, in some ways, there are not two of us alike.

Now that my wings are clipped by my severe accident, I feel my loneliness more keenly, being the only Canadian missionary in the field.

May I say here that the Canadians have left their mark in the New Hebrides. This is well known and acknowledged.

We have 18 teachers at work on the island, and there are about 300 church members, but, alas, only a population of 800, and still they are dying off. When we settled here 41 years ago there were 3,000 Erromangans on the island. What a death rate since then! And this island is no exception, for the death rate is very high all through the group and whatever is to be done for these races must be done at once.

TRINIDAD.

GENERAL REPORT.

Early in the year we had the unprecedented pleasure of a visit from the Convener of the Foreign Mission Committee, E. D., Rev. D. MacOdrum.

During his visit the amalgamation of the Trinidad and British Guiana Councils was consummated, and a draft of regulations and basis of union agreed upon. Henceforth there will be two branches of the one general Council and one great work.

Mr. MacOdrum also attended the jubilee of Dr. Morton, which was held in Tunapuna, February 16. It was a representative gathering, comprising branches of the civil and religious bodies of the island. Many felicitous addresses were read, and well deserved words were spoken regarding the sterling character and long years of service of Dr. and Mrs. Morton.

Less than six months after the jubilee we were called upon to carry Dr. Morton to his last resting place. He passed away on August 4th, preceded just one week by his faithful native assistant, Rev. Andrew Gayadeen. Thus at one stroke of death the Mission sustained the loss of two of its oldest ministers. Dr. Morton was not only the pioneer father of the Mission, but also a wise counsellor and friend, who will long be missed.

A noticeable feature from year to year is that a large number of the baptisms are those of children.

Although the average attendance at our Sabbath schools has not materially increased, yet that department of work has made progress. A large percentage of our children were successful at the yearly examination of the International Sunday School Association, and have received their certificates. Some of the older scholars have become teachers in the Sabbath school.

The additions to Church membership, though not large, show health and activity.

The educational work of the Mission has gone forward in the usual quiet and permanent way. Attendance at our day schools, in many places, has increased, necessitating enlargement of building accommodation and additions to the teaching staff. School inspectors' reports give our schools a fair share of praise for good work done during the year, and we have reason to be grateful for the measure of efficiency shown in this splendid branch of our work.

Teacher training classes have been held, as usual, in all the fields, and the young men have given themselves with energy to their studies. Our teachers are above the average of Sunday School teachers. They are receiving a training that will fit them for leadership in the Indian Church here.

Fifty-six Catechists did efficient and faithful work in their own sphere. Those specially fitted and chosen have attended the Presbyterian College classes every third week during the year, and with varying success. In many ways the training of native preachers is the important work of any Mission. We need men well trained to meet the growing demands. Every other branch of the work is advanced by attention to the training of native preachers. The arduous work done by Dr. Coffin in this department cannot be too highly praised or too much emphasized.

In the Ière Girls' Home there was an average attendance of thirty-six girls. This work, carried on so quietly and with much personal labour by Miss Archibald, has not received either its proper share of recognition or support. The young women who are to be the wives of our Christian men and the homemakers in the Christian community, are also to be, in a special way, the leaders of the Christian women and children of the Indian Church. On such we ought to spend more effort, for to them we also have to look to lead the Hindu women out of darkness into the light of the Gospel of Christ. Well educated and trained Bible women is one of our great needs in Trinidad.

The Mission has ever kept before it the evangelization of the Hindus among whom we live, and it has sought to reach out to them in every way possible with our limited staff. We have but begun to do what was set before us as an ideal at the inception of the Mission. Then there were in Trinidad about twenty-five thousand East Indians; now there are at least one hundred and seventeen thousand, with an annual increase from India. Mohammedan and Hindu places of worship are springing up in several places on the island. Our present native staff is entirely inadequate. Almost any of the four fields could use all our present number of preachers without overcrowding. The growing Christian community requires yearly more attention. Young men, trained as teachers, are ready to give themselves to the work of preaching the Gospel and training for the native ministry. Several have offered, at considerable financial loss to themselves, to come out as Catechists if we can but give them a living wage.

This is the challenge to the Church in Canada: You are offered the opportunity of increasing by one-fourth, within two years, the entire number of future native ministers. The men can be had. We can train twice as many men as we have now on our roll. Men of ability are available, who know the Hindu mind and how to deal with it; men who can be trained here for the native ministry. We challenge you to put us to the test by providing the necessary funds.

BRITISH GUIANA.

GENERAL REPORT BY THE SECRETARY OF THE CANADIAN MISSION COUNCIL.

The most noteworthy event concerning the work of this Mission during the past year has probably been the successful issue of the negotiations for closer relations with our sister Mission Council in Trinidad. We trust that a long period of useful service is in store for this new organization, and that, at any rate, the frequent visits here of our Trinidad brethren may do something to dispel the stupid notion that still exists in certain quarters that this Colony is an unhealthy place. Both Mr. Cropper and the writer have now resided here for nearly 20 years, and we should never dream of changing it for Trinidad, or even Canada; we are glad to note that our new colleague, Mr. Scrimgeour, is rapidly growing like-minded.

Another event to be remembered long and gratefully was the visit in March here of the Convener of the F. M. Committee (E. D.)—the Rev. D. MacOdrum, B.A.

One result of the Convener's visit has been the bringing about of closer relations with some of our brethren of the Church of Scotland in this Colony. Co-operation in school work is being attempted in four of the parishes, and the last meeting of the Presbytery of the Church of Scotland in British Guiana appointed a committee to enquire what further steps are practicable. There is no over-lapping in the nature of our work and theirs, except in the line of primary education; and we should heartily welcome closer connection and co-operation.

During his short stay here the Convener interviewed some of the prominent Government officials, hoping to obtain for our day schools improved facilities. At present we labour under very serious disadvantages, the conditions and the attitude of the Government here being in marked contrast to those prevailing in Trinidad. A new Governor arrived on July 5th, 1912 (Sir Walter Egerton, K.C.M.G.), and, in reply to an address of welcome from the Teachers Association on July 24th, he said:

"Whether we ought not to have the schools teaching Hindi is a question which, I think, deserves consideration. We want to make the Colony attractive to East Indian immigrants; and, I think, to have schools where his children can be taught the three "R's"—reading, writing, and arithmetic,—in the Hindi language, will be very welcome to that part of our population. In teaching Hindi, we ought also to teach English; but certainly these vernacular schools could be carried on much more cheaply than English schools, I think."

The Immigration Agent-General, in his annual report, just issued, calls attention to the small number of East Indian children attending the Primary Schools of the Colony, in spite of the Compulsory Attendance Ordinance. Inter alia, he says:

"Working from the figures given in the census returns for 1911, there are approximately 19,000 East Indian children in the Colony between the ages of 5 and 12. Of these, according to statistics furnished me by the Inspector of Schools, only 5,113, or about 27 per cent. of the children who are of the age at which they are required by law to attend school are on the Attendance Registers."

The report quotes at length the opinion of the several District Immigration Agents on this matter, and the recent action of the Government of Jamaica, in starting Separate Schools for the children of the East Indians; and concludes its reference thus:

"As the East Indians in this Colony are so reluctant to send their children to the Government Grant-in-aid Schools, as now conducted, some similar action would appear to be necessary before a material increase can be expected in the number of children attending school. The efforts of the Canadian Presbyterian Mission to popularize their schools by teaching Hindustani as well as English, referred to in our last annual report, appear to be meeting with a fair measure of success. An attempt was made by some members of the East Indian community, during the period under review, to start a school for teaching Hindustani, but I understand it was unsuccessful, and has since been closed down."

In spite of the regulations, however, we have some progress to report this year, as three more of our schools have this year found their way into the charmed circle of "Government Grant-in-aid." These are:

Uitkomst, Upper Demerara River.

Mackay Memorial, Wakenaam.

Blenheim, Leguan.

Another Essequebo School,—Hamburg, Tiger Island,—is, we believe, in a fair way to be recognized within the next few months.

As a Council, we presented an address of welcome to the new Governor on July 30th, at Government House, Georgetown. We were received very sympathetically by His Excellency, who enquired minutely concerning our work in the Colony, and said he was glad to find that Canada was interesting herself not only in the commercial, but also in the educational and religious progress of the Colony. He promised to further our efforts in every possible way.

In evangelistic affairs we have not much progress to record. The year was a hard one, commercially, on account of the severe drought of nearly ten months' duration, and many of our members suffered severely.

New Members Admitted on Profession of Faith during the Last Seven Years.....	258
Lost by Deaths and Removals	201
Leaving a net gain of only	57

For further details of the evangelistic work of the year, reference must be made to the District Reports of the individual missionaries. On the whole, the work is steadily advancing, but it is "no picnic." 'Mid much tribulation and weariness, inadequate forces, poorly equipped for the war, they are here and there driving back "the big battalion," thanks to the superior skill of their great Captain, whose unfailing presence and almighty power are more than a match for all their enemies.

There seems to be a likelihood that our evangelistic problem is soon to be further complicated by the introduction of Tamil speaking immigrants in considerable numbers. Efforts are now being made in very influential quarters to open recruiting offices in Madras, on account of the unsatisfactory nature of the recent Calcutta immigrants. But we need not anticipate difficulties that may never come, "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

KOREA.

SUMMARY OF REPORTS OF KOREA MISSION FOR 1911-1912.

A study of statistics as presented by the Canadian Presbyterian Mission in Korea might show without words the immense task confronting its missionaries.

Christian Missions are more necessary to Korea now than at any previous time in her history, since she is no longer a small kingdom living to herself, but an integral part of the most pushing nation of the East with the prospect either of being impregnated with the heathenism and worldiness of that nation on the one hand, or, on the other hand, of being to it a "saviour of life unto life" by her knowledge of eternal things.

Probably the most noted feature of the year has been the opening of the first station under the Western Board—Hoi Ryung, on the border of North Korea and Kando. Yong Cheng, also spelled Ryong Jung, will probably be opened in the spring of 1913, and missionary residences built.

The new city church in Ham Heung, Mr. McRae's new house, Dr. Grierson's hospital and dispensary now building in Song Chin, and two missionaries' houses in Hoi Ryung, represent the extension of our Mission plant this year.

Local Station Work.

Wonsan: Reports its city church enterprises as being much under the care of the Korean co-pastor, Mr. Pak. Koreans assisted largely in Sunday School teaching, week evening Bible classes and night school. Teachers' training class was held weekly in addition to regular Sunday and Wednesday church services.

The annual general class for men and for helpers were largely attended, and did much to stimulate and promote church interests.

Song Chin: Reports a specially fine study class. The winter class, held in January, brought in a large gathering from most groups north and south. From country groups there came in 150 men, the total enrollment was 240, and the interest was great.

The Women's Station class was held in March, 75 women and girls from the country groups attending, apart from the local women.

Ham Heung City has been advanced by the building of a new church capable of seating over 300, in a populous but hitherto neglected part of the city. The older church has had its first Korean pastor this year. The annual general class for men from the whole district was held in December.

Country Work: In Wonsan Station the decision to employ Elder Cha gave the southern country disetrict its usual privilege of winter study classes—one being held in each congregation. Mr. Robb held classes in seven of the largest churches of the three counties of the northern circuit, and his helpers did similar work in most of the others. Two of these helpers are church elders who are under special support from home, and whose good work is a great assistance to the Mission. The Christians in this circuit, though very poor, contributed this year towards the salaries of three colporteurs.

Song Chin Station: Out of the 84 churches but 35 have been visited by the foreign workers for ministerial and class purposes. There have been two Korean pastors for this field of seven large counties, with a population of nearly 400,000, and they have had to substitute for the foreign pastor much of the time. They have been supported by the effort of the native church. Meanwhile the Mission Council is being asked to apply to the Home Board for a number of new Mission helpers. Statistics of the field show eleven new church buildings during the year and an addition of 264 to the catechumenate.

Ham Heung: On account of house building, Mr. McRae was not able to visit all the groups in Yong Chun District and Chang Chin County, but most of the other groups were visited, some several times. The country work has suffered for want of native workers, Elder Sok being removed by death, and Elder Kim being unable to continue his work. Five Bible Society colporteurs are employed in this district, and Mr. Young has held nine classes in the northern circuit at which 285 men studied.

Hoi Ryung: This station has corrected some inaccuracies in last year's statistics and gives a report for two years past, showing seven new groups added this year. This year one reports a membership of 71, another of 119. Immigrants from the southern part of the Mission field have swelled, etc. In the largest church, about two and a half years' old, an evangelist is now stationed who began work on January first, 1912.

Women's Work: Women workers are being developed throughout the Mission by means of classes, the distinctive feature of Korean Mission work, held at the various centres. Sunday Schools have been well attended and night schools have helped younger women who were new in the faith and who could not read.

The Bible women, supported by Bible Society funds (three in number), of course do much colportage work. The others devote themselves chiefly to visitation, stimulating weak believers, working among the heathen and teaching in country districts where the missionary can visit but seldom.

The "Martha Wilson Memorial" Bible Institute for Women has held its second session of three months in Ham Heung city, with an attendance of 34, of whom 20 were second year pupils. The dormitory in the lower part of the building accommodated half the students, the others having homes in the city. The students came from all over the field—from Wonsan in the south to Kando and Vladivostock. In addition to their class work they did much to help the city church, teaching in Sunday Schools and night schools and visiting systematically in the city, with the result that many heathen women were won to faith in Christ.

Educational: Wonsan reports a city Academy for Boys from which a class of seven—all active church members—graduated in June. The work is in charge of Mr. Robb. It is expected that Union work may be effected with the Methodist Mission that will make it more efficient and satisfactory.

A Primary Boys' School is taught in a wing of the church by two Korean teachers.

The Girls' School had its separate building and is doing commendable work under the care of a young woman graduate from Seoul. The attendance at the time of closing was 75.

Among the out-stations of Wonsan there are eight schools for boys and four for girls. The great poverty of the Koreans makes it impossible for them to maintain unaided schools of any efficiency. One church has made notable efforts and has two school with an attendance of 30 boys and 20 girls. It is of untold advantage that the children have opportunity of attending these schools where the teachers are Christian and the Bible is daily taught, rather than be under the instruction of those who are opposed to Christianity.

Song Chin reports a successful year in its Boys' Academy with a good staff of teachers, a nice building, a fine campus, and well attended classes. An extra Normal Class started last year has also been continued. As missionaries have no time for other than Bible teaching the necessary Korean staff has more than exhausted the funds granted.

The Church's local Primary School for Boys has been furnished with funds received in return for services rendered to the Kapsan Mining Company. In February that arrangement was discontinued, and the burden of the school thrown back on the weak local congregation.

The local Girls' Primary School has had a good year under the care of the two lady missionaries alternately.

The Tan Chen Schools for Boys and Girls continue to do good work, the people doing as much as they could for the financial support. The schools in the congregation of Chung Pyung, in Samsu County, have been carried on with much vigour. They even attempted an academy course, but failed through lack of funds. Many little struggling schools scattered over Song Chin territory, greatly need financial help.

The Ham Heung Boys' Academy has been busy with a short course of three months and a night school for young men in addition to its regular work, the new building affording better facilities for study. Nine young men graduated from the Academy in June who are now doing good work as teachers and helpers. Mr. Young has had the care of this school.

The Primary Boys' School has had two native teachers and has been supported entirely by the native church, though with a hard struggle. In March, 1912, nine boys passed on from this school to the Academy.

Two Girls Schools, Primary and Advanced, have been carried on in one, under the skilful guidance of a head teacher secured from Seoul last year, reputed as the best female teacher in Korea. The advanced work was opened last year as a Union School for the whole Mission and boarding pupils were sent from Wonsan and Song Chin as well as the out-stations. Fourteen were enrolled in this advanced grade and progressed well, showing much ability for study. The Primary School numbered 58, a few of whom were from the country and lived in the school dormitory. We are most grateful to the Foreign Mission Committee for the grant of money which enabled us to buy an adjacent lot with buildings much needed for the dormitory. A grant from the W. F. & H. M. Society also aided greatly in the finances for equipment in the Day School.

Hoi Ryung educational work is a problem. Schools are in demand here as everywhere, and are starting up in all directions with young men just emigrated from Seoul, Pyeng Yang and other centres ready to teach for their board only. It seems absolutely necessary that this work have special oversight lest it do more harm than good. Some places report 95 and 116 boys and girls at school. In the town of Hoi Ryung the school is small and meets in the church. The Station is asking for help for a school building here and for a teacher's salary.

Higher Theological Work: Wonsan Station this year again sent its four students to the Theological College in Pyeng Yang and the Korean pastor spent a month in post-graduate work there.

Song Chin had four students, one in fourth year, one in third, and two in first, and supplied a foreign teacher to the Seminary for a term of six weeks.

Ham Heung had also four men at the Seminary.

Hoi Ryung sent two men who are brothers.

Medical Work: This work is carried on only in Ham Heung and Song Chin. Song Chin's medical work has hitherto been only a part of Dr. Grierson's Mission appointment, and has, therefore, been much neglected by the press of other duties. This year the doctor has felt called for a number of reasons to confine himself to medicine alone, and has made new plans for the future of the work. The main facts of the past year will be found in the statistical sheet.

As the building nominally erected eleven years ago for a hospital has always been used as a missionary residence, the doctor was forced to secure a small building in the Korean town which he rented to the Mission as a dispensary. It has ever been his desire to use this central property as a church club, or embryo Y.M.C.A. Now that he will have leisure to do a more scientific work, the medical plant must be established in a proper situation, and the old building in the town will be devoted to its original purpose. And as the old so-called "hospital" must for some time still remain as Mr. Ross' residence, we have begun the erection of buildings for a new inauguration of the work.

In the spring of the present year a well-to-do Korean merchant who has received much benefit from our medical department, knowing the changed conditions confronting our work, offered, as the beginning of our new plant, a contribution in the form of his own residence for a dispensary. He was pulling it down in order to build a more modern residence and offered to erect it after demolition free of cost to us in whatever location we might determine. Later, on account of heavy money losses, he proposed, instead of cash for re-erection, to contribute another building for wards in connection with the new dispensary, we supplying funds for reconstruction. To this proposition we gladly assented and both buildings are now going up on land in which Dr. Grierson had invested some of his children's education money. Estimates for this plant are in two parts,—hospital heating and equipment $3,200, and site, re-erection of buildings, fencing and equipment $1,200, a total of only $4,400, an exceedingly modest sum compared with grants for all other medical plants in Korea.

Ham Heung medical staff (native) is as follows:

Dr. Mo Hak Pok, Yu Inkyung, and Shrong Esop, assistants.

Yi Chong Sil, and Pak Marion, nurses.

Kang Dorcas, and Han Dorcas, Biblewomen.

Pang Usop, colporteur and evangelist.

The greatest advance in the work has been the addition of a Korean doctor to the staff—a young man who graduated last year from the Government Medical School. So far he is fulfilling the highest expectations. He takes charge of a morning clinic opened since his arrival, and many of the emergency and out-cases. The large number of 750 out-calls made during the year was due to the fact that we have no hospital in Ham Heung, and many who should have been in-patients had to be treated at their homes.

While the work has advanced in nearly all its phases, no improvement has been made in the dispensary building, and we trust that the repeated requests for new quarters may soon meet with a response from the home church. Meanwhile gifts have been gladly received for various parts of the work. An estimate of $5,000 is being asked for a hospital with an alternative request for permission to raise this sum privately.

British and Foreign Bible Society's Assistance to the Mission: The agent of this society, Mr. Hugh Miller, who came from Halifax to the work in Korea and has always had special interest in the Canadian Mission, was present at our annual meeting in October, and gave many timely suggestions about the work. Directly after his return to Seoul he sent a special man to train colporteurs all through our fields, giving thus a new impetus to their work. We gratefully acknowledge our indebtedness to the Bible Society and to Mr. Miller who has greatly promoted our interests.

WESTERN SECTION.

NORTH FORMOSA.

The year 1912 was a memorable year in Formosa. It will be remembered by the people as a year of floods and typhoons. Probably not for fifty years has North Formosa experienced such high floods as covered the Taipeh plain in the autumn of 1912, resulting in great loss and consequent suffering on the part of many.

The Christian people of North and South Formosa will remember with thanksgiving one great event which marked the year 1912, namely, the Union of the Churches of North and South Formosa, which was accomplished in October. Rev. Wm. Campbell, the oldest missionary on the island, was elected Moderator of the newly-formed Synod, which meets again in Tamsui, in May, 1913. December 26th, the MacKay Memorial Hospital was formally opened by the acting Civil Governor (representing the Governor-General) in the presence of a number of other officials and foreigners, as well as members of the Christian community. The following day, December 27th, almost a thousand people assembled to commemorate the fortieth anniversary of Dr. MacKay's arrival in Formosa. This gathering, as was most fitting, assembled in the new MacKay Memorial Hospital.

During 1912 the Missionaries had the joy of welcoming to the field three new workers—Dr. and Mrs. Gray, whose arrival made it possible for Dr. and Mrs. Ferguson to take a much-needed furlough, and Miss Elliott, whose presence in the new hospital will mean great things for the work. And yet the call comes for more workers. In every department reinforcements are needed, if the work is to be carried forward in an adequate way, and the doors of opportunity entered, which are opening on every hand.

In contrast to last year, when every missionary was present on the field, and at work, there are this year gaps in the circle, caused by the absence on furlough of Mr. and Mrs. Jack and Miss Kinney. This means that, in some cases, double work must be done by those who remain, while some work, equally urgent, must be left undone. Will the friends of Missions in the home land try to realize what this means to those on the field facing continually the great need, hearing the calls for help, and yet unable to respond? Truly the fields are white unto harvest, but the labourers are few.

EVANGELISTIC.

Owing to Mr. Jack's absence on furlough, and the necessity for help in the college, the work in this department was less than in previous years. During the first part of the year, Mr. McLeod divided his time between pastoral work and direct preaching to the heathen. Mr. Gauld had to bear a larger share of the pastoral visitation, while Dr. Ferguson had control of both the medical and evangelistic departments in the hospital. In the southern part of the field, near Taikah, a very promising work is beginning. A new street chapel has been opened in a place where, two years ago, there was not one who was interested in the Gospel. Only last spring, when the Missionary, with a group of Christians, visited the district, they were threatened at one house with a beating. One woman, who stood sentinel at her door with a bamboo stick, swearing she would never worship the Christian's God, travelled on the following Sabbath seven or eight miles to the nearest chapel, and has continued regularly ever since to worship the true and living God. With her own hands she earned enough to buy four seats, which were brought as an offering at the opening of the new chapel. Between 20 and 30 in this district have now openly acknowledged themselves as Christians, and over $100 a year has been contributed by them, towards the rent of the chapel. From several other heaten centres, where preaching has been carried on for two years, come invitations to open preaching chapels, but no men can be spared.

At the street chapel opened a year ago near our Mission Compound in Taipeh, a great many have heard the gospel for the first time. Mr. Gauld has charge of this work, while Mrs. Gauld, with native helpers, is teaching a group of heathen children. The assistant preacher at Dactotei has, during the year, preached to the heathen in an acceptable way.

Since May 1st, Mr. McLeod has been in charge of the college, and as a result very little preaching has been done among the heathen. This is greatly to be regretted, as the needs of this department are very great. Over two hundrd have, during 1912, heard the Gospel for the first time, seventy-nine adults have been baptized, and over one hundred have been admitted to full communion. Owing to pressure of work only brief visits have been paid to the Gilan plain, but some of the seed sown more than a year ago has sprung up and borne fruit. The missionaries have just received an idol, once the cherished possession of a man who formerly was in charge of a heathen temple, but who has now joined the ranks of the Christians.

In the Sunday Schools six to seven hundred have been under instruction during the year, and one hundred and forty have learned to read. More and better work could be done in this department if there were more workers in the field. For women and children much more should be done.

NATIVE SELF-SUPPORT.

In spite of the fact that the last two years have been unusually hard, because of the failure of crops, and the consequent rise in prices, the contributions for the year are in advance of last year, being 7,929.26 yen, as compared with 7,154.40 yen in 1911. There has been an increase of more than 200 yen towards preachers' salaries, besides 1,100 yen for the special fund. The Home Mission Fund of more than 1,000 yen has never been touched, likewise the Widows' and Orphans' Fund of 2,200 yen; the latter may be opened in 1914, if occasion demands.

There are seven self-supporting churches, three of which have settled pastors of their own choosing. A fourth presented a call at Presbytery, which has just been held in Taipeh. The largest church in the Mission has been built in this place, which only three years ago was a heathen centre quite untouched by Christianity.

EDUCATIONAL.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL. Thirteen new students entered in September, the total number in attendance being 133.

Of the seven teachers, most give their whole time to teaching: Rev. Mr. Tan, Dr. MacKay's son-in-law, gives four hours a week, and Mr. MacKay gives one hour a week to the teaching of Psychology in the senior class. Mrs. Gauld gives four hours a week in vocal and instrumental music. Japanese and Chinese teachers have done good work.

The Union Conference of North and South Formosa Missionaries appointed a Committee to consider the question of a Bible Training School for Evangelists. As no step has yet been taken, our Council decided to make provision for the training of such men in our college, and six men, all over twenty-five years of age, began work in January last. As they have come out of heathenism themselves, they can enter more fully than others into sympathy with those who are yet in darkness. The special courses will cover four years, which means an extra burden for the workers, as these men do not fit into the regular course. Some have brought their wives to the Women's School, that they also may be better fitted for their future work. We still hope that the Union of the two Colleges in North and South Formosa will open the way for the establishment of a thoroughly proficient theological school.

GIRLS' SCHOOL. In the spring of 1912 a change was made in the school term, to conform to the Japanese school year. The term now begins in April and ends in March. At the closing exercises, March, 1912, four girls received diplomas, and seven who had studied for three, four or five years, left the school. On April 3rd, eighteen new scholars were received, a number of whom were obliged to seek accommodation at the Women's School.

The four graduates agreed to stay another year, each giving four hours a day to teaching, while taking some advanced work. All studied Chinese Character with the head teacher. One studied Japanese, another English, and the others continued organ lessons.

During the year six girls united with the Church, making in all twenty who are church members. Of the seven who left in March six are church members.

Friends in Canada interested in the school have supplied us with reward cards, and other pretty things, which are greatly appreciated by the girls. Others have sent a liberal contribution towards the support of the little aborigines who are still in the school and making good progress in their studies. They, with the others, are working for the General Assembly's Diploma for memorizing scripture verses. Since the opening of the school over forty girls have received this diploma, and eight or more have received both red and gilt seals.

WOMEN'S SCHOOL. This year fifteen women have attended the school, some one term and others the whole year. Those who stay for two or more terms are generally older women, or widows, whose families are grown up.

This year, four preachers' wives have attended, two as boarders and two as pupils. The wife of our Tamsui preacher rose about four o'clock every morning, did the washing and cooking for her husband and four children, and came to school from nine to twelve. During this time she studied Bible, arithmetic, writing, singing and Japanese.

Of those in attendance this year eight are church members and two others were baptized during the school term. All learned to read before they were many weeks in attendance.

Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Jack assisted in teaching during the first term, and Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. McLeod from September to December. The school reaches very few of the women, and the need for women evanglists is becoming very urgent indeed.

THE MIDDLE SCHOOL. This school is not yet in existence, but the intention is to open it in the spring of 1914. There is great need in this new school for two foreign teachers, one of whom must be proficient in Natural Science, if we are to hold our own among the educational institutions of the island.

BOOK ROOM.

The sales for the year amounted to $45.56 yen. The books sold include Bibles, Bible portions, hymn books, commentaries, tracts, text-books, magazines. The colporteur sold in twelve months more than 3,000 Bibles and Bible portions.

It is again urged that a book-room be opened in the City of Taipeh. This would be an excellent agency in diffusing Christian truth.

MEDICAL.

Reference has already been made to the opening of the new hospital. It has been in operation since the beginning of 1913, and has already more than justified its existence. The Gospel is being preached daily, and tracts are given to such as can read Chinese.

The last year was a very heavy one for Dr. Ferguson, as the old hospital in Tamsui was open to patients up to the end of the year. But relief has come in the person of Dr. Gray, who, with Mrs. Gray, received a very cordial welcome from all. In the absence of Dr. Ferguson on furlough, Dr. Gray's responsibility will be heavy, for one who is just beginning to study the language. However, by employing an interpreter, and by limiting the number of out-patients for the first year, it will be possible to keep the work going, and Dr. Gray will have an opportunity for showing, by kindly acts if not by words, the Christlike spirit which prompts all missionary effort.

NURSING DEPARTMENT.

With the opening of the MacKay Memorial Hospital and the arrival of Miss Elliott, a new field of work has been entered, in the acceptance of six girls for training as nurses. Five of the girls have been taught in either the Girls' or Women's School. Some years ago it would not have been possible to find girls willing to take up nursing, but since the Japanese Government has opened up hospitals here with female nurses, Chinese girls are much more ready to take up this work.

Christian work has been carried on among the women patients by the Bible women in charge of that department. She is an earnest Christian worker, whose teaching and influence have already borne fruit.

HOSPITAL STAFF.

One medical missionary, two Chinese medical assistants (graduates of Government Medical School), three dispensers (trained in our own hospital), one bacteriologist (trained in our own hospital), one dresser and one hospital evangelist.

PATIENTS FOR 1912.

In-patients	467
Out-patients	4,600
Returned for treatment	25,670
Total number of treatments	30,270

OPERATIONS FOR 1912.

(1) Under anaesthesia	275
(2) Without "	81
(3) Teeth extracted	150
Total	506

Visits to homes, 346.

This report covers work done during nine months. During the last three months, on account of the necessity of supervision of both the new hospital and the old, the number of patients in the latter was considerably reduced.

In response to the appeal for a man with business qualifications, experience in architecture and one possessing the missionary spirit, the Board has been fortunate in securing one who combines all three, in the person of Mr. Dowie, B.Sc., now of Montreal. Mr. Dowie will leave for Formosa (via Siberian Railway) in July, and will find awaiting him a broad field, wherein he may use all his powers in the Master's service.

In closing, we are constrained to mention again the two great needs which are a constantprobe to our consciences. They are the "Gilan Plain" and the Head Hunters of Formosa." The Gilan Plain is a waiting harvest field, where there are ata least one hundred thousand Chinese, not including Pepohoans. A doctor and a missionary evangelist, with two unmarried lady-evangelists, would find there the most easily worked district in the whole island. Trolley lines all over the plain make the travelling problem comparatively easy. Students could come to the institution at Tamsui or Taipeh as they do at present. We do pray and hope for a favorable answer to our petitions on behalf of Gilan.

THE PROBLEM OF THE ABORIGINIES. This is a problem concerning men (over 120,000) who live in their original savage condition just at our door. Before the Japanese came, an effort on our part might have meant the salvation of many lives, as well as of many souls. The Japanese lost several hundred brave men last year, and several hundren chinese were wounded in the effort to conquer these liberty-loving savages. They are being crowded into the centre of the island and ar becoming desperate for want of means to sustain life. But they are brave men, and their struggle for liberty inspires both admiration and pity. They are worth saving—shall we not make the effort?

We desire to express our sense of gratitude to our Heavenly Father who has manifested His love and protection throughout the year. We are grateful to the F. M. B. and the W. F. M. S. for sending Dr. and Mrs. Gray and Miss Elliott in a time of great need, and also for the promise of further help in Mr. Dowie. We desire to express our deep appreciation of the visit of Rev. Mr. Scott. It was with regret that we had to part with him so soon. Such visits often repeated would bring much joy and stimulus to our hearts and our work.''

CENTRAL INDIA.

DEPARTMENTS OF WORK.

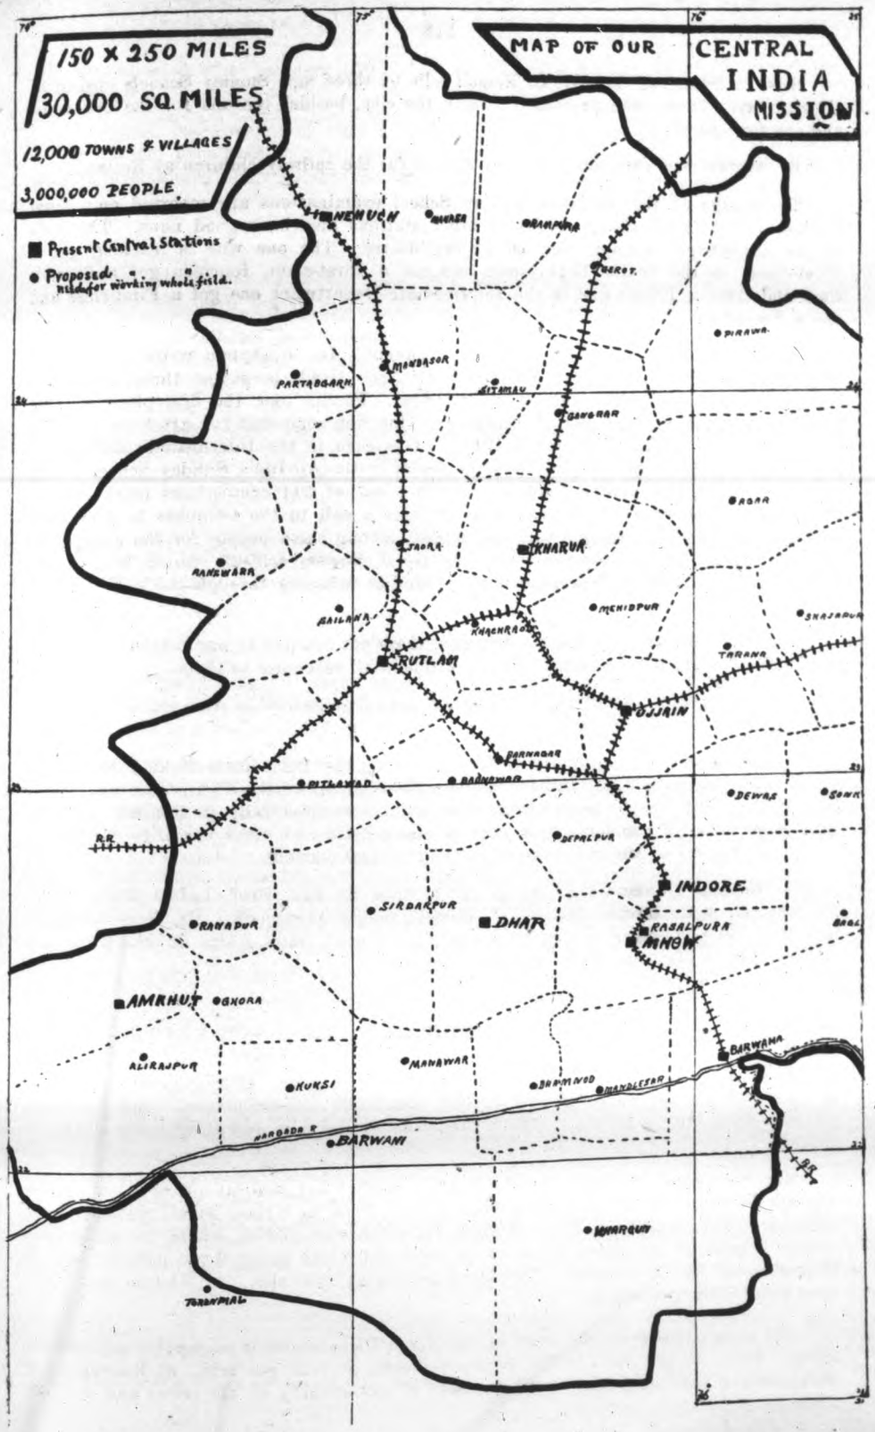
It should be understood that the Departments of Mission work are not like closed watertight compartments in a leaky ship. Every department is intended to be evangelistic, and that which for the sake of distinction is technically so named uses freely all sorts of means as occasion offers. The terms are not rigidly exclusive, but conveniently distinctive. So, also, with the pastors who are not on Mission funds. They do evangelistic work also, as the missionaries do pastoral work.

EVANGELISTIC.

In addition to the regular services and classes in the stations and out-stations, itinerancy is done from all of these centres. Thus Mr. Cock toured in the north, Mr. Taylor in the south, Mr. Anderson, Mr. W. G. Russell, Dr. Wilson and Mr. Cook in the central parts, and Dr. Nugent mentions reaching out sixty miles from Ujjain. Magic Lantern, Reading Room, Dissemination of Scriptures and Tracts, both by sale and judicious giving, and the Anglo-Hindi periodical ''Satyarth Patrika'' (which may be briefly rendered The Truth) are among the means used. The Magic Lantern meetings of Mr. Archibald, of the Children's Mission, were much appreciated. Famine Relief work in Amkhut district has been made an opportunity of affording spirtual as well as bodily succour. The annual Mela, or Convention, was a means of blessing. So was the one at Amkhut in the last week of the year. During the same week special meetings were held at Rutlam.

Miss Herdman writes of an impressive watchnight service in the little bamboo church at Amkhut. ''As soon as 1913 had come, the bells were rung, and the Bhil Christians rising from their knees, called out 'Victory to Christ from the Bhil Country;' 'Victory to Christ from all India;' and, lastly, the call was given 'Victory to Christ from Canada.' May we, indeed, see His working in our midst and in Canada this New Year.''

Europeans and Anglo-Indians are not neglected. For their own salvation and for their influence for good or evil on the multitudes around them work among them is important. The Rev. E. J. Drew continues to do well the Chaplaincy work in Mhow and a little at Neemuch, and also to aid in Hindustani work. And our missionaries at Rutlam care for the railway people there.



SUNDAY SCHOOLS. Mr. W. G. Russell tells of three new Sunday Schools opened in Ujjain City. There were previously two in the city, besides the one for the Christians and one for lepers.

Dr. Waters now conducts a Sunday School for the railway children at Rutlam.

The results of the All-India Sunday School examinations are reported only from Rutlam and Amkhut, though probably other stations also have good news. The girls of the Orphanage, Rutlam, received 21 cetrificates. The one who is teaching got a First-class; in the Senior Department one got a First-class, fourteen got a Second-class and three a Third; and in the Intermediate Department one got a First-class and one a Second.

But the best trophies were gained by Amkhut. Dr. Buchanan writes:—"Out of seven medals given on Written Examination in the Hindi language, three have come into the Bhil country since our return last year. Dhulia took the first place and the medal in the subject, Methods of Teaching. This was competed for after the close of the Sunday School Examination for 1911." One each in the Intermediate and Beginners' Departments took first place and the medal in the All-India Sunday School Examination of 1912, and another took second place out of 244 competitors in the Senior Department. Well does Dr. Buchanan see in this a call to the Churches to give their very best to take the strategic positions offered among these people for the evangelization of India. The deliverance which the Great Powers selfishly failed to give the crushed and harrassed in European Turkey, God is bringing through the despised Hill people of the Balkans.

As to spiritual fruits, there are doubtless those not counted in our Statistical Tables, but, as Dr. Nugent says, it seems wiser to withhold all reference to them.

THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY AND CLASSES may be regarded in some sense as the very crown of the Evangelistic work.

In the Seminary, Indore, Dr. Wilson, aided by the Rev. Imam Bakhsh Bawa, the Rev. Yohan Masihi and Mr. Johory, taught eight students of the Third Year and seventeen of the First Year. In addition, three studied extra-murally in English. Besides their class work, the students took part in evangelistic and other meetings during the term, and the rest of the year worked in their several stations.

In Amkhut, Dr. Buchanan, aided for a while by Rev. Prof. Labhu Mall, of the Punjab, and again by the Rev. W. G. Russell, taught twenty-six. Mr. Russell reports that they did good work, six getting over 75 per cent., nine others 50 and over, and seven others 34 per cent., and over, on examination.

MEDICAL.

As yet there is no proper hospital for men in our Mission. Hitherto such in-patients as were received had to be treated in very unsuitable accommodation. But buildings are now being erected on the excellent site given by the wise and enlightened Rajah of Rutlam.

That the people of other districts feel the need of our medical aid is shown by the way they ask for it and avail themselves of it. Thus in Ujjain 21,447 patients have received 70,513 treatments. This includes the out-station, Maksi, where the authorities neither welcome it nor themselves meet the need, but where nearly 5,000 patients availed themselves of our dispensary. The case is similar at Barwaha. At Kharua also there were some 7,000 treatments.

The large attendance of women at the Men's Dispensaries is suggestive and encouraging. Thus, 36 per cent. of the Ujjain patients, over 25 per cent., at Barwaha and about 40 per cent. at Rutlam were females; to say nothing of the wives and mothers who accompanied other patients. Dr. Nugent points out the openings for zenana work thus afforded.

It should be remembered that a considerable amount of medical relief afforded by Dr. Nugent personally is, when he is on tour, to those far removed from his dispensaries and from any other reliable medical aid.

EDUCATIONAL.

All our higher education has long been concentrated in Indore, and there it is carried up to the M.A. degree.

Most of our schools in other places are for our Christian youth. For instance, there is the Christian Boys' School at Rasalpura, with 64 boys in six classes; Mhow reports a new Primary School for the boys of Christian families, and in Rutlam a similar beginning has been made. In Amkhut district, without counting classes, morning and noon, where men on industrial work learn to read, there are six day schools, exclusively for Christians, with an attendance of 162 boys and girls, some of whom have finished the Third and some the Fourth, and some wee tots of six or seven are reading in the Third Hindi Book.

Something is being done, however, for non-Christian children, and more is asked for by parents and must be done, at least in those States whose rulers are wise and enlightened enough to welcome such aid, as is the case in most States, apparently.

INDUSTRIAL.

Most of the Industrial work, except that done by girls and women, has been concentrated at Rasalpura, where rug-making, weaving, carpentry and iron-working have this year been added to by the transfer of the Printing Press from Rutlam.

Started at Indore in 1877, it was removed by Council to Rutlam in 1890, and now to Rasalpura in March, 1912. During all these 30 odd years it cost Mission Funds less than nothing apart from superintendence, for the plant, stock, etc., amounted to more than had ever been drawn from the general funds and the famine funds combined. And, in addition to training and employing during the last 21 years so many orphans and other young Christians, who did some unpaid evangelistic work out of press hours, it helped by its publications to make known the Gospel, build up Christian character, and produce a purer atmosphere in the land. The toil was increased and the results diminished by lack of capital. But now we hope that it and other departments of the work under Mr. F. H. Russell will be fully supplied and more successful than ever.

The Satyarth Patrika is now published and managed there by Mr. Russell, though still edited by Dr. Campbell.

In the Amkhut district farming, brickmaking, lime burning, carpentry and construction work have gone on during the year. The superintendence grows more difficult of course, as the other work grows, and Dr. Buchanan greatly needs the help of competent and devoted Indian teachers.

At Rutlam the Industrial work in the Orphanage, under Mrs. Campbell's care, continues to pay well, and to meet a considerable part of the support of the Orphanage.

WOMEN'S WORK.

EDUCATIONAL—INDORE.

For the first time in many years Indore has been free from plague, and, as a result school work has gone on with a regularity that is unusual. The City School, which has year was open only 107 days, with an average attendance of 31, was this year open 202 days, with an average attendance of 40, 57 names being on the roll at the end of the year. The Camp School was open 230 days, with an average attendance of 24, 53 names on the roll. The work of these schools is only of a primary nature, for girls are rarely allowed to attend school long enough to get much education. But there is a splendid opportunity during the daily Bible lesson to instil into the minds and hearts of these little ones a knowledge of God's Word, which will surely tell in the days to come.

GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL—INDORE.

Some alterations have been made during the year in the Girls' High School, Indore, the girls putting on the finishing touches by varnishing doors, windows, desks and other furniture. The one-storey addition used by Dr. Beattie as a dispensary has been transformed into a laboratory and music room, allowing the small room formerly used for science apparatus to be transformed into a library and reading room. A second dormitory has been fitted up with beds to accommodate those willing to pay a higher rate for fees, and for the same pupils a long dining table has been set up in a room used both for school and dining-room. The majority of the girls still dine seated on durries spread on the verandah, and sleep on mattresses laid on the floors upstairs, each morning literally taking up their beds, and walking with them to the roof, whence they are brought down when school is dismissed for the day.

The number of languages taught in the school has been increased to five, by the addition of Urdu and Sanscrit, both taught by the staff.

About twenty of the girls joined the Church in October, and the joy they experienced in thus confessing Christ was reflected in the heart of their teachers and of the pastor who taught the preparatory class. For weeks special meetings were held each day by a Children's Missionary, Mr. Archibald, whose religious and lantern services were a means of much blessing to many.

In all the work of the school, Miss Robertson has given efficient work while studying for her second year's language examination.

WOMEN'S HOSPITAL—INDORE.

The numbers have been larger than last year, 98 more in-patients, and 2,130 more out-patients being recorded. In September, the average attendance at the dispensary was 140. In October, Miss Thompson was welcomed on her return from furlough, and Miss MacHarrie, who had been Superintendent of the Nurses during her absence, went to Ujjain for a short rest before her second language examination. Miss Colbart has occasionally given valuable help in the operating room.

Donation: The Prime Minister of the Senior Branch of Dewas State, a former student, and later a teacher at Indore Mission College, has given a cheque for 300 rupees, to be used for a Children's Ward in Indore Hospital in memory of his little daughter who recently passed away. This generous gift is greatly appreciated, and it is hoped soon to build a children's ward. There are at present three motherless children in the hospital, the youngest of whom is only six months old.

WOMEN'S INDUSTRIAL HOME—INDORE.

The year just closed has been an encouraging one. The quantity of work done has exceeded that of other years, with fewer women capable of doing the finest work. The year's receipts for work and fees amount to Rs. 1438-9-9, the highest sum ever realized. At the close of the year there were 84 in the Home, 12 of whom were little children. Sixteen girls were married during the year, and went to found homes in different parts of India. Let us pray for them that they may be true witnesses for Christ.

Twenty-two have been admitted to the Homes during the year, among them a young girl named Bheki, who had been so cruelly treated by her husband that she ran away to a sweeper's house and drank water there to break her caste. Her uncle and husband brought her to the nearest missionary, asking him to take her, as they did not want her any more. A stamped deed of divorce was given by the husband, so Bheki is free. She is happy to be with the missionaries learning of One who cares for the outcast.

A Normal Class was formed this year in the Industrial Home with ten students, seven from the Boarding and High School, and three from the Home. The work has been conducted in the vernacular, and the students have proved attentive, willing and apt. Kindergarten work just begun by Miss Sinclair is very much appreciated by the teachers from all the Mission Schools of Indore, who join the Normal Classes on Saturdays.

WOMEN'S MEDICAL WORK—NEEMUCH.

Dr. B. C. Oliver writes: "1912 will be remembered in Neemuch as the year when our new Hospital and Dispensary were opened. These two new buildings of solid grey stone are a splendid gift of the W.F.M.S. to the women of this area. We need your constant prayers that the women who come may learn to know Jesus. At the opening ceremony, Hon. Mr. O'Dywer, Agent of the Governor-General in Central India, referred to the Hospital as the fitting crown of Dr. MacKellar's twenty years of medical work here. It was, indeed, a contrast to the day some twenty years ago when the sign of a curse,—a lemon cut in two in a basin of blood—was found at the door of the house she had rented and opened as a dispensary." Among the gifts to the new hospital were a handsome desk, a revolving chair, two handsome pictures, a clock, a leather-bound Hindu Bible, and a solid teak-wood counter for the dispensary besides money gifts to the amount of 1,750 R. "The above gifts are all from men. Women have not yet come into their freedom—the freedom with which only Christ can make women free. But they have given appreciation. A village woman peeping in at the operating room, and seeing the clean marble floor and shining furniture, said: 'Ah! this is where the Rajahs are treated!'"

Records show 7,050 new cases, of whom 2,158 were males and 4,892 females; 18,152 return visits, and a total of 25,202, not including treatments done in the villages and stray patients treated at odd times. Patients came from 151 different places. There have been 93 in-patients since May 15, when hospital was opened. Four pupil nurses, under our Indian Christian trained nurse, have assisted Dr. Oliver during the year, Miss Cameron also giving valuable assistance while studying Hindu.

WOMEN'S WORK—MHOW.

Miss Clearihue gives us a glimpse of a Christian home, which can be easily distinguished from the heathen home, though both are poor little one-roomed mud-huts. In the Christian home one usually finds on the wall the picture of some Bible scene, and a neatly framed certificate, showing that the father or mother has passed a Scripture examination. On the shelf one sees a Bible and hymn-book, and as for the faces! they are so bright they tell at once of a hope unknown to their non-Christian sisters.

INDUSTRIAL WORK IS CARRIED ON AMONG YOUNG MARRIED CHRISTIAN WOMEN. Twenty-five have worked regularly at drawn-work, kitting and reocheting, and the goods have all been sold in the station.

In concluding her report, Miss Clearihue added: "There is much joy in the thought of going home, but what of the work? Who is going to visit the women in the Zenanas? Who is going to attend to the industrial work? At the recent Council meeting the matter was discussed and we found no one could be spared to fill the gap made by one going home!"

EVANGELISTIC.

EVANGELISTIC. Dr. O'Hara writes: "The Bible women have been doing faithful work, and, as a result, several women have expressed faith in Christ, and two have been baptized. The V.I.O.S., of Winnipeg, has been for the last fifteen years a succorer of the poor and needy. It has enabled us to stretch out a helping hand to those whom we could not otherwise save. In addition to those already in the orphanage we have taken in two deserted children of school age, a blind girl sent us by her dying uncle, and the untainted child of a leper, who was brought us by the poor mother. Just before Christmas a bright little Bhil boy, about eight years of age, came and said a policeman had sent him to us saying we "would make a man of him!"

Industrial work is carried on among young married women in Dhar, the product being sold in Canada.

NORTH HONAN.

The year 1912, so eventful to China as a whole, has been especially eventful to this mission. It has marked a great step in advance in the matter of self-support in the Chinese Church. Eight men have been settled as ministers over congregations which assume the entire responsibility of their support. These new congregations have made it clear that they do not intend to sever themselves from the mother church, and that they will welcome any assistance in the form of advice, or of men to assist their pastors on special occasions.

From all sources come reports of unprecedented eagerness to hear the Gospel, not on the part of any one class, but on the part of the wealthy and educated as well as the humble folk. The oldest son of the President of the Republic is studying with a member of the mission staff at Changte, the text books being Pilgrim's Progress, the Bible and others. The sale of Bibles and other Christian literature is increasing. The attitude of the officials is more friendly than formerly; while walking along the streets missionaries have been stopped and asked to preach. The itinerating missionary is besieged with visitors, who crowd his room until requested to leave.

The special meetings conducted by Mr. Goforth have been the means of awakening many to a new conception of their duty towards their unevangelized neighbors, as well as to a sense of their own obligation to live more holy lives.

CHANGTEHO.

EVANGELISTIC.

The two opening weeks of the Chinese New Year were given to street preaching in Changte and surrounding villages. Many gathered to listen and an unusual number of books were sold. Later, in a canvass of the city shops, 420 complete Bibles or Testaments were sold. In one large drug firm, where there are nominally no Christians, the clerks meet on Sunday, with the employees of another establishment, to read the Bible, which they declare to be more interesting and profitable than a novel.

At three places recently visited, a score or more of men are now studying the course prescribed for catechumens. At another new centre 24 men and boys have been recorded, and several tens more are engaged in the study of the above-mentioned course. There is a growing disposition on the part of many Christian communities to erect their own church buildings and provide for schools in their midst.

A special effort has been made to reach heathen women. The many fairs, to which women come in large numbers, have offered an opportunity for such work, and results have in many cases been most encouraging. At one centre the eagerness of heathen children to study hymns and Scripture seemed full of promise. Advantage was taken of a holiday season to make daily visits to the Women's Chapel in Changte City. The missionary was accompanied by two or three Bible women, who took turns in speaking to the constant stream of women and children who kept coming and going. Later on, regular instruction was given in reading and Scripture. At Changte a Sunday School was held, with regular organization into classes. Such meetings are more or less like Bible classes in which old and young receive instruction.

MEDICAL.

Work in the men's and women's hospitals has been carried on throughout the year, and the attendance of patients has been large at all seasons, although the disturbed condition of the country prevented the usual spring rush. Interest in the Gospel message has been shown by both men and women, and a number have systematically studied the Bible and other books.

The outstanding feature of the year has been the research carried on in connection with a fatal and wide-spread disease known as Kala Azar, the presence of which has been demonstrated by microscopic examination. The remedy still remains undiscovered, but will doubtless be found in time.

Some three acres of land have been purchased, on which a new hospital for men is to be built during the present year. This will make it possible to enlarge the women's hospital quarters as well.

EDUCATIONAL.

In spite of the change of curriculum in the Boys' School, and the lack of sufficient teachers, 46 pupils took the year-end examinations. The Girls' School was closed during the spring term on account of the illness of Miss Pyke. During the fall term Mrs. Griffith has been in charge, 12 girls being in attendance during October and 13 during November; of these, five were already church members; seven, who were recorded as catechumens, made an open confession and were baptized, and the remaining pupil was recorded as a catechumen.

WEI WHEI FU.

EVANGELISTIC.

Frequent tours were made, chiefly to localities where there were Christians. Four station classes for men were taught at various centres. A successful rally of Christians was held for four days, at which the chief speaker was Rev. C. N. Lack of the China Inland Mission. City chapel activities were carried on at North Bridge Street throughout the year.

In the autumn a series of special meetings was held for teachers and students of Government schools. The attendance was large, consisting of officials and gentry as well as students and teachers. English Bible classes were held on Sabbath morning, but during the week classes were conducted in Chinese. This work has brought into touch with the mission men hitherto unreached.

Work in the three boarding schools went on without interruption throughout the year, the work of the High School pupils being particularly good. The pupils in the High School have themselves conducted a weekly prayer meeting. They also organized an evangelistic association, which sent out a number of students each Sabbath afternoon, a special meeting being held each Monday to hear reports of the tour.

WORK FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

During the early part of the year, when touring was impossible for the ladies, Bible study classes for the women were held at Wei Hwei. A day school was opened for children too young to attend the Primary School. One of the most promising features of the work is a day school for girls from heathen homes. Some have memorized whole chapters of the Gospel, while other Christian books are bought and taken home. A Sunday School started in October with an attendance of 25 has since increased to 45. The regular Sunday School has also been continued, with a large attendance of children and adults.

HWAI KING FU.

EVANGELISTIC.

The work of this station has been affected by the Revolution. During the earlier winter months the city gates were closed at dark, so that the evening meetings in the chapel were somewhat hindered. Latterly work has been more than usually encouraging, especially among the students and gentry, many of whom seem to regard Christianity as the indispensable religion of China.

Hwai King has been relieved by Wei Hwei of four stations out of an original eight. As a result of this change the station loses Mr. and Mrs. Ross and four evangelists. Hwai King has still a population of more than one million to evangelize, and only two foreign pastors with five Chinese evangelists to do the work.

Mr. Slimmon, after several months' enforced absence, was able to resume his work iin the autumn. The hospital and dispensary were kept open throughout the year, although in the early months the disturbed state of the country prevented the usual number of patients attending. Large numbers of soldiers were treated, but the number of opium patients was smaller than last year, due no doubt to the high price of opium and the strict enforcement of the law forbidding its use.

EDUCATIONAL.

A very earnest spirit is shown by the pupils of the Boys' Primary School. A Junior Christian Endeavour has been formed by the boys themselves, with 26 names on the roll.

WOMEN'S WORK.

Several trips were made by ladies into various sections of the country. Prayer meetings at the central station were attended by a large number of women; often more than fifty were present, and even during wheat harvest, when people are busiest, there were never less than twenty. Two probationary Bible women have passed their first examinations. Mrs. Ch'en has helped in the school and the hospital, while Mrs. Wang has visited a large number of new homes. A Girls' School was opened after the New Year with an attendance of 12, with Mrs. Menzies in charge, and Mrs. Ch'en as matron and assistant teacher. A new school building has been erected, and an attendance of more than twenty is expected next year.

Mr. Clark has been the only man doing full work at this station. Since the Chinese New Year the congregations have increased, and the people have been most friendly. Three foreign pastors and two ladies, with about fifty Chinese Christians, attended the Wsun Hsien Fair, and did splendid work.

BUILDING.

EVANGELISTIC WORK.

Evangelistic work has this year been left largely to the Chinese staff. In the spring Mr. Bruce was occupied largely with building work, and later he was laid aside by illness, but we are glad to report that he has now completely recovered. The Senior Evangelist was called away in October to become minister of the Changte self-supporting congregation. The Evangeslists preaching and sellin tracts have repeatedly visited all parts of the field.

MEDICAL.

Dr. S. O. McMurtry was in May appointed to carry on medical work in Wu An in the place of Dr. Scott, who had been compelled to withdraw on account of impaired eyesight. In October, Dr. McMurtry was able to open the dispensary and operating room, and there has been a daily clinic, attended by 30 to 50. Some of the in-patients have shown a deep interest in the Gospel.

Dr. McMurtry has taken charge of the Sunday School and has drawn in more than a score of heathen boys.

HSIU WU.

This new station was opened during the year. Up to the present Chinese buildings have been utilized and regular station work carried on. Two facts deserve special mention: First—The Christians in Ch'iao Miao have contributed enough to rent a chapel. Second—An opening has at last been made in Muluantien, where a number have come forward to join the Church, and have also provided themselves with a place of worship. This is one of the most important centres of the field, and up to this time one very difficult to reach. Women's work has been vigorously carried on at the Central Station.

SHANGHAI.

The semi-Jubilee Report of the Christian Literature Society of China thus presents the lofty aim of the Society. The production of books dealing with the vital problems—How to support the people and save them from famines; how to give peace, national and international; how to educate China on modern universal lines, and how to renew the people.

"If it be asked what is the result of all these efforts, we say there have been three stupendous results, viz:—the reforms of 1895-98 in which the Emporer joined, and to which he became a martyr; the adoption of Modern Education in China, and finally the casting away of a government which persistently delayed reform and progress and the establishment of a new government—the Republic of China. In addition to these great national results there were six other far-reaching results, such as reformed press, decrees against foot-bindings, reform in exchange and currency, reform in communications, reform in system of international intercourse and reform in religion.

"What brought about this stupendous change? We do not claim that the Christian Literature Society alone did it, nor any single influence. It was brought about by the continual influence of many forces. The chief merit of the C. L. S. lay in the united action of several missionary societies setting men apart for literary work and systematically, and periodically putting before the governing classes and students of all China, the vital forces of universal progress, and in publishing comparative diagrams showing the place of China in the race of nations for progress."

Of the books in press, September, 1912, "Quiet Talks on Prayer," (both in Mandarin and Wenli), was prepared by Dr. MacGillivray. Another work by Dr. MacGillivray,—an extensive Bible Dictionary, is about to be published, and the friends in Canada are invited to contribute towards the cost of publication in order that it may be offered to Chinese workers at a price within their slender means. A gift of $1,000 would make this possible.* It is also suggested that for a small sum "Pastors' Libraries" could be presented to the Chinese workers, who would value such a gift especially at this time of crisis. Dr. MacGillivray writes: "Any aid we can now give the Church will tell with extraordinary force on the work of evangelizing China. . . . . There remain vast millions outside the church. They are cutting loose from the past. The negative work of unloosing is done, but whither will they go if they know not H'm who has the words of eternal life? Will not Canada send some reinforcement? Our literary work is only just begun. A new era calls for new books. One word sums up our need—More Power. Where are the faithful ones who will pray daily for the blessing of God on the work of the C. L. S. that the people may be willing in the day of God's power. We are changing their Views. God alone can change their Wills."

*Since this was written a friend in Zion Church, Brantford, has contributed $1,000 for this work.

SOUTH CHINA.

The year 1912 was one of great opportunity for mission work in South China. It would seem that in the minds of many the Christian religion has been associated with the new spirit which has been manifest in the overthrow of the Manchus and the establishment of a Republic in China.

A sincere effort is being made by many to work justice and freedom into the laws of the land, to lift education out of the net into which it had fallen, and to remove the curses of opium and gambling. As an example of the changes taking place,—in Shek Kei all schools must be closed on Sunday! One sees the change also in the freedom with which people come to hear the Gospel. As a rule the chapels are crowded to the door at the regular Sunday services. Men and women will sit or stand by the hour and listen attentively, especially if the preacher have some ability as a public speaker. At Shek Kei alone 37 were baptized during the last half year, the total number of baptisms for the year being 149, as compared with 82 in the preceding year.

EVANGELISTIC.

The fourteen chapels have been visited regularly by Mr. Broadfoot, Dr. McKay and Mr. Duncanson. One of them, Taoi Chaak, was opened in June, 1912, a building being rented which will accommodate seventy. The preacher from San Ui, Mr. Kwaan Tu Naam, has gone by train to Taoi Chaak on market days, and has found the chapel crowded with men and a few women, who have practically never heard the Gospel. Mr. Kwaan is a splendid preacher, and has rare tact in appealing to those who are hearing the message for the first time. There are, near Taoi Chaak, a few Christians who form the nucleus of a congregation: a merchant and his son, several farmers of the neighbourhood, besides a Mr. and Mrs. Chung from New York, who had been members of the Dutch Reformed Church there. There is also a young man, Mr. Chung Maai, from Nova Scotia, who became a Christian through the teaching of some friends in Canada. At the first communion service in September Mr. Chung brought his wife and mother and little son to the service. He had already taught his wife and mother much about the Gospel, and they were examined with a view to Church membership. They have since been visited by the Bible woman from San Ui, and we hope to receive them into the church during 1913.

EDUCATIONAL.

A Boys' Boarding School has been opened at Kongmoon, attended chiefly by the sons of Christian parents. Twenty-eight boys were in attendance, sixteen of whom were boarders, the ages ranging from 10 to 18 years. Some were given financial assistance, but the majority paid their own fees and board. Mr. Broadfoot has had the supervision of this school in addition to his other work. This work is especially valuable, as it gives an opportunity to begin the training of boys who may later become teachers or evangelists.

Of the three Boys' Schools reported in 1911, one has been closed. Total attendance in day schools, 55.

In the case of the Girls' Schools there has been an advance, except in the case of Shek Kei, where the resignation of the teacher in the middle of the year disorganized the work. The work at San Ui is to be concentrated with one school and two teachers. This will permit of better organization, and will prevent overlapping.

WORK FOR WOMEN.

Five Bible women and eight teachers have been working among the women of the Heung Shaan and San Ui districts. Sixty-five women and girls have been baptized, and one-third of that number examined for the first time. Three women and five girls have been found who are ready to train as teachers or Bible women, and another good Bible woman, earnest and capable has been found during the year. "There are more opportunities that we are able to avail ourselves of; we are greatly hampered by lack of Chinese workers," writes Miss McLean. "How could this increase in the Chinese staff be better accomplished than by opening an institution in which we would train young women for the Lord's work? By building a school for women and girls, our Canadian sisters will be preparing the labourers and placing in their hands the sickles with which to reap the great harvest waiting to be garnered."

MEDICAL WORK.

This work has made a steady advance. The dispensaries have brought the missionaries into touch with thousands and have opened the way into many new villages. The event of the year was the opening of the new hospital on June 27th. Opportunities for work are increased. Chapel service was held daily. The number of in-patients has not been large, but there is a steady increase.

Total treatments	7,125
Total in-patients	52

With new work opening up and increased opportunities, there must be an increased staff. One trained nurse, one doctor and one trained evangelistic worker are needed for the Women's work, two male evangelists and two doctors for the General work. As to equipment, houses, etc., in Shek Kei, a Girls' Boarding School, a permanent school building in San Ui and a larger chapel in Kongmoon are the immediate needs.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

Six students of our South China Mission were in training as preachers in the American Presbyterian Seminary, Canton, two of whom have returned from Canada, Mr. John Lee from Toronto and Mr. Faam Tsz Kan from Montreal. Two completed their course at the end of the year, Mr. John Lee, who has become the preacher at Kongmoon Port, and Mr. Yeung Kw'an Chung, appointed to the Na Len Chapel.

Two colporteurs have, during the year, sold 4,791 Scripture portions and 2,200 Scripture calendars.

The above are some of the tangible results of the year's work. There are results, however, which cannot be tabulated, but which are apparent to those on the field, the changed lives of men, women and children.

KOREA.

MISSION FORCE.

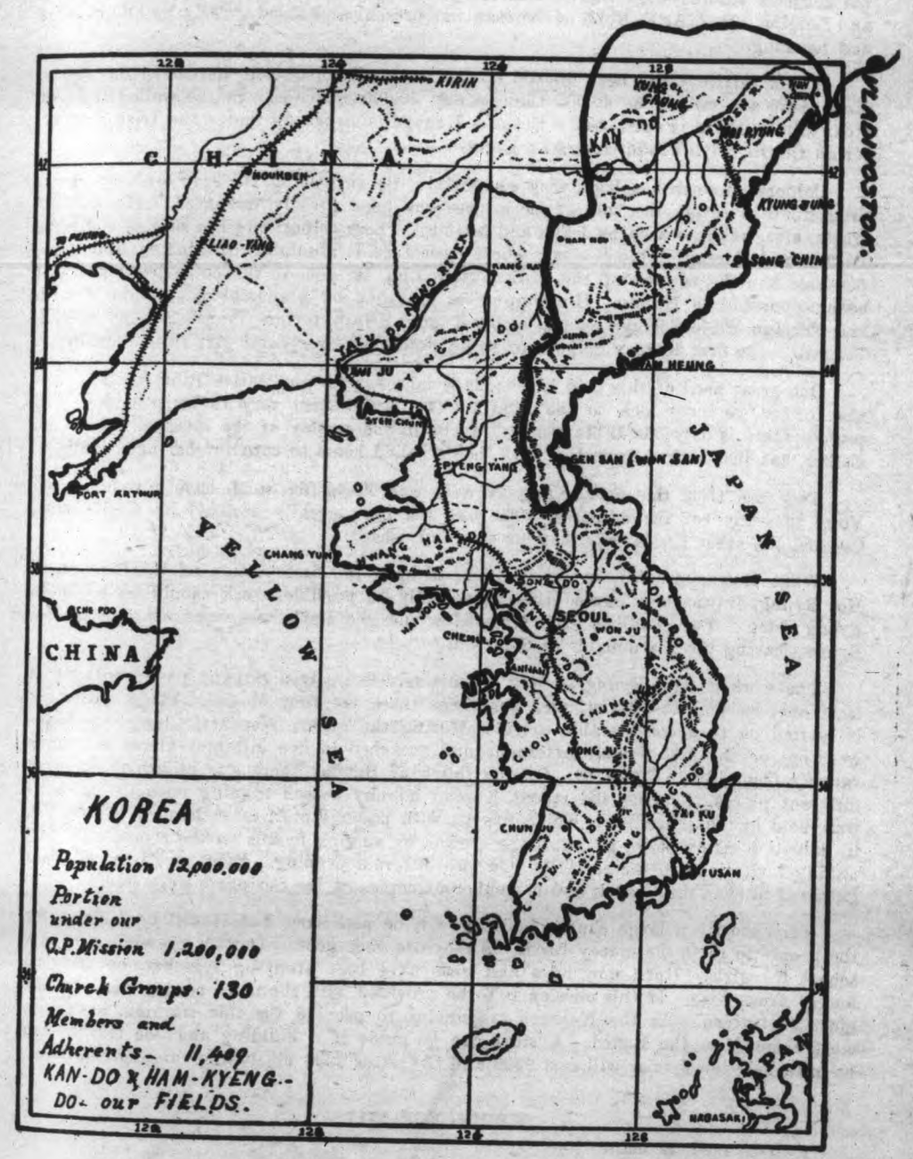
The report for the year 1912-13 is an encouraging one. Though the reinforcements promised last year have not yet reached the field, it is hoped that they will arrive in time for the next year's work. The kind assistance of the missionaries of the Eastern Board is gratefully acknowledged.

EDUCATIONAL.

We would draw attention to the fact that since last year's report was sent ten schools have been established. There is a great desire for education. Schools are starting up in all directions, especially in Kando. Among the immigrants into this district are many educated men from Seoul, Pyeng Yong, etc., who are willing to teach for nothing but their board. It seems to the missionaries in the field an absolute necessity that this work be properly supervised, lest it do more harm than good.

Seven new groups are reported this year, and five groups have obtained church buildings.

Classes have been held at Kyung Hung, Hoi Ryung, Ryong Jung, and everywhere a great craving has been manifested to know the truths of the Bible.



The first Workers' Class was held at Hoi Ryung, when 40 workers from different parts of the field met for twelve days' study to fit themselves for better work. They studied from 9 to 12 and from 2 to 4.45, with a public service every evening. Among the subjects studied were Daniel, Joshua, Timothy, Life of Christ, Aids to Preaching and Singing. Rev. A. F. Robb of Wonsan was present and aided greatly by his presence and teaching.

A new territory has been opened up for work—Hoan Shoon—bordering on Russia. Here there are said to be 40,000 Chinese and 50,000 Koreans. In the walled town of Hoan Choon there is stationed a Chinese Evangelist working under the Irish Presbyterian Churh, with headquarters at Kirin.

Colportage work has been very successful. By increasing the staff of Colporteurs from four to seven, the sale of Scriptures has been greatly increased. The sale of tracts, also, has increased by leaps and bounds. These colporteurs are supported by the British and Foreign Bible Society, whose assistance is absolutely invaluable, and indispensable for the success of the work. Ham Chu Ik, one of the colporteurs has just been appointed to Kando. His support is provided by a special gift to the British and Foreign Bible Society by the Dunn Avenue Presbyterian Church Sunday School, Toronto,—the first Korean colporteur to be supported by special gift from Canada.

One great need of this field is more lady missionaries and native Bible women. For the former we must look to the Board. The latter seem very difficult to find. At present there is only one Bible woman, Maria, in the employ of the Mission. A second, Esther, has just retired from the work, being called home to care for her aged mother.

Two men from this field, Kang Tu Wha and Kang Tu Song, have gone to Pyeng Yong to study for the ministry. The one has been greatly assisted by a gift from Canada, the other has largely met his own expenses.

When it was decided, in April, 1912, to open the first station of this mission at Hoi Ryung, it was also agreed that as speedily as possible, work should be begun in Ryong Jung. Two families—the Mansfields and the Barkers—moved at once to Hoi Ryung, leaving the Macdonalds at Song Chin.

The work at Hoi Ryung is most promising. Scarcely a Sunday passes without at least one decision for Christ, and sometimes there are four or five. Street preaching is carried on to a considerable extent. During the recent Workers' Class, two bands went out on the first Sunday afternoon and preached in five different places to crowds varying from 120 to 70 or 80. On the following Sunday there was preaching at seven different places. During the recent Korean holiday season evening open-air meetings were held in the churchyard, which was lit with paper lanterns. A band of Christians, in Salvation Army style, gathered the crowds by singing hymns on the street, and then issuing invitations to the services. On two different evenings, about two hundred were gathered to hear the Gospel, and a number of copies of the Scripture were sold.

Very shortly a large church building will be necessary, but it will be difficult for the people to raise the money for it, as they are very poor. Another pressing need is a school for girls. Until now boys and girls have been studying together, but this no longer seems wise. If this mission is to be provided with the much-needed workers they must be trained. As the Koreans are unable to provide for this training, assistance must come from the Board. A start can be made if a building and one teacher can be provided; the former will cost $500 and the latter $250 (including running expenses).

1. One medical man.

2. Two ordained men, one with special ability for educational work.

3. Four single ladies, including those already provisionally appointed (for evangelistic work).

4. Girls' School building and running expenses.

The report closes: "From all we ask continual prayer that we may be given 'a mouth and wisdom.' The language is difficult and the problems great. We need much prayer. Once more we would thank all those who have assisted us in our work here in Korea during another year, and to our Father above be all the praise and glory."

CHINESE IN CANADA.

The work among Chinese in Canada is so promising as to justify and demand greater emphasis than it at present receives. The responsiveness of the large number attending classes is encouraging. The changes that have taken place in China have led them away from ancient customs and idol-worship and have given an open mind for the Gospel message. Some have come into church fellowship in profession of faith, and many are sympathetic and yielding to the truth. Testimonies are received as to the valuable services rendered by some of these men, who accepted Christianity while in America and are now successful missionaries to their own people in the Home Land. The Board is looking for a man who can speak the Cantonese, and who has other qualifications fitting him for aggressive work in a constituency of vast possibilities, in the interests of China and the world. Of all the foreigners within the Dominion, there are none amongst whom greater results can be secured. It is gratifying that in many congregations throughout the Dominion, much work is done in their interests, and it is urged that, in as many congregations as possible, attention be given to the Chinese residing in the neighbourhood.

Montreal.—In the seventeen schools in the city there is a total enrollment of 745 pupils and 523 teachers. There are 48 on the Communion roll, and an average attendance of 53 at the Christian Association meetings. There are, besides, mission Bible classes, special meetings for women and children, boy scouts, night school, etc., giving a total enrollment for all mission activities of 1,040.

About 5,000 Gospel leaflets and Scripture portions have been distributed, which are used as an adjunct of much visitation and kindly intercourse.

The Sabbath Schools contributed $1,363.92, which, with other gifts, make a total contribution of $1,719.24, to the Macao Mission. This does not include about $1,000 contributed by the Christian Association.

British Columbia.—Full reports have not been received from British Columbia, but it is known that good work is being done there with a staff entirely inadequate. There are about 6,000 Chinese in Vancouver City alone, with not less than twice that number within the province. The evening school and the Sunday services have an attendance of about 80 each. The Sabbath School averages 30 children and the Prayer Meeting 44.

Toronto.—Steady growth has been apparent, even more marked than in the previous year. The difficulties, which have been a hindrance in the past, have not been met with of late, and the number of classes has been increased by four. The present relative standing is:—Presbyterian Schools, 12; Anglican, 1; Methodist, 4; Baptist, 3. Other openings are being considered.

More of the Chinese are being reached. It is impossible to state an accurate total, but probably 450 are being taught in the various classes. The average attendance has increased in every school, in some remarkably. Knox, from 15, in last report, has grown to more than 45; Cooke's reaches about 120, and Westminster about 70.

Nine men have been received by baptism, an increase of one over the past year. Many are interested in the Gospel, but no attempt is made to hurry them into confession. Large returns are not desirable unless the work is thorough. Mr. Ma has been very faithful in his visitation of the schools, and in his preaching services. He retains fully the confidence of the men, and his leadership among them.

We are particularly glad to report real advancement in the visitation and teaching of the women. Miss Robson, of the China Inland Mission, is giving a portion of her time to this branch of our service. Although Miss Robson has not a full command of the Cantonese tongue, yet her experience in China as a missionary, and her tact and gentle sympathy, have won for her a place in the hearts of those upon whom she calls. There are now some 35 women and upwards of 100 children under her care.

Possibly the greatest interest has centred about the work of the Chinese Christian Association. This organization has grown until more suitable and commodious premises have become a necessity. To meet this need a site has been secured, and a campaign to secure the necessary funds for the erection of a building is now under way. For the maintenance of this work the Foreign Missionary Board has voted $1,000 annually for a limited period.

The work of the Association is interdenominational in that Chinese from various churches hold membership in it, but the property is held by the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian Church, and the future of the Association's work is safeguarded by this provision.

To emphasize the importance of such an institution, it need only be stated that, while a number of clubs, which hold provincial licenses, yet are practically gambling rooms, exist in the lower sections of the city, there is absolutely no place where Chinese young men can meet with healthy moral surroundings.

The present time is most opportune for a forward movement. The awakened national spirit of the Chinese leads them to support heartily any enterprise which appeals to them as being for the betterment of their race. We hope to turn this to good account in bringing many to support an institution under their own colours, in which Gospel teaching and control will be prominent.

GENERAL.

1. The appeal issued by the Chinese Government asking that missionaries appoint a day of prayer in behalf of the National Assembly and President, and instructing Chinese officials to attend Christian services on that day is so remarkable an event that it has startled the Christian Church. It is rightly regarded as one of the most significant events of all the centuries. Sunday, the 27th April, will be memorable as the day set apart upon which the Christian Church in all lands united in intercession in response to that appeal.

2. This appeal for a day of prayer is but the sequel to a succession of unparalleled events during the last decade in China. Movements are so rapid and far-reaching that the conviction has come to many that a comprehensive co-operative effort by all Churches at this time is called for and might accomplish what many decades will not accomplish later, if the opoprtunity is allowed to pass.

3. At Conventions held under the leadership of Dr. J. R. Mott, in five of the central cities in China, and attended by leading missionaries and Chinese workers, all were of one mind as to the importance of the occasion. It is a time of supreme importance for China and the world, and claims the highest Christian statesmanship and consecration.

4. In Honan a native Church is now fully established. In the autumn of 1911, ten evangelists finished the prescribed course of study in the Theological classes, and before the close of 1912, nine of the ten were settled over congregations pledged to their support. This has brought great gladness to the missionaries, and is but the beginning of a Chinese Church of very many congregations in days to come.

5. This being the twenty-fifth year—the Semi-Jubilee of the Honan Mission, it is recommended that the General Assembly appoint a day upon which the event may be duly commemorated by the Canadian Church. The story of the Mission has been written by Dr. Murdoch MacKenzie and is now on the market.

6. One of our medical missionaries, Dr. W. J. Scott, has been compelled to withdraw on account of sickness. This has been a cause of sincere regret to the Mission and disappointment to himself and that especially in view of the fact that the call for medical missionaries is so urgent.

7. On the 24th October, 1912, the English Presbyterian Mission in South Formosa and the Canadian Presbyterian Mission in North Formosa united in one Synod. It was an occasion of much solemnity and will, it is believed, bring new strength.

8. On the 26th and 27th December of the same year, a new hospital—to be known as the MacKay Memorial Hospital—was opened amid great rejoicing. It was the fortieth anniversary of the arrival of Dr. G. L. MacKay, and was celebrated with great enthusiasm by the Chinese Church. From early morning Christians began to gather from all districts, and some were there who had first heard the Gospel from Dr. MacKay's lips nearly forty years ago. It was the largest gathering of Christians ever assembled in North Formosa. The new hospital erected in Taipeh, the capital, gives facilities for greatly increased usefulness.

9. In India doors are open but men are not available to enter and take possession. The following statement of needs should find a response:

(1) For Present Work.—When every man is already overworked, and much remains undone, there ought to be men learning the language, aiding in weak, and available to fill vacancies caused by furloughs, illness or death. Dr. Wilson, Mr. D. F. Smith and Dr. McPhedran are now going on furlough, there is no man to take the place of any one of them. The work of each of them has either to be closed or partially arranged for by further burdening others. One is going for only six months—not ordinary and fully profitable furlough—but two will still be away when three more are due to go, in 1914. What is to become of their work? There are no new men learning, and preparing to take charge, for which two years should be allowed.

In 1911 we asked for six more men to meet the existing need and the opening of four new stations. The four new stations have been opened, but we have actually one man less than before. This means that we need seven men at once for existing work.

(2) For New Work.—Mr. Harcourt reports so many enquirers from a distance, who cannot possibly be properly taught from Kharua, that there ought to be immediately two new centres, with a missionary in each—Gangrar and Mehidpur. These are two which, in 1911 we did not name among the thirteen to be opened within five years, but which are made necessary by God's blessing meanwhile.

In the southern part of the field the missionaries urge similar need for at least one more.

Dr. Nugent and Mr. W. G. Russell urge circumstances calling for immediate opening of Dewas and Agar. Dr. Buchanan asks for another fully qualified man for the Bhil country.

Thus six new centres are at once called for, and for these from six to eight men. The hope and probability is that before new men can be ready to take charge of them, still more centres will be urgently needed.

Thus for present existing work we need one medical and six evangelistic men, or, if one industrial and one college man be sent to release the evangelistic men now tied to those departments, four more evangelistic men; and, for new work, at least six evangelistic men. At least thirteen this year if possible, or this year and next; and four in each succeeeding year.

10. Korea presents the same wonderful opportunity as was emphasized in last year's report. Our main work is likely to be in Manchuria, whither Koreans are migrating by tens of thousands. Yong Jung is being opened there as our second station. Three single ladies are under appointment—this being the beginning of work in Korea by the W.F.M.S. (W.D.). Two ordained married men are also under appointment.

Rev. D. A. Macdonald wrote on March 5th, 1913:—"The work is all ready and waiting for the men. If we could imagine our full equipment for the three stations on the field to-morrow with the missionaries all provided with the language, every man and woman of them could start the same day right into full work without any marking time for an instant."

FINANCIAL.

11. The year closed with a deficit of $51,496.40. There was transferred from the Reserve Fund $20,176.20 being the average receipts from legacies during the last five years. This leaves a net deficit of $31,320.20, which is only $1,818.77 less than the deficit reported last year. The total amount received from the Church has thus fallen far short of the requirements of the work. The following shows the Foreign Mission contributions of the Church during 1912:—

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. Chinese in Canada.

That the Presbytery of Westminster be authorized to ordain Mr. Ng Mon Hing as Missionary Pastor of the Chinese under our care in Vancouver, B.C.

2. Honan.

That the Assembly record its gratitude to God for the rich blessing that has rested upon the labours of our faithful missionaries in North Honan during the twenty-five years our Church has occupied that field. The opposition and persecution of earlier years has ceased and to-day there are 9 organized self-supporting Chinese congregations with their native pastors, little groups of Christians forming centres of influence in many cities, towns, and villages, and more than 7,000,000 people accessible to the Gospel and to Western influences as never before. The Assembly suggest the last Sunday of October as a suitable time for the commemoration of the first quarter century's work in Honan; commend the book recently published by the Foreign Mission Board—"Twenty-five Years in Honan"—to the members of our congregations, Young People's Societies and Sunday Schools; and assure the missionaries in Honan that the Church will make earnest effort to send out at the earliest moment possible the additional workers requested in the quarter century appeal, viz., 14 ordained missionaries, 4 medical missionaries, and 9 lady missionaries.

3. Resolution re Korea.

Whereas, in the Comity of Mission arrangement an important area in Korea has been allotted to the care of our Presbyterian Church in Canada—stretching from Wonsan in the south to the Manchurian border in the north, a distance of about 325 miles, with a population of 1,271,000; and, in addition, there has recently been added to the responsibility of our Church in Korea, the care of fully 500,000 Koreans who have crossed the border into Manchuria and now occupy a section of that country immediately contiguous to the territory of our Church in Korea proper:

Whereas, throughout this land, for some years past, a gracious work of God has accompanied the labours of the different branches of the Church at work there, in which our own Mission has so richly shared, that it is quite impossible for our present staff to instruct the new believers, train the workers, and superintend the rapidly growing native Church:

Whereas, our missionaries—men and women—have been so overburdened, and have felt so keenly the serious loss that is coming to the Church of Christ in Korea through the inadequacy of our staff and equipment that they have suggested the handing over of one of our central stations with its surrounding territory to some other church unless immediate reinforcement can be sent:

Whereas, the Eastern Section of the Board feel themselves unable, single-handed, to cope with the situation in the southern part of the field for which they are immediately responsible, and the Western Section of the Board need the help of the experienced missionaries, sent out by the Eastern Section of the Board, in occupying the newer fields to the north:

The joint Board request the General Assembly to enact as follows:

(1) That meanwhile no portion of the field at present under the care of our Church be surrendered.

(2) That in view of the critical situation in Korea the two sections of the Board be instructed to unite in the care of the whole field and that the Church, East and West, assume responsibility for the whole work in Korea.

(3) That the Eastern and Western Sections of the Board together be instructed to bring this urgency in Korea before the whole Church with a view to providing such additional workers and equipment as the gravity of the situation and our responsibility under the Comity of Missions demand.

(4) That the two sections of the Board acting jointly during the year report to the next General Assembly upon the whole situation with any recommendations they may think necessary in regard to the furtherance of the work or the matter of administration.

4. That the General Assembly urge the duty of more earnest entreaty that the Lord of the harvest will send forth labourers, and call upon the younger men of our Church to give more earnest consideration to the wide open doors of opportunity in India and China and to the emergency created by the rapid expansion of the work in Korea.

5. That Synods' and Presbyteries' Foreign Mission Committees plan more definitely to inform congregations regarding the work in the foreign fields and endeavour to enlist all our people in intelligent prayer and service for the extension of Christ's Kingdom in those lands for which the Presbyterian Church in Canada is primarily responsible.

6. That cordial greetings and fraternal good wishes be sent by this Assembly to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in India, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Korea, and the Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Formosa.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE, HALIFAX, 1912-1913.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The ninety-third session of the Presbyterian College, Halifax, has been a most successful one. During the past year, as also during the year which immediately preceded it, there have been neither changes in the staff nor in the general management of the College, the health of the professors and students has been good, the work done by principal, professors and lecturers has been appreciated, the attention of the matron to the comfort of the students has been most assiduous, her watchfulness against all unnecessary expenditure has gained the approval of all, and the House and Property Committee has continued to render most valuable service in watching so carefully over the building, and looking so thoroughly after every thing needed for the welfare of the students. Under these circumstances the Board feels that it itself, and the Church at large, has much reason for great thankfulness to the Head of the Church for the many blessings enjoyed during the year that has just closed.

From the point of view of the financial condition of the College Fund, the past year has been most gratifying. The debt on the Fund has not, indeed, been swept away, but it has been reduced by $916.99, though the amount received from congregations was $375.94 less than that of the previous year. The debt now stands at $2,486.80.

The Sub-Committee of the Board in charge of the Bursary Fund reports that the receipts from congregations have been $1,640.79 from donations, $1,477.92, from interest $972.13, thus realizing a total of $4,090.84, making it the record year in this department of the work of the College. For the generosity of the Church during the past year and of its individual members towards the support of the College, this Board, and it thinks the Church as a whole gives humble and hearty thanks.

The Board feels that it may be well at this point to recall the fact that at last Assembly it was reported that the Board was considering the prospect of enlarging the Residence for the accommodation of the additional students that were likely to come forward in preparation for the work of the ministry. It wishes now to state that for the present that plan has been abandoned and provision made for them by endeavouring to secure boarding houses, to the owners of which part of the amount required to pay for board was paid from the College Fund.

As in other years the receipts from our congregations during the past year for the Library Fund have been small, only $5.00, but from invested funds there has come interest to the amount of $347.25, while from collections taken at the opening and closing of the College, there has come $148.88, making a total in the amount of receipts for the Library Fund during the year of $501.13.

At the meeting of the College Board on April 24th, the question was brought up as to the propriety of increasing the salaries of the Professors, when, after careful consideration, it was unanimously agreed to recommend to the General Assembly that from March 1st, 1913, the salary of Principal McKinnon should be $3,000.00 per annum, and that each of the other three Professors receive $2,500 per annum.

The Board has much pleasure in stating to the Assembly that the family of the late Dr. R. F. Burns has sent to the Board a cheque for $1,500.00 for the purpose of founding a Bursary to commemorate the name of the late Robert Ferrier Burns.

The following minute was adopted at the same meeting of the Board:—

"Dr McCurdy intimated to the Board that while he is deeply grateful to God for the excellent health which he has enjoyed for the past three years and at the present time, yet he feels that the time is near when he ought to resign the position of Agent, which he has now held for more than thirteen years, and that he proposes to do so at the end of the present year.

"The members of the Board expressed their high appreciation of Dr. McCurdy's work, but in view of the opinion expressed by himself it was agreed to report his proposal to the General Assembly, and ask it to remit the matter to the Synod with power to select and appoint a successor, to take office at such time as may be deemed expedient."

All which is respectfully submitted.

John McMILLAN,
Chairman.

MORRIN COLLEGE REPORT.

For some years, as the Church well knows, Morrin College has ceased to discharge the immediate duties of an educational institution and the responsibility resting upon the Board of Governors is to administer the funds of the defunct college according to the will of the testators. The original funds were so depleted, owing to the expenses incurred during the latter years of the active life of the college, that only recently has the principal reached its original amount.

According to the expressed desires of the testators the income from this amount is being expended for educational purposes within the Province of Quebec. The Boys High School of Quebec city receives an annual grant which makes it possible for that institution to carry on its work. Three scholarships are given to the Presbyterian College, Montreal; a grant to the Literary and Historical Society of Quebec City; a grant towards the local expenses of the immigration work of our own church; a small grant to Sabbath School work in Quebec, and the inauguration of a lecture course in the College Hall which, though irregular, has nevertheless been a stimulus to the intellectual life of the city. Owing to the increased capital which the board desires should now no longer accumulate serious consideration is being given to the educational needs of Quebec province, especially with a view to the assistance of lads with the ministry in view.

Assembly's representative on Morrin College Board.

THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE, MONTREAL.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT FOR THE YEAR 1912-13.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The Board of Management of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, begs leave to present the following report for the year 1912-1913, and transmits herewith the Report of the Senate.

The attendance of students has been one of the largest in the history of the institution, there being eighty-four enrolled in the various classes. The graduating class numbered eight, of whom two are French speaking.

The financial statement annexed shows that the Endowment Fund has been increased by the amount of $7,203.17 during the year. Owing to the increased cost of maintenance in all directions, the annual expenditure has again considerably outrun the revenue, and the accumulated deficit now amounts to $24,950.74. Instead of the $13,000 asked for in the budget, the sum of $5,057.58 was received from the congregations of the Church. It is quite evident that this amount must be materially increased in the future if the College is to make ends meet.

As authorized by the last General Assembly, the work of the College has been conducted during the past session according to the plan of co-operation arranged with the three other Theological Colleges in Montreal affiliated to McGill University, the details of which are given in the Report of the Senate. This arrangement does not in any way affect the autonomy, the discipline, or the financial independence of the College, but provides that all of the students in the four colleges who are taking the same subject shall study together in the same classes and that the professors of all four shall be available for instruction. This has made it possible to grade the students much more completely than heretofore, and for the professors to limit themselves to a much narrower range of subjects. The distribution of the work is as yet of course somewhat provisional, but on the whole the plan has been eminently satisfactory and gives promise of working out even more advantageously in the future. The Faculties of all the colleges are in favour of continuing the plan with a few minor modifications which do not change its character, and the Board would recommend that the Presbyterian College be authorized to continue in the arrangement until otherwise ordered.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID MORRICE,
Chairman.

REPORT OF QUEEN'S THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The Board of Management of Queen's Theological College beg to submit the following report for session 1912-13.

After ten years of faithful and valuable service, Principal Gordon retired from the position of Primarius Professor of Divinity, on the separation of the Faculty of Theology from Queen's University, and its incorporation as Queen's Theological College. The vacancy thus created was filled on 12th September, 1912, by the appointment, subject to the Assembly's approval, of Rev. William Morgan, D.D., Tarbolton, Scotland, to be Professor of Systematic Theology and Apologetics. His induction by the Presbytery of Kingston took place in Convocation Hall on 23rd October, 1912, when he delivered his inaugural lecture on "The Nature of Revelation." Dr. Morgan's work during the session gives good ground for believing that he will prove a great strength to the teaching staff, sustain the reputation as a Theologian which he had acquired in the Old Land.

ATTENDANCE.

Thirty-two students were registered. In the first year seven, nine in the second, eleven in the third, and five who pursued post-graduate work extramurally. These five were Rev. A. V. Brown, B.A.; Rev. W. H. Burgess, B.A.; Rev. C. B. Pitcher, B.A., B.D.; Rev. R. H. Raney, B.A., and Rev. H. W. Reeds, M.A.

One member of the final year year class has been unable, on account of ill-health, to complete his course, so that only ten are making application to be taken on trial for license. W. A. Beecroft, B.A.; D. A. Ferguson, B.A.; D. E. Foster, B.A.; C. A. Mullin, B.A.; F. L. Macdonald, B.A.; R. M. McTavish, B.A.; N. M. Omond, M.A.; P. T. Bilkey, M.A.; J. C. Robinson; P. U. Sinclair.

Between sixty and seventy students in Arts purpose taking the Course in Theology and devoting themselves to the work of the Christian ministry. About twenty of these are looking forward to beginning their professional studies next session. In common with all Canadian colleges, Queen's during the past few years has had to face the discouraging fact, that so few have been offering themselves as candidates for the highest service in which it is a man's privilege to engage. But there is ground for believing that better days are about to dawn, when the call of the Master for labourers into His harvest will receive a larger response from the young men of the Church. It might help to increase the number who would consecrate themselves to this service if our ministers were occasionally to call the attention of their congregations earnestly and affectionately to this matter so vital to the Church.

HEBREW AND OLD TESTAMENT CRITICISM.

Dr. Jordan reports:—The two classes, Junior and Senior Hebrew, have the position of regular University classes and may be taken as part of the work for an Arts Degree. These classes each receive three hours per week teaching. Professor Jordan meets the Senior classes once a week, but the bulk of the strictly linguistic work is done by Professor H. T. Wallace. The portions of Scripture prescribed in the Calendar are read in the class and lectures are given on the grammar; each student is required to hand in weekly exercises on Hebrew composition. This session twelve students registered in the Junior class, one being an extra-mural student; of the other eleven, one was taking Theology and ten the Arts course. In the Senior, seven were in attendance and two extra-mural students; of these in attendance six were Theological students.

The regular Pass Course in Old Testament Criticism and Exegesis consisted of three hours per week, one hour each being devoted to Criticism, Exegesis and Theology. The hour in Criticism (on Introduction) was this session devoted to the study of the Pentateuch, an examination of the growth and present position of the Documentary Theory. In Exegesis, specimens of the different Documents were read, mainly from the Book of Genesis. A course of lectures was also given in early Hebrew religion. Students of the First and Second Year were required to prepare an essay on the structure, contents and religious significance of the Book of Deuteronomy. The students of the Third Year presented "A Hebrew Critical" on important passages assigned to them earlier in their course. Several of these gave evidence of careful study and satisfactory scholarship.

HONOUR COURSE.

Two hours per week teaching was given to this class; attendance is optional and the work prepares for subjects in the B.D. Course. This year there were four students in regular attendance, three of the Final and one of the Second Year. The greater part of the time was devoted to the reading of the text and the study of the critical and historical questions connected with the "Primitive History," Gen. I, III. Professor H. T. Wallace gave a short series of lectures on the Aramaic Dialect, and each student prepared an essay on the Book of Daniel.

ENGLISH BIBLE CLASS.

Before Christmas a lecture on the "Structure of Genesis" was given by Dr. Wallace and a number of weekly lectures by Dr. Jordan on the "Modern Interpretation" of Ancient Hebrew Narratives. This is an open voluntary class and there was a fair attendance of University students.

NEW TESTAMENT CRITICISM AND EXEGESIS.

Dr. Scott reports thus:—An attempt has been made to arrange the work of the class in such a manner that students should obtain some knowledge of the whole field of New Testament literature in the course of their three years' attendance. In the two previous sessions the class was occupied with the Synoptic Gospels and the Epistles of Paul. The session that has just closed was devoted to the study of the literature of the later Apostolic age. At two of the four weekly meetings of the class, the Epistle to the Ephesians, the Epistles of James and John, and the seven letters in Revelation were read exegetically, with special attention to their teaching, and their bearing on historical and critical questions. On the other two days several courses of lectures were given on the criticism of the late New Testament books, and on the various types of theology for which they stand. The students were regular in attendance, and followed the work with interest and intelligence.

A class for students who intend to proceed to the B.D. Degree was held once a week, at which the Epistle to the Hebrews was read exegetically and critically. During part of the session the Professor conducted a class for the study of the English Bible, open to University as well as to Theological students. This class allows for the discussion of New Testament subjects in a less technical manner than is possible in the strictly Theological course.

PRACTICAL THEOLOGY.

Professor Laird reports that in this Department courses of lectures were given on Pastoral Care, with special reference to the personal aspect of the minister's work; Religious Education, including a discussion of the modern Sunday School, its curriculum, teacher training, etc., and the relation of the Church to Social Problems. The attention of the class was most satisfactory.

The sermons and expository lectures required gave evidence of much earnest and intelligent work. According to the custom of recent years members of the class conducted services and preached in the churches of Kingston. We are again greatly indebted to the clergymen of the city for making possible this valuable feature of our work.

CHURCH HISTORY AND HISTORY OF DOGMA.

Professor Dall reports that during the session in the ordinary class a course of between sixty and seventy lectures was given, dealing with the history of the Mediæval Church, from Leo the Great to Leo X, including some reference to the history of Doctrine in that period. A written examination was held at the end of the first term, and in the course of the session an essay was written on Anselm's "Our Deus Homo." The work done in this class was decidedly better than uusal.

In the Honours Department, a course of weekly lectures was given on the early part of Lightfoot's Apostolic Fathers—this class counting as part of the B.D. work in the Department.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY AND APOLOGETICS.

Dr. Morgan reports as follows:—Among the subjects treated in this class were the Doctrine of Faith, the Doctrine of Revelation, the Doctrine of Holy Scripture, the Relation Between the Historical Revelation and Continuous Revelation, the Conception of the Supernatural and of Miracle, the Genesis and Constitution of Christian Doctrine, and the Question of Authority in Religion.

To these subjects two hours a week were devoted. The course formed an introduction to a study of the particular articles of the Christian faith.

Once a week lectures were given on the History of Religion, covering the religious ideas and customs of primitive peoples and the Hellenistic Mystery-Cults.

In connection with this class lectures on the Philosophy of Religion were given once a week by Professor Watson, of the University.

The students were regular in their attendance, and the examinations showed not only careful work, but also interest and reflection.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Mr. L. D. Fallis reports as follows:—The course in Public Speaking includes the study of the proper methods of breathing and of the fundamental mental and physical conditions for purity of tone, ease of production, etc.

The work has been made practical by the periodic delivery of sermonettes, and the reading of Scripture and of hymns by each member of the class, and criticisms for the correction of the common faults of delivery were made.

The interest manifested by the class has been very gratifying. This has been shown by the regular attendance and the faithful practice of exercises which has resulted in marked improvement in the delivery.

OTHER COURSES OF LECTURES.

1. Dr. John Watson, Vice-Principal of the University, and Gifford Lecturer at the University of Glasgow, 1910-11-12, lectured one hour a week on the Philosophy of Religion. His discussions on this important subject were much appreciated by the members of the class. Besides being a stimulus to their intellectual life, they helped to confirm their conviction of the abiding value of the fundamental doctrines of Christianity.

2. Rev. H. Roswell Bates, of Spring Street Presbyterian Church, New York, early in the second term, gave a series of graphic and interesting addresses based on his experience in settlement work in connection with his own church. He threw out many valuable suggestions as to the best methods of approaching and winning those who have become alienated from the Church, or have grown up in ignorance of the redemptive truths of the Christian faith. The detailed narratives of rescue of men and women from a life of moral degradation and sin served to strengthen faith in the Gospel as to the power of God unto salvation. Mr. Bates will continue his lectures on January 19th, 1914. The Board expresses its indebtedness to the generosity of John Penman, Esq., who has borne all expenses connected with Mr. Bates' service to the College.

3. A request was made by students in Arts who intended to engage in missionary work during the summer for the first time, and who felt their need of better equipment for such work, that some instruction might be given them which would prove helpful. The Faculty made arrangements to give them a brief course of addresses on such topics as the preparation of discourses, visitation, the organization of various religious activities, personal conduct among the people, etc. Dr. Jordan gave two addresses, and Principal Ross and Professors Laird, Dall and Wallace each gave one. At the close of each address opportunity to ask questions regarding points suggested by the discussion, or difficulties which had presented themselves, was given and taken advantage of with profitable results. The students expressed their gratitude to the members of the Faculty for the benefits they had received.

4. Rev. Dr. Bryce, the Assembly's first Lecturer on the James Robertson Memorial foundation, delivered four addresses on the planting and growth of the Church in our great Northwest country, and the pioneers in that work—Black, Nesbit and others, but especially Robertson, to whose Christian patriotism and self-sacrificing devotion the success of the Presbyterian Church in that vast region is due. He was listened to by large and interested audiences.

TRAVELLING SCHOLARSHIPS.

1. THE HUGH WADDELL.

At the close of last session, Mr. Rolland M. Waddell, Peterborough, founded in memory of his late father, Hugh Waddell, Esq., a Travelling Scholarship of the annual value of four hundred dollars, to be awarded to the student standing highest in all the work of the ordinary and B.D. courses of the Second and Third Years. The winner must spend a year in some college or university approved by the Faculty.

2. THE LEITCH MEMORIAL, NO. 2.

This Scholarship, of the value of $250, founded in his memory by friends of the late Principal Leitch in Scotland and Canada, will be awarded every third year to the student who takes the second highest standing in all the ordinary and B.D. courses of the Second and Third Years. The first award will be made in April, 1914.

THE ALUMNI CONFERENCE.

Immediately preceding the opening of the session, the 21st Annual Meeting of the Theological Alumni Association was held. The attendance was good, and the papers read, and the discussions thereon, were of a high order. Professor Scott, Chancellor's Lecturer, delivered four lectures on the Beginning of the Church. These were of great value, and were much appreciated. Vice-Principal Watson, and Professors A. S. Ferguson and H. T. Wallace represented the Staff of the University on the programme, and they, as well as Mr. N. K. Rowell, K.C., and Professors Macnaughton, of McGill, and H. T. Duckworth, of Trinity, made valuable contributions to the work of the Conference.

The conviction found general expression that it was the best meeting in the history of the Association. A first draught of the programme for the Conference of 1913 has been issued. The subjects announced are of special interest, and their consideration should give a quickening impulse to thought. Professor Callander is to be Chancellor's Lecturer, and his subject will be "The Passing of Paganism in the Eastern Roman Provinces," based on his explorations there with Sir William Ramsay.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE.

During the first term a most successful Missionary Conference, extending over three days, was held. Besides the students in Theology, a large number of students taking the Arts classes attended the meetings. A deep impression was made upon them by the earnest and inspiring addresses of Miss Dr. McKellar, Dr. M. McKenzie, and Rev. J. B. Cropper, British Guiana. The visit and message of these honoured missionaries will long be remembered as a precious privilege.

BOARD OF MANAGEMENT.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT OF KNOX COLLEGE.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The Board of Management of Knox College has the honour to present to the General Assembly its Sixty-ninth Annual Report.

From the report of the Senate herewith transmitted it will be seen that there has been a considerably increased attendance over that of last year. Fourteen students who have completed their course received their diplomas. The Board observes with much pleasure that of the graduating students, ten hold degrees in Arts. The names of the graduating class will be found in the Report of the Senate. The Board has much satisfaction in reporting that about 100 young men, students in Arts, are looking forward to the ministry of the Church. During the past session forty-five students took the work in Theology.

The Board is pleased to report that in addition to the regular course of instruction given to the students in connection with the Deaconess Home, evening classes have been opened by the professors for the benefit of Sunday School teachers, male and female. These classes have been well attended and the result cannot fail to enure to the benefit of our Sunday Schools.

The unexpected laying aside of Professor Ballantyne and Professor Kilpatrick by serious indisposition created much embarrassment to the Faculty, in view of the approach of the opening of the session. Arrangements were, however, made which permitted of the work of the session being proceeded with without interruption. The Rev. Arthur S. Morton, B.D., Mr. George C. D. Kilpatrick, B.A., Professor R. P. B. Bowles, D.D., of Victoria College, and Rev. Professor Griffith Thomas, D.D., of Wycliffe College, and Professor Robertson and Professor Law, kindly gave their most valuable assistance in taking the work of the absent Professors. The lectures of these gentlemen were greatly appreciated by the students. The thanks of the Board are cordially tendered to them, and specially to Dr. Griffith Thomas and Dr. Bowles, who, while engaged in their professional duties in colleges of other communions, cheerfully gave their willing aid to the College in the crisis in which it unexpectedly found itself.

The income of the College for the past year derived from congregational contributions amounted to $13,648; from investments to, $10,146.04; and from other sources to, $87. Total, $23,881.04.

The disbursements for maintenance account amounted to $29,940.56. This leaves a deficit for the past year of $6,059.52, which added to the accumulated arrears of the past years, shows an accumulated debit balance as at 28th February of $14,520.07 This situation greatly concerns the Board and calls for the serious consideration of the Church.

The deficit of the past year is largely accounted for by the Auditor having required that no credit be taken for interest accruing due on investments as in former statements, but only for moneys actually received. The expense arising from the absence of two professors has formed a considerable charge on revenue.

Satisfactory progress is being made in the erection of the new College building. The Board sought to cut down the cost of the structure in every possible way but found that the reductions proposed would very seriously affect the convenience of the building and materially destroy the architectural effect of the structure. The $300,000 originally asked from the Church when the erection of the new college was proposed has been subscribed. From the great rise, however, in the cost of material and labour the amount of the expenditure originally contemplated will be increased by about $100,000.

The Board trusts that as it is not building for to-day only, it will be supported in making our College edifice worthy of the Church and the position it occupies in connection with the University of Toronto.

The amount received for the Building Fund is as follows: Moneys received from all sources, including $40,000, part payment of old College building, $182,859.24; the amount expended up to 28th February, 1913, has been $116.737.74.

The Board has great pleasure in reporting that Lord Strathcona, who promised a subscription of $25,000 to the Building Fund, payable when $375,000 had been subscribed, did not wait for the performance of the condition, but has paid his subscription in cash.

As no agent is now employed, and extra responsibility rested upon the Principal this past session on account of the absence through illness of two professors, little was done to follow up the canvass. It is hoped, however, that a vigorous effort will be put forth this year, and that the whole amount needed will be subscribed before the buildings are completed.

The Board desires to express its sympathy with Professors Ballantyne and Kilpatrick in their illness and is encouraged to hope that they will be able to resume their duties at the beginning of next session.

All which is respectfully submitted.

WM. MORTIMER CLARK,
Chairman.

Toronto, May 12, 1913.

KNOX COLLEGE SESSION, 1912-1913—REPORT OF SENATE.

During the past session the staff of Knox College has been greatly crippled by the absence of Professor Ballantyne and Professor Kilpatrick through illness. Both had been unwell last summer, but both returned to College last autumn hoping to take up their work. It was soon evident, however, that this could not be, and the Board granted them leave of absence for a year. Highly as we prized the person and work of these men, we never quite realized their worth to the College until we had to face the College Session without them.

But no Institution could have been more fortunate in the securing of substitutes. The entire work in Church History has been taken by the Rev. Arthur S. Morton, B.D., who responded to our call, and, at a moment's notice, came to us from Britain where he was pursuing special studies in Church History. Mr. Morton has proved himself an unusually interesting and most effective teacher, and has won the respect and affection of professors and students.

In Professor Kilpatrick's department of Systematic Theology, the first year course, Evangelism and Present Day Errors, has been taken by his son, Mr. George G. D. Kilpatrick, B.A., who graduated last year, winning the travelling scholarship. Mr. Kilpatrick leaves this spring for Germany to continue his studies. The second year course—the Doctrine of God, of Man, and the Person and Work of Christ—has been taken by Professor Robertson, and by Professor R. P. Bowles, D.D., of Victoria College. The third year course, the Doctrine of the Holy Spirit and the Doctrine of the Church, has been taken by Professor W. H. Griffith-Thomes, D.D., of Wycliffe College, and Professor Law. The Senate of Knox College are greatly indebted to Professor Bowles and Professor Griffith-Thomas for the valuable help rendered in our time of need. The fine spirit of these men has been equalled only by the quality of their work.

The other departments of study have been conducted as in former years. Professor Robertson—Apologetics (including the Comparative Study of Religion) Individual and Social Ethics, Homiletics. Professor Davidson—Old Testament Literature, History and Exegesis, also the Theology and Ethics of Judaism. Professor Law—New Testament Literature and Exegesis, the Theology of the New Testament and the Social Teaching of Jesus. The Principal conducted the classes in Pastoral Theology, and the training of men for the practical duties of the ministry. The relation of the ministry to the industrial problems of our time, and such present-day vices as drunkenness, gambling, and the social evil, were carefully considered. The Principal also conducted the classes in the English Bible for under-graduates of the University of Toronto. A goodly number of men are taking a four years' course in the New Testament as a Religious Knowledge Option for their B. A. Degree, and this has become an important feature of the work.

Elocution, including voice culture and public reading of the Scriptures, was under the supervision of Professor Frank H. Kirkpatrick, of the Toronto Conservatory. Special attention was given to men of the first year, who in addition to the weekly class, received private lessons fortnightly.

Through the continued kindness of Mr. John Penman, Mr. H. Roswell Bates, has been appointed Penman Lecturer for another term of three years. His presence with us for a week, his practical talks on city work, and his deep spiritual appeal, have been greatly appreciated as in former years.

We have this session been favoured with special courses of lectures from the Rev. J. C. Robertson, B.D., on "The Relation of the Pastor of the Sunday School," and from the Rev. John Macdougall, B.A., on "The Rural Problem and the Country Church."

It is evident that the practical training of students and their preparation to meet present-day conditions, is not being neglected in Knox College.

A new departure. It had been felt by many of those interested in the better equipment of our Sabbath School teachers for their work, and in the training of our Christian workers for more effective service, that a great need would be met if classes similar to those conducted in Knox College for the training of Deaconesses and Lady Missionaries, could be held in the evenings and be open alike to men and women. The members of Senate, anxious that the College should serve the Church and the community in fullest measure, arranged to open classes immediately after the New Year, two nights each week. With the assistance of the General Assembly's Committee on Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies, and the Board of Social Service and Evangelism, a course of twelve lectures was given in each of the following subjects. (1) Old Testament; (2) Christian Education; (3) New Testament; (4) Social Service. The classes were so arranged that persons giving up one night each week, would be able to take one hour in Bible study and one hour in practical training. Eighty-seven (87) students, a large proportion of them Sabbath School teachers were registered and attended the lectures with praiseworthy regularity. It is hoped to continue this work year by year and have a regular three-year course of study in a Knox College Training School for Christian Workers.

The students in the three years of the regular course are:

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT.

To the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The Board of Management of Manitoba College has the honour to present its forty-first Annual Report and to transmit the report of the Senate and the Annual Financial Statement.

The Board commemorates with affectionate regret the death of the Rev. Thomas Hart, D.D., who became a member of the College staff a few months after its foundation and who gave the greater part of his active life to its service. He was a man of scholarly instincts, a complete master of the subjects he taught, and of painstaking thoroughness as a teacher. He made a deep impression on the generations of students whom he introduced to the beauties of classical literature, but undoubtedly the deepest and most abiding impression he left behind was that of a noble and gentle Christian character. His former students, his fellow professors and his fellow-members on this Board will long cherish his memory. Dr. R. A. MacLean, Lecturer in Classics, resigned his position during the year and his place has been taken by Mr. F. E. Gane, B.A.

The College ever since its foundation has had a preparatory department, which did the work ordinarily covered in High Schools and Collegiate Institutes. In view of the recently multiplication in the West of schools for secondary education, and in view of the fact that the system of oversight and discipline suitable for theological and University students is not suitable for these junior scholars the Board has resolved to give up its preparatory department, and during the past session admitted no new candidates. There had been no diminution in attendance in this division, but the Board is satisfied that these young people can get better training and supervision in schools which devote themselves exclusively to this kind of work. The College reserves to itself the right to provide tutorial instruction for candidates for the Ministry of mature years who require special instruction in one or two subjects such as languages to enable them to enter upon the regular course.

In response to requests from parents and petitions from women students, the Board has converted the late Principal Patrick's house into a woman's residence. It has been fully occupied during the winter and its advantages are much appreciated.

The Board acknowledges with thanks the gift of 220 volumes from the library of the Rev. Dr. Geo. Bryce, the founder of the College; also the gift of forty-two volumes from the library of John H. Thom, Esquire, of Toronto, a sequel to many similar gifts from him.

During the year the College received a bequest of $25,000 from the estate of the late T. D. Smith, of Winnipeg, and a first payment of $10,000 on the bequest from the late Thomas Paterson, of Bowmanville, Ont. Out of these sums has been paid the cost of purchasing and equipping the Women's Residence. The remainder has been invested on behalf of the College by the Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

The deficit on revenue account which has been accumulating for three years has now increased to the serious sum of $10,588.00. This is due to the fact that the contributions formerly given by friends in Winnipeg have not been collected for the past three years. It is expected that an early effort will be made to wipe out these arrears.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WILLIAM WHYTE,
Chairman.

MANITOBA COLLEGE SENATE.

The Senate begs to present a report of the work done in the College during the past session.

It is a matter for regret that the work of the Session as in the previous years had to be carried on with an incomplete staff, but the ground was covered with some measure of efficiency partly by assigning new work to members of the Theological staff, partly by increased co-operation with Wesley College and partly by the generously given help of friends. Grateful mention is made of the Rev. David Christie, B.D., of Westminster Church, Winnipeg, who gave a course of lectures on the Epistle to the Ephesians, Rev. A. J. W. Myers, Ph.D., who lectured on Sunday School work and methods, and Rev. J. S. Woodsworth, B.A., of Winnipeg, on Social Problems in the Departments of Rural Life, Industrial Life, Immigration Work and Philanthropy. This series included twenty-two lectures, some given by Mr. Woodsworth himself, most by other experts in the various subjects discussed. There were also demonstration visits to various industrial and philanthropic institutions, and all co-ordinated and co-related by discussions over which Mr. Woodsworth presided.

The list of students in the regular Theological Course was as follows:—

The Degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred honoris causa on the Rev. Robert Haddow, B.D., of Toronto, and on the Rev. Chas. H. Stewart, of Winnipeg. The Degree of Bachelor of Divinity was conferred on Rev. Hislop Dickson, M.A., Rainy River, who passed successfully the examination required for the Degree and presented a thesis on the relation between Christianity and Socialism.

The list of students in the Minister-Evangelist Course was as follows:—

Fifth Year.—L. A. Bygrave, P. M. Colquhoun, Alex. Grant, W. S. E. Inglis, R. H. Lowry, C. K. Nicoll, J. W. McKillop.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE, SASKATOON.

To the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada:

The Board of Management of the Presbyterian Theological College, Saskatoon, respectfully submits to the General Assembly its first annual report.

The number of students in the University of Saskatchewan looking forward to the Presbyterian Ministry is twenty-eight. During the year bursaries have been raised to assist in defraying their expenses. The Board has let the contract for the erection of a College Building to cost $55,000 on a site furnished by the University.

The College Board has been incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the Province of Saskatchewan.

The Board is convinced that a Principal for the College should be appointed at an early date. Towards this end the Presbyterian congregations of Saskatoon have agreed to provide the sum of $4,000.

The Assembly is requested to authorize the Board to make provision for instruction in the first year of a Theological course as soon as satisfactory arrangements can be made.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

EDMUND H. OLIVER,
Secretary.

Saskatoon, April, 1913.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT OF ROBERTSON COLLEGE

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The Board of Management of Robertson College begs to submit the following report:—

Robertson College has completed its second session, and its first full year in Theology, and is enabled to record another year of progress.

STAFF.

Availing itself of the privilege granted by the last Assembly, the Board appointed as temporary teacher, Rev. R. A. King, D.D., late Principal of Indore College, India, in Apologetics and Old Testament, and Rev. Louis A Wood, Ph.D., in Church History and New Testament, both of whom served the College faithfully. Dr. Geo. Bryce, Dr. Myers and Mr. J. R. Lavell gave special lectures, which were much appreciated.

TEMPORARY ACCOMMODATION.

Our accommodation this session, though double what it was last session, is still inadequate, and the Board has decided to build a third temporary college-house.

PERMANENT BUILDING.

In this undertaking the Board was delighted last winter to welcome the masterly assistance of Dr. A. S. Grant, who initiated a campaign for a generous endowment and building fund. The Board hopes to be able to report the successful completion of this campaign to the next Assembly.

CO-OPERATION WITH ALBERTA METHODIST COLLEGE.

In accordance with the instruction of the Assembly of 1912, co-operation in teaching has been arranged for next session with the Alberta Methodist College, with the unanimous approval of the Boards of both colleges. The staff will consist of seven instructors in Theology, and in the meantime teaching will be carried on in the Methodist College.

NOMINATION TO TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT.

As co-operation is still an experiment, the Board deems it wise not to make any nomination to a permanent post; but has much pleasure in nominating Rev. R. A. King, D.D., late of Indore, to the position of Apologetics and Comparative Religion for 1913-14. In the event of Dr. King's declining the position, the Board requests the Assembly to give it permission to make any necessary temporary arrangements for next session.

EXTRAMURAL TEACHING.

This branch of the work, though difficult, has special encouragements. Five of our students have entered some college. For four others application is being made by their Presbyteries for standing. In view of the extent of this work and the general growth of the College, the Board supports the resolution of the Senate, asking that the Budget grant to Robertson College for 1913 be $15,000, and recommends that this request be referred to the Finance Committee for favourable consideration.

EXTENSION TEACHING.

The extension teaching begun by Dr. A. J. W. Myers was well received, and ought to be encouraged. The Board endorses the application of the Senate for his reappointment, if possible, for a longer and more extended course. The Board is convinced that others, in addition to the regular candidates for the ministry, might profit by the instruction of the staff.

J. A. McDOUGALL,
Chairman.

A. F. EWING,
Secretary-Treasurer.

REPORT OF SENATE OF ROBERTSON COLLEGE.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The number of students in attendance during the session was 28, a most gratifying number for the second session, and affording some indication of the responsibilities which Robertson College will be called on to assume very early in her history.

The students were classified as follows:—

THEOLOGY.—FIRST YEAR.

A. L. Carr, B. A., E. Stanley Farr, B.A., Harold Appleton, Thomas Murphy.

The Assembly is being asked to determine the standing of James Fairweather and W. A. Greer, by the Presbyteries of Calgary and Edmonton respectively. Both students took classes in Theology.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS.

Victor Leese, G. S. Drummond, M. S. Kerr, M. McLean, W. Thomson, James Fulton, Geo. B. McKean, G. B. Kirkpatrick, Thos. Sneddon, Alex. Hurd, W. B. Hunter.

MATRICULATION CLASS.

E. Beamish, E. J. L. Bisson, Nicholas Kuzieu (Ruthenian), J. Rostoscky (Ruthenian), John Graham, J. Stewart, Alex. Ogston, Wm. Turner, R. F. Parker, W. Morrison, George Wright.

The Preparatory work is being reduced by the willingness of the University to conduct classes in Elementary Latin and Greek. It is the aim of the College to have every student matriculate and pursue regular University studies. The University sets a special Matriculation examination at the end of April for the students of Alberta Methodist College and of Robertson. This is both a great convenience and a decided incentive.

SPECIAL LECTURES.

Rev. Dr. Bryce delivered the Robertson Memorial series, and his presentation of the Foreign problem aroused keen interest among the students.

Mr. John R. Lavell, B.A., barrister, of Edmonton South, gave a series of three very interesting and illuminating lectures on "Early Civilizations."

We are particularly indebted to the Sunday School and Young People's Committee for the assistance rendered the College by Rev. A. J. W. Myers, Ph.D., in the Department of Religious Education. His lectures extended over six weeks, and the Senate was so impressed with the value of his course that a request is being made for a three months' course next session.

During the past session the work of the various departments has been carried on as follows:—

Systematic Theology .....Principal Dyde.
English Bible, History of Doctrine and Homiletics....Prof. J. M. Millar.
Apologetics, Old Testament and Hebrew.....Dr. R. A. King.
Church History and New Testament .....:Dr. Louis A. Wood.
The Matriculation classes were also conducted by the professors.

PRIZES AND SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Senate desires to call the Assembly's attention to the list of Scholarships, to the value of $385.00. As no student is permitted to hold two Scholarships a relatively large number of students receive at least some addition to their painfully slender income.

SCHOLARSHIP LIST.

The Condell in Psychology of Religion (University Class)—$50.00—A. L. Carr, B.A.

The Mrs. A. C. Rutherford in Church History—$50.00—T. Sneddon.

EXTRA-MURAL WORK.

Eighteen students, representing the four Western Provinces, registered in this department and prosecuted various courses of study. The words of gratitude that frequently come to members of the Faculty lead us to feel that in many cases Study by Correspondence is proving to be a genuine stimulus to further attainment. One hundred and ten essays, varying in length from four sheets of foolscap to twenty-seven, were examined by the professors during the session.

LIST OF EXTRA-MURAL STUDENTS.

Hugh Graham, James Greer, Robert Stevenson, Harry Cox, W. G. Paterson, Robert H. Lyttle, Duncan Black, E. A. Grant, Neil McPhedran, N. C. Bater, William McCloy, James Kelly, C. Fennimore, Thos. H. Hewitt, O. G. Brooks, W. J. Kelley, James K. McKean, Wm. T. Cromb.

A Scholarship of the value of $50.00 was given by Mr. J. A. McDougall to Mr. W. J. Kelley, of Buchanan, Sask., for the finest work as a Correspondence Student during the session.

THE RAPID EXPANSION OF ROBERTSON.

The Senate was so impressed with the remarkably rapid growth of the College that it felt constrained to express the hope that an opportionment of at least $15,000.00 might be granted from the Budget for next session. The attendance has with a bound exceeded the most sanguine expectations. The extra-mural phase of the College's instruction seems capable of indefinite expansion, and might very profitably be extended to many remote frontier settlements where our missionaries and Sunday School teachers are keeping up their gallant fight for Christ and His Church.

Adequate support is necessary if we are to keep pace with our unusual opportunities.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT OF WESTMINSTER HALL.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The Board of Management of Westminster Hall has the honour to present its fifth annual statement, together with that of the Senate.

The past year has been one of gratifying progress. The work in the Preparatory Department has been exceptionally good, and the number of students in Arts is increasing. Some of the men who began with us in the Preparatory Department are entering our Theological classes this year. The number studying Theology has also increased.

The Ladies Auxiliary has been untiring in its work for the institution, and has expended $600 this year in new furnishings and upkeep.

The Board desires to acknowledge the special liberality of the friends of the College this year, which enables it to report a credit balance after meeting all current liabilities, at a time when the financial stringency and the difficulty of readjustment under the Budget scheme made provision for the College's growing needs particularly difficult.

The Board desires to express its profound sympathy with Principal MacKay in his recent bereavement and its sense of the irreparable loss the College has sustained in Mrs. Mackay's death.

Chairman.

REPORT OF THE OTTAWA LADIES' COLLEGE FOR 1912-13.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The Board is pleased to be able to report a successful session.

The epidemic of typhoid fever which prevailed in Ottawa during last summer and autumn affected the attendance of resident pupils considerably during the first term, but not to so great an extent as we feared. In the second term, there was a decided increase in the attendance and during the winter the attendance has been up to the measure of the capacity of the College.

That so many of our pupils returned shows proof of the confidence of our patrons in the management and oversight of the College. Registration: 61 resident and 125 day and special pupils. Total, 186.

The financial returns for the session are not complete at this date, but we have every reason to believe they will be satisfactory.

In many respects this has been an unusually eventful year in the history of the College.

Under permission of the General Assembly, the Board negotiated the sale of the present building and site for $100,000.

A new building is now in course of erection.

Owing to the expense attending the securing of a suitable site and the increase in the cost of all building materials, also the necessity of increasing the accommodation and above all the making of the building entirely fireproof, the new College will cost at least $40,000 more than the amount to be received for the old one.

The Board therefore asks permission to amend the charter so that an amount not exceeding $50,000 may be secured by mortgage on the property.

The Board hopes that at no distant date some endowments may be secured such as other similar institutions enjoy.

The new building will place the College in a position unsurpassed by any Ladies' College in Canada, and will be a financial and educational asset of which the Presbyterian Church may justly be proud.

G. L. ORME,
Secretary.

W. D. ARMSTRONG,
President.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGEMENT OF THE CHURCH AND MANSE BUILDING FUND OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA FOR MANITOBA AND THE NORTH WEST, FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEBRUARY 28TH, 1913.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Seventy-two applications for help to build Churches and Manses were submitted to the Board during the year. Sixty of these were for loans and twelve for grants; fifty to help build Churches and twenty-two to help build Manses. The sum asked in loans is:—

Loans	$41,050 00
Grants	2,000 00
Total	$43,050 00

The sum actually promised, would, if all claimed, amount to $36,950.00. On the other hand, the funds actually available to meet payments on these loans and grants was:—

Balance in bank at the beginning of the year	$12,057 44
Receipts on loans	16,456 05
Gift from Rock Lake Presbytery	171 75
Total	$28,685 24

That is $8,264.76 less than the sum promised in loans and grants.

Two considerations tend to justify the Board in promising so much. 1. Experience has shown that a good many of the loans and grants promised in the one year are not claimed till the following year, and some of them are never claimed.

2. And much more important, up till late in the season, the Board seeing that there was a good crop throughout the country generally, fully anticipated that collections on loans should reach as high a mark as ever in the past, that is about $24,000.00. Even this sum is a small percentage of that over due.

A wet harvest, delaying the harvest work, followed by a grain blockade which prevented the wheat already threshed from reaching the market, changed the prospect and necessitated a larger overdraft at the bank than had been anticipated. In addition to this, the Board felt compelled in two instances to pay out large sums to save property from being lost to the Church. The result is, as will be seen in the Financial Statement, an overdraft at the bank of $3,909.81 at the end of the year.

About two months ago on account of the state of the Fund the Board was constrained to cease promising loans and grants. This is much to be regretted, and all the more so because some congregations that had built hoping to receive loans to help them to meet payments, are finding themselves in real difficulty.

In the fall of 1881 after his first tour of Mission Fields as Superintendent of Missions, Dr. Robertson, feeling the necessity of "giving visibility to our cause," began a canvass for funds for building purposes. The Assembly of 1882 approved of his work, appointed the first Board of Management of the Church and Manse Building Fund, and prescribed the rules under which it was to work. The Board reported to the Assembly of 1883 that funds collected amounted to $20,903.54, that loans had been made to fourteen congregations, the loans amounting to $11,996.89. All the congregations mentioned are, with one exception, in the Province of Manitoba. While the oldest of the Prairie Provinces still gets its share of Building Fund, the centre of the Board's operations is moving gradually westward. For some years its greatest activity has been in Saskatchewan. Now Alberta seems about to take the leading place in this respect. And so, like as in our Mission Work, the centre of building activity moves ever westward.

The fourteen buildings in the erection of which the Board helped in its first year, have increased to 930—46 having been added to the number during the past year.

Your Board are convinced that the Department in which it is engaged is a very important part of Church work and it learns with much pleasure that the Church is planning better things for it.

In accordance with the direction of the General Assembly last year, the Board has made application to the Dominion Parliament for an Amendment to its Act of Incorporation with the intention of so widening the sphere of its operations that, if the Assembly so determines, it may cover the entire Dominion. There is reason to expect that, before the Assembly meets, the Amendment will have received the sanction of the Governor-General.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Signed in behalf of the board by

R. HILL MYERS,
Chairman.

JAMES FARQUHARSON,
Secretary-Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE AGED AND INFIRM MINISTERS' FUND.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The Committee begs to submit the Report for the year ending February 28th, 1913, which will be found to include full Financial Statements, covering both Ordinary and Capital Accounts, and such other items of information as will place the Assembly in possession of a knowledge of the Committee's work.

The Committee expresses great pleasure for the evidence of increased interest in the Fund on the part of congregations, evidenced by the gratifying increase in the contributions from that source of $3,262.76, over those of the previous year. In Interest from the Endowment there is a decrease of $898.05. Ministers' Rates also show a slight decrease of $22.08. This should not be so. This item should very largely increase from year to year, until all our ministers, whose ages will admit of their doing so, have become connected with the Fund. Congregations can scarcely be blamed for a lack of sympathy, when so many of the ministers in the Church show their own lack of interest by their failure to connect with the Fund by the payment of rates. It is almost certain to be the case, that in many instances, the time will come when deep regret will be experienced by ministers because of their failure to take advantage of the provision made for them by means of this Fund. There is reason to believe that there are many ministers who are now passing through that experience, when it is too late. One is inclined to ask where is the evidence of brotherhood on the part of so many ministers, who remain unconnected with the Fund. Even aside from the substantial benefit it furnishes, the sense of Christian helpfulness should lead all to join. It cannot surely be that the Divine principle of brotherhood is something for the pulpit only. Again, it may be asked, how far have Presbyteries been faithful to the order of the Assembly under which all ministers are required at ordination to connect with this Fund? It is to be feared that but little respect has been paid to the Assembly's reasonable decision.

The income for the year has again had the benefit of the substantial sum of $2,000 from the Hymnal Committee, for which the Committee expresses its sincere thanks.

The total income for the year was 43,561.11, making with the balance from the previous year of $500.54, $44,061.65. This enabled the Committee to pay the full annuities under the Rules, special grants and all other outgo, and carry the entire amount of Ministers' Rates to Capital, and leave a small balance in hand of $377.32.

The following Financial Statements will show the particulars connected with each:

With regard to the increase of the Endowment Fund, the Committee has to report that up to the time of its meeting on April 3rd, no active canvass had been made, though individuals had been approached and an appeal by the Convener had been issued through the Record and Church papers. Several subscriptions have been promised.

The Committee has fully realized that the financial conditions which have prevailed for some time introduces an element that may be prejudicial to securing the additional Endowment at the present time. It hopes, however, to be able, in a Supplemental Report to the Assembly, to report a measure of progress. At any rate, it is intended to make an effort and reach personally persons likely to respond. It had been the intention of the Convener to devote some time following the Assembly to a personal canvass, but circumstances beyond his control prevented. He hopes still to do something before the Assembly meets.

The Committee tenders its thanks to the representatives of the several estates through which legacies have come to the Fund.

The following, whose names appear in the above list, have been called to their rest:

Reverends A. F. McKenzie, D. H. Fletcher, D.D., Alex. Henderson, J. M. Cameron, Alex. Macdonald, George Crombie, R. P. Duclos, D. McGillivray, John Hay, D.D., E. W. Panton, E. Mullen, H. M. Parsons, D.D., Alex. Cameron, P. Lindsay, H. B. McKay, D. McKinnon, James Rosborough, J. K. Bearisto, and J. R. McDonald.

It should be explained that in the Report of the previous year there appears a payment of $100 to Rev. Robert Cumming, which is an error, as, while a cheque was issued in his name for that amount, he did not receive it, and had he received it, he would doubtless have returned it, as he did a previous cheque, as he had not retired from actual service. The cheque was cashed, his name being endorsed on it, though evidently not his writing, with the signature of another annuitant on it, who, no doubt, was the one who had it cashed. These facts have only come to the knowledge of the Convener recently, who feels sure it can be straightened out, and will be found to represent an overpayment of that amount to the annuitant who cashed it innocently.

The Committee has had to consider two cases of a somewhat unusual character, where the annuitants, both now residing in California, whose restored health had permitted them to undertake a small mission charge with a correspondingly small stipend. After careful consideration it was decided to allow half annuity while so engaged. The one case, that of Dr. Fortheringham, was reduced in the list now submitted; the other, that of Rev. J. H. Chase, will be reduced for the future, or so long as the engagement is continued.

With regard to the case of the Rev. Logie Macdonnell before last Assembly, and referred back to the Committee for consideration and decision, the Committee has agreed to allow an annuity of $200 as from last Assembly.

As the Convener has not had communication in regard to the cases of A. B. McLeod, of Souris, P.E.I., and W. M. Reid, of New Westminster Presbytery, to whom special grants were made last year, it is assumed that these brethren have been restored to health, and do not require a continuance of the grant.

APPLICATIONS FOR LEAVE TO RETIRE.

Applications for leave to retire from the active work of the ministry, either permanently, or for a time only, on account of ill-health, and be placed on the Fund with benefit, have been received from the following:

NAME.	PRESBYTERY.	AGE.	YEARS OF MINISTERIAL SERVICE.	REASON FOR RETIRING.
Wright, Peter, D.D.	Westminster	73	42 years	Age.
McIntyre, D.C., Ph.D.	Hamilton	68	32 "	Infirmity.
Carr, W. N.	Orangeville	43	7 " 6 mos.	"
Fraser, A.	Qu'Appelle	56	12 "	"
Wilkins, W. T.	Kingston	70	45 "	Age.
MacRae, Donald, D.D.	Victoria	68-4m.	35 "	Infirmity.
MacLennan F. A.	Maitland	70	36 "	Age.
Malcolm, James.	Saugeen.	57	27 " 6 mos.	Infirmity.
Lee, Archibald	Glengarry.	61	29 "	" (deafness)

Morison, David W	Montreal	71-6m	39 " 6 mos.	"
Meikle, Wm	Regina
Murray, John	Pr. Edward Is.	69-6m.	40 "	"

All of these brethren were connected with the Fund by the payment of rates. In the case of Rev. W. N. Carr, who has only given seven and a half years' of ministerial service, and has been obliged to retire through his health breaking down, his case is specially referred to the Assembly with recommendation that he be granted an allowance of $150 for each of two years, to be again considered at that time.

In regard to the applications of Revs. A. Fraser and James Malcolm, whose medical reports give hope that a season of entire rest will enable them to return to active work, it is recommended that they be each allowed $200 for two years, and to be then again considered.

In regard to all the others, it is recommended that they be allowed to retire and be placed on the Fund as annuitants, subject to Presbyterial action and Extract Minutes thereanent, in the case of S. Fisher, G. Munro, Dr. George Bryce, David Morison, and John Murray; and in the case of the Rev. Wm. Meikle for formal application for leave to retire and also for evidence of Presbyterial action. In this case only a telegram from Rev. H. R. Read, Clerk of the Presbytery of Regina, has been received.

Respectfully submitted,

J. K. MACDONALD,
Convener.

SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE AGED AND INFIRM MINISTERS' FUND

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Applications for leave to retire and draw benefit from the Fund having been received from the following ministers, after the regular report was printed, the Committee finds it necessary to present to the Assembly a Supplementary Report; otherwise these cases would have to stand over until the next meeting of Assembly. They are as follows:

Rev. A. McTavish: Presbytery of Brandon, aged 65, has given 29 years of ministerial service. Seeks retirement on the ground of affection of the eye. The Presbytery recommends retirement for one year with benefit.

The Committee approves and recommends accordingly, the case to be again cnsidered next year, if necessary.

Rev. J. F. McLaren: Crow's Landing, California. Presbytery of Owen Sound, age 61. Has given 31 years' ministerial service in the Canadian Church. Seeks retirement on the ground of ill-health.

All the papers affecting the case are regular and the ill-health fully established. The Committee recommends that retirement with benefit from the Fund be granted.

Rev. A. F. Thomson: Presbytery of Sydney, age 71. Has given 32 years' service following ordination in the Canadian Church. Reason for retiring, age.

The papers are regular, and the Committee recommends that he be permitted to retire with benefit from date of actual retirement.

Rev W. J. Hewitt: Presbytery of Montreal, aged 74. Has given 26 years of ministerial service. Has not paid rates.

This case requires further action on the part of the Presbytery.

The committee recommends that retirement with benefit be allowed when papers are cmpleted; benefit t attach from date of actual retirement.

Re the case of Rev. A. B. McLeod: Reference is made in the regular report to the case of the Rev. Mr. McLeod, of Prince Edward Island, who, on account of ill-health, has had benefit for some years. The following letter from him will probably prove of interest, while illustrating the good service rendered by the Fund in cases of this kind:

> "I write to say that I have taken an appointment under the Island Presbytery for six months, beginning work June 1st. I am thankful to say that my health has greatly improved and hope that I shall not trouble your Committee for some ten years at least. The benefit received from the Fund, of which you have the oversight, has lessened anxiety and in no small degree contributed to the improved condition in which I find myself. I am thankful to be a member of a Christian organization that comes to the financial rescue of the man who finds himself going under."

Correspondence has been had from Dr. McCurdy, Secretary of the Feoreign Mission Committee, Eastern Section, with regard to the retirement of Rev. Dr. Annand and Rev. Dr. McKenzie, missionaries from that branch of the Church, in the New Hebrides. These brethren have given long and faithful service for the Master in that distant and trying field, and well deserve such recognition on retirement as the Church has it in its power to give. Dr. Annand is in the 70th year of his age, and has given 40 years to the work. Dr. McKenzie is in his 68th year of age, and has been in the Mission for 41 years. No formal papers have yet been received, nor can evidences of Presbyterial action be very well obtained, under the circumstances.

It is recommended that those two cases be left with the Convener to deal with, and that he be authorized to accept Extract Minutes of the Foreign Mission Committee (Eastern Section) in place of those of a Presbytery, with annuity to date from July 1st of the present year.

Dr. McCurdy has also on behalf of the Foreign Mission Committee raised the question of the possibility of extending the benefits of the Fund, or of some similar Fund, to the Native Ministers in Trinidad. Definite information in regard to them has been asked for by the Convener, which there has not yet been time to obtain.

In the judgment of the Committee this will call for very careful consideration before coming to a conclusion, but must be left with the new Committee.

In regard to the case of the Rev. Dr. McIntyre, which is dealt with in the printed report, information was before the Special Meeting of the Committee, held to-day, which showed that it was one calling for special consideration. In view of the circumstances of the case, the Committee recommends that the Annuity be allowed to date back to October of last year.

The case of the Rev. Wm. Meikle, also included in the printed report, is one that likewise calls for special consideration. In view of the fuller statements which have come to hand since the former meeting of the Committee, it is recommended that years of Evangelistic services be allowed to count for annuity, with those of the pastorate.

Respectfully submitted,

J. K. MACDONALD,
Convener.

Toronto, June 6th, 1913.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE MINISTERS' WIDOWS AND ORPHANS' FUND (WESTERN SECTION), FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEBRUARY 28TH, 1913.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Your Committee on the Widows' and Orphans' Fund (Western Section), respectfully submits the following report for the past year:

The revenue from contributions by congregations was, $16,292; from royalty from the Hymnal Committee, $750; from interest on the Endowment Funds, $10,309.33; ministers' rates, $4,152.33. The total revenue for the year amounted to $31,503.66, from which was paid the usual annuity of $150 to the widows on the fund, and the usual allowance to children under 18 years of age.

The number of ministers who connected with the Fund during the year was 15. The total number now connected with it is 402. The number of widows on the Fund at this date is 134.

During the year the following annuitants were removed by death: Mrs. A. Bremner, M. Coutts, M. J. Crombie, C. Currie, M. E. Fraser, D. A. Irvine, J. Riddell, and E. Smith. Mrs. C. Campbell withdrew voluntarily; and there were added to the list of annuitants the following: Mrs. M. J. Crombie, P. E. Fletcher, J. R. Henderson, M. S. Parsons, A. Shaw, L. J. Shearer, and M. S. Thomson.

The revenue for the year has provided for all the annuities and expenses and has also provided an amount of $7,000 to be added to the Capital Account, which forms the reserve required to provide for future claims. The examination of the Fund shows that large additions should be made to the Reserve.

They have also appropriated the sum of $2,700.00, and have decided to grant to each annuitant a special bonus of $20, and they request the General Assembly to approve of their action in so doing.

To enable the Fund to be placed in a satisfactory condition so as to meet the requirements of the actuary, we should have an amount of not less than $160,000 added to the Capital Account. If this were done, and if the amount of $24,000 were received as our yearly allocation under the budget scheme, we would be able to increase the annuities, and this is greatly desired by your Committee.

In view of the urgent claims being made upon the Church at the present time in connection with the budget scheme and other important funds, the Committee hesitates to ask the Assembly at this time for leave to increase the endowment by another appeal to the Church, but they feel that, in the interest of the beneficiaries of the Fund, the matter should not be long delayed.

At the last General Assembly notice of motion was given requesting this Committee to prepare a scheme under which contributions for this Fund should be levied upon the whole membership of the Church so that the widows and orphans of every minister in the Church would be entitled to share in this scheme.

Although this notice of motion was not dealt with by the Assembly, your Committee have given some consideration to the matter. They have found that to have any intelligent conception of what would be involved in this proposal it would be necessary to obtain full particulars of age, marriage and other information relating thereto from every minister and ordained missionary in the Church, and thereafter an actuary would require to be employed to frame a scheme based upon these particulars. This would involve an expense that the Committee did not feel justified in incurring in the absence of explicit directions from the Assembly.

The proposal involves a complete change in the administration of the Fund, and as the present regulations were only recently adopted by the Church, after a very full discussion and report from every Presbytery, your Committee decided that, before any steps are taken looking towards a change in the basis on which the Fund is now administered, the matter should receive the fullest consideration of the Church. Prof. Mackenzie, of Toronto University, has given gratuitously much time and thought to the actuarial work which has been required from time to time in connection with this Fund, and your Committee asks the General Assembly to record its thanks to him for the generous and valuable service he has rendered.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. HENDERSON,
Convener.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE MINISTERS' WIDOWS' AND ORPHANS' FUND.

SYNOD OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES

The Committee of the Ministers' Widows' and Orphans Fund of the Synod of the Maritime Provinces beg leave to report as follows for the year ending February 28, 1913:—

Receipts.

Ministerial rates	$1,916 53
Congregational collections	386 50

Salaries, Secretary and Treasurer	400 00
Current expenses	117 53
Income over expenditure added to capital		$8,409 08

The assets of the fund at date are $208,775.02, as against $204,504.76 reported last year, showing an increase of $4,270.26. It is to be noticed that while, as above stated, the excess of income over expenditure is $8,409.08, the increase in the assets amounts only to $4,270.26. This is explained by the depreciation in value during the year of the securities held by the Fund, a depreciation which has been experienced by practically all securities of a similar kind.

During the year the following brethren have connected themselves with the Fund:—In Class I., Mr. G. W. Miller, Wolfville, N.S., and in Class II., Messrs. M. H. Manuel, Florenceville, N.B., P. LeBel, Pt. a la Garde, Que., D. K. Ross, Sunny Brae, N.S., and J. A. McKeigan, St. John, N.B.

As the Rules provide that there shall be an actuarial investigation of the Fund every fifth year, the duty of so doing was entrusted to Mr. A. B. Wood, Chief Actuary of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada. He submitted the Fund, as at date, February 28, 1911, to a very careful and exhaustive examination with the following result:—Assets $196,684.00, liabilities $155,746.00, showing a surplus of $40,936.00. As regards the disposal of this surplus, he reported further that the Committee might safely recommend the addition of fifteen per cent. to the annuities present and prospective. In the event of this being done, to provide for such an increase, an amount of $27,440.00 would be required. Deducting this from $40,936.00, there would be left to provide for possible contingencies, a final surplus of $13,496.00, which, in his judgment, should remain unappropriated, in order to the due safeguarding of the Fund. He concludes by stating as the result of his examination that —to use his own words—"the Fund is not only thoroughly solvent but in a very prosperous condition, and the result will naturally give great satisfaction to all interested in its welfare."

In this connection the Committee would respectfully submit one or two further statements.

The basis on which the Fund rests should be understood, as this is perhaps, to some extent misapprehended or forgotten. In 1881, and in consequence of the union of 1875, the Committees of the two Funds in the Maritime Provinces then existing, desirous of their amalgamation, applied to the Synod of the Maritime Provinces for advice as to the basis on which the amalgamated Fund should be formed.

In reply the Synod in effect declared that ministerial rates should be the basis, as indeed, from the beginning had been the case. On this basis, therefore, the existing scheme was formed, and was approved by the members, the Synod of the Maritime Provinces, and the General Assembly. It was finally embodied in an Act of the Parliament of Canada, and on this basis has continued till the present time. While all this is so, however, the Fund has never been, nor is it now, independent of outside sympathy and aid. It should be remembered and emphasized that the existing ministerial rates are far from being sufficient to provide the present scale of annuities. The satisfactory condition of the Fund, therefore, as above reported, does not warrant any relaxation of care and effort on its behalf. The continued and large-hearted, though spontaneous, liberality of our people is needed, in the future as in the past, to maintain it in full efficiency, and the Committee earnestly trusts that, under the Divine blessing, it will not be withheld.

The Committee, as will be seen, is recommending an increase of fifteen per cent. on all annuities. It may be thought by some, taking into account the large excess in recent years of income over expenditure, the increase of capital thence arising, and the satisfactory position of the Fund, that the annuities might have been more largely increased. To any who may thus think, the Committee would submit that because the assets have increased by a considerable amount, it does not, therefore, follow that the whole or the greater part of that increase must go to increase the surplus, out of which only any addition to the amount of annuities can properly be made. It should be considered that, along with the increase of assets, there is, as a rule, a corresponding increase of liabilities, consisting of future liabilities, which, sooner or later, must be met, and so, a periodical actuarial investigation is necessary before a true balance can be struck. In the case before us, the surplus is $40,936.00, no doubt a very considerable and satisfactory amount. But, as above stated, should the increase recommanded be adopted, the surplus will then stand at $13,496.00, still a considerable, though much smaller sum, which, however, in the actuary's judgment, should be left unimpaired for the safeguarding of the Fund.

In accordance with the Rules of Management which provide for their revision, if needful, every fifth year, amendments to these have been considered and approved by the Committee, and, as required, have been submitted to and approved by the contributors and the Synod of the Maritime Provinces. They are now herewith submitted to the General Assembly, and your Venerable Court is respectfully asked to approve and adopt them in like manner.

It is therefore recommended as follows:—

Rule VII.—That in this rule the word "Ten" be substituted for the word "Five."

Rule VIII.—That to this rule the following addition be made: "Ministers on reaching the age of seventy years shall be exempted from further payment of rates; all the rights and privileges of the Fund hitherto belonging to them remaining, notwithstanding, unimpaired. But in all such cases the provisions which follow regarding a Marriage Equalizing Tax shall still apply.

RULE XI.—The annuities to widows shall be as follows: Class I., $115.00; Class II., $230.00; the remainder of the existing rule to stand as it is.

RULE XIII.—Where "$30.00" occur in this rule, read instead "$34.50."

RULE XIV.—That in this rule the word "or stock" be omitted.

The number of widows in receipt of annuity is twenty-two, and of orphans two.

MONTREAL, MAY 7TH, 1913.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SABBATH SCHOOLS AND YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Your Committee on Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies would respectfully present the following report for the year 1912:—

This has been a year of transition and readjustment. By action of the General Assembly the two Committees on Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies were made one in June, 1912. Since then, similar action has been taken by the Synods and most of the Presbyteries.

The effecting of these amalgamations has caused an unusually large number of changes in the convenership of Committees, with consequent increase in organization work at the central office, and unusual difficulty in securing reports for 1912, but that period is now in the past, with good prospects for greatly increased efficiency in the future through the strengthening of these Committees for more effective work.

It is yet too soon to estimate the results that may be looked for from this amalgamation, but already there are clear indications of the direction along which results may be expected.

Originally the Sabbath School confined its attention almost exclusively to religious instruction. Because of this limited conception of its work the need was felt for some provision for training for service, and to meet that need the Young People's Society came into being. Gradually it was seen that these two sides of life, the impressional and the expressional, could not be arbitrarily separated without serious loss, and on the one hand the Sabbath School began to provide for activities as well as instruction, while on the other hand the Young People's Society was providing for instruction as well as activities. This, more than any other one thing, made it desirable that one Committee should take the full responsibility for supervision of both organizations, so that there might be no unnecessary confusion or overlapping in promoting this work. The duty of this Committee is, therefore, not so much to promote Sabbath Schools or Young People's Societies as such, as to see that through these and all other co-operating agencies, adequate provision is made by the Church in the most efficient way for complete religious instruction and training for service. This should lead to a clearer vision on the part of all concerned in the various Committees, and in the individual congregations, of the magnitude of the task confronting the Church to-day, to provide adequately for the religious instruction and training of all its young people. The consciousness of how far short the Church at present is from realizing that ideal should rouse every one who is concerned for the future welfare of the Church and the nation to do everything within his power to provide the best available equipment for this work, and to bring it to the highest possible standard of efficiency. What your Committee has done, and is planning to do, along these lines, will be found in outline in this report.

EXTENSION WORK.

Your Committee has steadily promoted the policy of having a Sabbath School and Young People's Society in every congregation wherever possible. In this they have the active sympathy and support of the Board of Home Missions, and District Home Mission Superintendents.

Three field workers were employed during the summer of 1912 in organizing new schools, principally in the Western Provinces, with encouraging results, especially in Southern Saskatchewan. In addition to these your Conveners and General Secretary, as well as Synod and Presbytery Conveners, gave considerable attention to this work.

In order to encourage the organization of schools in new and needy districts, grants were made, as in previous years, of Lesson Helps and Illustrated Papers, for three, and in some cases for six months. In this way 271 schools were helped, at a total cost of $782.54. The grant of $350.00 was continued to Le Rayon de Soleil. About 1,300 copies of this little paper are printed weekly, and used by the French-speaking Protestant children, principally in Quebec. For the Ruthenian children in the West, the Coloured Lesson Picture Cards in Ruthenian are being provided. A request has also been received and granted, that Coloured Lesson Picture Cards, and other suitable Sabbath School literature, should be provided for the 1,000 children under the care of the missionaries of the Presbyterian Church in British Guiana. This request was all the more readily granted as this Mission is supported by the churches in the Maritime Provinces, which have always contributed very generously to Children's Day Fund.

STANDARDS OF EXCELLENCE.

In order that every Sabbath School and Young People's Society might know what your Committee thought to be a reasonable standard to be attained, and that there might be more unity in all the work, the following standards of excellence have been prepared. The one for Sabbath Schools has been before the schools for two years, and has proved to be very useful. 1. The Sabbath School open all the year. 2. A Cradle Roll. 3. A Home Department. 4. An organized Bible Class. 5. A Teacher Training Class. 6. A Communicants' Class at Stated Periods. 7. Graded Instruction (the Uniform Lessons with Supplemental Work, or Graded Lessons). 8. Use of our own Lesson Helps and Illustrated Papers. 9. Missionary Instruction and Offering. 10. Offering for Children's Day Fund.

The Standard of Excellence for Young People's Societies has been prepared since last General Assembly, and it is hoped will do much in unifying the work of the Young People's Societies. Whatever constitution may be adopted, whether Guild, or Y. P. S. C. E., or any other, every Society is asked to conform to this standard:—

1. The Society open all the year.
2. An annual canvass of all persons eligible for membership.
3. Officers and conveners regularly installed and instructed in their duties.
4. Standing Committees (at least membership, missionary, devotional and social), reporting monthly to Executive Meeting.
5. Praise, prayer and Scripture reading at every meeting.
6. The membership in training for larger service, by actively sharing in all the work of the Society.
7. One or more study classes each year.
8. Systematic giving by all.
9. Loyal support of congregational activities and the Schemes of the Church.
10. Active co-operation in the plans and work of the General Assembly's Committee.

LITERATURE.

Leaflets have been prepared, or are in the course of preparation, explaining clearly what is meant by each point in the Standards of Excellence, and how they may be attained. Among the most recently prepared of these are two Installation Services, one for the officers and teachers of the Sabbath School, and one for the officers and conveners of committees of the Young People's Society. The suggestion is that these would be used in connection with a regular service of the Church soon after the annual election of officers, to deepen the sense of responsibility for the work to be done, on the part of the leaders, and also of the entire congregation. Arrangements are under way for leaflets dealing specially with the religious instruction and the activities of the 'teen age, and it is hoped to have these ready in the early autumn.

The usual literature for Young People's Societies has been provided for 1912 and 1913. Your Committee is desirous of unifying still further the programme for all Societies, and hopes to be able to provide a series of weekly topics for 1914, that may be used by all or nearly all the Societies throughout our Church, whatever the constitution under which they are working.

Your Committee is continuing to provide two carefully prepared articles each month for the "Presbyterian Record," one on the monthly missionary topic of the Guild and Y.P.S.C.E., and one on the Guild citizenship topic. Special mention should also be made and hearty appreciation expressed of the action of the Publications' Committee in commencing in January, 1913, the issue of the monthly magazine, "The Pathfinder," continuing the "Bible Class Magazine," and providing, in addition, helpful suggestions on all the Young People's topics, both of the Presbyterian Guild and the Christian Endeavour. It is hoped that this may become the recognized "Help" in all our Young People's Societies. This rounds out the series of Lesson Helps and Illustrated Papers provided by the Publications' Committee for our Sabbath Schools, and links the Bible Class and Young People's work together in a way that should prove very beneficial to both.

A number of special day programmes were prepared during the year. Advantage was taken of the fact that 1913 was the Livingstone Centenary year, to give special prominence to Livingstone and Africa. This was done in the Young People's Day Programme for February, and in a special Sabbath School programme for March. The subject of the Patriotic Day Service, June 29th, 1913, is "Temperance," and arrangements are being made for a pledge signing campaign throughout all the Sabbath Schools on that day. The subject for Rally Day Service, Sept. 28, 1913, is "God's Helpers," and a specially attractive programme is in course of preparation for that day.

GRADED LESSONS.

Considerable time and thought have been given to the question of a satisfactory series of Graded Lessons for our Sabbath Schools. The present situation is clearly indicated in the following quotation from the report of the Publications' Committee:—"One of the problems of the near future is the increasing demand from our Sabbath Schools for Graded Lessons. These have had to be supplied up to the present time as published in the United States, the complexity of Graded Lessons and the large initial expense of their issue having thus far prevented such issue in Canada. Our arrangements are such that we can supply these Lessons to our Sabbath Schools at publishers' prices; and it is earnestly hoped that all schools wishing to use Graded Lessons will order them through our publishing house. But it is also exceedingly desirable that our Church should have its own issue of Graded Lessons, as it has long had of the Uniform Lessons. The Committee is working upon the problem, and it is not without hope that it may be solved soon."

TEACHER TRAINING.

The increased interest in Teacher Training reported a year ago has been steadily maintained. The quarterly examination on all the books of both the First and the Advanced Courses, makes necessary the preparation on the average of one examination paper each week, and the examining of about twenty papers, and the awarding of nearly as many certificates for the same period. The total number of certificates and diplomas awarded during 1912, many of the certificates representing more than one paper, was as follows:—First Standard Course, 330 certificates and 41 diplomas; Advanced Standard Course, 309 certificates, and 11 diplomas. The publishing in "The Teachers Monthly" of the lists of those who take this work has kept it before the schools, and materially increased the interest in this department. Regular Teacher Training classes were also carried on during the year in the Provincial Normal Schools in Toronto and Hamilton, and in one of the Extension Courses of the University of Toronto, in all of which the usual Teacher Training Certificates were awarded to the Presbyterian students who passed the prescribed examinations.

INSTITUTES AND SUMMER SCHOOLS.

Presbyterial Institutes have been held throughout the year at a large number of centres, most of them with an afternoon and evening meeting at each centre, sometimes for Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies separately, but lately more frequently combined. The Synods of Toronto and Kingston, and Hamilton and London have been specially active along these lines, and the results have been encouraging both from the point of view of interest and of attendance. This method is heartily commended to Presbytery Committees as a most effective means for providing encouragement and practical help to those who are doing the actual work in these departments.

Special mention should also be made of the night classes for Christian workers held in Knox College last winter, under the personal supervision of Principal Gandier, and to be continued and extended next winter. This course covered twelve weeks, with two evenings each week, and two study periods each evening, including studies in the Bible, Social Service and Religious Education, with a total enrollment of nearly one hundred. A somewhat similar Religious Education Institute was held in Edmonton, under the direction of a local Committee representing all the denominations, with an enrollment of more than two hundred.

A very successful Summer School was held at Geneva Park, Ontario, August 20th to 29th, 1912, with an attendance of 150. In this school all the departments of the Presbyterian Church co-operated, in presenting the work of the various departments. Similar schools were held in Alberta, in which several denominations co-operated. During 1913 two Summer Schools will be held in Ontario, representing the work of the various departments of the Presbyterian Church. One of these will be at Goderich, August 11th to 17th, and the other at Geneva Park, August 19th to 28th. For each of these a strong and attractive programme has been provided, and it is confidently expected that they will be largely attended by the young people of the Church.

Summer Schools are also being arranged for in some of the Western Provinces, with good prospects for success. In most of these the various denominations will co-operate, thus increasing the total attendance, and decreasing the expense. A series of Interdenominational Missionary Summer Schools will also be held during the summer in most of the provinces in the Dominion, under the auspices of the Missionary Education Movement. These have proved to be of great value in developing the interest of the young people in all the missionary work of the Church, and can be confidently commended to all who desire for their young people a larger interest in this department of work.

COLLEGES.

It is a cause for great satisfaction to your Committee to learn of the increasing provision being made in our Theological Colleges for the practical study of Religious Education. In the Presbyterian College, Montreal, Sabbath School Pedagogics is now a full and required course for all students in First Year Theology. This course is given by Principal Rexford of the Diocesan College, an experienced educationist. In Queen's College, Kingston, a considerable portion of all the time devoted to Practical Theology is now given to the study of Religious Education. In the other colleges also, increasing attention is being given to this subject.

Your Committee was fortunate in securing for this year, the services of Rev. A. J. W. Myers, Ph.D., a minister of this Church who has made a special post-graduate study of Religious Education. Since last General Assembly he has given a short course of lectures on this subject in Robertson College, Edmonton, Manitoba College, Winnipeg, Presbyterian College, Halifax, Deaconess College, Toronto, Night Classes for Christian Workers in Knox College, and in the Summer Schools, Alberta. He has also taken part in a large number of institutes, and has had supervision of the Teacher Training work since last December. In addition to this, by arrangement with the Commission on Religious Education, with whose work your Committee is in hearty sympathy, he has given special attention to Religious Survey work for the Commission. Altogether his has been a very busy and profitable year's work for this Committee.

A MISSIONARY POLICY FOR THE YOUNG PEOPLE.

Your Committee would commend the following statement to the careful attention of all who have to share in the responsibility of preparing a missionary policy for the young people of the congregation:—

The Presbyterian Church in Canada has accepted responsibility for a definite share of the missionary work at home and abroad, and each individual congregation has its share of this responsibility. The young people are a vital part of the congregation, and should be in training for service. They should, therefore, also share definitely in the congregation's responsibility for this department of its work. Moreover, missionary work provides the best possible appeal to the natural interests of young people, and is essential for their highest spiritual development. There is, therefore, need for an adequate missionary policy for the young people in every congregation.

Such a missionary policy should include:—

1. Missionary Instruction—
   - (a) By mission study classes.
   - (b) By regular monthly missionary topics, such as are provided in Y.P.S.C.E., Guild, etc.
   - (c) By missionary addresses, illustrated where possible.
   - (d) By an annual social or banquet, where the young people might discuss their missionary policy.
2. Missionary Activities—
   - (a) By increasing the membership of the various organizations of the Church.
   - (b) By personal work in these organizations.
   - (c) By work in the community.
   - (d) By definitely giving themselves for ministerial, missionary, or deaconess service.
3. Missionary Giving—
   - (a) All plans for missionary giving should be made with the sanction of the Session, and in conference with the missionary committee of the congregration, where such exists.
   - (b) The following suggestions are made for the guidance of missionary committees:—

(1) The young people should be encouraged to assume a definite share of the congregational budget, and to be responsible for the canvassing of the young people of the congregation for this purpose.

(2) The young people should be encouraged to use the duplex envelope, and give through the regular channels of the Church.

(3) The contribution envelopes of the young people should be so marked that a separate report could be given if desired of their total contributions each week, month or year.

(4) For the most successful carrying out of this policy some form of Young People's Society is necessary in each congregation; and the carrying out of such a policy should be the most important work of that Society.

(5) Each Presbytery Committee on Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies should use all diligence to have a Young People's Society organized in connection with every congregation and to encourage every such Society to adopt this missionary policy.

(6) Where a Presbyterial Young People's Union exists, its missionary budget should represent the sum total of the missionary givings of the individual societies through the regular channels of the Church. The Union would not handle any of these funds, but should receive a report at its annual meeting of the total givings for the year.

RALLY DAY AND RALLY WEEK.

Your Committee at its meeting in September unanimously approved of the following plan for a Rally Day and Rally Week:—

1. That in place of a special Children's Day in September, and another Young People's Day in February, efforts should be concentrated on one Rally Day on the last Sabbath in September, and that the various aspects of the religious training of the young should be emphasized at the services on that day, and at meetings to be held throughout the following week, which would be known as Rally Week.

2. That there be one programme printed for Rally Day. That on some part of the printed programme there be displayed a suggested outline of meetings for Rally Week, this display to be made preferably on the first page, and that a leaflet of suggestions regarding the conduct of these services be sent to the ministers of the Church, including the following:—

(a) That the morning service on Rally Day be set apart for special consideration of the importance of the instruction of the children and youth of the Church, and the need of encouraging the young people in the different lines of Church life.

(b) That the afternoon be specially emphasized as the rally of all the various departments of the Sabbath School, including all Bible Classes, and the parents of the children. At this service the programme suggested will be used.

(c) That the evening service be devoted to the interests of all Young People's organizations in the congregation. That where there is no evening service, the following Sabbath morning be used for the Young People's organization.

(d) That Monday, or another suitable night of Rally Week be devoted to a gathering of the young men and women of the Church. This meeting might take the form of a "banquet" or "at-home," etc., but the aim should be to inspire, encourage, and foster the Christian service to be rendered in missionary work at home and abroad.

(e) That the mid-week prayer meeting be devoted to special meditation and prayer regarding the work of the Sabbath School and Young People's Societies.

(f) That the Friday, or another suitable night, be used to rally the boys of the Church, and enlist them through some organized effort, in the life and work of the Church.

THE OPPORTUNITY.

The time never was more opportune for a great forward movement in religious instruction and training than it is to-day, nor was it ever more urgently needed.

The opportunity and the responsibility and the necessity are alike resting upon the present generation to hand on all that is best, and especially the priceless heritage of the Gospel of Jesus Christ to the coming generation, including all those who are growing up within the Church, and all those for whom the Church is responsible who are growing up in Canada outside of the Christian Church, or who are coming from other lands to make Canada their home, or whose homes are in other lands, but who have not yet received the Gospel. Your Committee rejoices to have some share in this great work, and confidently requests the General Assembly to provide all that may be needed in men, and in means for this important undertaking.

By decision of the Board of Finance, the funds contributed for the promotion of the work of this department will hereafter be included in the Buget estimates, while the special offering for this work on the last Sabbath of September will be continued as in previous years. The total revenue received for 1912 was a little less than $16,000, while the total expenditure was just over $17,000. This is relatively a small amount to expend for the promotion of a work so vital to the prosperity of the Church, and it is confidently expected that the increased amount required for 1913 will be gladly given on the last Sabbath of September by the Sabbath Schools and Young People of all the congregations of the Church throughout Canada.

STATISTICS FOR SABBATH SCHOOLS FOR 1912.

The same Statistical Forms for reporting both Presbyterian and Union Schools were used for the first time for 1912. As a result, a number of Union Schools not under direct supervision by the Presbyterian Church did not report, while those more directly under this supervision reported more fully than formerly. This explains the decrease in the number of Union Schools reported, and at the same time an increase in their total enrollment, etc.:

Number of Presbyterian Schools	3,159	a gain of	111
Number of Union Schools	425	a loss of	56
Total number of schools	3,584	a gain of	55
Number of officers and teachers	27,615	a gain of	1,481
Number of scholars not including Bible classes	189,799	a gain of	6,898

On account of the change in Statistical Forms it is not possible in every case to make comparison with previous year with the following: Number of schools taking Supplemental Work, 1,978, receiving Memory Awards, 746; total number Scripture Memory Awards, 4,636, a gain of 697; total number of Shorter Catechism Awards, 535, a gain of 126; number of schools using Graded Lessons, 637; using our own Lesson Helps, 2,824; using our own Illustrated Papers, 2,247.

2,074 schools, a gain of 144, contributed to Children's Day Fund; 1,264 schools, a gain of 66, contributed to other schemes of Church.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. That the name be changed from "Committee on'' Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies to "Board of'' Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies.

2. That in the constitution of the Committee the word "Editor'' of the Publications Committee be changed to "Editors'' of Publications Committee.

3. That it be an instruction to Synod and Presbytery Committees on Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies to complete a thorough organization of these committees for effective work, and that through these Committees a vigorous campaign be conducted with a view (a) to increasing the number of Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies wherever possible, and (b) to bringing every Sabbath School and Young People's Society throughout the Church into vital touch with some organized effort for their improvement.

4. That in view of the growing work, especially in the West, an Associate Secretary be appointed.

5. That Rev. Charles A. Myers, B.D., Edmonton, Alberta, be asked to accept the position of Associate Secretary.

REPORT OF COMMISSION ON RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

To the Venerable the General Assembly:—

The Commission on Religious Education was appointed by the General Assembly in June, 1912, "to make a scientific survey of the whole field of Religious Education in the Presbyterian Church in Canada, having special reference to the Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies." In accordance with this instruction the Commission gave most attention to the Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies. But its investigation, though not as broad as could be desired, has gone far beyond these two activities. What has been done has revealed something of what might be accomplished in a longer time. A Commission's work should extend over a number of years, and there is urgent need on all sides for just such work as a Commission may do.

It is not necessary for the Commission to speak of the increasingly great service the church is giving. At the present time there is growing eagerness to bring the educational work of the congregations up to the standard of present educational principles and ideals. To render most help in this endeavour, the Commission, while recognizing fully the noble work that has been and is being done by thousands of consecrated men and women, call attention to the weak points, as well as the strong in present conditions, that progress may be facilitated.

The Commission carried on its work as far as possible by personal investigation, by the study of the regular church reports, and by a special list of questions sent to a number of congregations. Many ministers and others have given heartily and generously of their time and thought. In many cases something of what was intended, was found in the questionaire. One wrote "It has been a means of grace to the Session, as well as to the members themselves." Another said, "The value of the survey in educating the church is quite as great as its value in gathering information." A third said, "Your survey reveals to us that we must be behind the times in our educational work." To all who have co-operated the Commission expresses its thanks.

By our investigations the following general conditions in relation to Religious Education are indicated pretty clearly:

I—Except in equipment, no general distinction can be made in the character of the work carried on because of the size of the place or density of the population, but, from the standpoint of Religious Education, congregations are divided into two distinct types, the one seeking to advance along every line, striving to make every department efficient, the other doing little, apparently feeling no problem, and satisfied with things as they were. That is to say, a large, wealthy, well equipped congregation in city, town or country may be doing little or nothing, and a small, poor, ill equipped congregation in city, town or country may be alive to its problems, and may be trying to solve them in the light of the most advanced principles of Religious Education; and vice-versa.

II—Accurate information is not readily available on the Church's constituency in the Young People's Society and the Sunday School, outside those enrolled, and comparatively little is known about the religious life of the homes. One respondent states the case frankly: "It is painful for me to realize how ignorant we are of the inner life of the mass of the people, but we cannot cover it over."

III—There is a general lack of adequate expressional activity in Sunday Schoo or Young People's Society, through which the spirit of the instruction is converted into Christian activity in every day life. There are, however, notable exceptions to this statement. In a small number of schools graded expressional activities are provided for every department. In over half, nothing that can be classed under this heading is reported. In the Young People's Societies less than half report any work done "in the community" and less than one quarter report any work done "elsewhere."

With all the emphasis that is to-day placed upon expressional activity in the educational process, and in the making of character, and the emphasis upon training for service by actually doing work, it is apparent that many of our churches are failing to make use of this mighty factor. The Church's mission as a training institution is minimized. One minister is perhaps speaking for a class when, in reply to the question on the work of the school in the community, he writes, "This work is undertaken by the pastor."

IV—It would appear that in the majority of schools the course of study is not "so arranged that each class is promoted to a more difficult study, suited particularly to the needs of the pupils, and for which the past year's work specifically fits them, and which, in turn, prepares them for the succeeding year." There is a notable improvement, however, in the lower grades.

V—The generally accepted opinion that in the years in which the largest number definitely decide to lead a Christian life the Sunday School loses its hold upon the boys and girls, and that the loss among the boys is greater, is painfully substantiated by this inquiry. It would appear that the number not enrolled in the Junior period is comparatively small, but that from one third to one half from 13 to 20 years of age are not enrolled. On the average about 60% of all the pupils are in school every day, but records do not show if the average attendance is the same for each sex and department or age.

VI—It is evident there is need for gerat improvement in the keeping of records, the kind of records kept, and the use made of them. For example, many schools can, from their records, give no definite idea of how many persons there are in the congregation up to 21 years of age, except those actually enrolled; others are unable to give, readily, the ages of even those enrolled, to give the attendance by sex and age, or tell to which department of the school those belonged who joined the Church the last year; still others are unable to furnish a catalogue of their library. A number take a census once or twice a year and persistently seek to enlist all in the Church's work. A number find it difficult to state what use is made of the records.

VII—While many are keenly alert to the present situation, and are putting forth every effort intelligently to face its complexity, and to keep up with its rapidly changing conditions, some seem to feel no problem. Not a few who say that there are no activities in their school, and that there is no Young People's Society, or nothing done by their young people as a society in the community or elsewhere report that there is no over-lapping in the work of their church.

VIII—In almost every case there is sufficient floor and air space per pupil in the school room. Of even greater importance is the ventilation. A large number of churches use a basement in whole or in part, and these are often disfigured by furnace and pipes, and are sometimes dark and damp. A small percentage, less than one quarter, of the classes have separate rooms or are curtained off from the rest of the school. Comparatively little attention has been given in the past to providing the Sunday School with a building designed for educational work, but there is so much interest in this at the present time, and so many new schools are being built that the Commission has taken up the question pretty carefully, and a fuller report will be found on page 4, and a number of suggestions and plans will be published in the near future.

IX—An increasing number of schools have small chairs for Primary and younger children. Lesson pictures are pretty generally used in the same department. Maps seem to be used only in a general way for the whole school. Tables for pupils, lesson pictures for classes above the Primary, maps for individual classes, and charts and graphs for class or school seem to be rare.

X—The principle of Graded Instruction is accepted by all educationists. The opinion expressed on the Graded Lessons in use is practically unanimous in their favour, such commendations as "A real necessity," "A great improvement," "Better in every way," "Vastly superior," being made. There is a widespread desire for a Canadian course. With the attention given Graded Instruction, there is essentially keener interest, both on the part of the pupils and teachers and officers, in promotion.

XI—The Sunday School teaching is enriched by the work of those who have trained for public school teaching. Nearly 90% of the schools have one or more of these teaching; while perhaps one fifth of the teachers are so trained, there being three times as many women as men. A relatively small proportion have had some Teacher Training, about one third of whom are men. Of the whole teaching staff less than one third are men. In a few of the schools the number of men teachers is equal to, or greater than, the number of women teachers. A very few schools have a normal class, as a part of the regular school session, a plan which must be commended. It is generally felt that the Church should do more for the training of students for the ministry, and for workers in the Sunday School and Young People's Society, in the principles of Religious Education, through existing institutions or through special training institutes.

XII—A good number of library catalogues have been received. There was not sufficient time to go into this matter carefully. The Commission notes with pleasure that some schools are installing teacher's libraries. Many requests have been received for advice. A separate section of this report deals with the question of Bibliography, (page 5). Where a good public library exists, some schools are making use of it, and only supplementing it, where necessary, with certain classes of books. This, in the opinion of the Commission, is wise. So many inquiries are made about library books, the question should be thoroughly canvassed.

XIII—The Public School and its relation to Religious Education has long been a live question. The Commission has examined the school laws of the different provinces to see what provision is made for direct religious education, and also has inquired what use the different Protestant churches are making of the opportunity. A concise statement of these facts is found on page 11.

XIV—It is gratifying to know that according to the reports received, in almost all our homes (perhaps 90%) where there are children under six years of age, these little ones are given some religious instruction. It is generally conceded that family worship has declined, but no definite information on this point could be given by at least 50% of the Ministers, Sessions and Workers reporting. Most felt that modern life makes it difficult to hold the old style of family worship but on the other hand that 75% to 100% could hold worship at least once a day.

XV—The influences of the press can scarcely be over estimated. The Commission is making a survey of the daily newspapers, the religious press, and the Sunday School papers, but no report can be made at this time.

XVI—There is a demand from east to west that the church make provision for pupils who must leave home to attend school. Two plans are in operation in other places, and are proposed here: (1) Establish Church Boarding Schools, or (2) Establish Homes or Hostels in connection with public schools. The Commission has secured information on the subject from Britain, and from the United States. But it is not at present in a position to report on a question of such far-reaching importance and involving so great an expenditure of money.

XVII—The Higher Institutions of Learning have an important part to play in the training of our leaders in every department of life. What is being done, what should be attempted, in the way of definite religious education in our Universities, Normal Colleges, Technical Schools, etc., calls for careful study. The Commission could not complete its survey this year.

XVIII—The emphasis given to-day in all educational work to activities, and the central place actual work has in training for service led to this also being made a subject of special inquiry.

But the providing of activities suited to every grade involves the further question, On what basis should pupils be organized? There is widespread demand for some unification of the organizations of the children and young people of our Church. The present confusion is seriously felt even in reporting to the Church, as to what societies should be reported and to whom, so that the returns are often misleading. The Commission could not complete its survey this year.

XIX—The amusements and recreation of our young people—how they spend their leisure—demands careful study.

XX—Religious Education in the Home—the most influential character-forming institution—is being studied, but it requires extended time.

XXI—At the present time great interest is being shown in the attendance of children at the regular preaching services of the Church. The General Assembly's Committee on Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies, has asked the Commission to make a careful survey of this matter.

XXII—The Rural Church Problem is being keenly felt in some places, and the Down Town and Congested District Problem in other places. Splendid work has been done in this connection by the Board of Social Service, but no survey has been made from the point of view of Religious Education as a whole. For this there is great need. A number of surveys have been undertaken by our Church, and judging from the results, not only here, but in other countries, no work is more fruitful. More surveys of this kind are urgently needed. It is hoped that it will be possible to continue, extend and unify this work, and make it still more thorough and personal.

Our one recommendation at this stage is that this Commission be continued.

REPORT ON ARCHITECTURE

The strain of the advance in the work of Religious Education is felt at no point more keenly than in the matter of Architecture. The problem of a building entirely suitable to a school organized in departments, and using graded studies, has not yet been solved. For those who use the Uniform Lesson system, and organize their school on that principle, the Akron plan with its large assembly hall and radiating class rooms has proved the last word in Sunday School architecture. With this scheme we need not deal because there are modified examples of it on every hand. It is our desire rather to face the yet unsolved problem of housing the graded school, with its departments corresponding to the different stages of the pupil's development.

It is the intention of your Commission to publish at an early date a number of suggested plans suitable for graded schools. In the meantime we submit a few principles which we trust will serve to guide in a general way those who are seeking information regarding the proper housing of their school.

1. The nature of the building will be determined entirely by the nature of the work to be done therein. Before beginning to prepare plans it will be necessary to determine clearly the organization by means of which the religious education of the young is to be secured. If the Uniform Lesson system is to be used, the Akron type is the natural and effective scheme. If we depart from this system a different style of building will be required.

2. The needs of the particular locality should be studied, and the work in Sunday School and Young People's Society should be adapted to those needs. In arranging the space and appointments of the building, regard must be had for all the different phases of this work, and their relative importance recognized, so that the more essential parts may not suffer in order to make provision for some part of quite secondary importance. If the locality does not call for the serving of meals as one of the church activities, it would be a mistake to allow the kitchen to encroach on the Sunday School space.

3. What makes it exceedingly difficult to draft a plan which will commend itself to the judgment of many, is the desire to provide for the assembling of the whole school for opening and closing exercises. The attempt to adjust the building to the two requirements,—the provision for proper class work, and the provision for gathering the whole school together—makes a building faulty, both as an auditorium, and as a place for satisfactory educational work. The wisdom of bringing the whole school together every Sunday, is questionable, but if it is so desired the church auditorium, a place specially designed for worship, may be used for this purpose. It will then be possible to design the school strictly according to educational principles.

4. The work of the Church, the Sunday School, and the various Young People's Societies, should be looked upon as one. The closest and most intelligent sympathy should bind these different departments together in a true unity. This unity should find expression in the material structure which serves to house the work. The Church and the Sunday School should be one building, with the freest possible intercourse secured by ample passage ways. This would permit of such departments of the school as was thought desirable, meeting together for opening worship.

5. The religious education of the young is quite incomplete if it simply provides for an hour's instruction Sunday afternoon. Provision should be made through Young People's Societies for such week-day activities as will secure the expression of the religious truth taught on Sunday. Space and equipment will have to be provided in the building for these activities.

6. Definite recognition should be taken of that most significant transition in the life of the pupil about thirteen years of age, which transforms the boy into the adolescent youth. Those of adolescent age should be grouped with those older, rather than with the little children. The classes among those over 13, should if possible meet in separate class rooms.

7. In planning a building, provision should be made for:

(1) Adequate floor space—16 square feet per pupil.
(2) Adequate air space—250 cubic feet per pupil.
(3) Adequate light—3 square feet, clear window space per pupil.
(4) Satisfactory ventilation.
(5) Ample stairways and corridors.

8. In Sunday School work basements should be avoided wherever possible. They are generally very objectionable in that they are liable to be damp, poorly ventilated, poorly lighted, with low ceilings, and their appearance spoiled by the presence of furnaces and heating pipes. Where a basement must be used, the floor should be very little, if any, below the level of the ground outside, and provision made for adequate air space, light, etc., as indicated in No. 7 above.

BIBLIOGRAPHY ON SABBATH SCHOOL AND YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

The feeling is steadily gaining ground among people of our church that the time has come for a decided advance in the matter of religious education among our young people. This feeling has created a desire for information upon the whole problem of Sunday School and Young People's Work. The information is not lacking. Indeed the search for sure footing is made the more difficult because of the great flood of literature, bearing upon all phases of the subject, which is coming from the press at the present time. At this early stage in this period of rapid advance it is too much to expect many assured results but a careful perusal of the best books will indicate very clearly some essential principles which will serve to guide any earnest thoughtful worker to a more adequate conception of the place of the child in the church and to a knowledge of the best methods of securing his religious education.

With a view to giving assistance to those who are facing this problem the Commission has prepared a Bibliography which we trust will be of real service.

In the preparation of this bibliography we have in mind schools carrying on their work under conditions which differ very widely. We have accordingly drawn up a short list of five books which we consider a most suitable selection for a small school. This will serve as a nucleus which can be added to as desired. In the second list we have suggested five additional titles, making a library of ten books bearing upon the different phases of the problem. The third list gives ten additional titles, making a library of twenty volumes. The last list is more complete, containing the names of most of the books of real value in their bearing upon this department of the church's work, which is of such fundamental importance.

In each of these lists we have included books bearing upon the three main phases of the subject.

Class (a)—The knowledge of the child in relation to his physical, mental and spiritual education.

Class (b)—The knowledge of the best study material to be used in the child's religious education.

Class (c)—The knowledge of the best means for making use of this material in the complete education of the child. This section (c) includes books dealing with class management and teaching, the school's equipment and the best method of housing the school.

The books mentioned in these lists which follow are looked upon as supplementary to the Teacher Training hand-books issued under instructions from the General Assembly:

(a)—From One to Twenty-one.....Murray.
(b)—The Books of the Old Testament.....Scrimger.
The Books of the New Testament.....Kennedy.
The Life of Jesus Christ.....Falconer.
A Summary of Christian Doctrine.....Kilpatrick.
Church History.....J. W. Falconer.
Missions.....MacKay.
(c)—The Teacher and the School.....Tracey.

Under section (b) in the subjoined list we have not included the various graded study courses, such as that prepared by the International Committee, and the course published by Scribner. These and as many others as possible should be studied. Nor did we think it necessary to refer to the large number of Bible Commentaries and Dictionaries and the many Bible Study Manuals which are published.

LIST 1.—A LIBRARY OF FIVE VOLUMES

(a) 1.—"Child Nature and Child Nurture," St. John (Pilgrim Press), pp. 106, $0.75 net.

A book designed for the use of teachers, and more especially parents in their religious training of children. The author has in mind chiefly those under twelve years of age. He deals in a suggestive way with practical difficulties which arise in the training of the child's loves, fears and other impulses.

2.—"Education in Religion and Morals," Coe (Revell), pp. 434, $1.35 net.

An effort to bring the results of modern scholarship in the realm of Child Study, of Biblical research and of Sunday School method into closer touch with the actual needs of the present confused situation.

(b) 3.—"Outline of a Bible School Curriculum," Pease (Univ. of Chicago), pp. 418, $1.50 net.

This book very clearly indicates some of the principles which should govern the selection of material for study in the different grades in the Sunday School, and also gives outline courses of study for these grades.

(c) 4.—"The Point of Contact in Teaching," Du Bois (Dodd, Mead & Co.), pp. 131, $0.75 net.

This valuable little book is an exposition of the fundamental principle of all truly educative teaching. This principle, as stated by the author, is, "that in the child's instruction we must begin at his point of contact with objective or external life as he sees it." In the closing chapter he points out the necessity for grading the material for the child's education.

5.—"The Modern Sunday School in Principle and Practice," Cope (Revell), pp. 206, $1.00 net.

A most complete and satisfactory discussion of the whole problem of the modern Sunday School. The book deals with the history of the Sunday School, its organization and management, the building and equipment, curriculum and method in teaching, teacher training and finance.

LIST 2.—IN ADDITION TO LIST 1, MAKING A LIBRARY OF TEN VOLUMES

(a) 6.—"A Study of Child Nature," Harrison (Chicago Kind'n College), pp. 207, $1.00 net.

A very sympathetic study of the physical, mental, and spiritual nature of the child. The author deals in a most interesting way with the various instincts of the child and suggests practical methods for training them.

7.—"The Making of Character," Maccunn (Cambridge Univ. Press), pp. 226, $0.90.

A book heartily to be commended for its sanity. The author treats the natural endowment of the child, including his temperament, his capacities, instincts and desires and then proceeds to discuss the several educative influences which secure self development and self control.

(b) 8.—"Five Missionary Minutes," Trull (Toronto), pp. 122, $0.50 net.

The nature and purpose of this book may be stated in the words of the preface. "Sufficient missionary material has been collected in this volume for fifty-two Sundays in the year. It is arranged for use in the Sunday School from the desk, either directly in connection with Scripture, prayer and hymns or otherwise, during the opening or closing periods.

(c) 9.—"The Graded Sunday School," Meyer (Pilgrim Press), pp. 241, $0.75 net.

A very clear statement of the principles underlying the proper classification of pupils and the grading of the material for their education. The author briefly narrates the steps leading up to the drafting of a graded course of studies and describes the working of the graded system in several typical schools.

10.—"The Pupil and the Teacher," Weigle (Hodder & Stoughton), pp. 217, $0.50 net.

This book might have been put in class A in that it deals very thoroughly with the mental and physical characteristics of the pupil in the different periods of his development. This first part, however, prepares the way for a careful discussion of the means of education, grading, teaching, class organization and activity; setting forth as the chief end of education: "To know God in personal relation and to love and serve Him."

LIST 3.—IN ADDITION TO LISTS 1 AND 2, MAKING A LIBRARY OF TWENTY VOLUMES

(a) 11.—"The Natural Way," Du Bois (Revell), pp. 335, $1.25 net.

The book emphasizes "that child nature is the pivotal point of education." The view is taken that if properly nurtured, by having his every life relation rightly administered, the child will grow up in Christ, in a perfectly normal way, realizing from stage to stage the Christian character.

12.—"The Psychology of Religion," Starbuck (Scribners), pp. 423, $1.50.

A scientific study of the phenomena of conversion based upon a large number of facts gleaned from the experience of many individuals. It is an attempt to give the rationale of this significant spiritual awakening of youth.

13.—"The Unfolding Life," Lamoreaux (Revell), pp. 188, $0.75 net.

The title very accurately describes the nature of this book. It treats the development of the child in a very suggestive manner, more especially in its earlier stages. It is a most readable and instructive book, for the teacher or parent, who is facing the practical problem of child training.

14.—"The Girl in Her Teens," Slattery (Pilgrim Press), pp. 127, $0.50 net.

The best available book on adolescent girl life. It is a most opportune treatment of a subject which is in danger of being lost sight of at a time when so much is being written and said about the boy and young man.

15.—"The Unfolding of Personality," Mark (Univ. of Chicago), pp. 224, $1.00 net.

A brief though thorough study of the unfolding of personality as the chief aim and work of education. The personality is conceived as unfolding from the original nucleus of instinctive tendencies under the influence of its surroundings.

(b) 16.—"The Old Testament in the Sunday School," Myers (Teacher's College), pp. 141, $1.00 net.

According to this book the object of religious education is to train the child in complete living in his spiritual and social environment. To this end the curriculum must be adapted to the child, not the child to the curriculum. After a brief general review of the religion and literature of Israel from the point of view of modern scholarship the author proceeds to indicate how material for purposes of religious education may be selected according to the principle (1) of education, (2) of Biblical criticism, (3) of the Christian conception of life and of society.

(c) 17.—"Talks to Teachers," James (Holt), pp. 301, $1.50 net.

The addresses contained in this volume are the result of a refining process spread over a number of years, in which the severely technical language was weeded out, leaving a work of great practical value to the teachers who have to deal with the real difficulties of the school room. The book indicates how psychological study may be made to serve in the solution of practical educational problems.

18.—"Educational Evangelism," McKinley (Pilgrim Press), pp. 265, $1.25 net.

A most intelligent and sympathetic plea for a sane evangelism. According to the author, youth is the period of strategic importance in the production of Christian character, and the method which secures the richest and most enduring results is the educational.

19.—"The Teacher and the Child," Mark (Unwin), pp. 165, $0.35 net.

An excellent treatise on the practical aspects of the teacher's work, the result of the long and varied experience of the capable and sympathetic author in his work of teaching and with teachers. After dealing with the nature of the mind and the meaning of education he gives practical instruction upon methods in teaching, class management and character training.

20.—"Psychological Principles of Education," Horne (Macmillan), pp. 435 $1.75 net.

A very thorough and well poised treatment of the whole subject of education. It deals with the education of the three phases of the mental life, the intellectual, the emotional, the volitional, with a concluding section on Religious Education or the Education of the Spirit in man. This book is indispensable to those who desire a wider and more exact knowledge of this subject.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

An attempt was made to gather information about the provision made by statute and regulation in each province for religious exercises and instruction, and the extent to which trustees and teachers availed themselves of these provisions. The results of this enquiry are given below. The provisions are greater than they are generally believed to be. The extent to which use is made of them indicates either indifference or anxiety to avoid giving offence. Some expressions of opinion about the desirability of stimulating interest in the question are also given.

I—To the question,—

> "What provisions are made by statute and by regulation for religious instruction in (a) the public schools, (b) the high schools and (c) the normal schools, colleges, universities and other public institutions of higher learning of your province?"

answers were given as follows,—

NOVA SCOTIA.

Section 109 (d) contains the only reference to "religion" in the Education Act, and reads as follows (See Manual of 1911, page 47).

> "It shall be the duty of every teacher to inculcate by precept and example a respect for religion and the principles of Christian morality, and for truth, justice, love of country, loyalty, humanity, benevolence, sobriety, industry, frugality, chastity, temperance and all other virtues."

The Regulations of the Council of Public Instruction, referring to the subject are Nos. 28 and 29 (Manual of 1911, pages 105 and 106), not prescribed, described, reported or inquired into. They can be held within school hours if no parent or guardian formally objects. In such an event the children of the protesting party need not be present, or else the exercises must be held after school hours. "Devotional exercises" are thus not only free from interference from the Education Department or its inspectors, but are virtually assured of a respectful privacy. There are no statistics taken of the number of schools, having such exercises, much less of the exact character of them.

The high schools in Nova Scotia are the grades IX, X, XI, and XII of the public schools, and are subject to the same regulations.

The Normal, Agricultural and Technical Colleges, which are under provincial administration, are under the same regulations. It was found impossible in the first named of these institutions to continue the devotional exercises originally instituted, consisting of the reading of a portion of Scripture by members of the staff in rotation or otherwise, with the singing of a hymn by the students. For the devotional character of the exercises was assumed to weaken the religious sentiments or reverence for certain forms of worship of some of the students; while the reading of Scripture was represented as a proclaiming of the Protestant standard of infallibility.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

Regulation 22.—Privilege of Teachers with respect to opening and closing exercises of schools: It shall be the privilege of every teacher to open and close the daily exercises of the school by reading a portion of Scripture (out of the common or Douay version, as he may prefer), and by offering the Lord's Prayer. But no teacher shall compel any pupil to be present at these exercises against the wish of his parents or guardian expressed in writing to the Board of Trustees.

Regulation 17.—In a system of non-sectarian public schools it is necessary that both the subject and matter of instruction be such that all denominations of Christians in the province can participate in common in the same.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

Section 92 of the Public Schools' Act, provides that "All schools conducted under the provisions of this Act shall be non-sectarian, and the Bible may be read in all such schools, and is hereby authorized, and the teachers are hereby required to open school on every school day with the reading of the sacred Scriptures by those children whose parents or guardians desire it, without comment, explanation or remark thereon by the teacher; but no child shall be required to attend during such reading as aforesaid, unless desired by their parents or guardian." This is the only provision made in the statute or by regulations for religious instruction in the public schools, high schools, normal schools, colleges, etc.

QUEBEC.

In Moral Instruction and Training in Schools, Vol. II, page 285, edited by M. E. Sadler, Dr. A. H. McKay, Superintendent of Education in Nova Scotia, in his report on Moral Instruction in Canadian Schools, says: "The rules for the Protestant Schools in Quebec, require: The first half-hour of each day to be devoted to the opening exercises, Scripture reading, singing and prayer, instruction in Scripture and in morals, including readings and lessons upon godliness, truthfulness honour, respect for others, good manners, temperance, health, kindness to animals, etc."

It should be stated in addition that the annual examination papers issued by the Protestant Committee, Scripture is one of the subjects, and the value of this paper contributes to the standing of the scholars. In the modal schools especially thorough work is done in the Life of Christ, and in the Acts of the Apostles.

Religious Instruction.—(1) (a) Every Public School shall be opened with the reading of the Scriptures and the Lord's Prayer, and shall be closed with the Lord's Prayer or the prayer authorized by the Department of Education; but no pupil shall be required to take part in any religious exercises objected to by his parent or guardian. In schools without suitable waiting-rooms or other similar accommodation, if the parent or guardian demands the withdrawal of a pupil while the religious exercises are being held, such demand shall be complied with and the reading of the Scriptures shall be deferred in inclement weather until the closing.

(b) To secure the observance of the preceding regulation, the teacher, before commencing a religious exercise, shall allow the necessary interval to elapse, during which the children or wards of those, if any, who have signified their objection, may retire.

(c) If, in virtue of his right to be absent from the religious exercises, any pupil does not enter the schoolroom in the morning till the close of the time allowed for religious exercises, such absence shall not be treated as an offence against the rules of the school.

(d) When a teacher claims to have conscientious scruples in regard to opening or closing school as herein prescribed, he shall notify the Board to that effect in writing; and it shall then be the duty of the Board to make such provision as it may deem expedient for the carrying out of the requirements of (1) (a) above.

(2) (a) The Scriptures shall be read daily and systematically. The parts to be read may be taken from the book of selections adopted by the Department for that purpose, or from the Bible, or from the list of the Selected Scripture Readings of the International Bible Reading Association, as the Board by resolution may direct.

(b) The Board may also order the reading of such parts by both pupils and teachers at the opening and the closing of the schools, the repeating of the Ten Commandments at least once a week, and the memorization of passages selected from the Bible.

(3) (a) (i) A clergyman of any denomination shall have the right, and it shall be lawful for the Board to allow him, to give religious instruction to the pupils of his own denomination, in each school-house, at least once a week, after the hour of closing the school in the afternoon.

(ii) Under the same conditions, a clergyman, selected by the clergymen of any number of denominations, shall also have the right to give religious instruction to the pupils belonging to such denominations.

(b) If the clergymen of more than one denomination apply to give religious instruction in the same school house, the Board shall decide on what day of the week the school house shall be at the disposal of each, at the time above stated.

(4) Emblems of a denominational character shall not be exhibited in a Public School during regular school hours.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES

212. Religious exercises in the public schools shall be conducted according to the regulations of the advisory board. The time for such religious exercises shall be just before the closing hour in the afternoon. In case the parent or guardian of any pupil notifies the teacher that he does not wish such pupil to attend such religious exercises, then such pupil shall be dismissed before such religious exercises take place.

213. Religious exercises shall be held in a public school entirely at the option of the school trustees for the district; and upon receiving written authority from the trustees, it shall be the duty of the teacher to hold such religious exercises.

SCHOOLS MUST BE NON-SECTARIAN

214. The public schools shall be entirely non-sectarian, and no religious exercises shall be allowed therein except as above provided. R.S.M. c. 127, s. 194.

RELIGIOUS TEACHING

AUTHORITY FOR RELIGIOUS TEACHING

215. Religious teaching, to be conducted as hereinafter provided, shall take place in any public school in Manitoba:

(a) If authorized by a resolution passed by the majority of the school trustees of the district in which the school is carried on, or,

HOURS FOR RELIGIOUS TEACHING

216. Such religious teaching shall take place between the hours of half-past three and four o'clock in the afternoon, and shall be conducted by any Christian clergyman whose charge includes any portion of the school district, or by any person duly authorized by such clergyman, or by a teacher when so authorized. 60 V. c. 26, s. 2.

SPECIFIED DAYS FOR RELIGIOUS TEACHING

217. Where so specified in such resolution of trustees, or where so required by a petition of parents or guardians, religious teaching during the prescribed period may take place only on certain specified days of the week instead of on every teaching day. 60 V. c. 26, s. 3.

EMPLOYMENT OF ROMAN CATHOLIC TEACHERS

218. In any school in towns and cities where the average attendance of Roman Catholic children is forty or upwards, and in villages and rural districts where the average attendace of such children is twenty-five or upwards, the trustees shall, if required by a petition of parents or guardians of such number of Roman Catholic children, respectively, employ at least one duly certified Roman Catholic teacher in such school. In any school in towns and cities where the average attendance of non-Roman Catholic children is forty or upwards, and in villages and rural districts where the average attendance of such children is twenty-five or upwards, the trustees shall, if required by the petition of parents or guardians of such children, employ at least one duly certified non-Roman Catholic teacher. 60 V. c. 26, s. 4.

ALLOTMENT OF DAYS FOR GIVING RELIGIOUS TEACHING TO CATHOLIC AND NON-CATHOLIC CHILDREN

219. Where religious teaching is required to be carried on in any school in pursuance of the foregoing provision, and there are Roman Catholic and non-Roman Catholic children attending the school, and the school room accommodation does not permit of the pupils being placed in separate rooms for the purpose of religious teaching, provision shall be made by the regulations of the Department of Education (which regulations the board of school trustees shall observe), whereby the time allotted for religious teaching shall be divided in such a way that the religious teaching of Roman Catholic children shall be carried on during the prescribed period on one-half of the teaching days in each month, and the religious teaching of the non-Roman Catholic children shall be carried on during the prescribed period on one-half of the teaching days of each month. 60 V. c. 26, s. 5.

PUPILS NOT TO BE SEPARATED DURING SECULAR SCHOOL WORK

220. No separation of pupils by religious denominations shall take place during the secular school work. 60 V. c. 26, s. 7.

SEPARATION OF PUPILS FOR RELIGIOUS TEACHING

221. NO PUPILS TO BE PRESENT AT RELIGIOUS TEACHING UNLESS PARENT OR GUARDIAN DESIRES IT

222. No pupil shall be permitted to be present at any religious teaching unless the parents or guardians of such pupil desire it. In case the parents or guardians do not desire the attendance of pupils during such religious teaching, then such pupils shall be dismissed before the religious teaching is begun, or shall remain in another room. 60 V. c. 26, s. 9, part.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION EMPOWERED TO MAKE REGULATIONS FOR GIVING EFFECT TO PART OF THIS ACT.

223. The Department of Education shall have the power to make regulations not inconsistent with the principles of this Act, for carrying into effect the provisions of the eight last preceeding sections and the next following sections. 60 V. c. 26, s. 6.

The Advisory Council has adopted the following regulations:

"The religious exercise in the Public Schools shall be: (a) The reading, without note or comment of the following selections from the authorized English version of the Bible or the Douay version of the Bible. (b) The use of the following forms of prayer."

(Here follow 71 selections from the Old Testament and 66 from the New Testament and a prescribed form of prayer with the Lord's Prayer.)

SASKATCHEWAN.

ATTENDANCE NOT COMPULSORY DURING RELIGIOUS EXERCISE

137. Any child shall have the privilege of leaving the school room at the time at which religious instruction is commenced as provided for in the next preceding section or of remaining without taking part in any religious instruction that may be given if the parents or guardians so desire. 1901, c. 29, s. 138.

NO PUPIL TO BE DEPRIVED OF ORDINARY EDUCATION

138. No teacher, school trustee or inspector shall in any way attempt to deprive such child of any advantage that it might derive from the ordinary education given in such school and any such action on the part of any school trustee, inspector or teacher shall be held to be a disqualification for and voidance of the office held by him. 1901, c. 29, s. 139.

ALBERTA.

1. (a) The following regulations apply to the conduct of religious instruction in the public schools of Alberta.

"No religious instruction except as hereinafter provided shall be permitted in the school of any district from the opening of such school until one-half hour previous to its closing in the afternoon, after which time any such instruction permitted or desired by the Board may be given.

It shall however be permissible for the Board of any district to direct that the school be opened by the recitation of the Lord's prayer.

Any child shall have the priviliege of leaving the school room at the time at which religious instruction is commenced as provided for in the next preceding section or of remaining without taking part in any religious instruction that may be given if the parents or guardians so desire.

No teacher, school trustee or inspector shall in any way attempt to deprive such child of any advantage that it might derive from the ordinary education given in such school and any such action on the part of any school trustee, inspector or teacher shall be held to be a disqualification for and voidance of the office held by him."

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

No religious instruction is prescribed or apparently provided for, according to the letter received.

II—The extent to which the teachers and educational authorities avail themselves of the foregoing provisions is indicated by the following replies:

From Nova Scotia: "To a greatly lesser extent than forty or fifty years ago."

From New Brunswick: "I have reason to believe the regulations are conscientiously complied with."

From Prince Edward Island: "Less than half of our public schools have any religious exercises whatever of a formal kind during school hours; but all try to inculcate the great principles of Christian morality."

From Ontario: 58.87% of the Public Schools use authorized Scripture Readings; 94.73% open with prayer; 57.61% use the Bible; 19.64 impart religious instruction according to the report of the Minister of Education for 1911. "In the Separate Schools religious instruction may be and is given in school hours of a denominational character."

From Manitoba: In 1910, "139 schools closed with religious exercises, which consisted of the reading of a passage of Scripture and the repetition of the Lord's Prayer by the children; 308 schools closed with prayer, the Bible was used in 199 schools; 413 schools reported systematic teaching of the Ten Commandments; moral instruction is given in all our schools. Wherever possible under the Act, the Roman Catholics have religious teaching, but very little use is made of the opportunity provided for this by the Statute, by Protestant denominations." The Mennonite private schools numbering about 60, the Roman Catholic private schools, the German Lutheran and the Jewish exist largely because of the necessity of providing for systematic religious instruction. Special provision is made for religious teaching in them. The number of these private schools is not increasing rapidly.

From Saskatchewan: There is no definite information available.

From Alberta: "Most of the schools are opened with the Lord's Prayer." The extent to which this is done in rural districts is dependent almost entirely upon the desire of the teacher and the willingness of the trustees. In cities and towns there is greater uniformity. In Calgary, for example, "all the teachers of the public schools open their day's work by the recitation of the Lord's Prayer."

In the Roman Catholic Separate Schools the Catechism is taught. In the schools in Mormon communities instruction in the doctrines and covenants of the Mormon Church is given after hours.

There are about twelve private schools of German or Scandinavian origin which give emphasized instruction in the tongue and the religion of the fatherland. A few private schools are conducted among the Ruthenians and a night academy among the Mormons by certain religious denominations.

From British Columbia: No information. "Little indication of increased demand for religious instruction."

III—Official opinion in the main is pronounced against any proposal to stimulate the interest in religious instruction in a national system of schools.

Attempts have been made in three provinces by the Protestant denominations to agree upon some form of religious instruction. Manitoba has prescribed a selection of Bible readings and a form of prayer. Ontario has gone a little farther. In Alberta the attempt failed. The Baptist denomination strongly objects to religious instruction of any kind. The head of one department, while regretting the widespread ignorance of the Bible, says, "Our experience has shown that it would be practically impossible to secure for every school a teacher who would keep such explanations (i.e. explanantions in connection with the reading of the Scriptures) wholly free from denominationalism." One official writes, "I believe it (i.e. religious instruction) creates friction especially where different denominations are concerned and I believe in national schools." Another, whose sympathies are strongly with those who wish for more religious instruction, writes, "I fear the introduction of formal religious instruction into the schools would be injurious." Another says, "I do not look with special favour upon religious instruction in view of present conditions." Another writes, "Where we have such a great variety of opinion on matters religious, the only feasible scheme seems to be that which excludes specific religious teaching from the schools, leaving it to each denomination to provide its own teaching in its own way." One answer to the question of the desirability of including religious instruction in a system of secular education was, "Yes, if denominational bigotry would permit it." One city superintendent is emphatic, "In my opinion a system of instruction which would involve a study of the main historical facts as well as the literature of the Bible should be included in a secular system of education."

REPORT OF THE "RECORD" COMMITTEE.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

This report completes twenty-one years of the Record under the present management. Review may be grouped under three heads, Contents, Circulation, Cost.

(1) Contents. The Assembly established the Record as a monthly bulletin, in which the different Boards might keep the Church informed of their work, and the price was fixed at a low rate to enable congregations to take it in quantities for distribution. The contents, are, therefore, first and chiefly the work of the Church, and they are not for the few who can get their knowledge from other sources, but for the great body of the people.

But Life and Work go together, Life always leading the way. Many homes have few good books or papers to help the religious life, and the aim is to supply a part, however little, of this need by giving some selections of good reading matter of a general kind. This feature of the Record is appreciated by many, aids materially in its circulation, and should help, in some small measure, both the Life and the Work of the Church.

(2) Circulation. The monthly issue for the year was 67,000 copies. For 1913 it is 68,000. Of these, nearly 65,000 are on the regular mailing list, though not quite all paid, for with the utmost care, a small percentage of loss is inevitable. The remainder are used for distribution, with a view to increase, and, while they serve as samples they do their measure of good where they come.

This circulation, in proportion to the Church membership, is nearly the same as that of the U. F. Church of Scotland; and it is very much larger, per membership, than the circulation of any other similar monthly magazines of any of the leading churches on this continent.

This large circulation is not merely a free distribution of the Record by congregations, but a taking of it by the people. For example, the Maritime Synod, with less than one-sixth of the total membership of the Church, takes about one-sixth of the whole issue of the Record, and of these, not one-sixth are given free by congregations, while five-sixths are by individual subscription.

But there is room for increase. The stronger congregations, wherever possible, should follow the repeated instruction of the Assembly to place its monthly Bulletin in every home of the Church. To give the Record to a family that has not been receiving it, costs little, and is a good investment for Missions.

(3) Cost. The Record was established thirty-eight years ago at twenty-five cents in parcels to congregations, and its price has never been changed. In the last twenty-one years it has been enlarged three times; and by these and other changes its reading matter has been increased about three fold.

Since the last enlargement, by sixteen additional pages, a dozen years ago, it has cost more than its subscription price, and the balance accumulated in earlier years, when it was smaller, has been gradually reduced.

The receipts for the year now reporting were $16,065, the expenditure $17,990, leaving a credit balance at the end of the year of $5,950. At the end of this year, 1913, the balance will be less than $4,000, not enough to publish three monthly issues of the Record. This is quite as low as should be permitted in a working balance.

There are three ways of equalizing income and expenditure; one is to reduce the Record in size, nearer to what it formerly was; another is to devote more of its space to advertising; and a third to increase the price by five cents.

To adopt the first, making it smaller and less useful, would not be wise, nor worthy of the Church. As to the second, much of the best opinion in the Church does not favour it. The value to the advertiser depends chiefly upon his advertisements being read on the Sabbath, and some church magazines eschew them altogether, or accept only a few, and of a special character.

Five cents increase would be immaterial to the subscriber, and would not affect the circulation.. With the increase in recent years in the cost of labour, and in almost all else, thirty cents is relatively much less than twenty-five cents was thirty years ago, and the Record would still be, for the reading that it gives, the cheapest self-supporting subscription supported, magazine of its kind.

It is therefore recommended that after the present year, 1913, the price of the Record be thirty cents in parcels to congregations.

Respectfully submitted,

E. SCOTT, Editor and Manager.

REPORT OF THE PUBLICATIONS COMMITTEE, 1912.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

By action of the last General Assembly the Publications Committee now bears the same relation to the united Committees on Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies, as it previously held to the former of these. It has given the Committee much pleasure to undertake this new responsibility.

THE YEAR

ending with the 30th of April has been a year of exceptional and heavy undertakings, which have been successfully carried through.

THE NEW PREMISES

The building on the premises purchased shortly before last Assembly required somewhat extensive enlargement and reconstruction to fit it for the purposes of the PUBLICATIONS work. This involved considerable expense. There was also the labor and expense of moving and refitting. In addition, the Bond Street premises had also to be carried for some five months until a suitable sub-letting of them for the remainder of the term of the lease could be effected.

THE PATHFINDER; AND GENERAL INCREASES

There was, besides, the initial expense incident to the enlargement and readjustment of the Bible Class Magazine, so that it might serve the interests of both Bible Classes and Young People's Societies. This also has been accomplished under the name of THE PATHFINDER. The new magazine has met with a most cordial reception.

A sharp advance in the already high cost of printing and the steady increase in the cost of material and labor common to all industries, likewise added to the burdens of the year.

PRESENT CONDITIONS

It is gratifying, therefore, to state, that, notwithstanding these exceptional conditions and circumstances, the year ends with a satisfactory balance on the right side of the account, and with a safe prospect for continued profitable expansion.

It is a matter of much satisfaction that Dr. Duncan, the Associate Editor, who had been absent for a year on account of impaired health, returned to his duties on the first of last November, fully restored.

FINANCE

The net cash receipts from the business for the year were $116,513.63, an increase of $14,011.50 on the preceding year. The expenditures were $111,653.38. The cash balance on hand at date is $3,243. The total excess of assets over liabilities is now $33,852.69, as compared with $33,029.63 last year, an increase of $823.06. Had it not been for the cost of removal and refitting mentioned above, and other exceptional expenses which will not recur, this amount would have stood at about $3,500, which is a good average. Our net equity in the Church and Gerrard Streets property is $17,674.27; and on account of its advantageous position, this property is certain to increase in value.

YEAR BOOK AND LE RAYON

The Presbyterian Year Book was issued as previously. It will be issued for 1914 in good time for congregations to order a copy for each family.

Le Rayon de Soleil, our French paper, continues to be issued for the Publications Committee, under the care of Rev. S. Rondeau, Montreal. It is ably edited, neatly printed, and fills an important place in providing Sunday School Lesson help and good reading for our French children and young people.

EXHIBIT

That the Presbyterian Publications is now providing adequately for the needs of our congregations, Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies is evidenced by the Exhibit at Massey Hall in connection with the Pre-Assembly Congress and the General Assembly. The aim of the Publications is to keep pace with these various needs as they may arise. The business thus organized has become an important agency in the work of the Church. Not to speak of its service to the Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies, our Publishing House has done much, especially through the issue of Contribution Envelopes and all necessary supplies for congregational and missionaries treasurers, in the promoting of better financial methods in congregations and larger givings to the Schemes of the Church.

GRADED LESSONS

One of the problems of the near future is the increasing demand from our Sabbath Schools for Graded Lessons. These have had to be supplied up to the present time as published in the United States, the complexity of Graded Lessons and the large initial expense of their issue having thus far prevented such issue in Canada. Our arrangements are such that we can supply these Lessons to our Schools at publishers' prices; and it is earnestly hoped that all Schools wishing to use Graded Lessons will order them through our Publishing House. But it is also exceedingly desirable that our Church should have its own issue of Graded Lessons, as it has long had of the Uniform Lessons. The Committee is working upon the problem, and is not without hope that it may be solved soon.

Respectfully submitted.

Secretary.

JOHN LOWDEN,
Convener.

REPORT OF THE HYMNAL COMMITTEE.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Your Hymnal Committee in presenting their thirty-fifth annual report are glad to state that the sales of the Book of Praise continue to increase every year.

The copies sold last year were as follows:

Sabbath School edition	19,125
Small type (Ruby) edition, in several bindings	36,554
Medium type (Long Primer) edition	15,642
Large type (Pica) edition	787
Large size Music edition	2,370
Small size Music edition	9,641
Emerald edition	2,171
Diamond edition	52
Total	86,342

This is an increase of 5¼% over the number sold the previous year.

2. The royalty received was $3,776.98; and from this your Committee set apart $3,000, dividing it as per regulation of the General Assembly, as follows:

Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund	$2,000 00
Widows' and Orphans' Fund (West)	750 00
Widows' and Orphans' Fund (East)	250 00

By this regulation the Synod of the Maritime Provinces receives one quarter of the amount set apart for widows and orphans, while its membership now is less than one sixth of the membership of the whole Church, and its annuitants less than one-seventh of all the annuitants. Present conditions would therefore indicate one-sixth as a sufficient portion for that Synod instead of one-fourth.

3. As instructed by the Assemblies of the last three years, your Committee, through its Executive, have continued collecting material for strengthening the Book of Praise.

Since the last Assembly, a considerable portion of the Book has been examined with a view to eliminating psalm versions and hymns and tunes that arebelievedto be unacceptable, and inserting others that are known to be popular and intrinsically excellent.

Special attention was given to the section entitled: "Hymns for the Young."

When this revision is completed and has passed through the hands of Presbyteries and the Assembly as well as those of the Committee, it is believed our present Book, which stands so high among hymnaries, will occupy a higher place still, and prove more abundantly useful and acceptable.

To perfect the Book, your Committee need and earnestly desire the assistance of Presbyteries and members of the Church. They are invited as they were two years ago by circular and through the press (a) to indicate hymns they find unsuitable for their purpose, and that they believe might be omitted to make way for better ones; and (b) to send hymns, both words and music, that they believe should be included in our collection. (The cost of such will be paid for by the Committee).

Urgent requests have come that the Book of Praise should be revised and enriched at once or that a separate book should be published for Sabbath School work. Neither request can be granted till our present contract with the publishers has expired, in 1915. Your Committee judge that by that time the revised edition could be issued if the Assembly so desires.

4. In obedience to the last Assembly, your Committee corresponded with the Hymnal Committee of the Methodist Church and with officials of the Congregational body as to the desirability of co-operation in issuing a hymnal for the use of the three denominations. Up to the present nothing practical has been the outcome.

5. Your Committee believe the time has fully come when the church should not only have a sufficient Book of Praise, but when it should take active steps towards teaching the people more fully in the use of that Book. Some of our best hymns that are popular and useful in ordinary congregations and Sabbath Schools, are nevertheless unknown to many who take kindly to even inferior hymns in some other book, simply because they have heard them well sung; and so they call for a new book till by some chance they discover hitherto unknown beauties in their own. Your Committee have therefore arranged to take part in our summer schools, that there the possibilities of our Book of Praise may be demonstrated. But that is only a beginning, and a limited one. There is need of systematic attention to this matter in the church as a whole. And as the effective use of psalms and hymns and spiritual songs among our people depends so largely upon the pastor's knowledge of our Book of Praise and how to use it, is it not time that the use of the Book as an instrument in the work of the Lord should be given a distinct place in our theological curricula? Is there not also need in most of our congregations for something like the old-time singing class? This would make singing of psalms and hymns more general among the people both in the sanctuary and in the home; and it might also solve the problem of providing a better income for many an insufficiently paid leader of church music.

Presbyterial Sabbath School Conventions also would be more popular and more useful if as much care were taken to kindle enthusiasm in the singing of hymns from our own Book as taken in the music in interdenominational conventions by capable musicians secured for the purpose, and who thus advertise most effectively the books they use.

And might not the General Assembly and our Synods set a stimulating and commanding example in this matter by making fuller provision for the well-regulated and effective singing of our psalms and hymns at their sederunts?

6. Your Committee have sent the question of the Robert Murray Memorial to Synods; and a supplementary report on this matter will be prepared when the Synods that meet in May are heard from.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. That hereafter in dividing the royalties allocated to the Widows' and Orphans' Funds, one sixth be apportioned to the Eastern section.

2. That the Hymnal Committee be instructed to indicate as soon as possible the hymns and tunes proposed to be eliminated from the Book of Praise, and to print in extenso the psalms and hymns proposed to be added, intimating the names of the tunes for such hymns, and the books in which the tunes may be found, and to send the same down to Presbyteries; and further that Presbyteries be instructed to report to the Hymnal Committee their judgment on the matter sent down, and be invited to suggest other hymns and tunes to be added or omitted.

3. That the Committee be instructed to devise and initiate means for advancing the interests of praise throughout the Church.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF FINANCE.

At the meeting of the General Assembly in Edmonton in June, 1912, the Board of Finance was appointed to take the place of the Assembly's Committee on Systematic Giving.

The duties of the Board were defined by the General Assembly as follows:

(1) To take the necessary steps to secure the revenue for all the missionary, educational and benevolent work of the Church as set forth in the Budget for the current year.

(b) To receive the estimates from the different departments for the ensuing year, and adjust the same for submission to the Assembly.

(c) To have general oversight of all the expenditure of the Church as far as its ordinary revenue is concerned.

DUTIES OF THE BOARD.

The Board recommend to the General Assembly that their duties, as defined by the last Assembly, without limiting their general powers, be interpreted as including the following:—

1st. To supervise and regulate the office accommodation and clerical assistance of the various departments of the Church;

2nd. To supervise and regulate the system of accounting in use in the Church Offices;

3rd. To obtain from the Treasurer statements of the receipts and expenditures of the various departments of the Church;

4th. To recommend an auditor of the Treasurer's books, to be appointed by the General Assembly;

5th. To authorize special expenditures on the part of the General Assembly's Committees not provided for by the General Assembly itself;

6th. To sanction overdrafts on the bank accounts of the Church.

It was understood that the Committee on Systematic Giving in Synods and Presbyteries should stand in the same relation to the Finance Board as they did previously to the Assembly's Committee on Systematic Giving.

The first meeting of the Board was held on the 9th of July, 1912, at which the general policy to be pursued was discussed.

A committee was appointed to interview Dr. A. S. Grant, with the view of having him accept the position of Chief Executive Officer of the Board. Unfortunately Dr. Grant could not see his way clear to accept such appointment.

The Board were successful in securing the consent of the Executive of the Board of Social Service and Evangelism to the release of Rev. D. C. MacGregor from his regular duties to give four months of his time to the work of organization and education. At the expiration of the four months further arrangements were made by which Mr. MacGregor has assisted the Board of Finance.

The Board desires to express their gratitude to the Board of Social Service and Evangelism for their kindness and to Mr. MacGregor for his services.

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION.

To secure effective action in every Synod the Board decided to appoint special representatives to co-operate with Synod and Presbytery Committees in getting every congregation more deeply interested in the general work of the church and better organized in the methods of giving.

The men who were persuaded to undertake this work in behalf of the Board were: Rev. S. T. Martin, M.A., for the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa; Rev. J. W. Wallace, D.D., for the Synod of Toronto and Kingston; Rev. Dr. McCrae, for the Synod of Hamilton and London; Rev. G. B. Wilson, Ph.D., for the Synod of Manitoba; Rev. W. G. Wilson, M.A., for the Synod of Saskatchewan; Rev. J. W. Woodside, B.A., for the Synod of British Columbia.

All these men rendered splendid service and the thanks of the Church is due, and is hereby presented to them for the personal sacrifice they made, and to their congregations for the splendid spirit they manifested in being willing to have their ministers give so much time to the general work of the Church.

The Board would also express its high appreciation of the unselfish and wholehearted service rendered by Synod and Presbytery Conveners in promoting the spirit of liberality throughout the Church, and in introducing better financial systems in congregations.

WORK IN SYNODS.

The representatives of the Board in co-operation with the conveners of Synod and Presbytery Committees at once began their work.

In almost every case the Synod's Committee was first met with and the apportionment of the Budget for 1913 was made to Presbyteries.

Presbyteries were addrssed on the Budget and plans laid to reach every congregation.

(1) With information regarding the great missionary, benevolent, and educational work of the Church.

(2) With the teaching of Scripture on the subject of stewardship.

(3) With plans for the introduction of: (a) Systematic weekly giving; (b) Every individual canvass; (c) Duplex envelope.

The acting secretary visited Western Canada, and in co-operation with the Board's special representatives, and the convenors of the Synod's Committees organized an extensive campaign of educational missionary work.

All of the four Western Synods were reached. In addition to the special service rendered by ministers and laymen of the West in this campaign the Board had the assistance of Drs. Grant, Shearer, and MacKenzie, who spent almost two months visiting Synods, Presbyteries and addressing scores of congregations on Sundays and in week-night services.

Great interest in the Church's work was awakened, an interest that has been splendidly reflected in the largely increased contributions to the schemes.

SUCCESS OF THE EVERY INDIVIDUAL CANVASS.

The success of the annual every person canvass is strikingly illustrated by the following instances.

Four years ago the congregation of Bloor Street, Toronto, contributed about $6,000 to the schemes. After the duplex envelope was introduced the givings increased to $12,000, but this included the gifts of Women's Societies.

The apportionment made to this congregation under the Budget of 1912 was $15,000. A house to house canvass was made with the result that promises were received amounting to about $16,000. At the end of the year the congregation had contributed toward the Budget the sum of $15,500.20.

The Presbyterian Church in Moose Jaw reports results even more striking.

In 1911 the contributions to the schemes from that congregation amounted to less than $1,000. The amount apportioned to the congregation under the Budget for 1912 amounted to $5,500. A canvass was made and in a few days $8,000 was pledged.

Another canvass for 1913 was made recently and as a result pledges amounting to $10,000 were received from the schemes.

Many other instances might be given but these are sufficient to show that when congregations undertake seriously to enlist the interest and the support of their members in the general work of the Church, a sufficient revenue will be received to carry the work effectively forward.

THE BUDGET FOR 1913.

The budget for 1913 as approved by the General Assembly amounts to $1,200,000 and is apportioned to the various departments as follows:

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF BUDGET.

The Budget plan, as adopted by the General Assembly, has proved a real success and has been of great value in promoting more generous giving throughout the Church, as the following statement shows:—

BUDGET FOR 1914.*

At its meetings on April 21st, 1913, the Board gave careful consideration to the Budget for 1914. The request of the Sabbath School Committee that their estimates should be included in the Budget was granted, and the privilege given them of continuing the Children's Day special collection. Estimates were also received for the first time from Saskatchewan College. Three of the colleges reported large accumulated deficits, and the Board decided to include one-fifth of the accumulated deficit in each case in the Budget for this year, with the view of wiping out the deficit in five years.

In order to make provision for these additional items and to keep pace with the growing needs of the Church, it was decided to recommend to the Assembly that the Budget for 1914 be $1,400,000, as follows:—

Foreign Missions	$375,000
Home Missions	700,000

MATTERS REFERRED TO THE BOARD BY GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

((a) Gwalior Mission.

Acting under instructions from the last Assembly the Executive Board of Finance had conference with the Foreign Mission Committee of the Church and the Board representing the Gwalior Mission. After a full consideration of the representations made to the Executive it was decided that it is better for the Gwalior Mission to remain at present independent. The Board therefore reports to the Assembly that it can discover no way in which the Gwalior Mission can be brought into closer connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

(b) Salaries of Church Officials.

With regard to the adjustment of the salaries of Church Officials referred to the Board by last General Assembly, the Board recommend to the Assembly that the salaries of the following Officials appointed by the General Assembly be in the meantime fixed as follows:—

The Treasurer of the Church	$3,000.00
The General Superintendent of Home Missions	3,500.00
The Secretary of the Home Mission Board	2,700.00
The Foreign Mission Secretary	3,000.00
The Assistant Secretary Foreign Missions	2,400.00
The General Secretary Social Service and Evangelism	3,000.00
The Associate Secretary, Evangelism	2,400.00
The Associate Secretary, Social Service	2,400.00
Secretary Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies	2,700.00 and, further recommend, that in order to avoid inequalities in salaries in the future, the Assembly instruct the Board of Finance to make recommendations to the Assembly regarding advances in salaries and the fixing of salaries of new appointees of the Assembly.

Laymen's Secretary.

The Board agreed, in order to advance the Budget, that, if the Laymen's Missionary Council (Presbyterian Section) appoints a Secretary, the Board will undertake to provide the salary and expenses pertaining to the said office at a rate of not more than $5,000 a year. As no Secretary was appointed by the Laymen's Missionary Council, the Board ask the Assembly to empower them to continue their undertaking.

TRAVELLING EXPENSES OF COMMISSIONERS TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

After hearing a statement from the Chairman of the Committee on the Travelling Expenses of Commissioners to the General Assembly urging that a new principle of payment be adopted, the Board decided to recommend to the Assembly that beginning with the year 1914 the principle of assessing Presbyteries be abandoned, and that the claims ofthis fund under the rules adopted last year be regarded as a first charge upon all moneys received by the Treasurer of the Church.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY.

The Board appreciates the magnitude of the task committed to it by the Assembly, and realizes that the success of its work is vital to all the departments of the Church's activity. Much serious consideration was therefore given to the question of the appointment of the Chief Executive Officer. It was the unanimous opinion of the Board that the Assembly should appoint Dr. A. S. Grant to this position, believing that in a very special way he possesses those qualities necessary to make the work of the Board a success, and that his appointment will mean much in making effective every department of the Church's work.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

(1) That Dr. A. S. Grant be appointed by the Assembly as Chief Executive Officer of the Board of Finance.

(2) That, beginning with the year 1914, the principle of assessing Presbyteries for the travelling expenses of commissioners to the Assembly be abandoned, and that these expenses be made a first charge upon all moneys received by the Treasurer of the Church.

(3) That the General Assembly again urge upon all Presbyteries and Congregations in the Church the adoption, wherever practicable, of the Duplex Envelope, and the Every Individual Canvass.

The Board desire to express their sincere sympathy with Dr. W. G. Wallace, Chairman, in the bereavement he sustained during the year.

Owing to his absence during the past six months, Dr. D. R. Drummond has been Acting Chairman. The Board desire also to record their appreciation of Dr. Drummond's valuable services in this capacity.

Respectfully submitted,

D. R. DRUMMOND,
Acting Chairman.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CORRESPONDENCE WITH OTHER CHURCHES.

There was no occasion during the year for calling the Committee together or asking advice from it on any matter. The Reverend F. Hunter Boyd, employed by the Home Mission Committee in advising Presbyterian emigrants leaving Scotland and other countries in Europe, for Canada, asked letters of commendation to the several Presbyterian Assemblies and Synods, as his work would be much helped by a recognition from the home churches. These letters were given. The Reverend Principal Scrimger, D.D., was appointed, by the Committee of Assembly charged with selecting a delegate to represent the Presbyterian Church in Canada at the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, meeting at Edinburgh in the month of May, and said delegate has undertaken the office.

ROBERT CAMPBELL,
Convener.

MONTREAL, April 1st, 1913.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC WORSHIP AND AIDS TO DEVOTION.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Your Committee begs to report that its Executive held five meetings during the year, and that a large amount of work has been done. The body of the book has been carefully revised and brought to completion. The remaining portion is now undergoing a similar revision and the whole work will be issued as soon as possible.

WM. FARQUHARSON

REPORT OF THE DEACONESS COMMITTEE AND PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARY AND DEACONESS TRAINING HOME, 1912-13.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Your Committee begs to report a steadily deepening interest throughout our Church in the Deaconess work, and a goodly number of earnest and capable young women offering themselves for service.

At the closing exercises of the Training Home on April 4th, sixteen of the students graduated. Thirteen of these were designated to work in different places. This is much the largest number graduating in any year in the history of our work. Seven others were designated during the year on the ground of proved experience.

So much is the work of the Deaconess being appreciated in our Church, that there are a number of applications for deaconesses on file which the Board is unable to meet. While the work is now attracting quite a large number of capable and devoted young women, the rapidly developing work of our Church, and the recognition of the place that trained women can take in this work make a strong appeal for a still larger number of young women to devote themselves to this form of Christian ministry.

The Committee gratefully recognizes the more liberal financial support given this past year by the Church, but would point out that a considerable portion of the funds for the maintenance of the work is still contributed by the Women's Missionary Societies, and would express the hope that the amount placed in the estimates for the Deaconess work may be contributed this coming year.

MRS. LIVINGSTON'S RESIGNATION.

At the close of the session, Mrs. E. Livingston, who has been superintendent of the Training Home for the past twelve years, resigned her position, and the following resolution was adopted by the Board:—

"The Board in accepting Mrs. Livingston's resignation as Superintendent of the Deaconess Training Home, records its appreciation of her faithful services during the years of her incumbency. Her capable management of the internal affairs of the Home, her accurate estimate of the attainments and character of students, her affectionate interest and solicitude in their behalf whilst in residence and after graduation, along with the excellence of her annual reports, have all contributed to the success and gratifying growth of the institution during the years of her administration."

Your Board is giving earnest attention to the duty of filling the position of superintendent and fitting our Training Home in every way to meet the demands made upon it for workers in the Church's different departments. From careful observations, we believe, that in Course of Studies and quality of work done, our Training Home is quite the equal of any similar organization on this continent; and it is interesting to note that it is the only Training Home under the direct control of a Presbyterian Church.

THE COURSE AND STAFF.

Your Committee would express its high appreciation of the valuable services so unstintedly given by the professors of Knox College, and others who formed the teaching staff of the Training Home during the session.

EXTRACTS FROM REPORTS OF DEACONESSES.

One deaconess writes:—"Part of my work was organizing a working girls' class. I visited girls in the hotels, boarding houses and homes. At first it was not a great success, but little by little through God's help it grew, and is still growing, with a membership now of 30, and one realizes the great future for this work among girls in a place where there are so many hotels and factories. The girls themselves, once you win their confidence, are very ready to respond to anything you may do for them, and they need someone to show them that the Church takes an interest in them when they come to the city lonely and friendless."

Another says:—"'We are happiest when we are busiest.' So there have been happy busy hours visiting the aged, the sick, the shut-ins. It is gratifying to see and hear their terms of appreciation when any little kindness has been done for them, such as a few flowers, a message from a friend, information about the Church work, and to others something of the sermon of the previous Sabbath. The strangers and non-Church-goers have been visited, and I frequently am told, 'We have not got started yet, but will come some day.' 'I used to attend Church regularly when at home, but I don't know anybody here.' Special attention has been given to visiting the young women who were friendless in a strange land, bringing them to the Church services, seeking to interest them, and help them to live a life of closer fellowship with Jesus Christ."

Again:—"In my house to house visitation many new families were found not in attendance at any Church, eight or ten nationalities were found in this section, and not less than twenty distinct religious bodies, Christian or non-Christian."

"The past year has been full of opportunity, over 1,000 calls made, many in homes of sickness, where a little sympathetic ministry was much appreciated. As Superintendent of the Cradle Roll and Home Department, I have found this branch most interesting. A Nursery Committee, whose duties are to care for the babies during morning service, so that the parents can attend church, has given me, as convener, much active work."

"The varied duties of a deaconess mean a complete yielding up of oneself to the service of humanity, meeting every need as it comes, in the best possible way known to her. Almost 2,000 calls, many of them meaning problems to meet and solve, but one has been much encouraged by the kindly spirit of appreciation and sympathy which the congregation have shown, enabling the deaconess to overcome many difficulties which at first sight seemed insurmountable."

From the West we get the same kind of activity:—"I spent my first months visiting for the Sabbath School, and feel that this branch is important, for, after all, it is the Sunday School that counts in the making of good citizens. Clerical work occupied many weeks, as also the planning and arranging for the young women's organizations. We hold Sunday classes, and have devotional, literary, missionary and social evenings once a week. In summer a tennis club and out-door athletics keep the class together; in between I visit these young women in their rooms or for a few moments in their places of business. They are my special charge and more and more do I see the great need for this kind of work in our Western cities. We cannot measure results, but faithfulness is what is required by Him, so in His name I go forward doing what I can that He may receive glory and honour."

SUGGESTED AMENDMENTS TO REGULATIONS.

The Committee offers the following recommendations of amendments to the regulations:—

1. That the minimum salary of a deaconess be $40 per month, instead of $30 as hitherto, and that of a student deaconess $30, instead of $25, a month.

2. That Clauses 1, 2 and 3, under the heading, "Appointments," in last year's Deaconess' Announcement, page 283, Appendix, Minutes General Assembly, 1912, be rearranged and read as follows:—

Designation.

"I. On successful completion of their course and appointment to parochial work, or work under Committees or Boards of the Church, deaconesses are designated by the Presbytery, on the recommendation of the General Assembly's Deaconess Committee; said recommendation being also requisite in the case of women who have not taken the Training Home course, but who seek designation on the ground of approved efficiency and experience in Christian work.

"2. Designation is made only of those under appointment."

Appointment.

"1. All appointments of deaconesses and of student deaconesses are made by the General Assembly's Deaconess Committee. The appointments of deaconesses are for not more than one year, but are renewable year by year.

"2. Appointments are made only in response to applications from Sessions, Missionary Boards, Board of Social Service and Evangelism, or other organizations requiring the services of a deaconess."

"Numbers 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, under 'Appointments' to read '3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8.'"

3. That, until such time as full provision is made in the various college centres for the training of deaconesses, the first year of the two years' course of training for deaconesses, may be taken in any college centre where provision is made in conjunction with the Assembly's Deaconess Committee for the teaching of the curriculum, and that such deaconesses shall do practical work under the direction of a local committee, to be formed by, and to work in connection with the Assembly's Deaconess Committee.

It may be explained that the above recommendation is offered by the Board in response to a suggestion from the Board of Social Service.

4. The Board of Social Service also asked the Deaconess Committee that, in the case of deaconesses in training for work under that Board, residence in its institutions should be considered as equivalent to residence in the Deaconess Training Home.

This matter was carefully considered in all its bearings, and it was agreed to submit to the General Assembly:—

That the Board is in full sympathy with the Board of Social Service in its desire to obtain the best possible special training for deaconesses preparing for its special work.

The Board, however, does not see its way clear at the present time to dispense with the requirement of residence in the Training Home for at least a portion of the period of training, but recommends to the General Assembly that in the case of those preparing for such special social service work, only one session's residence in the Training Home be required.

Respectfully submitted,

April 30th, 1913.

Superintendent Training Home:

Requests for information, and applications for admission as students, to be addressed to "Superintendent, Training Home, 60 Grosvenor Street, Toronto," from whom forms of application for admission may be obtained.

A Prayer Circle, composed of those who have at any time been connected with the Home, holds its meetings every Saturday during the session at 7.30 p.m., when every member is prayed for by name.

A Prayer Meeting, under the charge of the Boards of the W.F.M.S. and the W.H.M.S., to which all interested in the work are welcomed, is held in the Home once a month during the session.

THE TRAINING HOME.

The Presbyterian Missionary and Deaconess Training Home is under the control of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and is governed by a Board of Management appointed by the General Assembly.

Its object is the training of women as deaconesses and for work in the Foreign Mission field.

The Training Home is situated at 60 Grosvenor Street, Toronto (reached by Yonge Street cars from Union Station). It stands in the midst of beautiful grounds, and is situated near to the University, the new Knox College, the Medical College, and the new General Hospital, so that students can conveniently avail themselves of the educational advantages thus offered, and, from the Training Home as a centre, may easily reach any part of the city in which they may be doing practical work.

THE COURSE.

The full course covers two sessions of eight months each, beginning with October. The first six months of each session are devoted mainly to classes and study, the remaining two months chiefly to various forms of practical work. DESIGNATION.

1. On sucessful completion of their course and appointment to parochial work, or work under Committees or Boards of the Church, deaconesses are designated by the Presbytery, on the recommendation of the General Assembly's Deaconess Committee; said recommendation being also requisite in the case of women who have not taken the Training Home course, but who seek designation on the ground of approved efficiency and experience in Christian work.

2. Designation is made only of those under appointment.

APPOINTMENTS.

1. All appointments of deaconesses and student deaconesses are made by the General Assembly's Deaconess Committee. The appointments of deaconesses are for not more than one year, but are renewable year by year.

2. Appointments are made only in response to applications from Sessions, Missionary Boards, Board of Social Service and Evangelism, or other organizations requiring the services of a deaconess.

3. The salary in all cases to be approved by the Deaconess Committee, and in the case of graduate deaconesses to be not less than $480 per annum, with one month's vacation in the year, at a time arranged by the deaconess and the Church court or Committee under which she is working.

4. A report is to be made to the Deaconess Committee annually by each deaconess, and by the Church or Committee under which she is employed.

5. Requests for the continuation of engagement of a deaconess shall be made by the Church Court or Committee under which she is working, to the Deaconess Committee, not less than two months before the engagement terminates. Similar notice to be given by any deaconess not wishing to continue her engagement.

6. Deaconesses shall be permitted to retire altogether from the work by giving three months' notice to the Deaconess Committee.

7. Only students in the Training Home and graduates in active work are permitted to wear the Presbyterian Deaconess uniform, except by special permission of the Deaconess Committee.

8. All appointments to the Foreign Field are made by the Foreign Mission Committee, and while the diploma of the Training Home is not a guarantee of appointment, it may be safely said that it is a strong ground of recommendation.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SOCIAL SERVICE AND EVANGELISM, 1913.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Our sixth year of service has come and gone. We make our report with gratitude and humility. Having regard for what waits to be done we feel that we have accomplished little. Yet great progress has been made along all the many and varied lines of work followed. We give God the praise for all that has been undertaken or accomplished.

The work of the department includes inter alia:—

(1) Evangelism.

(2) Moral and Social Reform, e.g., Sabbath Observance, Temperance, suppression of such vices as gambling, personal, social and political impurity, procuring and white slavery.

(3) Securing the enactment and enforcement of laws for moral and social betterment.

(4) Redemptive social work among the victims of social vice, drink, and drugs.

(5) Prison Gate Work.

(6) Evangelical Social Settlement Work.

(7) Stimulating public interest in the conservation of health, the promotion of good housing, constructive philanthropy, consecrated supervised play, etc., etc.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Reports received from Presbyteries and Synods indicate a great variety of opinion as to whether or not respect for the Lord's Day is weakening.

Throughout the rural districts of the country there seems to be a general opinion that the law is well observed, though even here there are indications that during the certain seasons farming operations are in progress on the Sabbath.

The reports from districts where lumbering and mining operations are carried on, as well as from the great industrial and commercial centres of population show that great corporations, wherever it is in their interests to do so, do not hesitate to disregard the law on Sabbath Observance.

In many cases they not only require men to work on Sundays, but also fail to give them one full day's rest in seven. One Presbytery reports that wherever the "big interests" do not interfere there is little tendency to law violation.

The following are some of the violations of the Lord's Day Act noted on the reports: Loading, shunting, and running trains on Sunday; loading and unloading boats; construction work on the railways; mining operations, in some cases with the consent of the miners; unnecessary work in smelters and iron and steel works.

In addition certain Presbyteries refer to the sale of tobacco, fruits, liquor, etc., in violation of the provisions of the Lord's Day Act.

Perhaps nothing has a greater tendency to secularize and destroy the religious value of the Sabbath more than the so-called "sacred concert," which has been introduced into certain cities.

In the City of Winnipeg a number of picture shows operated one Sabbath professedly to raise funds for a charitable purpose, but doubtless in order to popularize their demand for Sunday operation. The offenders are being prosecuted, and it is confidently expected that a conviction will be secured.

Everywhere ministers seem to be alive to the gravity of the situation created by the rapid commercial and industrial development of the country, and by the character of our immigration. By a constant education of the public conscience on the sanctity of the Lord's Day and by a continual protest against violations of the law they are doing much to defend the Sabbath against its enemies.

In this work they have the hearty and effective co-operation of the Lord's Day Alliance.

The annual report of this organization for 1912 contains encouraging information. The Alliance took action under the Federal Statute against a skating rink in Montreal for Sunday operation as a test case. They secured a conviction and the defendants were fined $50 and costs. This is a guarantee that Sunday baseball and Sunday picture shows, etc., will be brought under the control of the Federal Law on Sabbath observance, and in future will be prohibited.

In Toronto the City Council were induced to close the city toboggan slides on Sunday, on the principle "that it is not good public policy for a city to keep open on the Lord's Day under its auspices and control a place of public amusement."

In British Columbia the Attorney-General has given his consent to the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act and a number of offenders have been convicted while others have given guarantees to observe the law in the future.

The development of public sentiment is evidenced by the fact that in Victoria, B.C., for the first time in its history the City Council by a vote of eight to three called for the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act.

The most discouraging feature of the year has been the action of the Provincial Government in Ontario in granting the right to the Metropolitan Railway to operate on Sunday between Toronto and Lake Simcoe, notwithstanding strong opposition from the municipalities affected.

But even where the law of the land is not violated there is often little regard for the religious significance of the Sabbath.

Complaints come from all parts of the country that even Christian people are too often found among those who instead of honouring the Lord, spend the Sabbath "doing their own ways and finding their own pleasure," and thus weaken the hands of those who are striving to maintain its sanctity.

In many cities and country places attendance at the services of the day are seriously interfered with through the prevalence of motoring, boating, social visiting, picnicking, etc. Such tendencies as these are fraught with the gravest consequences for our national life.

Increasingly the pulpit must proclaim the sacredness of the Lord's Day, and call upon all Christians to observe it in accordance with the Teaching of God's Word.

TEMPERANCE.

Temperance reform is one of the most vital and practical issues before the Canadian people. In this reform our denomination is constantly seeking to render such service as will make for the minimizing of the evils arising from the sale of alcohol, and the eventual suppression of the liquor traffic.

PROGRESS.

The past year has been one of great activity and substantial progress has been made. The lines of battle are becoming clearly defined and the temperance forces more and more united against a common enemy.

The results of scientific investigation of the last decade have aroused nations to the fact that more than any other factor alcohol is responsible for race deterioration. Evidence regarding the relation of alcohol and poverty, idiocy, insanity, vice, inefficiency and physical degeneracy has convinced rulers, statesmen, and governments that their greatest enemy is not without but within their borders, and has led them to warn their people regarding the evil effects of alcohol and to take action looking to the more adequate control of its sale.

The Emperor of Germany, in addressing the naval cadets urged them not to count alcohol as one of their privileges, and said, "The next war and the next naval battle will demand of you sound nerves. Victory will lie with the nation that uses the smallest amount of alcohol."

The Crown Prince of Sweden in an address in 1910 said: "The nation that is first to free itself from the injurious effects of alcohol will thereby attain a marked advantage over other nations in the amicable yet intensive struggle for existence."

The newly-elected President of the United States, the Vice-President and the Secretary of State are all total abstainers and have substituted non-intoxicants as beverages at their official banquets.

England and France have at last discovered that alcohol is responsible for much of the physical degeneracy of their people. Leading statesmen in both countries by education and legislation have been seeking to lessen the traffic and its consequent evils.

THE SITUATION IN CANADA.

Nova Scotia.—The situation in Nova Scotia is little changed from last year. The difficulty of law enforcement is still acutely felt, though progress has been made in this respect. The instructions of the Minister of Railways that the Intercolonial Railway should be subject to the same rights of search as the other railways have enabled the authorities to deal more effectively with illegal shipments.

Prince Edward.—Splendid reports come from the island province as to the effectiveness of prohibition. Illicit sales are gradually growing fewer, and the value of prohibition is shown by the decrease in crime and in the cost of the administration of justice.

New Brunswick.—In this province the government were interviewed by the Temperance forces who asked that a provincial prohibitory law be discussed. This request was not granted, but the tide of temperance sentiment is steadily rising. At present the Canadian Temperance Act is in operation in ten out of fourteen counties.

Quebec.—In this province nineteen counties are without licenses.

Out of a total of 1,168 municipalities 869 are without the bar.

Compared with last year this shows an increase of 92 municipalities and three counties where the bar has been abolished.

A most hopeful feature in Quebec is the appointment by the Government of a Royal Commission whose functions are "to study the sale of intoxicating liquor and the changes which it is expedient to make in the License Law.

The Commission has already done considerable work.

Ontario.—Public sentiment against the liquor traffic is steadily gaining in Ontario. Last January 77 municipalities voted on the Local Option By-Law. Twenty-six of them carried it by a three-fifths majority. Thirty-seven had a majority but failed to carry it owing to the three-fifths clause, and fourteen defeated it by a straight majority.

Out of 77 contests, 63 municipalities showed a majority for the By-Law and only fourteen against.

In the repeal contests 16 municipalities sustained the By-Law. In five it was saved by the three-fifths clause. In Acton alone the repeal carried.

The Canada Temperance Act was carried in Manitoulin and a number of other counties in older Ontario are considering the advisability of using this legislation to suppress the traffic.

The situation in the province at present is as follows:—

(a) As regards municipalities. There are 835 municipalities; 502 of these have no licenses; in 333 licenses are granted; in 123 the By-Law was carried by a majority but defeated by the three-fifths clause.

(b) As regards population. The population of districts granting no licenses is 1,401,962. The population of districts under license is 1,121,312.

The progress since 1875 is indicated by the following figures: The number of licenses granted in 1875 was 6,185. In 1912 the number granted was 1836, viz., 1,532 taverns, 221 shops, 31 wholesale, and 52 clubs.

ONTARIO LEGISLATION.

There has been much disappointment expressed over the bill for the amendment of the liquor laws.

The Bill deals with only four matters:

(1) Providing for an increase of $600 in the license fees for shops in cities over 100,000 population.

(2) Making the hour of opening the bar 8 a.m., instead of 6 a.m.

(3) Changing the law so that the term tavern license "Shall mean a license for selling liquor for consumption only on the licensed premises."

(4) Providing that the occupant of any livery stable or other building to which the public are in the habit of resorting shall not permit any liquors whether sold by him or not to be consumed on the premises by any person other than members of his family or employees or guests not being customers."

A grave injustice has been done the temperance forces by what is known as the West Lorne decision, which declares that any vote illegally cast in a Local Option contest must be deducted from the total number voting for the By-Law. No legislation to remedy this injustice was granted by the Government.

Manitoba.—Little progress has been made in this province during the past year. The temperance forces are at present planning an extensive educational campaign.

The situation at present is as follows: Of 143 municipalities 44 are under local option; in 27 no licenses are issued. This makes 71 under prohibition, and 72 under license.

Saskatchewan.—In this province the law is so weak as to be unworkable. As a consequence no effort has been put forth to bring on contests.

Alberta.—The situation in Alberta is far from satisfactory. In 1911 the temperance workers decided to bring on a contest in license districts Nos. 1 and 2 and as there were no voters' lists they secured names on their petitions equal to twenty per cent. of the persons voting at the previous election. Owing to difficulties in getting the necessary advertising done the Government asked to have the vote postponed, saying that they would honour the petitions of 1911 in 1912. When the temperance workers asked to have the question submitted in 1912 the liquor forces served an injunction on the Government to prevent them taking the vote. The injunction was allowed on the ground that the number of names obtained were not one-fifth of those now entitled to vote.

More definite legislation must be secured to deal with this most unsatisfactory condition of affairs.

British Columbia.—The government of British Columbia still resist the demands of the friends of temperance for the enactment of local option for the province.

However, several important amendments have been before the legislature. One of these takes away from municipalities the authority of allowing bar rooms to remain open indefinitely and provides for general closing at eleven o'clock on ordinary evenings and at ten o'clock on Saturday. Sunday selling is entirely prohibited.

More adequate provision is also made for the enforcement of the law.

THE CANTEEN.

The canteen has been abolished in the military training camps in the United States and Canada. At a recent militia conference held in Ottawa certain officers advocated its restoration.

In no uncertain terms the Minister of Militia declared that the canteen would not be restored in his regime, as it was the greatest blight a camp could have.

In addition he has sent out orders that in future the officers in command will be held respnosible for the sale of liquor in the camp, and that ignorance will not be considered an excuse.

TEMPERANCE EDUCATION.

The need for temperance education cannot be too strongly emphasized. To depend upon legislation and neglect education is fatal. Effective enforcement of law depends upon the strength of the public sentiment behind it.

Unfortunately temperance education in the public schools is practically a dead letter in all the provinces. Provision for temperance lessons is made in the curriculum in almost every province, but inquiry among teachers and others shows that little attention is paid to the subject.

This makes it all the more important that the teaching should be done in Sunday Schools, and that the temperance lesson should be specially provided for.

Young People's Societies, Men's Organizations, etc., should also make a study of this great social question.

Special sermons should be preached to awaken the public conscience. Lantern lectures should be arranged, and everything possible done that when a contest is arranged the traffic may be placed under the ban of the law.

The only hope for a speedy suppression of the traffic which is the greatest foe of humanity is in education to be followed by effective legislation.

LITERATURE.

The following pamphlets have been prepared by Rev. D. C. MacGregor, B.A., and will be sent free in quantities for distribution to all Presbyterian Churches, and to all others at cost price.

(1) Alcohol and Accidents.—This pamphlet deals with the relation between alcohol and accidents and shows how railway prohibition is being followed by industrial prohibition, especially in view of Workmen's Compensation Acts.

(2) Alcohol and the Army.—This is a series of testimonials from leading generals, showing that alcohol lessens physical endurance and unfits a soldier for his work. It also contains the statements of the Minister of Militia of Canada in which he declares against the canteen in military training camps.

(3) Alcohol and the Workingman.—This leaflet refers to certain experiments showing how alcohol impairs a workingman's efficiency, and directly affects his earning power.

(4) Alcohol and Crime.—This contains the judgment of leading judges, magistrates, governors of jails, as to the relation between alcohol and crime. Records of various cities and towns in Canada are given, furnishing evidence that is convincing.

(5) The Bible and Alcohol.—This pamphlet was prepared by Professor J. E. McFadyen, D.D., of Glasgow U. F. College for use in Scotland, and has been re-published by the Board.

(6) Alcohol—Labour's Worst Enemy.—A study of the census returns of 1911 comparing the liquor industry with other industries as to the employment of wage earners, the payment of wages, and the percentage of the increased value of the product paid to labour.

(7) Alcohol and Heredity.—Convincing evidence from authorities that the influence of alcohol extends unto the third and fourth generation.

(8) Canada's Greatest Burden.—An analysis of the cost of the traffic.

(9) Pamphlets on other phases of temperance are in process of preparation.

This literature is carefully prepared and will constitute the best stock literature on temperance for educational purposes to be had in Canada.

RACE TRACK GAMBLING.

Since last Assembly there is substantially no change in the situation in regard to race track gambling. The evil continues unabated. Indeed it is steadily growing in magnitude as new tracks are opened and is doing much to permeate our whole social business and recreational life with the spirit of gambling.

Your Board has co-operated with other churches and organizations in pressing the Federal Government to introduce an amendment to the Criminal Code, making the business of gambling unlawful in connection with horse races as it is now in connection with all other things.

We have no reason to think that these efforts have been successful and the Assembly will be asked to pronounce upon this matter when resolutions are submitted.

A gambling concern in Lucerne, Switzerland, has been sellingtickets for a general sweepstakes throughout Canada. The matter was brought to the notice of Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, who promptly ordered all Postmasters in Canada to refuse to issue money orders to this concern.

SUPPRESSION OF SOCIAL VICE.

In the suppression of vice we were able last year to report most encouraging progress. Our report this year is equally encouraging. During the year officially tolerated vice has been driven out of Calgary, Lethbridge, Winnipeg, Quebec, and Halifax. This pernicious policy is non-existent now throughout Canada east of the Rocky Mountains.

Conditions in British Columbia.—Houses of shame are to be found here and there, but the authorities are definitely committed to the policy of suppression everywhere —excepting in British Columbia. In that province conditions are shocking in the extreme.

In Victoria, in the Okanagan Valley, in Trail and Grand Forks, and Creston, vice is being suppressed. With these notable exceptions the authorities generally in British Columbia openly and shamelessly tolerate criminal vice. Wherever there is demand for it, there it is permitted.

To the credit of Vancouver it is to be said that in response to the appeal of the churches the Board of Police Commissioners ordered the suppression of their colony, consisting of over 200 criminals of this class. Many fled from the city. Others were brought before the magistrate, convicted, and sent to prison. The warden refused to admit them. The Hon. W. J. Bowser, Attorney-General, has since acknowledged that this unprecedented action was taken on his orders.

He has since been upheld in this action by the Government which refuses to admit convicted prostitutes to existing prisons, and has not provided other accommodation for them.

The city authorities are thus helpless and the shameless colony is running wide open again.

The Attorney-General appoints two out of three members of every Board of Police Commissioners in the Province, and thus can control every one of them. Though sworn to enforce the law, though required to do so by virtue of his office, he refuses to do so in regard to this sort of crime, and in the case of Vancouver has refused to make it possible for the local authorities to do their duty.

The following resolutions adopted by the Presbyteries of Kootenay, Westminster and Kamloops speak for themselves:

(a) Kootenay—"That the Presbytery deplore the exceptionally shocking conditions throughout the bounds in regard to social vice, commend the courageous stand taken by many of our ministers in conjunction with those of other Churches, and pledge all moral support to every legitimate effort to remove from the fair name of Kootenay the foul blot that the shameless toleration of criminal vice puts upon it, a blot made all the more offensive because the existing shocking conditions have in some instances been openly endorsed by the majority of the electors, where suppression of vice has been made the principal issue of the municipal campaign."

"That the Presbytery are humiliated to learn that conditions like those existing in many centres, in regard to social vice, are not only permitted by the Attorney-General and Provincial Government, but the enforcement of the Criminal Code is made impossible by the refusal to provide the necessary prison accommodation for those convicted of crime, from the vice areas established, tolerated and protected by the appointees of the Provincial Government, and an appeal is hereby made to the Synod and General Assembly, the Moral and Social Reform Councils of British Columbia, and of Canada, and all right thinking people to unite in accomplishing deliverance from these intolerable and demoralizing conditions."

(b) Westminster.—"Whereas the Government of this Province has refused to enforce the Criminal Code of Canada relatively to social vice, and whereas, the Government of this Province has regularly thwarted the action of the said Code as initiated by the Courts of Justice of this Province, and whereas the Government of this Province has shown no proper regard for the collective protests of the religious bodies of this Province in these matters be it resolved, that the members of this Presbytery shall from time to time inform their people of the significance of the action of the Government in its religious and civil bearings, and that the members of the Presbytery shall urge upon their people the necessity of the return of Parliamentary representatives more in accordance with the moral and spiritual interests of this Province."

(c) Kamloops.—"In view of the fact that the former custom of this Presbytery in making recommendation that the law for the suppression of open vice be enforced has been of no effect.

"In view also of the attitude of the Attorney-General on this question, repeatedly expressed, and of the failure of the Government officials under him to maintain the law, we decline to pass further resolutions on this subject, and regard any appeal to the Government as useless.

"The judgment of this Presbytery is that the only remedy for the present situation is the election to Parliament and to public office of men who are in sympathy with the enforcement of law, and who will give the moral welfare of the country just consideration.

"And the Clerk is instructed to forward this statement to Synod for its consideration."

AMENDMENTS TO THE CRIMINAL CODE.

In co-operation with other churches and organizations your Board has continued to press for urgently needed amendments to the Criminal Code. These may be summarized as follows:

(1) Raising the age of consent in seduction from 16 to 18, and in carnal knowledge from 14 to 16.

(2) Making all employers who seduce female employees under 21 punishable—not simply those in "shops, stores, mills, factories, and workshops," as now.

(3) Adding the penalty of whipping for men who procure girls for immoral purposes or engage in the White Slave Traffic, and giving constables power to arrest without warrant those suspected of engaging in this traffic.

(4) Making the enforcement of the law against bawdy houses and landlords who allow premises to be used as such, more effective and easy.

(5) Making solicitation by males or females and living in whole or in part on the avails of prostitution punishable more easily and more severely.

(6) Prohibiting the business of gambling and betting in connection with horse racing.

(7) Making the use of obscene or blasphemous language in any public place an offence.

(8) Making living in adultery or fornication a crime.

(9) Giving constables the right of entry, search and seizure in houses of prostitution, as in the case of other disorderly houses, and power to destroy forbidden matter found therein as well as immoral literature, opium, etc., found elsewhere in raids for illicit traffic in the same.

We are glad to say that many of these amendments have been introduced by the Government and enacted into law at the session of Parliament just ended, but that the following are not among the number:

(a) Raising the age of consent.
(b) Prohibiting race track gambling.
(c) Making all employers punishable who seduce female employees.
(d) Making adultery and lewd cohabitation offences.
(e) Prohibiting prize fights under the guise of boxing bouts.

The Assembly will be asked to pronounce upon these amendments accepted or rejected by the Government when resolutions are submitted.

PREVENTIVE EFFORT AMONG GIRLS.

Outside what can be accomplished by law there remains much work to be done with the object of preventing the victimizing of innocence and the practising of vice.

The secretaries and other representatives of the board are constantly pressing forward a pulpit, press and platform campaign of education and agitation, addressing audiences of both sexes together or of each separate. This is bearing evident fruit. Ammunition in the form of special information is supplied also to ministers and other speakers, the influence of which cannot but be extensive.

Then a most effective campaign is being constantly waged by the deaconesses and other women workers engaged in the redemptive work. This, too, is exerting a powerful preventive influence.

Attention is also being given to the providing of suitable, safe and economically accessible boarding-house accommodation for self-supporting girls working in the offices, shops, stores, factories, etc., in our larger cities. The Y. W. C. A. is doing nobly in seeking to meet this need, but they are unable, as yet, to accommodate more than a small fraction of the girls concerned, and only to certain classes of these, inasmuch as the various classes either do not mix at all, or at any rate sufficiently to live under the same roof.

Some of our wealthy men and women are planning to invest some of their surplus capital in boarding houses of various grades. We trust that many others will share in this ministry. It is much needed. A very large number of girls' boarding houses provide no parlor in which the girls can entertain or meet friends of either sex. They are driven, therefore, either to the street or to their private rooms. Besides, it is not uncommon for houses of vice to be advertised as boarding or rooming houses, and it is not easy for a strange girl to know what kind of a house she is taking a room in.

But perhaps the greatest preventive work the board is carrying on is by the production and systematic distribution of special literature aiming at warning the public, parents and young people alike of the horrors of the White Slave Traffic, and the physical pestilence and moral leprosy to which it invariably condemns its victims, at the frowning down of prudery and the double standard of morals with its terrible injustice to womanhood, and at the promoting of personal and social purity, and an intelligent understanding of sex, its purpose, its problems and its perils.

The literature is distributed by volunteer women agents in each congregation in the church. We have now nearly 1,000 engaged in this splendid work, and we hope in a few months to have such work in operation in every one of the 1,400 congregations or mission fields of the church. It is impossible to overestimate the influence along preventive lines of this one agency. A host of noble Christian women are thus not only working, reading and talking, but praying, for the salvation of girls and of boys and of young people of both sexes.

Many are the tokens of money, thanks and appreciation that reach the office from readers of this literature.

REDEMPTIVE WORK.

On February 1st, 1911, our first paid woman worker began her labours. About the beginning of May, 1911, our first Redemptive House was opened—in Toronto. We have now seventeen workers and five homes. These are located in Sydney, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Calgary.

As soon as God raises up the necessary suitable workers and the Church supplies the money, the Board will open similar homes in other cites in which already the women of the Church are organized and eager to meet the pressing need they find all about them.

In 1912-13, with small equipment and few workers, we have been able to minister in one way and another to several hundreds of girls sorely in need of help. Two hundred and twenty-eight have resided in or passed through the Redemptive Houses. Hundreds of others have been helped in hospitals, gaols, and elsewhere.

Our aim is to find private homes or self-supporting positions for the girls as soon as they are ready. While they are under our care every effort is made to win them to Christ. If feeble-minded, they are placed in institutions where such exist. If in need of medical care, they receive it in House or Hospital. After they leave any of our Redemptive Houses they are placed under the care of Christian women, who will mother them.

Our workers also keep in touch with them.

In reporting results we feel it wise to do so with reserve. It will not be a matter of wonder if some even of the most hopeful cases stumble or fall, or disappoint. Whether they do or not, we must and shall follow them with something of Divine compassion, Divine love and Divine patience, even as our gracious Saviour has followed and lifted up and borne with ourselves. We have stumbled oft, yet have been raised up again and again by His long-suffering mercy and abundant grace.

It will be a matter of much interest—and, we trust, of not a little helpfulness—to note the following sample cases selected from those who have passed through one or another of our five homes:—

A beautiful, bright girl of good family was foolish enough to accept an invitation from a seeming gentleman to whom she had been introduced by a young lady business friend to go for an automobile ride. All went well. It was exhilarating. Everything looked right. She went a second time. In a solitary place the cloven hoof suddenly appeared. Drugs did their deadly work. One very near to her said that for almost a year after that night of tragedy that beautiful girl "did not smile once." God took the innocent babe. The girl-mother is to-day a member of the Church, chastened, wiser —yea, purer—washed in the blood of the Lamb of God.

A beautiful girl of sixteen left her home in a rural town to earn her living in a large city. She met with very bad girl companions in the workroom. She fell, went down into the depths, was smitten with one of the pestilences with which nature punishes those who violate her laws governing sex relations. A critical operation saved her life, but at the awful loss of the power of parentage. She was nursed back to health and led to give her life to Christ. She has since proven the genuineness of her faith in heroic self-sacrifice and faithful service, and is growing up into a beautiful womanhood. She is one of many.

Another beautiful girl of Scandinavian stock, who had been betrayed young, had lost heart and abandoned herself to a life of commercialized vice, was found in the house of shame in a notorious colony by one of our consecrated deaconesses, brought into our Redemptive House, won to purity and self-respect—and, we trust, to Christ—has now gone, a beautiful, attractive, hopeful woman, to reside with Christian relatives.

A nice little girl from Southeastern Europe was betrayed on the lonely prairie, went to a great city, intending to hide her shame, but found no door opened, returned to her own province to a city where one of our Redemptive Houses is. Her money had all gone. She was in despair. Suicide seemed all that was left. Our deaconess found her, loved her, won her love, took her in, and nursed and cared for her. She is a mother now. She loves her child with a beautiful love. She lives for him. She went to the source of that consecrated deaconess's unselfish life, and found Christ as her Saviour. Her life is beautiful to look upon. God bless all such and those who serve and, under Christ, save them!

A poor little girl of Jewish race and faith was demoralized at the tender age of ten. A few months ago she was shipped as a white slave to a procurer of a notorious colony of vice in a city that shall be nameless. The authorities were warned by a woman who saw her on the journey. She was taken off the train at a city where one of our houses is, and handed over to our deaconess, who rapidly won her confidence and love. Learning that so beautiful a woman, as she considered her new-found friend, was a Christian, her natural prejudice against such vanished. She is now a follower of the formerly despised Nazarene. She loves Him now, and is ambitious to be one of His deaconesses. She is bright, buoyant, strong-willed—a born leader. Pray that she may be kept by His grace, and that her life may bring a harvest of good worthy of the promise of this crisis-time of her youth!

These are but samples that might be multiplied indefinitely.

"Lift up your eyes and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest." "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. Pray ye, therefore, the Lord of the harvest, that He will send labourers into His harvest."

This blessed work has grown by leaps and bounds. The Toronto House has been, in this second year of its existence, trebled in capacity. Sydney expects soon to build or buy much more commodious quarters. Montreal is overflowing, and contemplates similar expansion. Winnipeg and Calgary, though less than a year old, have already doubled their capacity, and contemplate quadrupling this summer. Colonel Walker, of Calgary, has donated a site of convenient location, a whole block with a street on every side, containing about three acres, for the new enlarged home in that city. The men of Calgary will build the necessary houses this summer. The contemplated property, worth over $30,000 will be deeded free to the Church for this work. A similar property of similar value, on the banks of the Red River at Winnipeg, will, about the same time, be completed and deeded to the Church by a group of men who give much of their time, as well as ability, energy and means to this special work.

Of these, 41 are living self-respecting lives, including those now in residence. The other 10, whereabouts are unknown.

EVANGELICAL SOCIAL SETTLEMENTS IN CITIES.

Robertson Memorial Institute, Winnipeg.

Robertson Memorial Institute is practically a Settlement, the workers not residing in the building, but in a house nearby. It is in close association with Robertson Memorial Church, whose pastor, Rev. A. McTaggart, is superintendent of the Institute.

There is a staff of five paid workers, besides a large number of volunteers giving part time.

There is an enrolment of 895 in the various clubs and classes, 251 in the Kindergarten, 156 in the Sunday School, 50 in the Junior Christian Endeavour.

The library contains 609 books. In November 450 were exchanged. The Institute won the first prize for its exhibit of work at the Industrial Exhibition in July last.

The constituency is largely non-Anglo-Saxon. Much good is accomplished in the teaching of English alone. They wish to learn, hence appreciate the help. This provides a point of sympathetic contact.

The Mothers' Club is a feature of the work. Goods are bought wholesale and sold at cost to the thrifty women, after being made into quilts and garments of all sorts at their meetings, under the leadership and with the help of volunteer women of the Churches.

One hundred and fifty-eight children were given a week on the Lake Shore at Gimli in July last. A Fresh Air Camp is being purchased for permanent use in this very blessed ministry.

An open air skating rink is operated in the winter with good results.

Altogether a splendid and great work is being done by the Institute. There should be several such in Winnipeg.

St. Christopher House, Toronto.

St. Christopher House, Toronto, was opened as an Evangelical Social Settlement on the 15th of June, 1912. It has, therefore, been in operation about ten months at the time of writing.

There has been a total enrolment of 701. There is a regular weekly attendance of active members of 412. The aggregate attendance at all clubs, classes and meetings during the month of April was 4,431. The aggregate attendance since September last has averaged 3,460 per month.

The nationalities represented in the district ministered to, besides Canadian and British, are:—Americans, Hollanders, Germans, Italians, Hungarians, Russians, Polanders, Austrians, and Roumanians. There are also a few coloured people.

The constituency, in the matter of religious profession or antecedents, is:—Roman Catholic, Jewish and Protestant, in about equal numbers.

Miss Helen Hart, B.A., is the head resident. She is, at the present time, the only paid worker. She has the assistance of two workers-in-training, and about twenty volunteer helpers.

The work that has been accomplished with so small a staff is phenomenal. Some idea of it will be gathered from the following report supplied by Miss Carson:—

"The Settlement is doing a distinctly neighbourhood work, the Homes are known in a very personal way by the workers, and our neighbours look upon the Settlement as the place to turn to under all circumstances. One mother says, 'If it had not been for the teachers, I would not have my baby now.' The father was ill, then died, the child fell ill with pneumonia, the mother was worn out, the workers took charge of the home and sick baby. This mother was a very brutal woman that nothing seemed to touch. The help in time of need has won her. The mothers think of St. Christopher House as the place of safety for the children. The teachers in the public school say, 'We can tell the boys and girls who come to the Settlement; they are better scholars. When the seeds for planting were given out at school, one entire class asked for marigold seeds. Needless to say they were members of the Marigold Club of St. Christopher. The teachers visiting St. Christopher a few days ago said, 'The children at school talk of their clubs, play the games that they play, and sing their club songs, and we simply had to come and see the place that is of such great interest to them.' It would be impossible to tell of the fathers and mothers who come to the Settlement and say, 'We want our children to come here, we do not understand, but we know they learn good.' So one woman becomes our staunch friend, because we have helped her at a time of sickness or death, another because we are 'helping her with a wayward daughter who has gotten beyond her control, and is racing the streets, and she does not know where she is;' another because we have found employment for her or someone in the family; or, another because 'her little ones are safe in the play school or in the yard while she is at work.' Another because we have bathed the children and dressed an infected finger, or sore eyes, or a bad burn;' another because 'her boy is one of numbers of boys who have come to the club and we are working to help them away from the cigarette smoking, drinking-life they have gotten into, even at the early age of twelve or fourteen.' So the Settlement, although only ten months old, has won its way into many homes and hearts, and is co-operating strongly with the Homes and the Churches, as well as the Department of Health, the Hospitals, Children's Court, and Public Schools. Our great need is space—space for the great throng of young working boys and girls who come to us in the evening for fun or for study, as well as the school children who come after school, and the little ones who come at all times. Yesterday, a mother, a working woman, taking care of a sick child, said to a worker, 'What would we do without the club,' and then she added, 'Ask the lady, Jimmie, to please hurry up and get the big place so there will be room for all the mothers and babies and boys and girls who want to come to St. Christopher.' ''

The Gospel services on Sunday are regularly attended to the limit of our space. Frequently we are compelled to refuse admittance to many.

Many of those attending are among the rough gangsters that infested the lanes and alleys of the district before St. Christopher was opened in June last.

The discipline, order and attention would do credit to an average church and the best of Sunday schools. The Gospel of service is manifestly doing its leavening work.

When it is remembered that numbers of those attending are of Jewish and Roman Catholic stock, this is the more noteworthy.

A farm for fresh air work has been purchased on Lake Scugog, some two hours' run from Toronto on the C.P.R. It is to bear the name of St. Christopher Farm. There is a mile of lake front on the farm. Part of this will be sold for summer cottages, the proceeds being used to improve the resort as a ministry to the poor of the city who live in congested slum conditions.

The C.P.R. has given us our own station, ''St. Christopher,'' at the gate of the farm. We are also to have our own post office, bearing the same name.

The farm is the property of the Presbyterian Church, the purchase and financing being undertaken by three trustees.

It is intended to take the children out in batches of 50 each for two weeks during the months of July and August. This will cost about $5 for each one.

The children will be housed in tents. The tents accommodate five or six at one time. The tents with full equipment cost about $75 each. Several Sunday schools have undertaken each to supply a tent.

A milk station has been established in the Settlement, at the instance of the Board of Health, and is much appreciated by the mothers and affords a new point of sympathetic contact and opportunity for personal work.

A Creche, on a small scale, is already in operation. There is great demand for such a ministry, and when we build larger quarters, the Creche will be one of the large departments of the work.

The whole Church has been put under a debt of gratitude to Mr. J. W. Woods, President of the Gordon-Mackay Co., who, as Chairman of the Pres.'s Committee in charge of the Settlement, has been a tower of strength, putting into it without stint his splendid ability and his money.

Chalmers House, Montreal.

Chalmers House, Montreal, was opened for Evangelical Social Settlement Work in the end of October, 1912.

The work has grown with great rapidity. There has already been a total enrollment of 448. There is a regular weekly attendance of active members of 300. The largest aggregate attendance for any month at all clubs, classes and meetings was 2,587.

There are eight organized clubs. Four of these are for boys, four for girls. Five of them meet in the afternoons, three in the evenings. There are thirteen organized classes in cooking, sewing, knitting, first aid, and gymnasium.

There is a library with 185 members. There is a staff of three paid workers and thirty-four volunteer workers, including several professors and students of McGill University and the Presbyterian College.

The majority of those ministered to are English-speaking, but with a large number of French, Italians, Spanish, Hebrews, Syrians, and Scandinavians.

It is expected that in the near future a dispensary and a milk station, which are already much needed and much in demand, will be organized, although it is well nigh impossible to enlarge the work in the present rented quarters.

The hearty co-operation of the principal and teachers of the public school in the vicinity has meant much to the work and is an evidence of the splendid work that is being done.

The following quotation from a report by Miss Laura E. Dixon, B.A., the head worker, will be read with interest:—

''To-night I visited a Scotch-Canadian home where the mother is very ill, and the daughter is a member of our sewing club for girls. The mother told me how glad she is that her daughter comes to the club, and said, 'It is the only place she goes, besides the church.' The club has had the effect of brightening the girl's face from a heavy, almost sullen collection of features, into a face that really sparkles with interest in the affairs of the club and her cooking class! Another home, which I visited to-day, has three little boys, two of whom belong to the play school, and both are ill with the measles, one threatened with meningitis. The mother was greatly relieved when we said we would see to getting the oldest boy taken to the hospital for treatment. I have yet to go into a home and receive cold treatment—every mother seems happy and rested in thought that when the children are at Chalmer's House they are safe and learning something worth while. The evening club of girls is made up of Protestants and Roman Catholics, for the mutterings of the priests seem to have no effect on the young people who are no longer in school. These girls work in various places—laundries, dress-making shops, the Canadian Rubber shops, in offices as messenger girls, etc. One girl works for the Bell Telephone, and does not get off work until nine p.m. and she comes to the club in order to get at least ten minutes of the evening! She told me of the place they have lived in all winter—a basement flat, where her father left a pair of boots under the bed for a week, and when he remembered them and looked at them, they were thick with mould! Is it any wonder that the little three-months-old baby could not withstand the attacks of the whooping cough! The Saturday that the baby was buried, Mary came to the library and said, 'I ain't goin' to stay more'n a minute, Miss D., you see, my little baby got buried this afternoon, so I just came to change my book!' However, she stayed the whole evening, and quieted her outraged feelings of propriety by simply watching the games of 'Muffin Man' and 'Little Playmates,' instead of participating as she loves to do.''

Through the generosity of Mr. Ogilvie, a member of St. Andrew's Church, it has been possible to buy some property which was formerly used as a brewery on Delorimier Avenue, just north of St. Catharines Street, and they are planning the putting up immediately of a suitable settlement building under the direction of Prof. Ludlow, Architect, of McGill University.

It is surely a typical Christian ministry to turn a brewery into a paradise for boys and girls, as well as for men and women; a paradise in which the Gospel will be preached, and lived, day by day, bringing healing, and cheer, and up-lift, and salvation.

THE PROBLEM OF THE COUNTRY.

The modern industrial development leading to the concentration of population in large cities and towns, and the migration movements drawing men and women away from the older settled parts to occupy the vast open stretches of Canada, have given rise to a situation that has created many problems for the country church. During the last few years the situation has become acute and has given rise to a demand for a thorough investigation of the whole problem.

Last year the Board asked Rev. John McDougall, M.A., of Spencerville, to deliver a course of lectures on "The Country Church Problem" at the summer school, Couchiching Park. These lectures were the result of much earnest study and research, and were so well received that the Board made arrangements to have Mr. McDougall deliver them to the students in Pine Hill College, Halifax, and also in Knox College, Toronto.

With Mr. MacDougall's consent the Board is publishing the lectures in book form. It is confidently expected that this masterly treatment of the subject will give rise to keen interest in this urgent problem.

CO-OPERATION WITH OTHER CHURCHES.

In obedience to the instructions of the General Assembly of 1912, your Board has had conference, and arranged for as large a measure of co-operation as possible, with other churches.

In all efforts for general social betterment, including Moral Reform, it is actively co-operating with other churches, both in Dominion and Provincial spheres of effort.

The Board is very pleased to report that it has been possible to arrange for a still larger measure of co-operation with the Methodist Church along the following lines:—

(1) In the preparation, publication, and distribution of literature for preventive purposes in the interests of girls and for the promotion of various moral reforms.

(2) In the conducting of scientific social surveys of various cities and communities, the Methodist Church in its Department of Temperance and Moral Reform, led by Dr. T. Albert Moore, has shown a most cordial desire to co-operate in the closest possible way and shares with this Board the expense and direction, and results of labour along the line of Social Surveys,—

(a) Of Miss Sara Libby Carson for three months in Toronto and Montreal;

(b) Of Mr. Bryce M. Stewart, B.A., for eight months in making surveys of Vancouver, Crow's Nest Pass, Fort William, Port Arthur, Hamilton, Sydney, Halifax, St. John, and Ottawa.

(3) In Redemptive Work Among Girls. The two Churches co-operate in the finding of homes for girls and for babes, and have arrived at an understanding that, unless it be in the very large cities, they will not both establish homes in the same cities.

(4) In Evangelical Social Settlement Work and the Solving of the Problem of the City. While conclusions are not finally reached there is a general understanding that the two Churches will not establish Settlement Work in the same districts in the downtown sections of cities.

(5) There is an understanding also that the two Churches will not place field secretaries in the same province, and that the two Boards will encourage their respective constituencies to co-operate for inter-denominational effort under the leadership of a secretary of either Church.

Further conference is contemplated with the view of seeing whether co-operation is not possible in Evangelism and in the solving of the Problem of the City, as well as in solving the equally pressing and difficult problems of the Rural Church and of Rural life.

It is intended to make a careful social survey of actual conditions in various rural districts in the course of the coming year. These surveys will point the way for plans to meet the problems revealed.

ENGLISH FOR COMING CANADIANS.

Recognizing the extreme urgency and difficulty of the problems arising out of the enormous in-flowing tide of non-Anglo-Saxon immigration, and the responsibility resting upon the Board of Social Service and Evangelism to do its share in the nationalization and Christianization of these future fellow-countrymen of other tongues and nations, your Board, and specially its Secretaries, have been alive to the responsibility of serving these newcomers in the teaching of English.

The International Young Men's Christian Association, through their Association Press, has undertaken the publication of lessons and text books for the adaptation to Canada, of Dr. Peter Roberts' system of teaching English to non-Anglo-Saxons. At his request, Dr. J. G. Shearer, General Secretary of the Board, was asked to organize a general Editing Committee. He associated Dr. T. Albert Moore, of the Methodist Church, and Rev. C. E. Bishop, B.A., National Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., with himself, to constitute this editing committee.

They have already accomplished a large part of their work and have revised for Canadian use:—

(1) Dr. Roberts' manual of instructions to teachers of the system;

(2) Forty lessons on domestic, commercial, and industrial life;

(3) The First Reader, entitled, "Winning Qualities," illustrated from British and Canadian literature;

(4) The Second Reader, entitled, "Makers of Canada," in which the life and service of various explorers and statesmen are used for lesson purposes;

(5) Two other readers are now in process of preparation, namely, Third Reader, entitled, "Winning the Dominion," and

(6) The Fourth Reader, which will probably bear the title, "Civics for Coming Canadians."

This course of English for coming Canadians, it will be observed, is really a course of training also in Canadian citizenship. It is as simple as such a system can be made, and any intelligent man or woman can use it. Every Minister or Missionary where non-Anglo-Saxons, even in small numbers, are found, should provide himself with a supply of the necessary material and establish classes. This is of first consequence, not only for the future of the nation, but for the future of the Church. It is of prime importance that the Church itself should use the opportunity this affords of establishing a point of sympathetic contact with these newcomers. If we go to them with the Gospel of service, which they appreciate, they will quickly accept from our hands the Gospel of Salvation, otherwise we shall find that their prejudices will make it well nigh impossible for us to reach them with the Evangel. The Board is using this system in its Settlement Work in Winnipeg, Toronto, and Montreal.

The Board has also appointed Mr. H. R. Kay, a student of the Toronto University, going forward to the ministry of our Church, to give his summer in the Crow's Nest Pass in the use of this system, and, at the same time to give special attention to the problem of the miners, who, in such an alarming degree, are alienated from the Church and beyond its means of Grace.

The supplies in the form of Manuals, Lesson Leaves, Charts, and Readers, are kept in stock in the office of the Board and can be had, with price list, on application.

COMMERCIALIZED AMUSEMENTS.

Your Board is pleased to be able to report that its efforts, in co-operation with other Churches and interested bodies represented in the Moral and Social Reform Council of Canada and of the various provinces, have been crowned with success in securing the appointment of Boards of Censors in all the provinces excepting Prince Edward Island.

Some three years ago we succeeded in securing action by the Ontario and Quebec Government, and their action was then quoted to the Governments of the other provinces of the Dominion with the gratifying results here reported.

Your Board has been giving similar attention to the question of the adequate censorship of the ordinary theatre, thus far with a less degree of success; but a good beginning has been made.

Prosecution of certain low-grade burlesque and vaudeville theatres has been made in the courts with different degrees of success, but the moral effect has been such that in the Cities of Montreal and Toronto, theatre censors have been appointed, whose labours are already having an improving influence.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF THE WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

On the initiative of the Moral and Social Reform Council of Canada, a National Committee for the Suppression of the White Slave Traffic has been organized, with Dr. J. G. Shearer as President; Dr. T. Albert Moore, Secretary; Mr. J. F. Wildman, of the Office Specialty Company, Toronto, Treasurer. Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught are patrons. The Lieutenant-Governors of Alberta, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, and the Premiers of Ontario, Quebec, and Saskatchewan, together with their Graces and Archbishop Matheson, of Winnipeg, Archbishop Casey, Vancouver, and Archbishop McNeil, of Toronto, are Vice-Presidents.

The Committee has appealed to the public for a fund of not less than $10,000 for purposes of investigation, education, and legislation.

Already it is securing amendments to the Criminal Code for the more adequate protection of girls and women.

The following bodies are represented on the Committee:—

The Roman Catholic Church.
The Church of England in Canada.
The Methodist Church in Canada.
The Presbyterian Church in Canada.
The Baptist Church in Canada.
The Congregational Church in Canada.
The Trades and Labour Congress of Canada.
The Dominion Grange and Farmers' Association.
The Salvation Army.
The Canadian Purity-Education Association.
The Evangelical Association of North America.
The National Young Men's Christian Association.
The Young Women's Christian Association.
The National Council of Women.
The Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The President, Secretary, and other members are delegated to represent Canada at the International Congress to be held in London, June 30th, to July 4th.

GENERAL FUND FOR PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT.

Dr. A. S. Grant, General Superintendent of Home Missions, and the Executive of the Board have had conference from time to time during the year in regard to the best method of financing property, buildings, and equipment for Settlement Work, Redemptive Work Among Girls, Evangelistic and Social Service Institutes for Men, or any other work under the Board of Social Service and Evangelism.

They have agreed that it is better that the money necessary for this purpose and the money necessary for sites, manses and churches, handled by the Board of Home Missions, should be raised by one common effort and should form a common fund.

INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS.

Consequent upon the coming of so many immigrants, the problem of the housing of the working man has become acute in Canada. According to the census reports Vancouver had 4.5 persons per dwelling in 1901 and 4.8 in 1911; Calgary 2.6 and 3.9 respectively; Winnipeg 5.6 and 6.8; Toronto 5.3 and 6.2; Montreal 7.6 and 13.3. In many of the immigrant quarters of our cities the overcrowding is such as to constitute a menace not only to health, but also to morality. Your Board is taking active steps to reveal these conditions to the municipalities concerned and to promote a movement for reform.

Closely allied to this question is the agitation for reform in taxation. It is argued that the shifting of taxation from improvements to land will encourage building, and thus help in the solution of the housing problem. Originating in Vancouver, where the new system has been adopted, this movement has swept eastward. Edmonton has also adopted it. Calgary is giving it much attention, and it is significant that many of the cities farther east are making a practice of assessing land at a greater per cent. of the actual value than in the case of buildings. The question occupied much of the attention of the Ontario Legislature during the past session.

Questions as to wages, hours, protection and compensation for working-men have been to the fore and in Ontario the Mining Act was amended, making it unlawful to keep workmen employed underground in any mine more than eight hours in any consecutive twenty-four hours.

An Act for the Protection of Persons Employed in Factories, Shops and Office Buildings in Ontario was passed. While the Act introduces many reforms, it contains this most objectionable clause:—"Sec. 26. A child between the ages of twelve and fourteen years and when employed solely out of doors, a child under twelve years of age may, notwithstanding anything contained in this part, be employed from the 15th day of June to the 15th day of September, both inclusive, in such gathering and preparation of fruits or vegetables for canning or desiccating purposes, as may be required to be done prior to the operation of cooking or other process requisite in connection with the canning or desiccating of fruits or vegetables."

A bill was introduced in the Ontario Legislature to make eight hours a legal day's work, and twenty cents an hour a minimum wage, with forty cents an hour as a minimum wage for overtime. In connection with this question we need to be reminded that if we are to establish a wage standard we must also raise the age of departure from the schools and provide industrial education; otherwise young persons, not being able to earn the minimum wage established, will not be employed.

The Hon. Sir William Meredith submitted to the Ontario House an interim report on Laws relating to the Liability of Employers. The Report contained a draft of an Act to provide for Compensation of Workmen for Injuries sustained and Industrial Diseases contracted in the course of their employment. Action on his recommendations, however, was postponed until next session.

EVANGELISM.

Congregations have still felt the need of seasons of special effort for bringing to decision those who have been influenced through the regular ministry and services of the Church, and for deepening the sense of responsibility in the hearts of Church members.

The Board has endeavoured to respond to all appeals for help, but in some cases it failed to secure the type of missioner desired, and through this inability several missions had to be indefinitely postponed.

In addition to securing pastors and singers for periods of from ten days to three weeks, the Board rejoiced in having Rev. J. Fraser Smith, M.D., at its disposal from October to March. Doctor Smith laboured in Manitoba, and from all the congregations visited letters of grateful appreciation have been received. Three ministers of different denominations and from different sections of the province forwarded kindly expressions of appreciation of the splendid co-operation that was possible under the leadership of Dr. Smith and his Director of Song.

Five or six requests for missions could not be granted, owing to the fact that the missioner could not remain west longer than March. Since his return Dr. Smith has conducted special services in Western Ontario. The Board places on record its gratitude for the faithful and self-sacrificing work Dr. Smith has done and gives thanks to God for the reports of blessing that have come to hand.

Rev. D. J. Craig has continued his work as Evangelist, under the Board's direction. Most of his time has been given to Alberta, but the last quarter of 1912 was spent in Quebec and Ontario congregations. Mr. Craig has fully justified his appointment and has been an instrument of blessing in God's hands. East and West unite in approval of the man, his methods and his message. Owing to the condensed character of this report no incidents or testimonies are recorded, but as in former years many of these are on file at the office of the Board.

Messrs. W. J. McBretney, R. A. Jennings, and T. H. Nichol have assisted Revs. Smith and Craig as soloists and directors of song, and all have proven themselves worthy. The engagement of Mr. Jennings terminated in March.

After Assembly Campaign.—Immediately following the Assembly at Edmonton a campaign was conducted covering a number of Alberta and Saskatchewan congregations. While the time was inopportune for some localities, it was felt that advantage should be taken of having many Assembly delegates in the West. Several ministers responded to the general appeal of the Board, some taking two or three missions. Most of the missionaries and ministers with whose congregations services were held, felt that great good was accomplished and not a few tell of the great heartening that came to them personally.

Follow-Up-Work.—A committee appointed by the Board's Executive is to give earnest thought to how best to conserve the fruits of Evangelistic Missions and to prayerfully seek out the best methods of Follow-Up-Work.

In not a few cases where large blessing seemed to result, subsequent investigation appeared to reveal lack of permanence in the work, yet not infrequently word comes that makes one hesitate to try to tabulate results.

The first report from a mission in a Western town was full of enthusiastic testimony to the value of the services. Some months later there was regret that few additions to the membership had resulted. In the light of the information received it appeared that only four or five could be located as having fulfilled the hopes of the workers at the time of the mission. A few weeks ago a letter, bearing a foreign postmark, reached the Toronto office. It told of the awful temptations of life in a distant land—the writer was surrounded by the vilest of men and women, and opportunity for doing evil was abundant, and there were none to counsel aright, and none to be astonished at vice, for it seemed to the young man that he stood absolutely alone when he championed the clean life. And he goes on to pen his thanks that the God to whom he had been brought in that Western mission, had given him grace to stand firm when removed from the restraining influences of a Christian community.

Another, who is far away from the village where the message reached his heart, says to the missioner, "Surely God sent you across my path for a great purpose, and as I spoke to some poor fellows last night I thought of my own life three years ago and then of the possibilities of the men before me—who knows what they will become." Thus it ill becomes those who confess faith in the One who promises his word shall not return until Him void to make pronouncement upon a matter that only eternity permits of accurate judgment upon.

Then again reports coming from churches where the pastors have given themselves with new consecration to the work of ingathering give cause for great joy. "How I wish," says one, "I had learned earlier to deal personally with the young in my congregation: We are apt to let them drift on indefinitely: It is wonderful what blessing has come through these young hearts being won." God is making the future of that congregation safe.

Work Among the Ruthenians.—Early in the fall, through the generosity of Mr. J. Dinwoody, an elder in Wychwood Park Church, Toronto, Rev. H. A. Berlis, of Victoria Harbour, was invited by the Board to do Evangelistic work among non-Anglo-Saxons, principally the Ruthenians. Mr. Berlis has conducted services at many points, the work being done in co-operation and conference with the Home Mission Board.—Mr. Berlis has given much valuable information and it is hoped that his engagement may greatly count in carrying on efficiently the very needy, but very difficult work among these foreigners.

Evangel Hall, Toronto.—This building on Queen St. West, Toronto, was fitted up and placed at the disposal of the Board in January, 1913, by Mr. John Wanless, Jr. It is within a few minutes walk of St. Christopher House and with it is ministering to the needs of the district, each building serving a purpose distinct from the other, but co-operating in the general plan of work. Rev. R. J. and Mrs. Koffend were appointed superintendents, and commenced their efforts early in January. A thorough acquaintance with conditions resulted from a visitation of the factories and homes in the locality, and that the Hall is situated in the place of large opportunity is beyond a doubt. All classes have been frequenting the various meetings and through the day the Rest and Reading Rooms are proving of great helpfulness.

The name of the Hall indicates what the place stands for, and the superintendents are being wonderfully used in the telling of the Good News to many a wearied life that strolls in from the streets of a great city. Great tact and patience is needed in dealing with certain classes that are attracted by this brightly lighted little building, and the Board believes that it has Providentially been guided in the selection of the superintendents.

Literature.—Literature for help in the Preparation conduct and follow-up-work of special services has been furnished congregations in all parts of the Dominion.

Alexander's Gospel Hymns have been, as formerly, supplied at about cost price for use in missions.

The promotion of the Pocket Testament League has continued and a large number of attractive little Testaments have been supplied through the local Pocket Testament League secretaries.

Professor Kilpatrick's book on "New Testament Evangelism," has been supplied to missionaries and ministers in augmented charges who had not received it in the previous year's distribution. This has been made possible by the generosity of certain interested laymen. From the letters acknowledging the gift we feel that the message of cheer and inspiration it has carried must bring ample satisfaction to the donors.

Hymn-Sheets and the Gospel of John have been furnished in Ruthenian for the use of those conducting missions among these people.

LANTERN SLIDE DEPARTMENT.

For some time the Board has been, in a very limited way, loaning slides to missionaries, who otherwise would have had difficulty in obtaining them. The frequent expressions of gratitude and the reports of the good accomplished resulted in efforts being put forth to serve these Churches more effectively.

Two friends in the American Presbyterian Church in Montreal and one in Toronto have made it possible for the Board to procure a large number of slides on a variety of subjects which have been widely circulated during the past few months.

Plans are being formed by which "circuits" will be arranged and during the coming fall and winter the difficulties of procuring slides for information, education and uplifting entertainment will be largely overcome. A small rental will be charged in order to make the Slide Department pay the actual cost of handling.

Efforts are being made to form a joint Lantern Slide Department and a Committee representing all the Assembly's Boards interested in the matter has, at the time of writing, taken over the entire stock of Mr. Moffat, of Weston, and slides formerly handled by different Boards are being sent out under one management.

Owing to the increasing use and great value of the Stereopticon and Moving Picture Machine in Church work, it has been deemed advisable to have a centre for supplies under the control of the Church, and hereafter anything in the line of optical projection may be procured by addressing the Presbyterian Lantern Slide Department, Confederation Life Building, Toronto.

RETREATS.

Last summer four retreats were conducted in the Western Provinces, at Regina, North Battleford, Yorkton, and Souris, and one at Baddeck, Cape Breton.

At the Western centres, Professor Falconer gave an inspiring course of lectures on I. Corinthians. At Baddeck, Principal MacKinnon gave a series of practical and devotional addresses on the work of the ministry. Rev. D. C. MacGregor dealt with various social and moral problems such as the minister or missionary has to meet with in his work.

The attendance at the retreats was most encouraging. Many of the men are far separated from their brethren in the work and the opportunity of four or five days' fellowship with one another and with those conducting the retreats was greatly appreciated. They received a new conception of the importance and possibilities of their work and went back to the fields with new inspiration for the Master's service. Many were the expressions of gratitude to the Board for its practical interest in those who are occupying the lonely places in the field.

RESOLUTIONS.

I. Re Temperance.

1. Whereas previous Assemblies have declared for the total suppression of the liquor traffic.

2. Whereas the local veto method used in limiting the extent of the traffic and lessening its evils has also assisted in awakening the public conscience to the appalling effects on individual and national life resulting from the sale of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes.

Be it therefore resolved:

1. That this Assembly are convinced that the time has arrived when Dominion and Provincial legislation should be secured for prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes.

2. That the Assembly invite the co-operation of other religious bodies and temperance organizations to give effect to this resolution.

3. That the Assembly urge sessions and congregations to appoint a Committee to co-operate with the Presbytery's Committee and the Assembly's Board of Social Service and Evangelism, in—

(a) Furthering the cause of temperance education in the congregation and community.

(b) Securing the necessary legislation to suppress the liquor traffic.

(c) Assisting the Board in any work which it may undertake.

II. Re Sabbath Observance.

1. That the Assembly again express their emphatic disapproval of all secular uses of the Lord's Day and urge upon all employers of labour to recognize the need of the labouring man for his weekly day of rest.

2. That the Assembly urge upon all families the importance of planning for their servants on the Sabbath that they may not lose the religious value of the day.

3. That the Assembly most heartily commend the work of the Lord's Day Alliance to preserve the Sabbath as a day of rest.

4. That the Assembly urge upon ministers and sessions the duty of keeping constantly before their people the claims of the Sabbath as a day of rest and worship, and recommend that at suitable times during each year sermons be preached on the subject of "The Sabbath."

5. That while grateful for the measure of law-enforcement that has been secured the Assembly emphatically urge upon all officials faithfully to enforce all laws to protect the Sabbath from desecration.

III. Re Conditions In British Columbia.

1. The Board have heard with astonishment and deepest concern of the shocking conditions as to social vice prevailing generally in British Columbia by which criminal vice is officially tolerated and defended by those sworn to enforce the law, from the ordinary police to the Attorney-General, making British Columbia the great market in Canada for the exploiting of the victims of the white slave traffic.

The Assembly recognizes such conditions as a disgrace to those responsible and to all Canada, and calls upon the whole Canadian people to join in removing this stain upon the good name of this Dominion.

The Assembly are glad to make special mention of Victoria, the Okanagan Valley, Grand Forks, Trail and Creston, which have driven out this terrible evil and are entitled to the more credit on this account.

2. Whereas the Board has been authorized by previous Assemblies to appoint Synodical Evangelists where desired by the Synods.

(1) The Assembly authorize the Board to appoint a field representative where in the judgment of any Synod and the Board, this is considered advisable.

(2) That in view of the special conditions existing in British Columbia, Rev. J. S. Henderson, B.A., be appointed Field Secretary of the Board to reside in, and to have special responsibility for work in that province, at the same salary as the Board of Home Missions pays to its District Superintendents.

IV. Re Workmen's Compensation.

That the Assembly reiterates its former declaration that "The burden imposed by industrial accidents or occupational disease, should not rest upon the injured person or his family.

V. Re Criminal Code Amendments.

The Assembly records:

(1) Their hearty appreciation of the action of the Federal Government and Parliament, in the enactment of important amendments to the Criminal Code, inter alia, for the suppression of the traffic in girls and women for immoral purposes, and of the business of social vice.

(2) Their keen disappointment that, raising the age of consent, prohibiting the race track gambling, making a life of open adultery or lewd cohabitation criminal, were not included among the amendments introduced by the Government.

The Asembly cannot believe that this is due to the Government's disapproval of these amendments, and urge action at the next session of Parliament, and instruct the Board of Social Service and Evangelism to invite the co-operation of other bodies in pressing this matter upon the Government and upon members of Parliament, and to press also for such action as may be necessary by Provincial or Dominion authorities, in order to prevent prize fights in the guise of boxing bouts.

(3) The Assembly record their deep regret that the Senate refused to endorse the Amendments proposed by the Government, to Section 213, making employers other than those in shops, stores, factories and mills, criminally responsible for seduction by them of female employees under 21 years of age.

VI. Re Evangelism.

The Assembly, recognizing the need of a forward movement for the quickening of the life of the Church along the lines of Evangelism, instructs the Board to ask congregations ministered to by pastors gifted for Evangelistic work, to set them free for such time as may be necessary to conduct Evangelistic Missions in selected Missions and districts where these seem desirable.

These Resolutions were adopted by the Assembly.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

CHARLES W. GORDON,
GEORGE C. PIDGEON,
Conveners.

The rescue work among girls, the fresh air work among the children of the slums, the Evangelical Settlement work, and the work of Evangelism are all in great need of financial support. Anyone desiring to undertake in whole or in part the support of a worker, the reclaiming of a fallen girl, the sending of a poor child to the country for two weeks in July or August, or the support of a Deaconess or an Evangelist, should write Dr. Shearer, 436 Confederation Life Building, Toronto.

Why not also remember the work in your will? This form of bequest will serve the purpose:

"I hereby give and bequeath the sum of ..... to the Board of Social Service and Evangelism, the Presbyterian Church in Canada, to be used in the special work under its oversight."

All wills must be signed in the presence of two witnesses.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON UNION WITH OTHER CHURCHES.

To the Venerable, the General Assembly:

After the appointment of the Committee for the current year at the General Assembly in Edmonton, the members present at that Assembly were called together, and a sub-Committee appointed charged with communicating to the Congregational and Methodist Churches the action which had been taken by the Assembly, and also to act with authorized Committees of these churches in carrying out any necessary action re Union Churches in existence or that might be formed in the immediate future.

It was also decided that the Secretary Dr. E. D. McLaren should prepare a classified list of suggested amendments to the Basis of Union to be considered at a meeting of the whole Committee in December, 1912.

Your Convener communicated with representatives of the Congregational and Methodist Churches, from whom cordial replies were received. A meeting was held in September of the Sub-Committee in conjunction with like Committees from the Congregational and Methodist Churches to consider the oversight of Union Churches. No definite action was taken at that time, but at an adjourned meeting held on December 9th, the following recommendations were agreed upon:

I. That it be a recommendation to Congregations desiring to form a Union Charge, to present a petition signed by Communicant members in good standing to the Superior Church Courts of the district, which bodies shall, if they approve of the prayer of the petition, appoint representatives to hold a joint meeting in order that said prayer may be considered, and if the way be clear, carried into effect.

II. The name of such a Charge shall be the Union Church of..... under the care and discipline of.....

III. The basis already prepared by the Joint Committee on Union of the negotiating Churches shall, so far as it is practicable, be the Basis on which such Charges shall be established and administered.

It was then agreed that Reverends Dr. Chown and A. S. Grant and W. T. Gunn, Convener, be appointed a Committee to meet representatives of the Union Congregations already in existence in the West, submit to such meeting the suggestions now made, hold conference in regard to the whole situation, and make such recommendations to this Committee as they see fit, with the view to the framing of a Policy for the oversight of the aforesaid Congregations.

Your Committee met in the Lecture Hall of St. James Square Church, Toronto, on the 11th day of December, 1912, and continued in session for three days. There were present. Dr. W. J. Clark, Convener, Dr. Ramsay, Vice-Convener, Dr. Sedgewick, Dr. Forrest, Dr. T. Stewart, D. MacOdrum, Dr. A. T. Love, Principal Scrimger, Dr. Welsh, Dr. Armstrong, Dr. Herridge, Principal Gordon, Principal Gandier, Dr. M. McGillivary, Dr. R. P Mackay, Dr. J. Somerville, Dr. J. L. Murray, D. Strachan, Dr. Ratcliffe, R. G. McBeth, Dr. Lyle, Dr. Duval, Dr. Bryce, Dr. C. W. Gordon, W. G. Brown, Principal McKay, Dr. R. D. Fraser, R. W. Dickie, James Ross, President Falconer, Dr. A. S. Grant ministers; Messrs. Walter Paul, President Murray, Hon. D. Laird, J. K. Macdonald, Dr. J. A. Macdonald, J. A. Patterson, James Balfour, elders.

Associate Members: Principal McKinnon, Dr. E. Scott, Dr. D. R. Drummond, J. W. Stephen, Dr. Wm. Farquharson. R. S. Laidlaw, J. A. Cranston, W. G. Wilson, James Wallace, M. A. McKinnon and H. R. Grant.

In the absence of Dr. E. D. McLaren, Dr. J. H. Ratcliffe acted as Secretary. The notices calling the Committee were issued from the Church Offices, and it is sincerely regretted that through some clerical error five of those entitled to be present have declared they did not receive notice of the meeting.

The Committee held three sessions a day for three days and there was most earnest discussion. All took part in seeking to frame a deliverance which might be unanimously adopted. Eventually the following resolutions were moved by Dr. Herridge and seconded by Principal McKay:

"That in view of the large majority in our own Church voting in favor of Organic Union, and the practically unanimous favorable vote in the other negotiating Churches, and in view of the intense desire of all sections of our Church that the spirit of Christian unity which obtains between the Churches may be continued and deepened; and in view of the strength of the minority in our own Church which has not approved of Organic Union as the best method of expressing the unity of spirit which is rapidly growing throughout the Church of Christ; and in view of the desirability of the utmost unanimity of action within our own Church; this Committee proceeds to consider the suggestions and alternatives remitted to it, and recommends the General Assembly as follows:

"1. That the Assembly assure the other negotiating Churches that the Presbyterian Church fully realizes its share of responsibility in the present movement, and earnestly desires that the spirit of unity which has given rise to it may be conserved and deepened, and asks the other Churches to continue the negotiations because it feels the desirability of the practically unanimous action of all its own members, in order that the result of any Union entered into may be most happy and far-reaching.

"2. That the Union Committee be continued, and that for the fullest and fairest consideration of every aspect of the question, further amendments to the present basis of Union and alternative proposals be invited from Presbyteries and from Sessions, Congregations and individuals through Presbyteries, and referred to this Committee, in order that after considering them it may again enter into conference with the Committees of the other negotiating Churches, with the view of setting before our people a final presentation of the question for their judgment.

"3. That in order to secure the final judgment of the Church, the findings of the Joint Committee of the negotiating Churches on all such proposals be sent to Presbyteries, Sessions and Congregations, with the details of the vote already taken, and all other relevant information."

The motion was carried by a large majority. Later in the proceedings Dr. E. Scott declared his intention of presenting a minority report, and in this he was supported by Dr. Thos. Sedgwick, Dr. A. T. Love, Rev. Messrs. R. G. McBeth and W. G. Brown, and Mr. Walter Paul.

The Committee then devoted itself to careful consideration of the suggested amendments to the Basis of Union, which were before it in printed form as prepared by the Secretary, Dr. E. D. McLaren. This work was not quite completed but the remaining portion was referred to the Executive Committee, consisting of the Convener, the Vice-Convener, Drs. E. D. McLaren, A. S. Grant, J. H. Ratcliffe, J. Somerville, President Falconer, Principal Gandier, and Mr. J. K. Macdonald. To this Executive was also committed the duty of acquainting the representatives of the other two negotiating Churches of the action taken by your Committee.

To a Sub-Committee consisting of Dr. Ramsay, Dr. Herridge and Principal Gandier was committed the paragraph in the Basis of the Union re Marriage, and the preparation of a paragraph on Prayer.

The Executive met on February 12th, 1913, and completed the work allotted to it. At that meeting it was decided to print as an appendix to the report of the Union Committee to the General Assembly the tabulated statement of suggested changes to the Basis of Union and also the action of your Committee in its consideration of these, in order that the General Assembly might be fully seized of the comparatively unimportant character of the great majority of these suggested amendments.

The Executive also passed the following resolution: This Executive Committee having considered the changes in the proposed Basis of Union which have been remitted to it, reports herewith to the Union Committee its decision thereupon, but recommends that the Union Committee should advise the General Assembly not to consider formally the appendix to its report dealing with suggested changes until it has taken action upon the resolution of the Committee which was adopted at the meeting of the Committee held last December; and further recommends that if the Assembly, in conformity with this resolution continues its Committee on Union, these suggestions as to the Basis of Union be referred to that Committee.

The Executive also decided to recommend the appointment of Dr. J. H. Ratcliffe as Associate Secretary.

In accordance with the instructions received from the Union Committee, Dr. R. P. Mackay, President Falconer, Principal Gandier, and Dr. John Somerville waited upon the Executive of the Methodist Church, and presented the following document together with the resolution of the Union Committee, and made such verbal statements as seemed courteous and wise in connection therewith:

To the brethren representing the Methodist and Congregational Churches in the Union negotiations:

Gentlemen:

The action of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, upon the question of the Union of the Churches, at its last meeting in Edmonton in June, 1912, has been in your hands for some time.

You will notice that in reconstituting its Union Committee the Assembly appointed thereto a number of gentlemen, who have for some years opposed the policy of organic union. This action was taken with the hope of attaining "by further conference and discussion practically unanimous action" within our own Church.

The Committee, as thus constituted, met in Toronto on the 11th day of December, 1912, and continued in session for three days. After long and earnest discussion, the recommendations hereto appended were adopted to be sent up to the next Assembly, and it was ordered that they should be communicated to the other negotiating Churches. Some time was also spent on suggested amendments to the Basis of Union, which had been received from the lower courts of our Church as well as from individuals, but this work was not fully completed.

When the vote was taken upon the motion appended, six of those present signified their intention of presenting a minority report to the Assembly, and doubtless that intention will be carried out. While it is to be regretted that perfect unanimity was not attained by our Committee, it should be recognized that those who refused to fall in with the majority form only a section of those members of the reconstituted Committee, who have "not been convinced that organic union is the best method of expressing the unity earnestly desired by all."

It is our ardent desire that our brethren of the other Churches will not infer, from the recommendations to be made to the next Assembly, that there is any slackness or lessening of interest on our part in this great movement, but only that in view of the conditions within our own body, we must respectfully ask our brethren to exercise further patience with us. And it is our fervent prayer, that when we again ask for conference with them, we may have the assurance that we express the mind of the great mass of our own people.

You will in due time be advised of any further action on our part, and we trust we may have assurance of your sympathetic understanding of our position and attitude.

The finding of the Union Committee is as follows:

Moved by Dr. Herridge, seconded by Principal McKay, and resolved: (Then followed the resolution printed above.)

The above deputation was very cordially received, and later the following formal reply was forwarded:

January 10, 1913.

To the Representatives of the Presbyterian Church, conveying the action of the Committee of said Church to the General Conference Special Committee of the Methodist Church, for the information of the latter body:

Dear Brethren:

The Special Committee of the General Conference of the Methodist Church desires to express to you its cordial thanks for your fraternal communication and to the entire Committee whose view you presented, its hearty appreciation of your careful and candid statements regarding the proposed union of the negotiating Churches, and the hopeful attitude of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, and the fair prospect amid the diverse views of the members of your Committee, of the ultimate consummation of the union which has been anticipated.

It is not necessary to remind you, brethren, of the mind and action of the Methodist Church in this important business, as affecting our country with its religious interests and the welfare of the Kingdom of God. We have stood ready for Union on the decisive vote of our people. And we have had our apprehensions that unnecessary delays in the completion of the negotiations may result in hesitancy of movement, if not in some places to disintegration of societies and damage to the holy cause, whose interests we seek in common to cherish. We can but assure you of our sincerest wishes and prayers for your continued prosperity, and of our anticipation of the day when the desire of the majority of our people in our respective churches shall have been satisfied in the prompt completion of our union negotiations.

A. CARMAN,
S. D. CHOWN,
General Superintendents.

T. ALBERT MOORE,
Secretary.

The Convener and Principal Scrimger undertook a like mission in Montreal, waiting by appointment on Dr. Hugh Pedley and Dr. W. H. Warriner. They were also most cordially received, and later the following reply was received from the Committee of the Congregational Church.

779 University St., Montreal, P.Q., March 4, 1913.

The Rev. W. J. Clark, D.D.,
Convener of the Presbyterian General Assembly's Committee of Union.

My dear Mr. Clark:

Your memorandum of the proceedings of your Committee on Union was brought beffore the Executive of our Congregational Union of Canada last week, and I was instructed to convey to you their appreciation of your courtesy in taking them into your confidence. We fully recognize the great desirability that in each of the negotiating bodies there should be as near an approach to unanimity as possible before the final step is taken to bring the Union into effect. We are fully aware of the fact that in all great movements patience and the wisdom that goes with patience are necessary to secure the best results. No time can be regarded as wasted time which has been spent in getting God's work well done.

We therefore will wait quietly and hopefully until the hour arrives when you feel that you are fully warranted in taking up once more the thread of negotiations with a view to a permanent settlement of this great issue. We trust that in the meantime you may be fully conscious of the guidance of the Holy Spirit and may ever have the comfort of knowing that you are moving along the line of God's providential leadership.

Faithfully yours,

HUGH PEDLEY,
Chairman of Committee on Union of the Congregational Union of Canada.

W. HENRY WARRINER,
Secretary of Committeee.

It is well that the General Assembly should note the cordial and fraternal attitude of the brethren representing the Congregational and Methodist Churches, and at the same time the fear of unnecessary delays and possible dangers if such are permitted. In view of such fear, it is well for the General Assembly to be reminded of the gravity of the situation and the heavy responsibility resting on the Presbyterian Church in Canada in dealing with this important issue. We are as a Church on trial before the whole of Canada and the Christian world. The onus of proceeding to the consummation of Organic Union with these other Churches or of preventing that act lies principally on our Presbyterian Church, inasmuch as the vote and action of the other two bodies plainly indicate their readiness to go forward to Organic Union.

The co-operation which has been undertaken by four theological colleges in Montreal this past session is another sign of the tendency of the times. The conditions existing in Canada to-day are such that the Christian Church cannot afford to give its strength to secondary interests. A united Protestantism is sorely needed. In some fashion or other the ranks of our divided Protestantism must draw closer together for the sake of the advancement of God's Kingdom in our beloved land.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. D. McLAREN,
J. H. RATCLIFFE,
Secretaries.

W. J. CLARK,
Convener.

ADDITIONAL

The Presbyteries of Brockville, Peterborough, Owen Sound and Qu'Appelle, one Session and a large number of individuals ask for the insertion of an Article on Prayer, and the Presbytery of Peterborough and one individual submit drafts of this Article.

The Presbytery of Qu'Appelle asks for the insertion of an Article on "The means of grace, especially the preached word and prayer," after Article XII.

One individual says that the Doctrinal Statement "should recognize the teaching of Scripture regarding the person of Satan and future punishment, and should contain an Article 'safeguarding the scripturality and simplicity of Public Worship.'" Another desires a statement of the position which the Protestant Church takes with reference to the Roman Catholic Church, and provision made for instructing the children as to the real meaning of Roman Catholicism.

Another asks for an Article on the Second Advent, and another submits proposed Articles on Hope, Love and Fasting. The Presbytery of Peterborough recommends "that the manner of celebrating the Lord's Supper be as at present in our Church."

Frame a shorter and simpler creed.

Retain the Shorter Cathechism.

"The true nature of Christian liberty"; "the nature and obligation of public religious worship"; "the teaching of scripture on civil authority, marriage, the relations and obligations of Christians to one another and the perseverance of the saints," are points that should be dealt with in the Doctrinal statement.

UNION COMMITTEE, MINORITY REPORT.

That we reaffirm our belief in the essential unity of all Christians, and our earnest desire that this unity may be made increasingly manifest, and:

Whereas this unity may find full expression and widest manifestation in co-operation and federation, without the friction and division and loss that sometimes mark efforts for organic union;

Whereas the tendency of the age, both in Church and State, is towards federative unity with individual autonomy;

Whereas true denominational loyalty ministers to the freedom and vitality of the whole Church of Christ and helps to further her work;

"Whereas in the recent ballot nearly one third of our communicant membership that voted, recorded their judgment against the principle of organic union, and thus led the Assembly to pause in consummating such union:

Whereas nothing has since emerged to cause any substantial change in the situation;

Whereas it is of supreme importance that unity and harmony be preserved in our own Church, and;

Whereas the continued agitation of the matter in our congregations and church courts, at present, will be injurious to the great work pressing upon the Church, and will intensify differences rather than promote unanimity;

We therefore recommend to the Assembly:—

(1) That in the meantime the matter of Organic Union remain in abeyance, without prejudice to either side of the question.

(2) That the Union Committee be continued, and instructed to obtain the fullest possible information regarding the organization and working of the "Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America," or any other method of co-operation expressing the unity desired by all; and also to correspond with all other Evangelical Christian Churches in Canada, to ascertain the possibility of some wider plan of co-operation or federation in the great work common to all, and to report to the next Assembly."

WORLD CONFERENCE ON FAITH AND ORDER.

April 4, 1913.

The Rev. Robert Campbell, DD.,
68 St. Famille Street,
Montreal, Canada.

Rev. and Dear Sir:

At the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church held in Cincinnati in October 1910, a Commission was appointed to bring about, if possible, a Conference for the consideration of questions touching Faith and Order, and to ask all Christian Communions throughout the world which confess our Lord Jesus Christ as God and Saviour to unite with us in arranging for and conducting such a Conference.

The nature and scope of the proposed Conference are indicated in the report and resolution unanimously adopted by both Houses of our General Convention. Printed copies of the Report and Resolution and of an Official Statement are enclosed herewith, which we ask you to receive as a part of our communication to the great Communion which you represent. Since that Report was printed, we have received notice of the appointment of Commissions by the Seventh Day Baptist Conference in the United States and by the Church of England in Canada and in England.

The Commission of the Protestant Episcopal Church respectfully invites the co-operation of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, in promoting and arranging for such a Conference. It is our earnest hope that the next Conference of that Church may appoint a Commission with powers similar to our own and that such Commission may be authorized to act conjointly with our Commission and with similar Commissions in other Communions.

The proposed Conference is primarily for the study and discussion in the spirit of Christian charity, of those things in which we differ, without power to legislate for participating Communions or to adopt resolutions. It is our belief, however, that such a Conference, under God's guidance, will set forward the Unity of the Christian Church for which we all pray.

Hoping that the Presbyterian Church in Canada may be able to lend its great influence and co-operation, we are,

On behalf of the Commission of the Protestant Episcopal Church,

Yours very sincerely,

ROBERT H. GARDINER,
Secretary.

C. P. ANDERSON
President.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE SUPPLY OF STUDENTS, MISSIONARIES AND MINISTERS.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

The report of your Committee, presented to last Assembly, was adopted, clause by clause, with some slight modifications. It was afterwards ordered that the whole report as amended be sent down to Presbyteries for consideration. It was agreed at the same time that matters referred under the Committee's report, to an Assembly Board of Education, be in the meantime committed to the care of your Committee, which was thereupon appointed.

In the interval since the meeting of the Assembly in Edmonton your Committee has held two meetings. At a meeting held on September 5th, 1912, it was agreed that special attention should be given at once to the matter of recruiting men for the ministry. After earnest consideration it was decided that action should be taken along the following lines: First, the imperative need of recruiting students for the ministry to be presented by members of the Committee personally before every Synod and Presbytery. Under the direction of Presbyteries, high schools and collegiate institutes to be visited, in the interests of the claims of the ministry, by ministers in places where these institutions are located. Theological faculties to be requested to co-operate in recruiting men in university centres and in their visitation of congregations. Literature to be provided by the Committee setting forth the claims of the ministry and recommending some form of organization of recruits in Presbyteries, congregations and colleges. The "Order of Recruits" suggested as a form of organization that has proved effective in the Maritime Provinces and Western Ontario. Suggested also that in university centres arrangements be made to have the student bodies addressed on the claims of the ministry by distinguished leaders. The various Boards and Committees of our Church to be asked to co-operate in directing the attention of likely men to the ministry. A sub-Committee was appointed to set in motion the plans devised, consisting of Messrs. Geo. E. Ross, Murdoch MacKinnon, Professor Falconer and Professor Fraser.

The second matter which engaged the attention of the Committee was that of the proposed Emergency Course. A sub-Committee was appointed to draft a curriculum of study for such a course, the Committee to consist of Dr. J. W. Macmillan, Professor Laird, Professor Baird, Professor Falconer and Dr. C. W. Gordon. The same Committee was asked to draft a curriculum for a course excluding Hebrew, and another excluding Greek.

A small Committee was appointed to meet with the Home Mission Board and consult them as to the need for an Emergency Course, in view of the present situation in the Mission Field.

The Committee met again on April 24th, 1913. The returns from Presbyteries on the Assembly's remit were before them. Nineteen Presbyteries in all reported.

I. Recruiting.

The Committee's recommendation was unanimously approved.

II. The Training of Canadidates for the Ministry.

With reference to: 1. The regular Theological Course, the various clauses were generally approved, with the exception of clause 3, which provides, in certain cases, for optional courses, omitting Greek or Hebrew. Twelve Presbyteries approved of this recommendation, five disapproved, while two modified their approval by the recommendation that the word "may" be substituted for "shall." 2. In regard to the Emergency Course, approval was expressed by all the Presbyteries except one.

III. The Financial Problem.

No recommendation was made in last year's report.

IV. An Assembly Board of Education.

The Committee's recommendations were approved by all the Presbyteries except one.

In view of these returns, the Committee took action as follows:

I. Recruiting for the Ministry.

Under this head the Committee has not only to recommend a policy, but to report upon the work accomplished during the year according to the Assembly's direction. The sub-Committee appointed at the May meeting of the Committee took action along the lines indicated above. A circular letter was sent to every minister and missionary at home and abroad pointing out the need of the hour and soliciting their prayerful co-operation. Representatives of the Committee were requested to present the cause in every Synod and Presbytery. These representatives were cordially received and in the majority of cases have been appointed, in their respective Presbyteries, as conveners of Committees on "Recruiting for the Ministry." A request was made that every minister and missionary in charge would report to the Committee the names and addresses of all young men and boys throughout the Church having the ministry in view. Returns are not yet complete, but a list of three hundred names has been received.

Special attention was given to educational centres and the Committee addressed personal letters on the subject to the Faculties of all our Theological Colleges, to Secretaries of Students Missionary Societies and to the President or some professor interested in every university, stating the need and its urgency and respectfully soliciting co-operation. These communications, as well as similar ones, to the several Boards and Committees of the Church have brought replies from all expressing cordial sympathy with the movement and giving assurance of assistance in every possible way.

The Committee recommends:

1. While recognizing with profound gratitude the encouraging response to the appeal for recruits and the marked increase in the number of young men offering for the ministry, that in view of the inadequate supply and urgent need, the work of recruiting be continued under direction of the Board of Education; and that the claims and opportunities of the ministry be faithfully presented by ministers, college professors, teachers and Christian parents throughout the Church.

2. That the names and addresses of young men and boys having the ministry in view be registered by the Board of Education and reported to their respective Presbyteries for the purpose of Presbyterial oversight and organization; and that a complete list be sent to every college of the Church.

3. That without delay suitable literature relative to the call and work of the ministry be prepared by the Board of Education and freely distributed.

II. The Training of Candidates for the Ministry.

(a) The Regular Theological Course.

The Committee reiterates its recommendations of last year.

(b) The Emergency Course. In regard to an Emergency Course, the Committee had before them, in addition to the returns from Presbyteries, a communication from the Home Mission Secretary, and were also addressed by the Superintendent of Home Missions. After deliberation, the following resolution was agreed upon:

The Presbyteries reporting expressed general approval of the Emergency Course contemplated in Section II. (b) of the report of 1912. But representations from the Home Mission Board that sufficient men are now available for summer supply convinced the Committee that the said course would not meet the present situation, and led them to consider an emergency course of another character. We therefore recommend that the Assembly authorize the Board of Education to establish a summer course of four months' duration at one of the colleges to provide special training for unordained men who would thus become available for winter supply. We further recommend that any of these men who, later on, desire to go on to the ministry shall make application to the Board of Education who may prescribe a course of study with that end in view. It is understood that the Minister-Evangelist Course be continued in the meantime.

IV. The Financial Problem.

Stands as last year.

V. An Assembly Board of Education.

The Committee repeats its recommendations of last year, with an amendment to clause 5, which shall read as follows: "Take action, when thought fit, for relating colleges for young men and women, which may be founded in various parts of the Dominion, to the General Assembly and the Church, and report to the Assembly upon all applications of colleges for Church approval or patronage.

It was also agreed to add the following recommendation with reference to the Constitution of the Board: "That the Board consist of twenty members, nine ministers and three elders to be appointed by the General Assembly, and eight representatives, one from each Theological College, to be appointed by the college senates. Of those appointed by the General Assembly, one-third shall retire yearly."

The Committee agreed that the alternative courses in theology, omitting the study of Greek and Hebrew, and also the draft emergency course, submitted to this Committee be sent to the Board of Education upon its appointment. They also recommend that the overture from Rock Lake Presbytery and kindred matters be referred to the Board of Education to be dealt with.

C. W. GORDON,
Convener.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE RE TRAVELLING EXPENSES OF COMMISSIONERS TO ASSEMBLY OF 1912.

To the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada:

As Convener of the Committee for 1912, to whom was committed the task of adjusting claims and disbursing the fund under the scheme of 1911, as amended by Assembly of 1912, I beg to report:—

The quota assigned to each Presbytery as its contribution to the fund was at the rate of 10 cents per family for the number of families within its bounds. Thirty-two (32) Presbyteries contributed either their full quota or a percentage thereof. The total amount contributed was $5,380.96, of which sum $4,886.56 was sent to Dr. Somerville and $494.40 to the Convener. The Convener received from Dr. Somerville the amount sent to him, and also the sum of $3,000 additional as a provisional loan toward meeting any deficit, it being understood that if the whole sum was not required to meet claims the balance would be returned to him. The Convener had thus, in all, the sum of $8,380.96 to deposit to the credit of the fund. The claims of Commissioners were calculated: first, on the basis of three cents per mile, less $5.00; secondly, on the basis of the amount charged by railway for one single first-class fare under arrangement made with Dr. Somerville. Where the latter calculation amounted to less than the former it was adopted and vice versa.

Each Commissioner from a contributing Presbytery received a cheque for such percentage of his claim, thus calculated, as the percentage of its quota paid by his Presbytery.

In all 234 cheques were issued for sums varying from $71.00, the amount paid to a Commissioner from Newfoundland, to 39 cents, the amount paid a Commissioner from the Presbytery of Calgary. Several Commissioners returned either the whole or a portion of the amount sent them, as a contribution toward lessening the deficit. The total amount paid out, after deducting amounts returned, was $7,818.81; and the balance, $572.15, was returned to Dr. Somerville. Before the close of the year a detailed statement, showing amounts received from each Presbytery and amounts paid to each Commissioner from every contributing Presbytery, and also amounts returned as contributions toward deficit, together with vouchers for all receipts and disbursements, was sent to Dr. Somerville, to be submitted to the auditors.

Your Convener has received from Dr. Somerville a letter dated May 1st, 1913, thus stating:—The auditors have gone over your statement re Travelling Expenses of Commissioners with your vouchers, and find everything correct.'' The amount advanced by him toward meeting deficit in the fund is $2,427.85. The standard certificates of last year had been vised and returned to Commissioners before the Assembly enacted that no Commissioner should receive from the fund more than the amount set forth in such certificate, or such percentage thereof as corresponded to the percentage of its quota paid to the fund by his Presbytery.''

This entailed on your Convener much correspondence with the Commissioners individually, and also with the railway offiices, before claims could be adjusted. This difficulty will not arise this year or in the future.

For claims of Commissioners from all Presbyteries east of Manitoba, the calculation—3 cents per mile by shortest available route to Edmonton, less $5.00—amounted to more than the sum charged under regulations made with Dr. Somerville for a single first-class fare. The standard certificate and the percentage of quota paid by Presbytery therefore determined the amount paid, and the total paid to the Commissioners from such Presbyteries in all cases amounted to more than the Presbytery contributed. The Western Presbyteries did not fare so well. Three cents per mile, less $5.00, with all of them, was less than railway fare paid, as shown by standard certificate, and the Commissioners from all these Presbyteries received less, even with a full representation, than their Presbytery contributed to the fund. Should the Assembly, on the whole, meet as in past years, during the next decade, the West will receive more from the fund than it will be called on to contribute, and the East less.

On the whole, the Commissioners courteously acknowledged receipt of the amount sent them, acquiescing in the apportionment; but some from Presbyteries that had only contributed 25 or 30 per cent. of their quota, wrote again and again, complaining because they had not received the full amount they had paid out for railway fare; and some, even, who acknowledged receipt of the full amount they had paid for a ticket to Edmonton, complained because the travelling expenses of wives and daughters were not also paid from the fund.

Your Convener desires to acknowledge the hearty co-operation of those who constituted, with him, the Committee of 1912. The members were so far apart that they could not meet for conference, but freely corresponded, and frequently. The Convener of the present and future years will find his labours lightened greatly by the amendments to the scheme agreed to at last Assembly, and more especially if the proposal to place it as a regular scheme of the Church upon the Budget be carried out.

All of which is respectfully submitted by

WM. THOS. WILKINS,
Convener of Committee 1912.

Trenton, Ontario, 2nd May, 1913.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEORGE BRYCE,
Convener.

The First Lecturer.

During the past year the Convener, who was appointed by the General Assembly to put the Lectureship into effect in both Divisions of the Church, East and West, visited and delivered the required sermons and lectures as the first Jas. Robertson Memorial Lecturer. He was well received in the eight College Centres: Vancouver, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Toronto, Kingston, Montreal and Halifax. He also went to other cities of the Dominion in order to bring the financial support of the scheme before the people. These cities were Victoria, B.C., Calgary, Moose Jaw, Regina (Synod), Brandon (Synod), Hamilton, Brantford, Quebec, Ottawa and St. John, N.B.

Considerable additions were made to the Fund. These have been received by the Treasurer of the Church.

As authorized by the Assembly Regulations, the Committee recommends the following Rules and subjects for the Essays for 1913:

Essays.

1. The Pioneer Research Lecture (Eastern) in 1913 shall be on "Our Church Colleges up to Confederation (1867)".

2. The Pioneer Research Lecture (Western) for 1914 shall be on, "The Religious History of British Columbia up to 1875."

3. The subject for students' essays for 1913 (Eastern Colleges) shall be "Canadian Presbyterian Pioneer Missionaries up to 1800," and the subject for 1913 (Western Colleges), "Our Presbyterian Indian Missions in Western Canada (1866-1900)."

4. The following are the rules for essays, as adopted by the Committee:

(a) The essay shall be known as the "Robertson-Morrin Essay Prize (East) or (West)."

Note—(As Morrin College Governors have agreed to give the Church $200 a year for these two essays, this name is suggested, and further that two of the lectures shall be delivered in Morrin College, Quebec, by the Eastern Lecturer in his year).

(b) The prize shall be in each case $100—given each year, one in the Eastern Division and the other in the Western.

(c) The essay shall not contain less than 5,000 words or more than 6,000.

(d) The essay, shall be sent in, typewritten (3 copies), signed by a motto, the name of the writer accompanying it in a sealed envelope. In this envelope shall be enclosed also a certificate from the Principal of his College, that the essayist at the time of writing is in actual attendance on a Theological course approved by the General Assembly.

(e) The essays for the year shall be in the hands of Dr. Somerville, Toronto, Ont., by 31st December of the year.

(f) In judging the essays the examiners shall take into account style and composition, adequate treatment of the subject, accuracy of dates and statements, the proper characterization of the persons described, and the influence exerted by them on their country and time.

(g) No prize will be awarded unless the essay is deemed meritorious.

(h) The prize essays shall be the property of the Committee.

Lecturers.

According to the regulations adopted the Committee has appointed:

(1) For 1913, Rev. Professor J. A. Falconer, B.D., of Pine Hill College, Halifax, to lecture in the four Eastern Colleges, and to give two lectures in Morrin College, Quebec.

(2) For the year 1914, Rev. J. A. Logan, M.A., of Westminster Hall, Vancouver, for the four Western Colleges.

Funds.

The Treasurer of the Church will give an account of the state of the Fund up to May 20th, 1913.

Change of Name

In certain points in Western Canada there is a desire that the name "James Robertson Memorial Fund" be given to the larger scheme of the Church and Manse Fund of the Church. The Committee, should the General Assembly decide on this step, would suggest the name: "The Robertson Missionary Lectureship" for the present Fund.

Committee 1913-14

The following Committee for the year is recommended:

The Principals of the eight Colleges of the Church, and also Dr. Bryce, Convener, Dr. J. Somerville, Vice-Convener, Dr. Robert Campbell, Dr. McCurdy, Dr. Jas. Farquharson, Dr. A. T. Love, Rev. J. A. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON OVERTURE RE STANDARDS.

The Committee appointed by the General Assembly, June 1912, to consider the overture from the Synod of the Maritime Provinces convened at Charlottetown, P.E.I., October 5th, 1911, re Standards of the Church, Rev. Dr. McQueen, Moderator of the General Assembly, being appointed Convener of the Committee, and the Rev. Dr. McLeod, of Barrie, being appointed Vice-Convener, (see p. 346, Min. 1912), met in Toronto March 25th. The Vice-Convener submitted the following report:

On October 20th, the Vice-Convener, at the request of the Moderator, sent out two circulars. One to the members of the Committee, asking them to communicate their views to the Vice-Convener on the main question, by March 1st, and also on the expedient time for holding a meeting of the Committee.

A second one to be forwarded by the Moderator to the Principals of the several Theological Colleges.

In response to these communications, the following answers have been received from members of the Committee, which I here lay before the Committee; also briefer answers from two other members of Committee which I do not deem it necessary to include.

The answers received from the Principals of the Colleges are also appended. Halifax College has not sent me a communication from the Principal. But the students of that College have sent an interesting communication, at the suggestion of the Principal, which they had previously laid before the Presbytery of Halifax.

The question submitted to the Committee is, as stated in the overture, "To take into consideration the whole subject of the teaching of the standards in the Colleges under its control, and subscription thereto in licensure, ordination, and induction vows, and that a deliverance be given in order that the purity and peace of the Church may be preserved."

There are two parts in the overture. First, the teaching of the standards. Second, the subscription thereto. Referring to the first part of the overture—the teaching of the standards in the Colleges under the control of the General Assembly—the Committee inquired of each of the Colleges as to their practice in the matter. Replies were received from all but one. From these communications, it cannot be gathered that there is any disposition on the part of the Colleges, to discontinue teaching the subordinate standards.

In regard to this part of the overture, your Committee does not deem it necessary to say more than to express the hope that the General Assembly will commend to the Colleges the importance and desirability that these subordinate standards should continue to be a subject of study during the theological course at College. As Dr. McGillivray, of Kingston, says: "Their origin and history and theological and philosophical implications should be taught. In these respects they are immensely interesting and instructive, and well worth some study. The standards are a great piece of work and have rendered noble service."

No one who knows the history of these documents, and of our Church, would desire to have them set aside as unimportant, or to have our ministers and students ignorant of them. However defective those subordinate standards may be in the judgment of some, or however redundant, the Presbyterian Church has been built upon them. A race of strong intelligent and evangelical Christians has been produced by the teaching of them. The character of a people is determined to a large extent by their theology. The character and work of Presbyterians do no discredit to their theology. The ministers and Professors of the Presbyterian Church could not be characterized as unscholarly men. Nor as men deficient in capacity to understand the statements of scripture. Nor as men who did not appreciate liberty of conscience.

Though the principle of religious toleration is of very slow growth, and nowhere of slower growth than in ecclesiastical circles. Even in this twentieth century this principle is not fully appreciated The fact therefore that these subordinate standards are still the recognized creed of the Church, and on account of their intrinsic worth, your Committee thinks that they should continue to be taught in our Colleges.

II.

In regard to the second part of the overture, namely: "Subscription thereto, in licensure, ordination, and induction vows." Your Committee recognizes the difficulty, and largeness, and importance of the subject. The situation in which the Church finds herself on this subject is not a new one. It is one in which other Presbyterian Churches have found themselves. In England, and in Scotland, and in the United States, the same difficulty our Church finds herself in, has been encountered. Various methods have been adopted by the Churches in these countries to overcome the difficulty. Abbreviated and simpler statements of doctrine containing the substance of the faith have been prepared. Declaratory Acts or a modified form of subscription have been introduced.

Our own Church is now called upon in the Providence of God to meet and provide for the situation,—which is, that some of our students and ministers, while strongly attached to their church, and desiring to be loyal to her, are not able to believe that some of the statements of doctrine or fact found in the Confession of Faith, are "agreeable to the Word of God." That is the substance of the difficulty. And the question is how to secure, that those who are prepared to accept the substance of the Faith, shall be relieved from expressing the belief that those statements which they cannot receive, are "agreeable to the Word of God,"—or persuaded to believe that they are "agreeable to the Word of God."

It would be a vain thing for the Committee to hope, or for the General Assembly to expect, that a matter of so much difficulty could be conclusively dealt with by the Committee, in one year. All that your Committee can hope to do, is to make a small contribution towards the end desired by bringing the question definitely to the attention of the Church.

Before proceeding further, there are several points your Committee think should be borne in mind. 1. That it would not be in the interests of Divine Truth, or of our religion, or of our Church, to enter on a controversial discussion of the statements in the Confession of Faith which present a difficulty to some minds. 2. That in dealing with the question, the Church should, and no doubt will, proceed with deliberation, and under no sense of pressure from any quarter. 3. That it is not a matter of surprise, that in a document embracing so many points of doctrine, and making statements so strong and definite upon the whole of these, there should be found material which devout minds, and minds loyal to God's Word, cannot accept. Some even of the most conservative Theologians in the Presbyterian Church, do not consider a lengthened statement of doctrine so essential as it was once considered to be, to preserve the Church from error, or even essential at all.

The tendency of enlightened and earnest Christian people is to give greater scope to the individual judgment and conscience, and not to tie men down to too many points of belief.

But while that is true, it should be borne in mind also, that there are many who do not find in our standards the difficulty to which reference has been made, and who believe them to be in substance "agreeable to the Word of God." These claim, that the reasons given for not accepting the statements in the Confession which are objected to, would equally prevent us from accepting the statements of scripture. That while freedom of opinion should be allowed, it should not be allowed to an unlimited extent. And for our ministers the limit should be inside the scriptures, and inside the distinguishing doctrines of the Presbyterian Church.

In the natural order of things, when men desire to enter the ministry of a particular Church, they are prepared to accept the doctrine and polity of that Church. They do not expect that the Church should depart from her doctrine and polity, in order to accommodate her position to that which is acceptable to applicants for admission to her ministry. That is surely an unreasonable claim to make.

It is reasonable that those desiring entrance to her ministry should point out the difficulty which they feel in respect to particular statements in her standards. But to expect the Church to change her standards to suit every objection that may be raised by those who desire to enter the ministry, is reversing the natural order. Let the objections be carefully and sympathetically considered by the Church. That is all that can fairly be asked. And this no doubt the Church is prepared to do. But to ask those who do loyally accept the standards, as "agreeable to the Word of God," to acquiesce, on the request of certain objectors in the assertion that these statements are not "agreeable to the Word of God," is asking more than is reasonable.

Further, as is known to all—there are several of the positions taken in the Confession of Faith upon which liberty of opinion is already allowed. Such as in Chap. IV. Sect. 1., That it pleased God to create the world "in the space of six days" (a statement quoted from scripture).

2. Part of the Chapter XXIII.—on the civil magistrate.

3. Part of Chapter XXV, section 6, in reference to the Papacy. On these points liberty has long been conceded, and perhaps on some others.

In view of these considerations, and of the existing situation, your Committee would recommend:

I. In regard to the teaching of the standards in the Colleges of the Church: That the General Assembly having full confidence in the loyalty of our Professors to the Faith of the Church, and in their competence to decide upon the place which the subordinate standards should receive in the curriculum of study, make us further deliverance upon this point at this time, further than to commend the subject to their earnest and sympathetic consideration.

II. In regard to the second part of the overture, which refers to the question of subscription, your Committee recommends:

1. That a Committee of the General Assembly be appointed to consider the methods that have been resorted to in other Presbyterian Churches in Britain and elsewhere, to deal with a situation similar to that which has arisen in our own Church; and report to the next General Assembly upon these, and upon the method which in the judgment of the Committee may best meet the case.

2. That until the Church has made a change in her relation to the subordinate standards by a legal course of procedure, the General Assembly, while it cannot confer power on Presbyteries to change the standards of the Church, permits Presbyteries meanwhile to consider the objections taken to expressions in these, and when satisfied that these objections do not touch the substance of the Faith as taught by our Church, and that they are intelligently taken, and are not merely capricious, and thoughtlessly taken, to grant liberty to those applying for licensure to give assent to the second question of the formula, with such accompanying explanation as will satisfy the Presbytery.

3. That Presbytery clerks be enjoined to report to the clerk of the General Assembly any cases in which objection is made to answering question two of the formula unreservedly, and the reason given for being unwilling to do so, and that the information so received be placed at the disposal of the Committee which the General Assembly may appoint.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Re REPRESENTATION IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

At Sydney, N.S., and within St. Andrew's Church Hall on Thursday, the sixth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, which day and place the Presbytery of Sydney met and was constituted.

Inter Alia. The Presbytery agreed to transmit the following overture to the General Assembly:—

Unto the Venerable, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, indicted to meet in Toronto on the first Wednesday of June next:—

THAT WHEREAS the number of Commissioners that may now be appointed to the General Assembly is too large for the efficient transaction of business;

WHEREAS it has been decided to defray the travelling expenses of Commissioners to the General Assembly out of a general fund, thus making it necessary for Presbyteries to raise a large sum of money to meet this new demand upon their ordinary resources; and

WHEREAS there is frequently much difficulty experienced by our people in the places in which the General Assembly meets to find suitable accommodations for the Commissioners in attendance;

THEREFORE it is respectfully overtured by the Presbytery of Sydney, that the Venerable the General Assembly change sections one and two of the Act constituting the General Assembly, so that they may read:—

(1) The General Assembly shall consist of one-twelfth of the number of ministers whose names are on the rolls of the several Presbyteries of the Church, and an equal number of elders.

(2) When the number of names on the roll of a Presbytery is not divisible by twelve, the twelfth shall be reckoned from the next higher multiple of twelve.

Re BOOKLET ON THE SACRAMENTS.

At Halifax, and within the lecture room of St. Matthew's Church there, on Tuesday, the eighteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and at ten o'clock in the morning, the Presbytery of Halifax met and was duly constituted.

Inter Alia. The Committee appointed to prepare an overture to the General Assembly re the publication of a booklet on the Sacraments, reported through its convener, Mr. D. Stiles Fraser, and on motion, duly seconded, the report was adopted as follows:—Unto the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, indicted to meet in Toronto on the first Wednesday of June, nineteen hundred and thirteen:—

1. WHEREAS there is a widely felt need for fuller and more definite information amongst the families and the people generally of our Church regarding the nature, uses and benefits of the Sacraments; and

2. WHEREAS there is no brief and popular statement giving such information suitable for distribution amongst our people; and

3. WHEREAS there is no uniformity in the manner of dispensing the Sacraments, and frequently a very serious lack of becoming order in their observance, thus greatly detracting from their impressiveness;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Halifax respectfully overtures the General Assembly, indicted to meet in the City of Toronto on the first Wednesday of June, nineteen hundred and thirteen, to prepare a booklet briefly setting forth in a simple manner, the nature, uses and benefits of the Sacraments; and the obligations and responsibilities that rest upon parents in connection with the Sacraments, and the training of their children in the Christian life; containing also suitable forms for guidance in the proper observance of the Sacraments, so that they may be dispensed decently and in order, and with becoming uniformity.

FURTHER, that this booklet be furnished for distribution amongst the families of our Church.

On motion, duly seconded, the Rev. R. W. Ross was appointed to present this matter to the General Assembly.

Re AMALGAMATION OF EAST AND WEST.

Judge Forbes submitted a lengthy overture touching the amalgamation of the Funds of the Church. He moved, seconded by G. Dickie, that the overture be received and transmitted to the Assembly with approval, which motion was carried. The overture is as follows:—

To the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, indicted to meet in the City of Toronto, on the first Wednesday in June, nineteen hundred and thirteen:—

WHEREAS, great changes have occurred affecting the welfare of the Church at large since the Union of 1875, notably the opening up of the Great North West, the tremendous possibilities of which were under the ecclesiastical horizon when such union was consummated. The rapid growth of population, the expansion and development of the resources of the country, all of which combined afforded an opportunity for the grandest Home Missionary operations ever witnessed in the history of our Church and the World. While not disputing the wisdom of the action which led to the division into Eastern and Western sections, it is manifest that perspective has shifted and re-adjustment has become a necessity;

WHEREAS, continuous movement of population has occurred from East to West and has assumed larger proportions from year to year, thus depleting and weakening the East, while strengthening and filling up the new Western Provinces, for thousands and tens of thousands of our people have trekked from the Maritime Provinces as well as from Ontario, and our ministers have followed in the trail of our people, hence the Eastern section has a large interest in all the operations of our Church in the new West, and this mere arbitrary divisional line has shut out the people and ministers of the Eastern Sections and deprived them to a very great degree of the benefit of the enthusiasm and inspiration which naturally and spontaneously flow if unobstructed to all parts of the Church, from ocean unto ocean;

WHEREAS, amalgamation of funds and unification of operations as to the Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies, Social Service and Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund have not been attended by any evil or disastrous results, but with such a large measure of satisfaction that it is not unreasonable to conclude that the amalgamation of all the other funds of the Church, East and West, would furnish even a larger measure of satisfaction;

WHEREAS, the population of the country, particularly the Western Provinces, is growing with ever-increasing volume, and the operations of the Church are becoming more numerous and onerous with the passing years—both at home and abroad—that complete amalgamation of all the funds East and West would afford more ample opportunity for discussion and serious consideration of the important matters which demand the attention and press on the time of the General Assembly; and the unification of reports would materially assist in the dispatch of the business of the Highest Court of the Church, and remove complaints which have often considerable grounds of reason, that there is little consideration of many vital subjects on account of lack of time;

WHEREAS, all Synods of the Church except one, occupy a mutually relative and articulated position, an anomaly might be removed if the Synod of the Maritime Provinces would swing into line with the other Synods and complete unification of the whole Church would be attained and be attended with beneficial results to the Synod of the Maritime Provinces and without detriment to any of the interests of the Western Section;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of St. John humbly overtures the Venerable the General Assembly to take such action as may be deemed advisable that the end may be attained, viz., the amalgamation of the Home Mission, Augmentation and Foreign Missions Funds, East and West together with unification of reports, and would specially recommend that the whole question of amalgamation be remitted to the Home and Foreign Mission Committees, Western section, and to the Presbyteries of the Synod of the Maritime Provinces with instructions to report to the next meeting of the General Assembly.

Presbytery Clerk.

Re A GRADED COURSE OF LESSONS.

At Cardinal on the fourth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, which day the Presbytery of Brockville met, according to adjournment, and being constituted,—

Inter Alia. The Presbytery agreed to transmit the following overture to the General Assembly:—

Unto the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, indicted to meet at Toronto on the fourth of June, nineteen hundred and thirteen:—

WHEREAS, it is a recognized principle of pedagogics, that the subject matter of teaching, as well as the methods of imparting instructions, should be graded in accordance with the age of the pupil; and

WHEREAS, the lessons at present prepared under authority of the Assembly for use in the Sabbath Schools of this Church, while treated in a series of graded lesson helps, are the same in subject matter for all ages and grades;

THEREFORE, it is respectfully overtured by the Presbytery of Brockville that the General Assembly take steps to provide, in whatever way its wisdom may deem best, a graded course of lessons for its Sabbath Schools.

Inter Alia. Dr. J. A. Turnbull, for the Committee formerly appointed, submitted and read the following overture to the General Assembly, which was received and considered, and was approved as read:—

To the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada:—

WHEREAS, the expression in the Rules and Forms of Procedure, "The Moderator is a Minister" has been regarded by many as a statement of the use and wont of the Church, and not a law;

WHEREAS, some Presbyteries have manifested a desire that an elder, who is not a minister, should be eligible to act as moderator of the General Assembly and of other Courts of the Church;

WHEREAS, it is desirable to have this question considered and decided upon apart from the nomination of any elder actually made;

ELMWOOD, April 26th, 1913.

FROM THE PRESBYTERY OF BRUCE.

The following overture was presented by M. A. Halliday:—

WHEREAS, there now exists in the Presbyterian Church in Canada, both among the communicant membership and the ordained ministry, a wide-spread and deep dissatisfaction with the present method of calling and settling ministers; and

WHEREAS, the said method has as a system broken down; and

WHEREAS, the ministry in our Church is already practically an itinerant one, the average pastorate being about three and a half years in duration; and

WHEREAS, the said method of calling ministers involves the evils of candidating, and is humiliating to the ministers, hurtful to congregations, productive of division and of prolonged vacancies, leads to judging by appearance rather than by true worth, and tends to deprive those who have given their best years to the work of the ministry of the opportunity to enter upon a field where ripe experience and knowledge would be of value; and

WHEREAS, from these considerations, it is apparent that the said method is obsolete, effete and unworthy of our Church, and so dishonouring to the Spirit of Christ;

THEREFORE, the Presbytery of Bruce, moved by these considerations, doth hereby overture the Synod of Hamilton and London, and through it, the General Assembly of the Church appointed to meet in Toronto in the month of June, 1913, to appoint a large and representative committee, embracing an equal number of lay and clerical members and representing every Synod in Canada, who shall consider the whole matter of the pastoral relationship, the advantages or disadvantages of a properly organized itinerant system, and formulate, if possible, some scheme that shall remove or mitigate the above mentioned evils, and especially shall prevent the humiliation of ministers of our Church, and more especially those of mature years and ripe experience being forced to submit to the degradation of the candidating system, and to instruct the committee to report to the following Assembly.

The overture was adopted by the Presbytery and ordered to be transmitted to the Synod of Hamilton and London for transmission to the Assembly, and Mr. Halliday and Mr. McNabb were asked to support it before the Synod and Assembly.

Re AN OVERTURE FOR DIVISION OF PRESBYTERY.

MINUTES OF REGINA PRESBYTERY.

REGULAR MEETING.

LUMSDEN, February 18th, 1913.

At Lumsden, and within St. Andrew's Church there, on February eighteenth, in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen, and at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the Presbytery of Regina met in regular session. As the train upon which most of the brethren were expected to come was very late, it was decided to convene the Presbytery and to defer all business until their arrival.

Accordingly Rev. James Russell was appointed moderator, pro tem, and after devotional exercises constituted the Presbytery, there being present with him, Rev. Percy A. Knott, and Messrs. Robt. Kinnon and John R. Dillon, Elders.

Final Sederunt. On the arrival of the train the following members joined those above mentioned:—Revs. W. A. Guy, Dr. Strang, D. Sillars, R. M. Hanna, A. A. Graham, M. A. MacKinnon, E. McQueen, J. H. Urie, James Anderson, R. J. Spratt, D. M. Robertson, H. R. Read, J. Cameron, W. G. Wilson, A. C. Reeves, G. T. Bayne, R. C. Pollock, Ministers; and A. W. Cameron, Elder.

OVERTURE TO GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Inter Alia. It was moved by Revs. Hanna and Spratt, and decided unanimously, to overture the General Assembly, asking for a division of the Regina Presbytery into two parts, to be known as the Presbyteries of Regina and Moose Jaw.

A Committee, consisting of the Clerk, H. M. Convener, Dr. Strang and W. A. Guy, was appointed to determine the dividing line, and the Clerk was instructed to prepare the overture and forward it to the Assembly.

Extracted from the records of Regina Presbytery this eighth day of April, nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Clerk.

MOOSE JAW, SASK., April 8th, 1913.

OVERTURE.

WHEREFORE, and in accordance with the above resolution, the General Assembly is hereby humbly overtured by the Presbytery of Regina to grant the suggested division of the said Presbytery according to a plan which shall be submitted with the approval of the Presbytery.

Clerk of Presbytery.

FROM THE PRESBYTERY OF SWIFT CURRENT.

Re SUPERVISION OF MISSION FIELDS.

At Swift Current, on the twentieth day of February, nineteen hundred and thirteen years, which day the Presbytery of Swift Current met, according to adjournment, and was constituted.

Inter Alia. The Presbytery unanimously agreed to transmit the following overture to the General Assembly:—

Unto the Venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, indicted to meet at Toronto on the fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen:—

THAT in the experience of this Presbytery the present arrangement of district superintendents of Home Missions, as far as Swift Current Presbytery is concerned, is proved to be entirely inadequate. The Presbytery regards Rev. Dr. Strang's work with the highest appreciation, but divided, as it is, over four Presbyteries, it does not at all meet the needs of this Presbytery, the large proportion of which is as yet unorganized. This Presbytery alone embraces 420 townships, or 15,480 square miles. There are many towns on the main railway line, and two branch lines, and numerous well-settled districts, besides more than usually rapid developments in agriculture and railways. In all this territory there are only three self-sustaining congregations and three augmented charges.

IN VIEW of this pressing state of things, the Presbytery is thoroughly convinced that the present arrangement does not cope with the situation at all.

WHEREFORE, this Presbytery earnestly pleads that instead of the present method of a district superintendent, a pastor-at-large be appointed, under the Presbytery's control, to devote his whole time to organizing the fields within the bounds, and for this purpose the Presbytery respectfully represents that a suitable salary be provided by the Home Mission Committee for a period of five years.

The Presbytery closed with prayer.

Re ROBERTSON MEMORIAL.

M. C. CAMPBELL,
Presbytery Clerk.

At the meeting of the Red Deer Presbytery, held at Innisfail, on Tuesday, March the fourth, nineteen hundred and thirteen, the following overture, on motion of Revs. Shortt and Brown, was ordered to be forwarded to Assembly:—

Rev. W. H. Black and Rev. John E. Smith were appointed to support the overture before the Assembly, if necessary.

M. C. CAMPBELL,
Presbytery Clerk.

WHEREAS, it is clearly the mind of the Church that a suitable memorial to the late Dr. Robertson should be made; and

WHEREAS, in our opinion, most humbly and respectfully submitted, we believe the memorial proposed by the General Assembly is unnecessary, as we believe that on the staff of each of our colleges at present, are men who are as well qualified to lecture on missions, as a special lecturer who might be appointed; and

WHEREAS, the genius of Dr. Robertson turned specially to the establishing of the work on the frontier; and

WHEREAS, our work in the West has been greatly handicapped through the lack of a fund, always available for the purchase of sites for churches and manses on new town sites;

WE, the Presbytery of Red Deer most humbly and respectfully overture the Venerable the General Assembly, to give an opportunity to the Church, to establish an adequate sum, the interest of which will be available for the above purpose, the fund to be administered by the Church and Manse Building Board.

The above overture was forwarded to Assembly in 1912, and the Presbytery orders that it be again forwarded to the Assembly, which meets in Toronto in June, 1913.

F. D. ROXBURGH,
Presbytery Clerk.

At Winnipeg, and within Westminster Church, there, Tuesday, the sixth day of May, nineteen hundred and thirteen, which time and place the Presbytery of Winnipeg met and was constituted.

Inter Alia. The following overture to the General Assembly was proposed by Mr. Robert Howie, seconded by Mr. John Pate, and adopted:—

WHEREAS there is very special need for Church extension in the great centres of population in Canada.

WHEREAS it is proposed to raise a special fund to provide new congregations in such centres with adequate equipment in the way of buildings; and

WHEREAS it is not less important that men of proved experience and ability should be in charge of such work from the very first;

It is respectfully overtured by the Presbytery of Winnipeg that the General Assembly take this question into its consideration with the view of amending the regulations of the Home Mission Committee and of the Augmentation Committee as may best meet the situation.

Dr. C. W. Gordon and Dr. G. B. Wilson were appointed to support the overture.

Extracted from the minutes of the Presbytery of Winnipeg.

ANDREW B. BAIRD,
Clerk of Presbytery.

At Winnipeg, and within Westminster Church, there, Tuesday, the sixth day of May, nineteen hundred and thirteen, which time and place the Presbytery of Winnipeg met and was constituted.

Inter Alia, Dr. A. G. Sinclair presented the following overture, which, after deliberation, was adopted and ordered to be transmitted to the General Assembly:—

The Presbytery of Winnipeg respectfully overtures that the General Assembly take into consideration the serious fact that a large proportion of the ministers of the Church are not subscribers to the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund; that due enquiry be made into the cause of this, and that steps be taken to make the Fund adequately fulfil the object for which it has been established, and for which appeal is made to the Church; and that the Assembly's Committee be asked to consider whether the time has not come when the Fund should be made to bear to the ministers of our Church a relation similar to that sustained by the other great funds of the Church.

And, further, that Dr. C. W. Gordon and Dr. G. B. Wilson be appointed to support this overture before the Assembly.

Extracted from the Minutes of the Presbytery of Winnipeg.

ANDREW B. BAIRD,
Clerk of Presbytery.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON STATISTICS.

To the Venerable the General Assembly:

Your Committee on Statistics begs leave to present the following report:

The General Assembly at its meeting in Ottawa in 1911 adopted a new form for reporting the Assembly Roll, Statistics and Finances of the congregation, and issued instructions that it be used not later than 1912-13. This form provided that on the double page of the Acts and Proceedings of the General Assembly, there should be shown the Assembly Roll, the Statistics and Finances of the congregations, and the amounts received by the Church Treasurers, East and West, for the schemes.

Your Committee, therefore, issued a circular which was sent to all Presbytery Clerks, setting forth as it thought clearly the requirements of the new forms. Blank forms were prepared for congregations and Mission Stations to make returns, and a sufficient number sent so that each should receive a copy, and report back to the Clerk of Presbytery. The new forms provide that one schedule shall be prepared for printing the returns required for the Assembly Proceedings, another to be filled up and kept in retentis by the Clerk of Presbytery for the use of the Presbytery. This latter contains additional information which is of interest and use to the Presbytery in knowing more fully the condition and organization of its congregations.

Presbytery Clerks were instructed to arrange the schedules of Presbytery to show groups as follows:—1. Pastoral Charges. 2. Ordained Mission Fields. 3. Student Mission Fields. The Pastoral Charges, without separating Self-sustaining and Augmented Charges, according to instruction of Assembly, were to be arranged alphabetically, and to show all the congregations in each charge. Similarly the Ordained Mission Fields and Student Mission Fields were to be arranged, and each to show all the stations in them. This alphabetical arrangement made it impossible to arrange the members of Presbytery either in the order of ordination or induction into the Presbytery. We have now simply a list of ministers.

For several years the General Assembly has instructed Presbyteries to appoint a Statistical Committee, composed of the Clerk, the Conveners of Home Missions, Augmentation, French Evangelization, Sabbath Schools, and such other members as may be deemed necessary. The object of this was to have such a Committee as would have from the various returns made by congregations to the different Committees, full and accurate information for the completion of the Presbytery's Statistical Report. As in past years, some Presbyteries have failed to carry out this instruction by appointing such a Committee, or the Committee has failed as being unable, or unwilling to supply such information as would supplement that furnished direct to the Clerk of Presbytery, and so give a full and accurate statement of the Statistics and Finances of the congregations and Mission Stations.

Your Committee is compelled to report that it is by no means satisfied either with the completeness or accuracy of the report. Clerks of Presbytery in many cases have found it impossible to secure the information they required. When congregations are vacant, or Mission Fields have no missionary during the winter months, when returns are being gathered, the Clerk finds it impossible to secure a reply to his communications. Several report that this is the case, also, where there is no vacancy. All that your Committee can say is that the returns are approximately correct. Notwithstanding the fact that to each blank schedule there was attached explanations and suggestions as to filling them up, it is evident that the Clerks did not receive such returns from congregations as enabled them to follow out the instructions. It is to be hoped that the schedule forms will remain unchanged for some time so that all parties may become familiar with them and thus be able to make a satisfactory return.

Clerks were requested to give a complete list of all congregations forming each Pastoral Charge, and of all Mission Stations in each Mission Field. This is comparatively easy in the older parts of the country, but in the new districts in the West, with a new and never ending procession of settlers, it is all but impossible in some places to give the names of the stations. This uncertainty makes it exceedingly difficult for the Church Treasurer (W. S.) to report accurately the contributions for schemes which he receives. This part of the work might and ought to be much better done than it is in securing Presbytery returns. These statistical tables should be a splendid exhibition from year to year of the Church's growth and its consolidation. If they are not complete and accurate, it is scarcely worth while to incur the labour and expense of making them.

Owing to the changes in the items asked for in the schedules, it is not possible to make a complete comparison between the years 1912 and 1911. Each Presbytery shows its total for 1912, and also the increase or decrease as compared with 1911. We have given also tables showing summaries of the Statistics and Finances by Synods, and also of the receipts by the Treasurers, East and West, for schemes of the Church by Synods, with grand total for the whole Church, compared with the preceding year.

As in preceding years, a page is given to show the average contributions of the Church per family and communicant for salary, for schemes, and for all purposes. In this table the value of the Manse has been recognized as $100 per annum. In some respects this table is unsatisfactory, owing to the incompleteness of the returns of a number of Presbyteries, especially in the West. Another page gives a bird's-eye view of the whole Church as to (1) its courts, (2) its ministers, (3) its congregations, and, (4) its contributions.

In some respects the figures of this table will be found to differ from the returns furnished by Clerks in the Presbyterial Statistics and by the Treasurers for schemes The Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies are supplemented from the report of the Sabbath School Committee, and the amounts received by Treasurers for schemes by the amounts contributed by the Women's Societies and other organizations for Mission purposes at home and abroad.

Another page is devoted to show a summary of the Theological Colleges.

A summary is also given of the Foreign Mission Fields of the Church.

STATISTICS.

If we compare the returns made by the census takers of 1911, with those made by the Presbyteries, we shall see how incomplete are the Church returns, and how far we are from having all who call themselves Presbyterians, when the census taker makes his enquiry, under the definite care of ministers and missionaries. The census gives 1,115,324 Presbyterians in the Dominion. Some of these, of course, are not Presbyterians in the sense of being affiliated in any way with the Presbyterian Church in Canada. But the number of these merely nominal ones forms only a small percentage of the whole Presbyterian people. Presbyteries report 168,073 families. If we allow five persons as the average of the family, and the 34,049 single persons returned, we account for 874,414, leaving 240,910, or over 27 per cent., as having no connection with our Church.

The fact that so many Mission Stations make such incomplete returns of families and communicants belonging to the Fields, will account to a considerable extent for the difference between the Presbytery and census returns. Still the serious difference shows that there is room for more thorough pastoral oversight than has been given in the past. No amount of exploration and effort will get all who call themselves Presbyterian into the Church, but 240,900 is surely too large a proportion to be outside and unaccounted for. The families reported show an increase of only 4,225, and the communicants have only increased 5,530, being not much over one from each family added, and making a total of 301,465, which is certainly not a gratifying statement when we consider the fact that nearly 400,000 people came into the country, many of them from Great Britain and the United States, and presumably a fair proportion of Presbyterians among them. The census shows that the percentage of increase during the past decade has been 32.39 per cent., which gives us a good reason for encouragement, and a great field for work.

The number received on profession of faith was 15,808, being an increase of only 198 over last year, and being an average of less than one from every ten families. Your Committee proposes that for the current year an effort be made to show the number received by certificate from one congregation to another within the Church, and those who bring certificates from without. Also, in those removed by certificate, the return should show how many were removed by certificate granted to joint other congregations, and how many were removed by death or to join other denominations, and by being struck from the roll for cause. If such returns could be obtained with accuracy, there would be reason to hope that the Church might learn the cause of the leakage, and the discrepancy between the reports of actual increase or decrease in connection with removals and additions by certificate and by profession of faith.

The report said last year that "the optimism must be blind, indeed, which can find satisfaction in the figures given." This can be repeated this year with even greater emphasis. Numbering Israel to gratify pride or for purposes of ostentation has always proved disastrous in the Church's history. There is a growth which means much more than increase in numbers, and that is growth in spiritual stature which manifests the spirit of self-sacrifice. Such growth is known and measured only by the Searcher of hearts, and is not tabulated in Statistics. The Church is a people called out from the world, and enrolled openly in the service of Christ, and yet Statistics carefully gathered are the only way of showing increase in the membership of the King's army.

FINANCES.

When we come to the financial side of the report we come out of the shadows into the sun. Evidently the Church has shared to a considerable extent in the prosperity of the country during the year. There is a very gratifying increase in the salaries of ministers. The minimum stipend has been advanced a stage in order that, because of the increased cost of living, congregations may carry out the pledge they gave when they called their minister, that they would engage to contribute to his suitable maintenance as God may prosper them. The advance shows there was paid for salary in 1912, $1,649,617, an increase of $86,751. There is no column this year to show whether there are arrears of salary. Arrears are for the knowledge of the Presbytery that it may take action, and not of any interest to the whole Church.

The schedule form retained by the Presbytery contains information necessary for its oversight of, and organization of the congregations within its bounds.

The amount raised for all missionary, education and benevolences by the congregation,—including what is given for the schemes of our own Church, is $1,170,856, being an increase of $189,021 over last year. The grand total for all purposes is $5,417,163, an increase of $597,101.

The table of averages shows:—
$10.55 per family— $5.88 per communicant for salary.
$32.97 per family—$18.37 per communicant for all purposes.
$4.59 per family— $2.56 per communicant for schemes.
$5.54 per family— $3.08 per communicant for schemes, including donations.

It is interesting as well as illuminating to compare the average of 1907 with last year. That year shows:

$8.78 per family— $5.27 per communicant for stipend.
$25.65 per family—$14.00 per communicant for all purposes.
$2.56 per family— $1.40 per communicant for schemes.
$4.07 per family— $2.23 per communicant for schemes, including donations.

The amount given by congregations for schemes of the Church was $770,098.37, being an increase over last year of $166,733.22. When there is added the special contributions and donations from the Women's Societies and individuals, we have the goodly sum of $987,340.98, being an increase of $126,921.05 over last year.

The Budget (Western Section) called for a contribution from congregations and individuals of $1,000,000, but the Church failed to respond to this call by $150,346.59.

The Committee in charge of the work at home and abroad see an all but unlimited field before them which ought to be entered, cultivated and sown with the seed of the Kingdom, if the Lord is not to be disappointed in His harvest. The tendency, therefore, is to plan their work on the basis of the Budget expectation rather than upon the amount which the Church furnished in the preceding year. The lesson taught by a study of this statistical report would, therefore, seem to be that it is not safe to base the Budget estimate for the next year wholly upon the amounts the Church may be expected to give, nor to base it wholly on the work that ought to be done. The result during the past year has been that the reserves had to be largely drawn upon to meet current expenditures.

The hope for the current year is that the departure made by the Assembly at Edmonton in appointing Missionary Superintendents for the Western Section will result in very much better organization in the congregations and Mission Fields and thus secure a much more stable as well as largely increased income for the general work of the Church, and secure also much more accurate statistical returns from the Mission Fields than we have been able to obtain in the past.

The steady progress upwards which the Church has been making gives some ground for confidence in pressing forward to do the work which her Lord is manifestly calling her to do. Taking into account the small increase in the membership of the Church, along with the large increase in the contributions for the maintenance of the work, the command and the encouragement given to Joshua would seem to fit the leaders, the people and the circumstances of the Church of to-day,—"Only be thou strong and very courageous that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law; turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night that thou mayest observe to do all that is written therein; for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous and then thou shalt have good success. Have not I commanded thee,—Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest."

RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. That Presbyteries be enjoined to give special attention to securing complete and accurate returns from every congregation and Mission Station.

2. That the Committee on Statistics of each Presbytery be composed of the Clerk, Conveners of Home Missions, Sabbath Schools, and such other members as may be deemed necessary, and that this Committee be instructed to see that there are no discrepancies between the different statistical reports presented to the General Assembly.

3. That special attention be given to the formation of the roll of the Presbytery, that the constituent roll contain only the names duly authorized by the Church, and that all other ministers in good standing within the bounds be entered on the appendix, and that the schedule contain a full list of the congregations in each Pastoral Charge, and of the stations in the Mission Fields.

4. That when changes are made in the names of congregations or of Mission Stations, or in the groups forming the Pastoral Charge or Mission Field, the Presbytery Clerk shall immediately notify the Treasurers of the Church, and thus enable them to report correctly contributions to the schemes.

5. That Presbyteries be enjoined to consider and take definite action at as early a date as possible on the matter of statistics and finances as set forth on the special schedule kept in retentis by the Clerk of Presbytery, with a view to aid congregations in getting their finances on a proper basis, and to ascertain the increase or decrease in the several congregations, and what congregations, if any, have failed to report, or have not contributed to the schemes of the Church.

6. That it be an instruction to sessions to report every family and single person under their oversight in the annual statistical statements.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JOHN SOMERVILLE,
Convener.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN CANADA.

The Board of Trustees has the honour to present to the General Assembly its annual report.

The Board has had nine meetings during the past year. It continues to look after all real and personal property, which from time to time has been granted or bequeathed to the Church by name or to its various schemes. It has also seen to the collection and investment of the various securities and money to which the Church has become entitled, and has seen to the application of the various amounts among the several schemes interested. The Board has also exercised supervision of the capital funds of Knox College.

The matter of the estate of the late Mr. Kenneth Urquhart, of Chatham, Ontario, calls for special mention, as the Assembly is called on to exercise a discretionary power of division of part of his estate. By the terms of his will the testator, after making provision for his wife, provided that certain parts of his estate should be sold and the proceeds divided equally between the Home and Foreign Mission Schemes of the Church. He also provided that certain other parts of his estate should be sold, and directed the Synod to pay the proceeds of said sale to the funds and schemes of the Church in the western section of the Church, as in the wisdom and discretion of the said Synod shall seem best.

It therefore remains for the Assembly to make a division of the proceeds of the sale of the last named portion of the estate. The Board has prepared and recommends the following scheme of division for the consideration of the Assembly. The amount to be divided is $11,000.00:—

Knox College	$1,330 00
Queen's College	550 00
Montreal College	550 00
Manitoba College	135 00
Westminster Hall	385 00
Stipend Augmentation	2,520 00
Widows' and Orphans' Fund	625 00
Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund	800 00
French Evangelization	1,260 00
Pointe-Aux-Trembles Schools	950 00
Social Service and Evangelism	1,420 00
Jewish Mission	315 00
Deaconess' Training Home	160 00
	$11,000 00

It will be noticed that in formulating the above mentioned plan of division, no mention has been made of the Home and Foreign Missions, because these schemes received from the testator about $12,500 each.

The matter of the will of Mr. Thomas Kent, of London, Ontario, calls for special mention. By his will, dated 11th November, 1909, Mr. Kent, who died on 2nd March, 1912, disposed of the residue of his estate as follows:—

"Thirty-thirdly, I give and devise to the Moderator of the Session of the Presbyterian Church on Oxford and Wellington Streets, in the said City of London, and to his successors in office, in trust, whom I name hereby my residuary legatee, all the dividends as they may be declared from time to time upon all the residue of my estate, after all debts, duties, legacies, bequests and other legal claims and demands whatsoever, have been fully paid and discharged; and all such sums of money as may legally pass into the possession of such residuary legatee by virtue hereof, are to be fully and faithfully devoted to Domestic and Foreign Missions in connection with, or favoured by the Presbyterian Church in Canada, all such available funds to be expended at the discretion and under the direction of the Session of the said Church on Oxford and Wellington Streets, and such dispositions of the said funds is to be continued during the Divine Pleasure."

A number of difficulties presented themselves to the executors in connection with the administration of Mr. Kent's estate and an application was made by them to the High Court of Justice for Ontario for advice. Among other points there was raised by some of the next of kin the question of the validity of the above residuary gift. The Court decreed in favour of the gift and upheld the will. It is thought that perhaps as much as $60,000 may be received in respect of this gift when the estate has been fully administered.

The Board having had under its consideration the matter of the position of the Rev. Dr. Somerville as an official of the Church, is of the opinion, and recommends that he be styled, Agent of the Western Section of the Church, and discharge the same duties as were performed by his predecessors in office, the Rev. Dr. Reid and the Rev. Dr. Warden.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. MORTIMER CLARK,
Chairman.

Toronto, May 8th, 1913.

Audited and verified,

GEO. G. DUNSTAN, Chartered Accountant,
Auditor.

Halifax, Canada, 9th April, 1913.

To The Venerable The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

As appointed, I have made regular audit of the Financial Affairs of the Church Offices, Eastern Section, for the year ended 28th February, 1913.

Month by month I have reviewed the various books and vouchers, verifying at same time the general cash transactions as then recorded. I have gone into all necessary detail to thoroughly familiarize myself with the business of the office.

With regard to revenue, general cash receipts, and cash outlay, all necessary particulars have been scrutinized.

After the closing of the books at 28th February, 1913, I visited the Offices and examined and verified the General Statements as prepared by your Agent, Rev. Dr. McCurdy, and his assistant. Also, I reviewed the securities, in fact all invested funds of the Church, and have pleasure in reporting that I found these on hand and in regular order as reported.

I have no hesitation in stating that, in my opinion, the financial business of the Church, Eastern Section, has been most carefully safe-guarded in every particular by those in charge.

The General Statements as referred to as at 28th February, 1913, are in accordance with the facts, as contained on the books of record which are in most excellent form throughout.

Most respectfully submitted,
GEO. G. DUSTAN,
Chartered Accountant,
Auditor.

OBITUARY NOTICES.

Obituary Notices, Synod of the Maritime Provinces, Pictou, N.S., Oct. 1, 1912.

REV. DONALD MACMILLAN.

Rev. Donald MacMillan was a Christmas Day gift of the year 1835 to a home at Lake Ainslie, C.B. There he spent his childhood and early school days. In the year 1850 he became a scholar in the Free Church Academy, Halifax, where he continued his studies in the institutions of the Church until his graduation from the Divinity College in 1861. Mr. MacMillan and the late Dr. John Morton, fellow-students, were licensed together by the Presbytery of Halifax, at a meeting held in Lunenburg on December 3rd, 1861, and ordained and inducted on the following day. Mr. MacMillan in the morning at LaHave, Dr. Morton in the evening at Bridgewater.

Mr. MacMillan's popular and successful ministry in his Lunenburg County parish continued for almost eighteen years, when, in 1879, he accepted a call to the parish of Sydney Mines, C.B., as colleague and successor to Rev. Matthew Wilson. His ministry in this important pastorate continued until his retirement from further pastoral duty in 1904, a quarter of a century of active able service. But though relieved from parish duty, he for three years more continued to readily respond to the many-coming invitations to conduct pulpit and other ministerial services. In the autumn of 1907, while on a visit to Lunenburg County friends and former parishioners, he was the prey of a stroke of paralysis, from the effects of which he but partially recovered. For over four years he waited, in bodily weakness, the call to the long rest, into which he entered on March 15th, 1912.

Mr. MacMillan's was a commanding presence. He was a very contagion of good cheer. His greeting was a genuine benediction. As a pastor he was noted as a peace-maker and comfort-bearer. The children of bereavement and sorrow had in him a most practically sympathetic friend. He was a forceful preacher, a ready writer, a master of graceful, dignified speech. As a Presbyter no one could be more interested in the work of the Church, or more ready to do his part.

REV. ARCHIBALD GUNN.

Rev. Archibald Gunn was born at Six-Mile Brook, in Pictou County, 61 years ago. He received a common school education in his native community and afterwards studied in Pictou Academy, Dalhousie University and the Presbyterian College, Halifax, from which seat of learning he graduated in 1878. The same year he was ordained a minister of the Presbyterian Church. His first charge was at Little Bay, Newfoundland. From there he was called to Windsor, N.S. From there he was called to St. Andrew's, N.B., where he laboured for seven years. From St. Andrew's he went to Bloomfield, P.E.I., where he laboured for another seven years. Failing health compelled him to retire from the responsibilities of the pastorate. From Bloomfield he moved with his family to Pictou, and from Pictou to Westville, where he made his home for the last eight years.

He passed away peacefully on the evening of Easter Sunday. Mr. Gunn was a good student and a good expositor of Holy Writ. His sufferings were severe and of long continuance, but he endured as seeing Him Who is invisible.

REV. HECTOR BRUCE MACKAY.

The Synod hereby places on record its high esteem for the life and labours of the Rev. Hector Bruce MacKay, and its appreciation of his work as a good minister of Jesus Christ. He was born in Caithness Shire, Scotland, in the year 1825. At an early age he emigrated to this country with his father, who settled in Caribou, Pictou County, N.S. He was a teacher for some time in some of our common schools and later in the Free Church Academy, Halifax. He graduated from the Free Church College, Halifax, in 1855, and was ordained at Chipman, N.B., where he spent the first seven years of his ministry in a fruitful pastorate.

In 1861 he was called to River John to become minister in Salem congregation there. This pastorate lasted 24 years. His labours there, in the Lord, were crowned with eminent success. In 1885 he was called to Wallace, where followed eleven years of great usefulness. He retired from the active duties of the ministry in October, 1897, and lived thereafter in Halifax, his life still abounding in good deeds. He was called to his rest and reward on September 3rd, 1912, at the venerable age of 87 years.

In 1891, at Halifax, Mr. MacKay was unanimously elected to the Moderatorship of the Synod, which chair he filled with honour. The jubilee of his ordination was celebrated in a fitting manner at Wallace, June 22nd, 1905, at which time the Presbytery of Wallace and representatives from his old congregation at River John and Wallace sought to do honour to this honoured servant of God.

Mr. MacKay was a good scholar, a deep theologian, and altogether a man of fine qualities of heart and mind. In disposition he was kindly and sweet, and was greatly beloved by all who were privileged to know him. He was a faithful and fearless minister of the everlasting Gospel, loyal to his own Church, a good Presbyter, and broad and sympathetic toward all other communions. He leaves behind him a fragrant memory as a good minister of Christ.

REV. J. R. MACDONALD.

Rev. Jas. Ross Macdonald was born near Hopewell, Pictou County, in the year 1852.

He began teaching when but 16 years of age. Chiefly by private study, he soon obtained a first-class license. He became a graduate of Princeton Seminary, N.J., in June, 1895. On his return to Canada he was appointed by the St. John Presbytery to Fairville, N.B., where he laboured faithfully for some time. His next field of labour was at Barney's River, where he won a warm place in the affections of the people.

From there he was called to Caledonia, where he laboured diligently and successfully for six years.

In 1905 he was called to Sheet Harbour. In that difficult and scattered country congregation he spent six years. Under the arduous work there his health began to fail during the last year and he was compelled to retire from the active duties of the ministry. He removed to Elmsdale in the hope that after a short period of rest he might again take up the work of the ministry. But God ordered it otherwise, and on the 23rd of April, 1912, he passed peacefully away to his rest and reward.

REV. DUNCAN McKINNON.

So rapidly does the personnel of a church court change that the Rev. Duncan McKinnon was quite unknown to a large number in this Synod. Born in September, 1830, ordained in 1860, retiring from the active work of the ministry in 1899 and seldom or never present in a church court, since he belonged to a generation which is rapidly passing away, remembered only for their works' sake. Like another of those departed this year, Mr. McKinnon was born at Lake Ainslie, C.B., and received his training in the Free Church Academy and College, Halifax. His first charge was Parrsboro and Maccan, where he laboured for fourteen years. In 1876 he was called to Little River, Musquodoboit, where he remained eight years. His third and last charge was Lockport, where he remained another fourteen years. Retiring after thirty-seven years of active service, he spent the remaining years of his life living quietly with members of his family. On Thursday, May 9th, 1912, after a long illness, he was called away to his rest and reward.

REV. J. K. BEAIRSTO.

The Rev. John Keir Beairsto was born at Malpeque, P.E.I., on July 5th, 1840. His maternal grandfather was the Rev. John Keir, D.D., one of the pioneers on P. E. I., and still a name to conjure with in some parts of that province. After a partial course at Halifax, Mr. Beairsto went to Princeton, where he graduated. He was ordained at Salina, N.B., on September 30th, 1869, and ministered there for some years. After a short pastorate at Carleton and Chebogue, N.S., he was called to Glassville, N.B., where he ministered for twenty years. After his retirement he lived for a time in Amherst, but in the early part of the present year returned to Glassville to spend the evening of his life among the people whom he loved so well. That evening proved short, for, on Sunday morning, April 21st, he was called home.

Modest and retiring to a fault, Mr. Beairsto's voice was seldom heard in a church court and he was intimately known to very few. But those few knew him for an earnest preacher, a faithful pastor, a brother and father beloved.

REV. W. W. RAINNIE.

The only minister in active work in the home field to fall during the year was Rev. William Wright Stuart Rainnie, who died at his home at Milltown, N.B., on August 23rd, after a sudden and severe illness of less than two days' duration. Mr. Rainnie was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, on February 6th, 1865. He attended Dr. Bell's school in Aberdeen, and graduated in Arts from the University of Glasgow. He was for a time connected with the staff of the Highland Light Brigade and the Gordon Highlanders, and later was war correspondent for a leading Scottish journal during the famous campaign in the Soudan. He came to Canada in 1889, and after taking his theological course at Halifax, was ordained by the Presbytery of St. John at Hampton, N.B., in 1892. The following year he was inducted into the charge of Calvin Church, St. John, where he remained ten years. In 1906 he was called to St. James' Church, Milltown, where he remained until his death.

Mr. Rainnie was a thorough Scot, an enthusiastic member of St. Andrew's Society, and a Past Chief of the Clan McLean, and was famed for his rendition of Scottish stories. He possessed also in large measure the Scottish genius for Church Law and Procedure, in which he was an acknowledged authority. A master of choice English, he was an able preacher and popular lecturer, while the kindliness of his disposition was well known to many in the time of need.

REV. JOHN MORTON, D.D.

Rev. John Morton, D.D., was born near New Glasgow in the year 1839. He was ordained to the ministry of the Presbyterian Church of Canada in December, 1861, and was settled at Bridgewater, where he remained for several years. During his student days he was thrown in with men of great missionary zeal; three of his fellow students having gone to the South Seas where they died. Early in his career, Dr. Morton seriously considered the question of devoting himself to work in India, a field all the more attractive to him because of its inclusion within the British Empire. A visit to the West Indies in 1865, where he saw the religious destitution of the natives of India working on the sugar estates, finally determined his choice of a sphere, and in 1867 he was appointed as our first missionary to Trinidad. His work was marked from the first with eminent success. In 1870, Dr. Morton settled in Princeton, which soon became an active centre for the education and evangelization of the Indians; and when a further expansion took place in 1881 he generously surrendered his home there to begin anew in the neglected district about Tunapuna. Here he remained till his death in August of this year; and such were his labours that at the present time in this field there are 20 schools, having an enrollment of over 3,000 scholars, and 12 places in which the Lord's Supper is dispensed to nearly 300 communicants.

Dr. Morton has given two sons to the ministry of the Presbyterian Church, while his daughter is a wife of the manse. It would be difficult to overestimate the fidelity and success with which Dr. Morton has fulfilled his stewardship. As a missionary he was conspicuous from his wise judgment and decision of character. He was prominent in the counsels of the colony of Trinidad, being constantly consulted by the Government on matters bearing on the welfare of the emigrants from India. As a scholar he had few superiors in his knowledge of the languages of the East; and as a Christian minister and friend he was respected and beloved.

REV. ANDREW GAYADEEN.

The Rev. Andrew Gayadeen was born in India, 23rd March, 1855. At the age of 20 he graduated from the Government Normal School at Lucknow. After teaching for a few years he emigrated to Trinidad at the age of 25 years. His five years of indenture were spent on a sugar estate within Tunapuna district. There Dr. Morton met him and gave him his first lessons in Bible truth. In 1889 he was baptized. In 1892, on the opening of the Theological College in San Fernando, he was enrolled as a student. In 1896 he was ordained and was associated with Dr. Morton till his death, which occurred at Tunapuna on the 29th July, 1912, pre-deceasing Dr. Morton by six days. Mr. Gayadeen was of the Brahminical caste, well read in the sacred lore of India, gave quotations in the Sanskrit language with great readiness. As a Pundit he had a claim to be heard with respect. He knew the way of life, and in the Hindustani language preached the truth eloquently and with power. He was an efficient helper and was highly esteemed by the mission and the community generally. His services will be long and gratefully remembered.

REV. D. H. FLETCHER, D.D.

The Rev. Donald Hugh Fletcher, D.D., after he had served his own generation, by the will of God, fell asleep, entering into his rest on 25th December, 1912. Born on the Island of Islay, Scotland, 25th May, 1833, he at an early age came to Canada, and after teaching for a short time, attended the University of Toronto; then studied Theology in Knox College, Toronto, graduating in 1860. The same year he was ordained over Knox Church, Scarboro, where he spent nearly twelve years in quiet uneventful, but fruitful work, leaving on that neighbourhood the stamp of his fine character, felt even to the present day. From there he was, in 1872, transferred to McNab Street Church, Hamilton, his pastorate continuing until, in 1905, he retired from the active duties of the ministry. In 1890 Knox College conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity; and in 1903 he was Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. For ten years he discharged efficiently the duties of Clerk of the Presbytery of Hamilton.

Dr. Fletcher was by nature quiet, modest, warm-hearted; by grace, a devout, humble, consistent Christian. In his ministry he proved himself a workman needing not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth; to the flock an example, in Word, in conversation, in charity, in Spirit, in faith, in purity.

REV. J. M. CAMERON.

Mr. Cameron was born in Strathmore, Perthshire, Scotland, and came to Canada in 1854. He graduated from Knox College in 1871, and the same year was ordained and inducted as pastor of East Church, Toronto, where he rendered twenty-five years of earnest, able and fruitful service. Afterwards he served for ten years as pastor at Wick and Greenbank, in the Presbytery of Lindsay, then retired from the active duties of the ministry and spent his last years within the bounds of the Presbytery of Hamilton. He died October 21st, 1912.

REV. ALEXANDER HENDERSON.

The Rev. Alexander Henderson graduated from Knox College in 1876, and was ordained and inducted into the pastoral charge of Hyde Park and Komoka in 1877. His labours contined within this Presbytery until the time of his death, September 15th, 1912. After twelve years of faithful work in his first charge, he removed to Appin, Tait's Corners and North Ekfrid, where he served his Master for twelve years more, retiring on account of ill-health. He continued to act as Clerk of the Presbytery of London until called by death to a higher sphere of usefulness. Mr. Henderson was a man of special gifts, not only as a preacher of the Gospel, but as one skilled in the law of procedure of our Church, and was thus enabled to render valuable service in the Church courts. To those who knew him intimately in private life he was held in high esteem, and will long be remembered as a man who was loyal and true to his God, his Church, and his fellow-men in need and distress. His memory will remain green in the hearts of many who have benefited by his advice and help.

REV. THOMAS R. SHEARER.

Mr. Shearer, who was cut off suddenly by accident on November 11th, 1912, while pastor of Camlachie and Aberdeen in the Presbytery of Sarnia, was a very loveable man, loved best by those who knew him best. In the home where his presence was a benediction, and in the congregation over which he had charge he was loved and honoured and respected. He was a quiet man, and shrank from publicity or any kind of self-advertising. He did his work peaceably, quietly and with absolute fidelity, carrying it all in his heart. He always did his best, and his best was of high order. As a member of Presbytery he was a very efficient servant of the Church.

REV. NEIL SHAW, B.A.

Mr. Shaw, who died at the Manse, Egmondville, in the Presbytery of Huron, on September 17th, 1912, graduated from Toronto University in 1887, and from Knox College in 1890. After a short pastorate at Tilbury, in the Presbytery of Chatham, he was translated to Egmondville, where he spent nineteen years of fruitful work.

Mr. Shaw lived a life of manifold activity and of great spiritual power. His piety, his zeal, his whole-hearted devotion to Jesus Christ, his sympathetic and cordial relation to his brother ministers, and his power and faithfulness as a preacher of the Gospel, make his memory blessed with those who knew him best.

REV. A. F. MACKENZIE.

Alexander Ferguson Mackenzie's birthplace was the Island of Islay, in Scotland, and he was born on the 14th of October, 1834. After completing his studies in the local school, he spent two years in the Free Church Training College in Glasgow, and qualified as a school teacher. After teaching for about a year in his native land, he came to Canada, in 1856, secured a first-class teacher's certificate and taught school until 1874.

Impressed by his earnestness and by his mastery of Gaelic as well as English, the Presbytery of Guelph encouraged him to go to Knox College, Toronto, where he took a full course in Theology, winning a Bursary during his residence for his expert knowledge of Gaelic. Mr. Mackenzie was ordained in 1878 and was called almost simultaneously to three congregations. He accepted the pastorate of Kilsyth, where he remained for five years, then he laboured in succession in Glamis, Tarbut and Oro till 1892. While in Tarbut he suffered a severe breakdown in health, for which he never fully recovered. In 1892 he removed with his family to Manitoba and preached for short periods in Killarney, Carman and Dominion City. But during this period his eyesight failed seriously, and in 1897 he was obliged by this infirmity to retire from active work. He continued, however, until very recent years to preach occasionally, and his messages were marked by such Scripturalness and fervour that they were much blessed and long remembered.

In 1907, Mr. Mackenzie and his family removed to Fruitvale, California, where he lived until his death, on the 7th of October, 1912.

Thomas Hart was born in Paisley, Scotland, in 1835, and at an early age came, with his parents, to Canada. His father established himself as a book seller in Perth, Ont., and the family had the advantage of a refined home, where education was highly prized. After completing his course of training in the local schools, Thomas Hart went to Queens College, in Kingston, where he graduated in 1860, taking prizes in Classics, Mathematics and Philosophy. He became a High School teacher for several years, returned to Queen's for his Theological course, spent the year 1870 in further study in the University of Edinburgh and, in 1872, came to Manitoba as one of the founders of Manitoba College, which had been opened during the previous year. He was nominally the teacher of Classics and French, but actually in the early days of the College taught several other subjects. He was for many years a member of the Provincial Board of Education, and, in 1877, took part in the founding of the University of Manitoba. His labours in the Home Mission Field in the early days were arduous, and he had a share in the founding and maintenance of not a few of what are now the strong congregations in the West. From the time of his arrival in Manitoba he took a keen interest in mission work among the Indians and for some twenty-five years was Convener of the Committee that had the oversight of this Department of the Church's work. He was a man of a kindly and lovable nature, of scholarly instincts, and he was a thorough teacher, whose memory is held in reverence and affection by many to whom his character, even more than his spoken word, was an inspiration and a benediction.

REV. C. B. PITBLADO, D.D.

Charles Bruce Pitblado was born in 1836, in Dumfermline, Scotland. When he was fifteen years of age the family removed to Canada and settled in Truro, N.S. He soon afterwards entered the Presbyterian College, Halifax, where he completed his course of study in 1865, and was soon afterwards ordained as pastor at St. Mary's, N.S. After six years' service there he was translated to Chalmers Church, Halifax, where he carried on work ten years. In 1881 he came to Winnipeg as pastor of the newly organized St. Andrew's Church, which, under his care, grew with extraordinary rapidity, but he was obliged to give it up on account of a breakdown in health, and, after a rest, he went to Calvary Church, San Francisco, and a little later to First Church, Santa Rosa. When Westminster Church was founded in Winnipeg, in 1893, Mr. Pitblado returned as its pastor, and continued a fruitful ministry until his health failed, in 1903, and he was obliged to give up regular preaching. Thereafter he spent the time partly in California and partly in Winnipeg, until his death, on the first of April, 1913. Dr. Pitblado, who received his degree of D.D. from Gale College in 1901, was widely recognized as a strong and clear thinker, and especially as a preacher of very great power. His character showed an unusual combination of rugged strength and of tender sympathy, and he attracted to himself a large circle of strong men, who, both in the day of small things and in the day of larger achievement, unswervingly regarded him as their religious leader.

HENRY MARTYN PARSONS.

Henry Martyn Parsons was born at East Haddam, Conn., Nov. 13th, 1828, son of Rev. Isaac Parsons (Yale, 1811), Congregational Minister. Fitted for College at Williston Seminary, East Hampton, Mass., 1842-44, subsequently entered Yale College, and graduated with class of 1844-48. Taught a select school in Lyme, Conn., 1848-50; and taught in Richmond Academy, Richmond, Virginia, 1850-51. Was "born from above," and united with Grace Presbyterian Church in Richmond, May 8th, 1851. Entered Connecticut Theological Institute (now Hartford Seminary) and graduated with the Class, 1851-54; licensed by Hartford South Association, Feb., 1854, and was ordained and installed pastor in the First Church of Christ (Congregational), Springfield, Mass., Nov. 15th, 1854. After a pastorate of 15 years at Springfield, he accepted a call to become associate pastor with Dr. Nehemiah Adams, in 1870, in Union Church, Boston. In 1877 he accepted a call and was settled in Lafayette Presbyterian Church, Buffalo, N. Y. On the 15th of April, 1880, he was inducted by the Presbytery of Toronto into the pastoral charge of Knox Church, Toronto. He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Knox College, April, 1888. He resigned the pastoral office in 1900, and was appointed Emeritus Minister in the congregation where he had given 20 years of faithful service. For 12 years more in the latter office he served with unsparing devotion and energy, far beyond the limits of the congregation, and even of the denomination he so much loved. His ministry of 32 years in this Presbytery was of outstanding quality and faithfulness. His genial nature, loving ministrations and kindly bearing, enthroned him in the hearts of all, so that to-day we each mourn the loss, not only of a faithful and efficient co-Presbyter, but of a warm personal friend. His memory will be lovingly and reverently treasured, and his fervent piety and conscientious, unremitting toil for Christ and His Church, constitute an eloquent challenge to emulate his example, "He being dead, yet speaketh."

REV. ARCHIBALD CURRIE, A.M.

The father of the Presbytery of Lindsay, and by appointment of Synod, its first Moderator, passed peacefully away at his home in Sonya on June 18th, 1911. Mr. Currie was born in the Parish of Clachan in Argyleshire, Scotland, Dec. 5th, 1830. His early education was received in the parish school and in Glasgow Normal School. After teaching school for five years he came with his parents to Canada, settling in the Township of Puslinch in 1855. The same year he entered Queen's University. He taught for a time in the Frontenac Academy, and in the Queen's Preparatory School at Kingston. In 1858 he received his B.A. degree, and the degree of A.M. in 1861. In the latter year he was licensed by the Presbytery of Glengarry and Cornwall, and later was ordained and inducted into the charge of Cote St. George. In 1866 he accepted a call to St. Andrew's Church, Sonya, where he ministered for 23 years. Owing to ill-health he was obliged to retire in 1889. He always made his influence felt in the cause of popular education, and during part of his ministry at Sonya, was Inspector of Public Schools for North Ontario. His work as a minister will long be remembered in the community where it was done. His quiet faithfulness, his unfailing good sense, his boundless humanity and irresistible humour gave his preaching of the Gospel a quality all its own. His cheerful fortitude when the burdens of age were augmented by peculiar suffering gave faith and cheer to all who knew him, and by them his memory will be revered.

REV. PETER McLAREN DUNCAN.

The Rev. Peter M. Duncan passed peacefully away at his home in Colborne on April 23rd, 1913, in the 77th year of his age. Mr. Duncan came of Scotch parentage. His parents came from Comrie, in Perthshire, Scotland, in 1832, and settled first at Bytown, now Ottawa. They removed to Carlton Place, where Peter was born on October 20th, 1836. "I knew his father," said Dr. R. Campbell, of Montreal, "He was a much respected resident of Carlton Place, and Peter came therefore of good stock. Heredity is the one thing about Darwinism that is demonstrably true." At Carlton Place Mr. Duncan received his first education, going from there to Knox College at the age of fourteen. At Knox he studied under such eminent men as Professors Young, and Hirschfelder, graduating in 1857, when but 21 years of age. He was called to Colborne and Brighton in December of that year. For 28 years he laboured faithfully to these congregations, and was much beloved as their pastor. Brighton, however, became, under his ministry, a self-sustaining charge, and Colborne and Lakeport were constituted a pastoral charge with Mr. Duncan as minister. In time a beautiful church was erected at Lakeport a tribute to his unsparing zeal. In 1907 Mr. Duncan celebrated the golden jubilee of his ministry in Colborne. He was then Moderator of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston, and the Synod, Presbytery, and people united to do him honour. On behalf of the Synod the late Principal McLaren presented an illuminated address; the Presbytery a purse of gold, and the people similar tokens of esteem. Dr. James Carmichael, a close companion from boyhood, was present and gave some valuable reminiscences of Mr. Duncan's life. Mrs. Duncan was also suitably remembered, and deservedly so, for she stood faithfully by her husband throughout the long period of his ministry. Having attained the unique position of minister for fifty years, to the same people, Mr. Duncan retired from the active duties of the ministry, but still retained the status of pastor emeritus, and continued to live among his people whom he loved, and by whom that love was reciprocated. Mrs. Duncan and five children survive him, and one is not. Mr. Duncan was a preacher of high ability, and his sermons gave no uncertain sound. As a pastor he was faithful, wise, and courageous. As a Presbyter loyal, high principled, and frank. As a man, a true citizen, devoting much time and labour in the causes of temperance and education.

"Servant of God, well done!
Rest from thy loved employ.
The battle's fought; the victory's won;
Enter thy Master's joy."

D. A. THOMSON,
Presbytery Clerk.

Hastings, Ont., May 7th, 1913.

REV. GEORGE CROMBIE.

The Synod records its sense of loss in the death of Rev. George Crombie, which took place at l'Orignal on January 11th, 1913. Mr. Crombie was born at Peterhead, Scotland, in 1837, and after receiving training for the ministry, he joined the China Inland Mission, in 1865; but, the climate disagreeing with his family, he returned to Scotland. He came to Canada and was received into the ministry of this Church in 1883. He served the Church with great fidelity, first, at Fort Coulonge, for ten years, and afterwards at l'Orignal for ten years more. He retired from the active duties of the ministry in 1911. Mr. Crombie was a good preacher, a man full of faith and zeal for his Master's cause, and much beloved by his brethren in the ministry. The Synod extends to the bereaved widow and son its deep sympathy, and commends them in their sorrow to the God of all consolation and help.

REV. JOHN HAY, B.D.

The Synod has to put on record, with deep sorrow, the death of Rev. John Hay, B.D., minister of Renfrew, which occurred on August 4th, 1912, in the 58th years of his age, sincerely lamented by the congregation which he had served faithfully for twelve years. A native of the Village of Lanark, Ontario, where he received his early education, he entered Queen's College in 1880. His university course was a brilliant one, he being awarded the gold medals in Mental and Moral Philosophy and Political Economy. He graduated B.D. in Theology in 1887, and soon afterwards was called to Campbellford, where he ministered for two years. From there he was translated to Cobourg, and remained in the pastorate there until 1900, when he accepted the call to Renfrew. In 1908, Mr. Hay was elected Moderator of this Synod, and presided over its deliberation with conspicuous success. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees of Queen's University. The Synod expresses its heartfelt sympathy with Mr. Hay's widow and family in the great trial which has befallen them and commends them to the tender regards of Him who makes the burdens of the widow and the orphans His own.

REV. W. M. MACKERACHER.

The Synod mourns the passing away, on April 6th, 1913, after a brief illness, of Rev. Wm. M. Mackeracher, of Montreal, son of the late Rev. Charles Mackeracher, minister of Riverfield and Howick. He was born in the manse, there, in 1871, and was educated at the High School, Montreal, and McGill University. He received his theological training in the Presbyterian College Montreal, and when licensed was placed in charge of the Presbyterian Church at Maisonneuve, which he served for six years. Mr. Mackeracher was a man of high literary gifts, contributing to the Montreal Witness and numerous other journals; and was specially known by two volumes of poetry which he published,—"Canada, My Land," and "Sounds and Other Verses," which were well received by the critics. He had turned aside for some time from the active work of the ministry, but was about to resume it when he sickened and died. He left behind him a widow and four young children, with whom the Synod expresses its heartfelt sympathy.

REV. E. W. PANTON.

The Rev. E. Wilkie Panton, a veteran minister of the Church, died at Carleton Place, on the 17th of March, 1913. Mr. Panton was a native of Fifeshire, Scotland, where he was born in 1843. When a child, he came with his parents to Canada, they having taken up their abode in East Whitby, Ontario. He got his preliminary education in the High School, Whitby, and, like many others of our ministers, for a time, taught school. His studies for the ministry were pursued at Knox College, and when they were completed he was called to Lindsay, in 1873, where he remained eight years. His next charge was Stratford, where he laboured for 23 years. In 1906, he removed to Radisson, Sask., but had only got fairly in harness there when he was stricken with paralysis. It was after that, that for family reasons, he took up his abode within the bounds of this Synod. He is mourned by a widow and family, who, with those belonging to the several charges to which he had ministered, mourn his loss as a faithful servant of God.

REV. JOSEPH WHITE, B.A.

One of the best-known ministers in the Ottawa District passed away on April 4th, 1913, at Calgary, Alta., in the person of Rev. Joseph White, B.A., in the 82nd year of his age. He was born at Huntingdon, Que., and was educated there and at the High School, Paris, Ont., from which he proceeded to Toronto University, from which he graduated B.A. He pursued his Theological studies also in Toronto, and, after receiving license, was settled, first, at Wakefield, Que., where he laboured faithfuly for fourteen years. From there he was transferred by the Presbytery of Ottawa to Rochesterville and Hull, and when the latter was erected into a charge by itself, he remained in connetion with Rochesterville, which was the nucleus of the present Erskine Church, Ottawa, of which he was named Minister Emeritus when he retired from the active duties of the ministry twelve years ago. Mr. White rendered good service for many years as Clerk of the Presbytery of Ottawa. He was one of the most revered members of the Synod, a man of deep consecration, who as preacher and pastor, in public and private life, endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact. He rests from his labours and his works do follow him.
